On occasion, the Stantons have poured off their first batch of maple syrup only seven or eight hours after the first keeler was emptied, but more often the time has been ten to twelve hours. Steady, even boiling is preferable to speed.

The process is this. From the storage vats, the maple water is piped into boiling pans. When it becomes slightly syrupy it is piped to a finishing tank. There as it continues to boil, it is tested frequently by weight and by hydrometer until the right drawing-off point is reached

In the old days, sugarmen determined the drawing-off point by seeing when a dipperful of syrup would "sheet-off"—pour in a broad sheet instead of a narrow watery stream—or by watching the speed of the bubbles that rise in the boiling mass. By those inexact methods, however, they sometimes cheated their customers with a thin syrup, and sometimes cheated themselves with an unduly thick one. Nowadays instruments are used.

When it has boiled down to the proper consistency, the syrup is drawn off and passed through heavy felt filters to remove small amounts of niter—a gray, muddy impurity. Then it is barreled or canned for shipping.

It is an open secert of the trade that as late as a few years ago many barrels of Maryland syrup were regularly shipped to Vermont. In recent years several Garrett county sugarmen have formed a co-operative organization and now sell directly to consumers all over the country. Golden prime and fancy grade syrups at present bring about $4 a gallon.

Not all of the finished syrup stays syrup, however. Some is ladled into huge iron kettles to be made into maple sugar. This is done merely by boiling it a bit longer, at a higher temperature, and stirring it until it is thick enough to pour into molds. In this form it is called cake sugar.

Another form is "crumb sugar" which looks like common brown sugar. This is used in many Garrett county homes to sweeten breakfast cereals; it is also used by chewing tobacco companies to sweeten their product, and by various other commercial concerns. "Brick sugar" is a cruder variety of cake sugar pressed into book-size bricks, also for the commercial trade.

The children around a maple sugar camp have their own favorite by-products. One of these is "spotz," an extremely sticky form of syrup—halfway between ordinary syrup and sugar. "Spotz" is poured upon a saucerful of snow or into a glass of cold water, then chewed like caramel.

Maple taffy is made by boiling the syrup until it is gummy, cooling it, then pulling it until it is creamy white and hard.

Maple cream is heavy syrup, with or without table cream added, beaten into a butter and served as such.

As the sugaring season nears its close, the men at the Stanton camp keep a particular eye on the weather. If conditions become exactly right they can extend the maple water flow a few days by moving their spiles to the opposite sides of the trees.

The budding of the red maples is the first sign that a difinite end is near. A few days later the sugar maples take on a rusty brown appearance as their buds swell. Then the season breaks rapidly. By the time the men can take down all the keelers the hillside groves are carpeted with anemones and birds are building their nests in the maples.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The Old Ditching Game

Following his congressional reverses, various publicists and politicians recently proclaimed that Mr. Truman's prestige and popularity have shrunk to the place he occupied about a year ago, when they were regarded as nonexistent. There may be some truth in this, but it is significant that the most violent criticism and most virulent attacks come neither from Republicans nor from conservative Democrats, shocked at his paternalistic, not to say socialistic program, but from the same self-styled "liberals" who tried to sweep him up in a corner and strike a match at the convention last June.

These were the not too politically bright gentlemen, either affiliated with, or sympathetic toward, the so-called Americans for Democratic Action and the CIO, who were out to draft Eisenhower, or Douglas or anybody other than Truman. After his nomination, most of these supported him with obvious reluctance and only because they had no alternative. Actually, their only contribution toward his success was in the sympathy aroused for Mr. Truman by the overdone public and private campaign of personal disparagement which they carried on for many months.

Quiescent for months, when Mr. Truman's current troubles developed and he appeared to be losing his grip on Congress, these heroic fellows rushed forward not to help but to hurt. They do not assail his program for the reason that it is composed of the same kind of three-thumbed economic and socialistic monstrosities to which they were committed during the Roosevelt regime. But they again assail him as stupid, inadequate and inept. And they seize upon two of his appointments to prove his unfitness. It, of course, is true that Mr. Mon Wallgren should never have been named as head of the important National Resources and Security Board. It is also true that Mr. Louis F. Johnson, as Secretary of Defense, is a great step down from the able and nonpolitical James Forrestal. The first was just a lame-duck pal whom Mr. Truman wanted to have around. The second was an aggressive West Virginia politician who collected a lot of campaign money when it was badly needed.

However, these self-proclaimed "liberals" had extremely little to say about Mr. Johnson until after he was appointed, though it was very widely known he would be. And they had nothing whatever to say about Mr. Wallgren until after he had been rejected. Nor was there then so much as a word of credit given by the Wallgren critics to Senator Harry Byrd, whose firm and courageous attitude blocked his confirmation. It was typical that these anti-Truman "liberals" should accept as their own Senator Byrd's arguments against Mr. Wallgren while ignoring the fact that he had done the job. All of which makes seem well taken the point that the primary purpose of these "liberal" critics of Mr. Truman is not to help him be a better President or prevent him from making mistakes.

On the contrary, their idea is to exploit his mistakes and keep making his job tougher all the time with the view of rendering him unavailable for renomination in 1952. To this end, every time his foot slips and he leaves himself exposed they lambast him all over the lot. The goal of this group of old Roosevelt New Dealers is to ditch Mr. Truman at the end of his term, name the Democratic candidate in the 1952 convention and thus, with the CIO, take complete charge of the Democratic party. Everybody knows that was their idea a year ago, when they failed to put it over. But they by no means have given up the idea.

Though some of them are at work on it all the time, for various reasons they are not likely to succeed. One is because they are not smart enough; another because they are not big enough. Last time they unintelligently tried to do two impossible things—one to scare Mr. Truman out of the field; the other to draft General Eisenhower. They will not try either again. So far as Mr. Truman is concerned, they expect him voluntarily to retire but they want to insure this by doing what they can to make him sick of his job. So far as Eisenhower is concerned, they now realize two things they did not grasp in 1948—first, that the General is inherently a Republican and if available in 1952 it will be the Republican nomination he will want; second, under no circumstances would he be sufficiently compliant and conciliatory to the labor, racial and other special groups upon whose support the Democratic party now depends and with whom these anti-Truman "liberals" are dealing.

Such being the case, it is asked, where then do they go for a candidate? The answer is easy and obvious. They go, of course, to the always co-operative and receptive Mr. Justice William O. Douglas, who has had the presidential itch in aggravated form for a long time. There is no doubt Douglas is their man. They infinitely prefer him to anyone else. Already the CIO has practically indorsed him in advance. There are a dozen "liberal" columnists and radio commentators who shout hallelujah every time his name is mentioned. He is compliant enough to suit all the special groups and would delight all the old Roosevelt "liberals" of whom he is one. But it is a little difficult to see why anyone else should vote for him. It is even difficult to see how he could be put over in a Democratic convention without very strong White House support, which he certainly will not get.

Lowdermilk-Stephens—Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Reed Stephens, of Oakland, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Mary Jane, to Harold Lowdermilk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lowdermilk, of Terra Alta, W. Va., which took place on Saturday, April 2.

The ceremony was performed at Red House by Dr. A. K. Jones, pastor of the Lutheran church there, at 8 o'clock p. m. Pfc. George Lowdermilk, brother of the groom, home on furlough from the army, was the only attendant.

The couple traveled to Morgantown for a brief honeymoon.

Negotiations Complete For Fireworks Display

Will Be Exhibitions During Six Nights of Centennial—"High Act" Also Obtained For Celebration

Negotiations to provide a spectacular display of fireworks in Oakland during six nights of the Centennial celebration, August 8 to 14, are being completed with the Keystone Fireworks and Specialty company of Dunbar, Pa., it was announced this week by the Central committee of the Centennial Committee, Inc.

The program each evening will feature twelve displays, including a presentation of blazing the trail, an enactment of the early covered wagon days, interspersed with seventy aerial bombs, showers and shells.

In addition, negotiations have been completed for the presentation during the entire week of the Silver Condors, a "high act," that is reported as "sensational."

F. E. Rathbun, committee chairman, said these attractions were being brought to Oakland at considerable expense but that the committee felt justified due to the type of celebration being planned.

Freedom Train?

At last Friday's meeting of the Central committee the members heard by letter of the efforts of Congressman J. Glenn Beall to bring the Freedom train to Oakland during Centennial week.

A request has also been made for a special cancelling machine die for use at the Oakland postoffice, advertising the Centennial.

Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., and Lindsay Gonder were authorized to solicit advertisements for the 80-page program, with a compensation of 15 percent.

The committee discussed the possibility of the school board property at the north edge of town, as the Centennial celebration grounds, and members met this week to inspect the property before requesting its use from the School Board.

Homecoming Day

Newton Coplin, reporting on Homecoming Day, Saturday, August 13, said the program would include a band concert, radio artists, homecoming ceremonies, an address of welcome by Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh, an amateur hour with appropriate prizes, in charge of Ray Crowthers and R. Bowen Hardesty. In the evening there are to be the pageant and fire works exhibit. The pageant committee is to be named soon.

Emroy Bolden, chairman of the Firemen's day, has been asked to meet with the central committee at its next meeting on Friday evening, April 8.

The committee expressed its appreciation to Congressman Beall for his efforts and also to the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce for its spirit of cooperation.

3175 Auto Licenses Issued by Treasurer

County Treasurer Arthur H. Green had issued 3,175 passenger automobile license plates when last Thursday's business was concluded, which ended the rush as far as his office was concerned.

Other automobile owners will appear from time to time, but the "rush is over," Mr. Green said.

Of the entire number issued he estimated that from 12 to 15 percent were residents of Allegany county, who preferred to come to Oakland for their tags and get them immediately, rather than to write to Baltimore and experience a delay of several days and possibly weeks.

Homemakers Corner

Edited by Miss Eleanor Dearborn, Home Demonstration Agent

"The blues have it for Spring," forcasts Miss Helen Shelby, Extension clothing specialist at the University of Maryland, speaking in reference to Spring fashions, "but a wide variety of other colors will allow every woman to find her most becoming color."

The exaggerated silhouette of Spring 1948 will be replaced by figure flattery enhanced with distinctive detail. Shoulder and hip lines will conform to natural lines. And yes, skirts will be shorter, the controversy settling at midcalf for general wear.

You may have a choice between slim and full skirts, neither extreme, with the Junior Miss probably giving preference to the latter. Slim lines will be generally accepted for suits and an easy fullness will characterize dresses and coats. There will be a continuation of back interest as shown in pleats and loose panels, with back fullness starting lower this coming season, to give a smooth hip line. Some frocks will feature high waistlines, suggestive of Empire.

Necklines will be definitely different, with collars a must, all sizes from the narrow, rolled-high charmer to the cape-forming sleeve. Cuffs will be important. As special flattery for feminine charms you will be wearing detachable lingerie glimpses, lace-frilled. Buttons will come into their own as trimming. Hip-emphasizing pockets will be plentiful.

Highlighting the fabric forcast, reports Miss Shelby, will be the iridescent effects once limited to silk but now to be found in a wide variety of fabrics including gingham, denim, chambray, shantung, and even tweeds and seersuckers.

And the over-all mood? "Be your most feminine self this spring."

April Showers Turn To Snow and Hail

April showers are with us but they turned to snow and hail yesterday and Tuesday night to bring a total snowfall for the week to 3.6 inches, according to the government station at Weber's.

Rain and melted snow amounted to 1.04.

The high reading of the week was 58 degrees, on the 1st; with the low being 22 on the 5th.

The barometer this morning was moving upward with a prospect for fair weather.

Grant County Man Killed by Blast

GENERAL ORDER, NEW YORK, 1776

The General is sorry to be informed that the foolish and wicked practice of profane cursing and swearing, a vice heretofore little known in an American Army, is growing into fashion. He hopes the officers will, by example as well as by influence, endeavor to check it and that both they and the men will reflect, that we can have little hope of the blessing of heaven on our arms—if we insult it by our impiety and folly.

Added to this it is a vice so mean and low without any temptation that every man of sense and character detests and despises it.

G. WASHINGTON

The inscription was called to mind in particular a few weeks ago when President Truman made uncomplimentary remarks about some individual, using the initials "S.O.B."

Landowners Urged To Prevent Forest Fires

Landowners were cautioned not to relax their vigilance in the matter of forest fire prevention, in spite of the fact that about one-third of the spring forest fire season had past. H. C. Buckingham warned that as much care was needed now as at the beginning of the season, with cool spells of spring being usually followed by a day or two of high winds that produce extra fire hazard.

Carelessness in brush burning will start too many fires, it was also pointed out. Brush is to be burned only between 4 p. m., and midnight. The state forester also cautioned about lighted matches and cigarets not being thrown on inflammable material along roadsides or in the woods.

Church Rededicates Plant and Facilities

Dedication services were held at the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren, Eglon, W. Va., on Sunday, April 3, before a large congregation. The services lasted all day, with the dedication of the new electronic organ, given by Ezra Fike in memory of "The Mothers of his children" in the forenoon. The Fike children were all in attendance except one, Ruth, who resides in Florida.

The dedication of the new Sunday School rooms, a new floor in the entire church, and new carpet in the aisles, was the main event of the afternoon. Installation of several deacons likewise took place. The offering of both the morning and afternoon will go toward further improvements, which are being extensively planned.

The Maple Spring church is the mother church of the Eglon congregation. It is said that from this church has gone out seventy ministers as well as leaders in several other fields. One of her sons, Alva Harsh, gave his life on the China Mission Field, his wife accompanying him in that venture that is as yet unsolved and unknown.

Across the short period of about eighteen months, this congregation has purchased a parsonage, which is paid for in full, hired a pastor on a full time basis, paid in full for all the improvements mentioned above, and gave more money to the Mission and Relief budget of the church than last year, when they were carrying less responsibility.

Our Money-Go-Round

Arithmetic by the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey (N. Y.): Assuming 60 million jobs in the nation and 6 million in New York State, the average American worker must pay $16.67 more in taxes for each additional $1 billion voted by the Federal government and (N. Y. worker) another $16.67 for each $100 million increase in State taxes. Current proposals for $6 billion more Federal and $150 million more State taxes would mean about $125 less for the average N. Two Ways to Prevent Barn Window Damage

When window frames and sills rot in dairy barns, condensation of moisture on windows is usually the cause.

Even when moisture control in the barn is excellent, it is sometimes impossible to prevent condensation on glass during cold weather unless storm windows are provided. R. W. Carpenter, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland, states that storm windows are the best way to prevent condensation damage to the windows and to keep the barn warmer.

But if storm windows can't be provided, the next best thing is to preserve wood parts against rot by soaking them thoroughly with pentachlorophenol. The State University engineer suggests using the preservative undiluted, in view of the small amount needed. An aluminum asphalt combination paint also does a good job of preventing the sill and frame from soaking up moisture.

Fluoride Treatment Completed Here

The Fluoride Therapy demonstration unit that for the past three months has been assigned to Allegany and Garrett counties by the State department of health, completed its work here this week and moved on to Hagerstown, it was announced by Dr. John E. Frank, dentist member of the unit.

Financed by the U. S. Public Health service and directed in Maryland by the Division of Oral Hygiene, the unit is engaged in demonstrating to the dental profession and public an approved technique of applying sodium fluoride to the teeth as a deterrent to future dental decay. Locally, the project has had the cooperation of the county departments of Education and Health, of parochial school authorities and the local dental society.

In expressing for himself and his colleagues an appreciation for the cooperation they have had from various agencies and individuals, Dr. Frank said: "Our unit worked in four Allegany and one Garrett county schools. Through friendly cooperation we inspected the mouths of around 1475 children and made a total of 5800 applications of sodium fluoride to their teeth. We hope our demonstration will result in every other child obtaining similar treatment from privately practicing dentists. The cost of such treatment is well worth while inasmuch as it will reduce future decay by, on an average, 40 percent."

Fluoride treatments do not eliminate the need of future regular dental examinations and corrective care.

In addition to Dr. Frank the unit was comprised of Miss Cecilia Gaydos, Miss Esther Kile, dental hygienists, and Miss Jacqueline Neff, clerk-typist

18-Year-Olds Must Register For Draft

"The Selective Service Act of 1948, which is still in effect, requires men becoming 18 years of age to register within five days of the 18th anniversary of the day of their birth," It was emphasized this week by Colonel Henry C. Stanwood, Selective Service Director for Maryland.

County men reaching 18 years of age will be registered at the local board in their respective counties. For Garrett County the office is on the second floor of the Garrett National Bank Building in Oakland.

Colonel Stanwood stated further that:

"It is a requirement of the Selective Service Act of 1948 that every registrant shall keep his local board informed as to change of status, including change of address. This applies to registrants who have reached the age of 26 as well as all others."

Intake Valves on Horses Need Care, Says Specialist

Owners of the 55,000 horses and mules on Maryland farms were urged today to "check intake valves, remove carbon from the cylinders, and adjust the carburetor."

No, the terms aren't as mixed as you might think. Joseph M. Vial, Extension Animal Husbandman, explains that a horse's mouth and teeth may be compared to the intake valve on a tractor. The teeth need to be floated (just as the intake valve needs to be properly seated) if they are to meet evenly and let the horse chew his feed properly.

Just as tractors are troubled with carbon in the cylinders, horses may have trouble with internal parasites. These may be removed by any competent veterinarian and the horse will be a better worker during the coming summer.

The carburetor on the tractor adjusts fuel supply to the work load. For horses, this is accomplished by getting them in proper condition before the heavy work load comes. Mr. Vial recommends that this be done by, "Feeding the horse a handful of oil meal with his grain at this time of year to keep him in good condition and by giving him as many jobs to do as possible; such as spreading manure or hauling logs."

Other recommendations include: "Keep water in his cooking system, keep his tires in good condition by having him properly shod, and see that his harness fits."

Back In Army Major McGinnis Studies Snow Rescue

A story of army officers studying the results of the "operation snowbound" which recently ended for them in the west, for future possible arctic action, was reported in the Chicago Sun-Times of Monday, March 21.

Pictured with the story were three army officers, one of them being Maj. Frederick D. McGinnis. McGinnis returned to the armed forces several months ago. He formerly was employed at the Oakland Electric and Radio Service store in Oakland, and resided in Aurora with his wife and family.

Everything that was done during the job of liberating humans and livestock from the snow blockade is now being studied by the army, with the officers having recently returned from the snow disaster area. They are now preparing reports for Washington.

In Wyoming, Nebraska and the Dakotas the 5th army directed 6,000 men, including civilians, and 1,600 pieces of heavy equipment on a 46-day job that cleared 100,000 miles of road and liberated more than 200,000 persons and some four million head of livestock. The 6th army did similar work in Montana, Utah and Nevada.

Major McGinnis said the engineers observed how one vehicle will operate well with thin snow while another will need special equipment in batting snow packed hard. The army also saw how civilian equipment not now in the military arsenal stood up under strain. The operation emphasized the need and value of small, light-weight radio sets.

Interdenominational Chorus To Sing Good Friday at Terra Alta

"The Greatest Love," an Easter cantata, will be presented Good Friday in the Methodist Church, at Terra Alta, W. Va., at 8 p. m. Mrs. Frank McConnell will direct the thirty member chorus comprised of four denominational choirs; the Presbyterian, Evangelical United Brethren, Methodist and Church of the Brethren.

The opening chorus, an andante movement, sets the scene with the soldiers of Caesar Augustus guarding the tomb of Christ after the crucifixion. The following ten solos, recitatives, interludes and choruses depict the familiar Biblical events after the resurrection. The choral composition forceably concludes with the finale, "Unto the End of the World," the message of which assures everlasting life to all who follow His teachings.

Soloists are Marjorie Trembly, Bessie Price, Dorothy Collins, Marian Bolyard, Frank Zeller, Bud White, Noel Browning, Bill Whitehair, Bill Casteel and Reid Feather. Mary K. Eliason will accompany at the organ. Others in the chorus are Dottie Parrick, Isa K. Miller, Betty Ellen Frankhauser, Ethel Whitehair, Lucille Everhart, Marie Stover, Joan Price, Ruth Teets, Gladys Whitehair, Lyda Banks, Harold Miller, C. E. Trembly, Harvey Cuppett, L. F. Everhart, Rowland, Hugh and John Whitehair.

Vindex Mine Makes Some Improvements

Crediting the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company's Manor No. 3 mine with a number of recent safety improvements, a Federal reinspection report issued today by the Bureau of Mines also proposes further protective measures for this 1,110-ton-a-day operation. Near Vindex, the mine employed 243 men at the time of the February safety survey by Inspectors W. C. Eiduke and Harry Jones.

Safety measures instituted during and prior to the current examination, the inspectors reported, included rock dusting of specified dry areas to within 80 feet of the faces, recording of the weekly mine examinations, provision of adequate clearance along one haulage road, transportation of tools on separate trips, cleaning of coal-dust accumulations from the tipple, and several electrical precautions.

Pointing out that several established safety standards still were not being observed, Eiduke and Jones recommended prying down or effective timbering of "doubtful" roof and overhanging brows on detection, use of enclosed trip lights, safer location of individual explosives containers and firing of each blasting shot or series of shots immediately after charging on shift, installation of air-lock doors and pressure-relief facilities for the fan.

In addition, the inspectors suggested correction of remaining electrical hazards, improved maintenance of the escapeways, universal wearing of safety-toe shoes and eye protection for certain employees, and discontinuance of carrying matches and smokers' articles into the mine.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Mark 10.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Mark 9:33-37.

Range of Religion

Lesson for April 10, 1949

ONCE THERE WAS a farmer who owned a large farm. Its wide acreage was divided into pastures and fields and a garden and orchards and hog-lots and chicken-yards and so on. But whenever any one would ask the farmer about some particular part of the farm, he would answer, "That's not my business—that's only the orchard, it isn't the farm;" or "—That's not the farm, that's a flock of sheep," or a rye field or whatever it might be. Of course such a farmer never lived, or if he did, he should have his head examined.

Dr. Foreman

What Does Religion Cover?

YET THAT FARMER is not a bit more idiotic than a Christian who, when asked about this or that activity or aspect of life, answers, "That's not religion. I have no interest in it." Religion isn't a little fenced-off pasture for lambs, a tiny garden plot behind thick hedges.

Religion covers the whole farm, every bit of life from end to end. Jesus knew this very well. He never once refused to discuss anything on the ground that it was not religious.

He cast light on everything that touched him. He called his followers the "light of the world." Not flashlights, shining in one narrow beam! Not flashlights, but lamps, set on a lampstand and "giving light to all who are in the house."

The Light Of God

A GOOD cross-section of Jesus' methods and ideas can be seen in Mark 10, into which one chapter Mark packs his whole account of a number of weeks which Jesus spent in the region called Perea. Observe the variety of situations which confronted Jesus. First there was a question about divorce. When they brought that question up to Jesus, he did not dodge it. He did not call it a personal matter in which he, as a teacher of religion, had no interest. He did not say it was strictly a matter for the civil courts. You may read what he did say in Mark 10. You will not that first of all he brings God into his answer.

Religion And Little Children

THIS CHAPTER includes the famous story of the little children who were brought to Jesus—evidently quite small children, for Jesus lifted them into his arms. We do not here Jesus saying, "Children are too small for me to take any interest in them. Wait till they are older. What good can religion do these tiny tots?" On the contrary, Jesus not only blessed them, but held them up as models for older people.

Is your church following Jesus here? Is your church interested in the little children as much as it is in the "paying" members?

Or are the little ones shoved off into some damp corner of the church basement? In your state or province, do the Christian people take an interest in the children? Do children in your section get as good attention as pure-bred cattle do?

As Wide As Life

THEN THERE WAS a question about eternal life. Of course Jesus answered that one, it was obviously a religious question. (Except that he gave it what some people even today would consider a not very religious answer!) Jesus went on to talk about money and the effect it has on a man's prospect of eternal life. Jesus would be the very last person to imagine that a man's bank account has nothing to do with religion. Some people to this day don't like to hear a preacher mention money in his sermons. Well, such people might have been offended by Jesus, for he often preached about money and property.

Then there was the question of ambition, the audacious request that James and John made of him. He had some strong remarks to make about that.

And finally at Jericho, not long before Palm Sunday, there was the blind beggar Bartimaeus. Jesus did not say to him, "Health is no affair of mine. I cure souls, not bodies."

A German expert claimed that hundreds of bombs dropped by Americans on Berlin during war failed to explode because they were sabotaged in U. S. war plants.

Centennial Pageant Plans Are Outlined

Plans for one of the main features of Oakland's Centennial celebration, a pageant built around the outstanding historical events of Oakland during its first one hundred years, were tentatively announced at a meeting of the Central committee and others on Tuesday evening.

Work on the outline for the various scenes was begun, and details are to be worked out by a pageant committee which will include Mrs. Lewis R. Jones, chairman; Mrs. Robert Ruckert, Mrs. Russell H. Brown, Mrs. Howard K. Rathbun, Joseph Sollars, and Mrs. Ray Crowthers. Various sub-committees to take care of costumes, properties, lighting, music, stage, etc., are to be named later, according to Newton Coplin, who is chairman of the Homecoming Day.

The pageant is to be given upon three evenings, Tuesday, August 9; Thursday, August 11; and Saturday, August 13.

Plans for Firemen's Day

Emroy Bolden, chairman of the Firemen's Day program, reported last Friday that his plans included a fire fighting demonstration from 4 to 6 o'clock, a parade from 7 to 9 o'clock p. m. Two hundred invitations will be mailed to fire companies and bands of the tri-state area to take part and compete for prizes in the parade.

The morning and afternoon of Firemen's day are being reserved for the activities and programs of the youth. The Youth program committee includes Joseph Sollars, chairman, Mrs. Lewis Jones, Miss Cara Weber, Mrs. Emeric Dusic, Mrs. Frederick Thayer, Lewis Jones and Bruce Jenkins.

A request of the John B. Rogers Producing company to put on the pageant was rejected as impractical.

O. T. Graser, Howard White and E. P. Hickman were named as additional members of the Farmers Day committee. Miss Susy Smith was employed by the Centennial committee to solicit advertisements for publication in the official program.

Lions Club To Be Formed in Kitzmiller

Steps toward official organization of a new Lions club in the town of Kitzmiller were outlined at a meeting of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club on Monday evening.

Clarence Fishpaw, of Westminster, Lions governor of district 22-W, of which the local club is a part, was a guest of the Oakland club Monday as were also three prospective members of the proposed new club of Kitzmiller.

Members of the Oakland club are to go to Kitzmiller on Wednesday, April 20, to meet with interested citigens of Kitzmiller. A formal charter night occasion will be held later.

Members of the losing team in the attendance contest carried out their part of a bargain by appearing at Monday night's meeting in white trousers and straw hats.

Other guests at the meeting Monday were from Cumberland, Thomas and Westernport.

Price of Gasoline Increased This Week

An increase in the price of some brands of gasoline became effective in Oakland this week, as well as throughout much of the country. The price increase was as much as 6/10 of a cent per gallon.

An article from the Journal of Commerce, of New York, distributed to newspapers, declared that economic factors "practically dictate such a move at this time," although people might not easily understand why gasoline prices should go up when other commodities are coming down.

The article blamed the price rise on the price of crude oil, which had remained unchanged while the price of fuel oils had nosedived, thus wiping out refinery profits, and pointed out that gasoline was the only product which could offer relief at this time.

The reaction by the public of the price increase has not yet been ascertained.

Start Diamond Work

Workmen were engaged yesterday in grading the new baseball diamond, near Eighth street, south of the State Roads garage, it was announced by a Booster club committee.

About four acres of ground have been donated by the Webers, and the completed diamond will be known as Weber Field, according to Robert W. Lohr, Booster club president. Parking area around the diamond has also been donated by R. C. McComas, Frederick and Ralph T. Thayer, and the club is making plans for a recreation park for the people of that section of town.

Bleachers are to be erected along both the first and third base lines.

Seven Ministers To Take Part In Good Friday Service Here

Seven ministers of the community and nearby towns will take part in the Good Friday three-hour service in Oakland from twelve to three o'clock, it has been announced.

The service this year will be held in St. Paul's Methodist church. The theme will be the seven last words from the cross, and the speakers will be Rev. Austin F. Schildwachter, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, Oakland; Rev. William E. Carlson, pastor, Accident Lutheran church; Rev. William C. Rogers, pastor Mt. Lake Park Baptist church; Rev. Luther L. Hare, pastor St. Mark's Lutheran church, Oakland; Rev. James E. Hodges, pastor Gormania charge, Methodist church; Rev. George W. Simpson, pastor Evangelical United Brethren church, Mt. Lake Park; and Rev. Denver C. Pickens, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland.

The senior choir of the host church, directed by Mrs. Frederick A. Thayer, Jr., with Mrs. Carl Stone, organist, will sing Stainer's "God So Loved the World," with B. Beeson Snyder, as soloist; "O Sorrow Deep," by Lovelace; "Go to Dark Gethsemane," by Noble; and "Were You There?" by Burleigh. Jay L. Bell will sing "Near the Cross her Vigil Keeping," an arrangement of an ancient French church melody.

Travels of School Bill Are Traced

An account of the travels of House Bill 546, relating to allocation of specific funds for specific expenditures in the five high school centers of the county, was learned this week from a copy of bill received.

The bill was first introduced by the House on March 9, received a favorable report of committee with amendment; then recommitted to the county delegation, reported favorably with amendment, recommitted to county delegation, reported favorable with amendments, finally passing house on March 29, and going to Senate just few days prior to end of session.

When first introduced it allocated that money be spent in various towns with figures mentioned being a maximum amount. The bill as amended in the House made it mandatory on the Commissioners to spend "Shall be expended as follows" $885,000 at Oakland, $235,000 at Kitzmiller, $250,000 at Grantsville, $125,000 at Friendsville, $95,000 at Accident, $22,000 at Bloomington, $20,000 at Finzel.

The amendments also eliminated any provisions for the commissioners to make repairs at any other place, and eliminated any use for the commissioners or the advisory committees, by making the expenditures mandatory, it was pointed out.

This bill was killed in the Senate which leaves the spending of the $1,500,000 in the hands of the Commissioners and the various advisory committees.

Under the governor's school building program providing $20,000,000 for school construction was passed, which will make it possible for Garrett county to receive $282,300, on a three to one matching basis. A companion bond issue of $50 million is to make it possible for counties to borrow and repay at a low interest rate. Under this program Garrett county would be eligible to borrow $804,000 over a five-year period, to be paid back in 15 years. It was not considered probable that any additional amount would be borrowed, considering the percentage of bonded indebtedness at present.

The present incentive fund arrangement brings $12,000 to the school building program from a county levy of 5 cents, and for this amount the state furnished $36,000. Money from these sources will be used to help repay the $1.5 million dollar bond issue.

Fate of Other Bills

The fate of some other bills was also learned.

House Bill No. 564, which would have given the commissioners a beer monopoly in the county, was given an unfavorable report by the Alcoholics Beverage committee in the House and never came out of committee.

A bill to increase the license fee on wholesalers was also given an unfavorable report by the same committee.

H. B. 654, providing that after June 1st no beer license could be issued to a person within 500 feet of a school or church, was referred in the Senate to the Judicial Proceedings committee.

The bill to provide a five-person school board died in committee.

In regard to the Forest Conservancy Act, it was recommended that the act be studied by the legislative committee and a report made at the next session of the legislature.

Close for Easter Holidays

Elementary and High schools of the county will close this evening for the Easter holidays and will remain closed until Tuesday morning, April 19.

Farm Trucks Have New Classification

Will Require Issuance of New License Plates To Owners

Under a regulation passed by the Maryland Legislature, concerning the issuance of truck licenses, farm trucks will be under an entirely new classification, requiring the issuance of new license plates.

An explanation of the regulation was received by Arthur H. Green, county treasurer, from the department of Motor Vehicles, on Tuesday.

The term "Farmer" is defined by the department as "any person or corporation engaged in the raising, growing and producing of farm products on a farm of not less than three acres in area, and who is not hauling farm products previously acquired by him for resale or hauling same for others for hire."

Farmers applying for licenses will be required to fill in a questionnaire which describes the truck and certifies that the vehicle would not be used for any other purpose than a farming operation as outlined in the definition of the farmer. The questionnaire must be notarized.

The county treasurer does not have the authority to issue these license plates but will be issued by the department of motor vehicles, in Baltimore. Farm trucks, from 1 to 2 tons, are licensed at a cost of $15.00, with those over 2 tons costing $22.00.

The county treasurer is now engaged in issuing other truck tags in addition to pickups. The flat rate, which includes the property tax, was outlined by Mr. Green as follows:

One-half to three-quarter ton pickups, $17.00 plus .15 cents issuance fee; trucks up to 2,500 pound chassis weight, gross weight limit of 10,000 pounds, $20; 2,501 pounds to 4,000 pounds, with 17,000 pound gross weight limit, $33; 4,001 to 5,000 pounds, with 20,000 gross weight limit, $50; 5,001 to 6,000 pounds with 25,000 gross weight limit, $95; 6,001 to 7,500 pounds, with 32,000 gross weight limit, $135; 7,501 to 9,000 pounds with 35,000 gross weight limit, $175; above 9,000 pounds, with gross weight limit of 55,000 pounds, $250.

TWO DEAD AND ELEVEN INJURED IN CAR COLLISION

Three Victims of Auto Wreck Near Vindex Still Critical

Two persons were killed and eleven other persons were injured in a two-car collision on route 38, four miles north of Kitzmiller, shortly after midnight Saturday.

The two died in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, on Sunday morning where all those involved were taken in four ambulances. They were listed as Mrs. Jeanette May Simms, 49, and Mrs. Stella Pennell, 28, both of Vindex. Mrs. Simms died at 7:30 a. m. and Mrs. Pennell died at 10:50 a. m.

Three persons, one a 10-year-old girl, remain in critical condition at the hospital. They were Wilma Jean Simms, Vindex; Junior McRobie, 23, Vindex, who police said was operating his car on the wrong side of the road when it collided with the machine operated by Robert Pennell, 33, Vindex; and Maxine Teter, 16, a passenger in the McRobie car.

Others were Elsie Tasker, 15; Geraldine Pennell, 10, daughter of the dead woman; Robert Pennell, 33, husband of the dead woman; Lenzy L. Nelson, 23; Wesley Fike, 39; Hazel Fike, 31; Clarence McRobie, 25; and Monzel F. Simms, 28, son of the dead woman. All are from Vindex.

Trooper Milton G. Hart said when he arrived at the scene shortly after the crash the injured with one exception were lying along the road and both automobiles were completely demolished. Mrs. Simms, he said, was lying partly in one of the cars.

McRobie was headed toward Vindex. He is a veteran of World War II who lost a foot in action. The car, a five-passenger club coupe, is one allotted to disabled veterans under the G. I. Bill of Rights. The car operated by Pennell was a three-passenger business coupe. Police said there were 10 persons in the McRobie car.

Police said it required 45 minutes to administer first aid and place the 13 in ambulances. At the hospital a staff of five doctors worked for 13 hours treating the victims. Nearly everyone involved suffered fractured bones.

Local authorities said no charges would be preferred until the investigation is completed and this was impossible, due to the condition of some of the injured.

Both automobiles were brought to Oakland garages. They are complete wrecks.

A funeral service was conducted for Mrs. Simms on Wednesday morning from the Nethken Hill church, Elk Garden, with Rev. Prince officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Simms, widow of Noah Simms, was a daughter of the late James and Sarah E. Schaffer Stewart. She is survived besides her injured daughter, Wilma, and son Monzel, by another daughter, Neva and two other sons, Buzz, at home; and Sheridan, Baltimore; a brother, Frank Stewart, of Vindex; and a sister, Mrs. Florence Stewart, Vindex.

Mrs. Pennell, a native of Oakland, was a member of the Beryl, W. Va., Methodist church. The service was held this morning at 10:30 a. m., from the Kitzmiller Methodist church with interment in the Nethken Hill cemetery.

May Form Cattle Club

A meeting of farmers, 4-H club members, and other interested persons will be held in the Accident school auditorium on Wednesday evening, April 20, at 8 o'clock, in regard to the possible formation of a Jersey Cattle club in the county.

Curtis Hobson, national Jersey fieldman for Maryland, Delaware and Virginia; and John W. Webster, state Jersey fieldman, will be present and take part in the discussion. At a preliminary meeting held recently Miss Cara Weber was named temporary chairman of the group. She urged all who were interested in raising registered calves to attend.

Bus Operators To Meet

School bus operators of the county are having their semi-annual business session at Accident on Friday evening at 7 o'clock, in the school auditorium there, it was announced by Arthur H. Green, president.

A bus will leave from the Hinebaugh restaurant corner at 6 p. m. for bus operators in this section, and will pick up operators along the way who flag it, Mr. Green said.

Clouds Hide Lunar Eclipse In Oakland

The earth's shadow dimmed the full moon Tuesday night but one never knew the difference in Oakland, the clouds making it almost impossible to witness any of the sky-show.

It was the first total lunar eclipse since 1945, and could have been visible over half the earth—wherever there was night—had the night been clear. Total eclipse was around 11 p. m., but a shadow was moving over the moon before 10.

The moon was within 222,500 miles of the earth, as close as it ever gets. It usually is about 250,000 miles away, experts report.

Another eclipse of the moon will be visible in the United States on October 6.

The death toll in the Illinois hospital blaze was put at 76.

Vehicle Defects Cause 18 Percent of Accidents

Declaring that vehicle defects cause 18 percent of all highway fatal accidents, C. L. DeShetler, of Toledo Steel Products company, told the Craig Motor Service company's sales organization that "Preventive maintenance" is one way to avoid tragedies on the road.

The meeting was held last Friday in Uniontown and was attended by Willard Elliott, Charles Shaffer, James Baker, William Fife and Francis Jory, of the Oakland store.

A check of vehicle conditions in 1947 revealed that one out of every three cars was found to have some obvious and hazardous defect.

CHARLES F. HAMMOND

Coming to Oakland around 1900 or before from Pennsylvania, Mr. Hammand has been a substantial resident of Oakland ever since that time, being engaged in the quarry and limestone business.

He has served as a justice of the peace, as a member of the Orphans' court, and for a number of years has been the bailiff at all sessions of the Circuit court. He has been a member of the Masonic lodge for 62 years.

He remains hale and hearty at the age of 83 and is continuously occupied at his home in growing vegetables that are the envy of his neighbors and that are even sold locally at grocery stores.

Mr. Hammond was busy at his hobby when the above photo was taken on Tuesday.

Remains Young In Spirit

Mrs. Martha Hinebaugh Robinson, widow of Dr. John G. Robinson, has been an inspiration to young and old of this community for many years.

At one time a school teacher in the county schools, she and her husband later organized a boys' choir, providing a cultural background to many a youth that has stuck through the years. Part of this permanence may have been due to their camping trips with the boys.

She reared a family of seven children and two grandchildren. Her shoulders are broad in a speculative way, as the troubles of many are unloaded on them. Having the strength of her religion she mingles with all classes and her youthful spirit remains to this day.

Robinett Charged With False Swearing

Two indictments for "false swearing" were returned by the Monongalia County Grand Jury last Friday in Morgantown, W. Va., against Blair Robinett. Robinett, former army recruiting sergeant in Oakland, and a Bataan Death March veteran, tried to annul his marriage to a Filipino girl last January.

John B. Sanders, prosecuting attorney, said the indictments were given on two separate offenses. One was allegedly swearing falsely as to the fact of his residence in Monongalia county, W. Va., and the other allegedly denying that there were any children born in his "so-called" marriage to Jesusita Torres y Cordero.

Robinett appeared in Monongalia county circuit court last January and obtained an annulment of his marriage to his Filipino wife. He stated at that time that he had a residence in Morgantown, W. Va., and that there were no children from the marriage.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robinett, Cumberland, upon reading of the action, requested that the annulment be set aside.

In later action, a marriage certificate and birth certificates of two children, Blair, Jr., and Marilyn, were produced in court. The court also heard testimony from William B. Sines, Morgantown, denying that Robinett had ever lived there. The former soldier had given Sines' address as his Morgantown home.

Judge Baker ordered the annulment rescinded.

Sanders said that under West Virginia law the maximum penalty for false swearing is a fine of $1,000 and at the discretion of the judge, a year in jail.

If Robinett appears at Criminal Court hearings opening April 26 in Morgantown he will face the same judge who handed down and then set aside his annulment.

Falls From Barn Loft

Lorraine Gnegy, 15, senior in Oakland High school, fell from the barn loft on his farm at Red House last Thursday afternoon, landing on the concrete floor.

He was taken to Potomac Valley hospital in Keyser where he remains a patient. A rib was torn from the vertebrae.

He is a son of Dewey Gnegy.

Choose Correct Planter Plates Boyce Advises

Farmers wanting to get maximum corn yields should make sure they are using the correct planter plates, according to Robert D. Boyce of the agronomy department at the University of Maryland. He explains that the plates used must depend upon the size and shape of the seed kernels. Choice of the proper plate and planter adjustment will do much to assure even stands and the desired number of plants per acre.

Research studies conducted by the University have shown that, for most conditions 10 to 12,000 corn plants per acre will get the highest yields. This means that 2 kernels should be planted for every 2 inches in rows 3½ feet apart. Thicker planting should be used cautiously and on only fertile soils. A rate of 14,000 plants per acre is considered maximum.

Plant Size

Most lots of seed corn have the plate recommendations listed on the tag; these should be followed. If the recommendations are not listed, a seed sample should be taken to an equipment dealer and run through his planter plate testing machine. "The accuracy of planting obtained by using the correct plate is almost unbelievable," Mr. Boyce declares, "and the results will more than pay for the time spent. Of course, the planter may be tested in the field; this method is better than no check at all, but is not so accurate."

He reports that about this time each year, arguments arise over the relative value of flat or round kerneled seed. "If planted properly, there is no difference in productive capacity," he emphasizes, "even though round kernel seed usually sells a little cheaper."

R. B. Corbett Resigns

Dr. T. B. Symons, Dean of Agriculture and Director of the Maryland Extension Service, announced Monday that Dr. Roger B. Corbett has resigned as Associate Dean and Associate Director. He has accepted a post as Agricultural Counsel with the National Association of Food Chains as of April 1. At the same time, Dr. Symons announced that Paul E. Nystrom, Deputy Director of the State's Agricultural Extension Service has returned from a leave of absence during which he studied at Harvard University.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By DR. KENNETH I. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: John 5:25-29; 14:1-4; I Corinthians 15:1-8, 20-26; II Corinthians 4:16—5:10. DEVOTIONAL READING: Acts 2:22-32.

Heaven Is Real

Easter Lesson for April 17, 1949

HEAVEN IS just as real as Chicago. More so, because Chicago will in time cease to be, while heaven lasts forever. A few atomic bombs, a whiff of some new plague, can make Chicago vanish; but no atomic bomb can touch heaven. The pity is, so few Christians really believe this. We can get mail from Chicago, but who ever heard of mail from heaven?

Dr. Foreman

Wait, though . . . there is mail from heaven, and you have it there in your Bible. If you accept it for what it is, the Word of God, then it is the Word from heaven. To be sure, it does not tell us much about heaven. If you were actually traveling to Chicago, you would not begin by studying a street-map of that city. What you would need is a map of the roads between.

So the Bible is not a guide-book to the "City Four-Square;" it is more of a road-map to help us find the way between here and there. Nevertheless, the Bible does assure us that heaven is real.

Christians have many reasons for believing in the reality of the future life, and some of these may not be in the Bible; but the best reasons are there.

Jesus Believed It

WINIFRED KIRKLAND has truly said that Jesus did not simply believe in immortality; he lived it. Jesus would never have called this world or this life trifling or unimportant. But all around, under and over and through this visible world, Jesus was aware of another. He lived and acted as a citizen of both worlds. He talked of life after death—or for that matter, of his own life before his birth—as calmly and naturally as you would speak of next week or next summer.

Christ is Risen

MANY PEOPLE feel it would be easier to believe in the future life if someone who had been across the line of death would return across that line to bring a message from the beyond. So they attend seances and they listen to table-tappings and go through all manner of weird performances in order to get a word or two from someone who has passed on.

But all the time we do have a record of a Return. Indeed it is The Return. We call it the Resurrection. The message of Easter is not summed up in songs about some "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere;" it is in these three words: "Christ is risen!"

He did not return in darkness, he was not under the control of any "medium," he did not make himself known by ghostly hauntings. He was seen at supper-tables, he spoke to his friends on a mountainside, he came to fishermen on a spring morning by a lake shore. The earliest Christians doubted some things; but few doubted that the Lord was risen indeed.

Heaven Begins With God

THE CURE for the troubled heart, Jesus said, is faith in God. One of the strongest reasons for believing that the future life is real, is the nature and character of God himself. Jesus said as much once, in an argument with men who did not believe in immortality: "God is not the God of the dead, but of the living." If we were God's paper dolls or toy soldiers, he might weary of us as a child wearies of its toys, and sweep us all into destruction without a moment's thought. But if we are truly his children, then when life's evening comes, he will call his tired children home.

Eternal Life has two sides, the heaven-side and the earth-side. The church has never believed that simple immortality is the same thing as the heavenly life.

A Judas, when he dies, goes (as Peter saidly said) "to his own place." A Judas carries out his own hell with him. But a man like Paul, or any Christian who has been at home with God here on this earth, when at last death comes, will, as Whittier said:

"Find himself by hands familiar beckoned Unto his fitting place."

Wesleyan Choir To Give Concert Here

The West Virginia Wesleyan College a cappella Choir under the direction of Professor Charles W. Forlines will present a concert of sacred music on Monday, April 18th, in St. Paul's Methodist Church at 8 p. m. The Wesleyan choir is appearing here as a part of the annual Spring tour which this year has extended into northern West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. Two years ago the choir appeared here.

Thirty-four selected voices from a choir of over 60 members make up this group which is made up entirely of upper classmen or voice majors. About one third of the choir are Pennsylvanians, and most of the remaining members are native West Virginians. This group presented a Palm Sunday concert just before leaving on tour.

The sacred program given in the churches is made up of sacred numbers taken from the rich tradition of religious music. One of the special numbers of the choir features a contralto solo by Eleanor Banks with a violin obligato by William Townsend. The program is varied with a baritone solo by David Chandler and a duet by Dorothy Snowden and Eleanor Banks. Also of special interest is the Orpheinian Quartet, a campus male quartet, which just recently completed a 1500 mile tour which took them to the East coast and through southern West Virginia.

In addition to presenting sacred concerts in churches the choir has a combination program of sacred and secular numbers which it gives for high school assembly programs.

Professor Forlines came to West Virginia Wesleyan College in 1947 as associate professor of music and he teaches organ and voice.

An offering will be taken to help defray the traveling expenses of the choir. The concert is sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian service.

Members of the touring choir are: Delores Grimmett, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Mary A. Herrick, Crafton, Pa.; Shirleen Satterfield, Fairmont, W. Va.; Betty Somers, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Dorothy Snowden, Parkersburg, W. Va.; Joann Vaught, Buckhannon, W. Va.; Dae Ann Chilcote, Ambridge, Pa.; Corinna Hillman, Lewisburg, W. He is Risen

The beautiful story of the Resurrection is one of the priceless gems of literature. There were the angels by an empty tomb, the startled women, the bewildered disciples, and a soft voice saying, "He is not here . . . He is risen . . . and goeth before you into Galilee."

The whole mighty drama of life is unfolded in that simple narrative. For as Jesus rose from the dead, so the flowers spring from the warm earth, the trees bud, fledglings appear in their nests, and little creatures of flesh stare wide-eyed at the world.

Nature is revived and enters a new life cycle in the spring. So Jesus brought new spiritual life to the world through His life and death and resurrection. He brought eternal springtime to men and taught them that beyond the tomb is the daybreak of another life.

Let all the world rejoice on Easter morning, for He is risen. He took the sting from Death and victory from the Grave; and He lives forevermore.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) for the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

The House of Representatives will be given its annual Easter recess at the close of business on April 14th and will reconvene on Monday, April 25th. The Senate, which is far behind the House in meeting its legislative schedule because of the time consumed in the filibuster on the President's Civil Right program, will remain in session in an effort to catch up with its work.

While President Truman is expected to send the North Atlantic Defense Pact treaty to the Senate at any time now for ratification, it is doubtful that body will take up, or debate, the treaty ratification issue for some weeks to come. While the Senate is expected to ratify the treaty many Senators seem desirous of making it clear to the world America's entry into the Defense Pact does not obligate this nation to furnish any particular amount of arms or finances to the government of western Europe.

Last week the House passed the Agriculture Department appropriation bill, totaling a little over 701 million dollars—25 million less than requested by President Truman's Bureau of the Budget. Approximately half of the appropriation, or 350 million dollars, was made directly available for the use of the Rural Electrification Administration, with authority given to the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture to use another 150 million dollars for REA if necessary; 262 million dollars were set aside for the AAA program for the coming fiscal year, and 75 million dollars for the School Lunch program, while the Soil Conservation Service was granted 50 million dollars.

Last Wednesday Washington witnessed its last Army Day parade when some ten thousand soldiers, numerous units of mobile artillery, and a score of bands swung across Capitol Plaza and down Constitution Avenue past the Presidential reviewing stand, as some 150 thousand people lined the parade route. Immediately following the Army Day parade, the new Secretary of National Defense, Louis Johnson, announced that, in order to bring about a more thorough unification of our Armed Services, in the future separate "days" for each branch would no longer be observed, but, instead, honor would be paid all of the services on one day each year, to be known as "Armed Forces Day."

Administration leaders in the House have decided not to attempt to bring up either of two important bills by Chairman Lesinski of the Labor Committee until sometime after the Easter recess. One of the Lesinski bills would repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and substitute in its place the old Wagner Act. The other would increase minimum wages from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour and greatly expand the number and types of workers covered by the Minimum Wage Law.

Our Money-Go-Round

The Hoover Commission has turned up some Federal sleight-of-hand that makes Houdini look like an amateur. The Army reported 25,000 tanks on hand at the end of the War. When the Commission asked for their location, the Army could find only 16,000. The other 9,000 of these fairly solid taxpayer investments had vanished.

* * * *

It is predicted that 3 billion Federal tax dollars will distend American grocery bills this year — twice as much price support as last year, when the government spent $1.7 billion keeping farm prices high. This sum approximates the total Federal budget figure for 1932.

* * * *

STATE DEPARTMENT PAPER-GO-ROUND: The House Appropriations Committee found it takes as many as 35 steps to process a routine letter received by the State Department. They watched one such letter land on 21 different desks in 3 different buildings and travel through each building twice.

* * * *

According to the Hoover Commission, the records of the War Assets Administration are in such bad shape that it would cost $10,000 to $100,000 for the WAA merely to find out what it had sold or donated to a single Philadelphia school.

* * * *

The Hoover Commission found that one manufacturer of steam turbines furnished a certain part to the Navy at a cost of $63. Another supplier furnished the same item, as a replacement part, for $25. When the Navy finally tired of throwing the taxpayers' money around, it got the item from its prime manufacturer for $9.06.

REPRESENTATIVE STATE GOVERNMENT? Last year in every state where a veterans' bonus was proposed to be financed by a specific tax measure, the voters turned it down. Nothing daunted, the West Virginia House of Delegates, despite the Governor's plea that the people should know, voted last month against a motion to specify the "method and manner of financing" their $90 million bonus proposal.

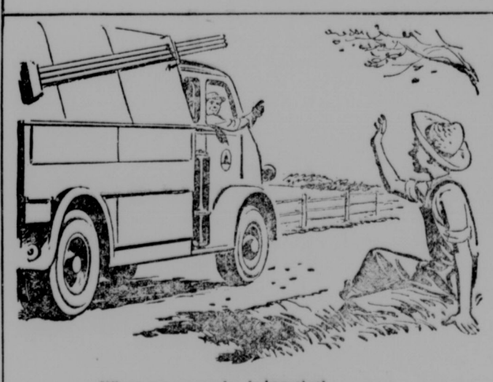
Down the Line with Johnny Bell



Good neighbors—on and off the job

Most telephone men and women live in the communities they serve. Some of them may be friends of yours. If so, we're sure you've found them willingly taking an active part in community life.

They may attend your church, belong to your service club or work on your favorite charity drive. They're interested in your hometown because it's theirs, too.

Where proper spacing is important

If you've ever planted corn, you know the value of proper spacing. Another place where "spacing" pays is on your telephone party line.

On a party line, "spacing" means allowing a little time between calls. When you do this, you give others a chance to use the line.

It's little things like this that make your party-line service good service. When everybody on the line is considerate and courteous, each party gets full value from his telephone.

A Long Distance call can make someone's day so much brighter

There's nothing quite so cheerful as the sound of a warm, familiar voice across the miles.

Wherever your friends and family may be, you can reach them quickly and personally by calling Long Distance. Most calls go through while you hold the line. And the cost is small. The inside front cover of your telephone directory quotes some typical low Long Distance rates. The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Dangerous Inertia

The sluggish indifference in Congress to the Hoover Commission's recommendation for reorganization of the Federal Government, grotesquely swollen and incredibly bungling, wasteful and inefficient, is a direct reflection of the inertia and unintelligence of the American people. There is no other way to explain it. The present situation is as complete an indictment of our unfitness to govern ourselves as has been made.

These may seem harsh words, but they are justified by the facts. If this nation were free of debt; if its citizens were lightly taxed; if there were a dependable surplus in the Treasury; if there were no war clouds in the foreign sky; if peace were assured, our defense armament reduced to the minimum and the rest of the world on its economic feet (an ideal condition which, of course, will never occur but may be assumed for the sake of argument), even then it would be inexcusably stupid not to enact the Hoover recommendation, which not only would save $3,000,000,000 a year but, through the elimination of duplication, waste and absurdities, restore reason and efficiency to a machine close to bogging down of its own weight.

Even under the ideal conditions above described there could be no defense for inaction, no argument against adoption, no sense in refusal. But, under conditions as they really are, not to act swiftly and favorably is more than stupid—it is wicked. It comes close to national insanity. It would be the most shocking demonstration of popular incapacity in all history. It would exhibit this nation as having, first, gone on record as realizing the necessity of regaining control of its governmental machinery; second, as having its request to be shown the way fully complied with; third, with full knowledge of the danger, as having turned its back, shut its eyes and done nothing.

These statements are by no means too strong. The truth is they cannot be made too strong. For here are the facts—far, indeed, from those ideal conditions, financially, the nation is in an appalling state. Instead of being free of debt, the debt—now more than 260 billions—is far greater than anyone dreamed could be sustained. The annual interest alone is twice as much as the total cost of government twenty years ago. Instead of being lightly taxed, the tax burden is unprecedently heavy. It bears grievously upon rich and poor alike. It has reached the point where to gain acutely needed revenue, economists generally fear the result of adding to it. Instead of a dependable surplus for nearly eighteen years, we have consistently run increasingly large deficits. Under such conditions any business, big or little, would be marked insolvent, branded as bankrupt. In other words, our Federal fiscal structure is strained to the limit.

Instead of permanent peace, for two years we have been engaged in a frightening cold war with Russia and no man can be sure it will not become a shooting war. Instead of reduced armaments at vast cost, we are forced to build up a gigantic defense machine. And billions are being poured into the friendly countries of Europe to promote their economic stability and strengthen our position. Finally, we have just concluded the North Atlantic pact, under which in the next twelve months we will furnish to the other signers 1½ billion dollars' worth of military supplies. This 1½ billion is not provided for in the President's budget and must be added to the 5½ billions necessary for the Marshall plan in the coming year. On top of all this, before the session has ended Congress will have appropriated several other nonbudgeted billions for a variety of purposes. The drain upon the Treasury will be terrific. We have got to get more revenue or go under. Where is the money coming from? In face of these facts, which no one disputes, one would think the Hoover proposal to eliminate waste, increase efficiency and save three billions annually would seem heaven-sent.

Literally, there is everything to commend it. It is not as if the Hoover Commission were trying to sell it. The idea was not originated by Mr. Hoover but by Congress itself. It was Congress which unanimously passed a resolution creating the commission and asking it to do the job. The commission has done the job. Practically every newspaper in the United States has approved. There isn't so much as a trace of politics anywhere. No one connected with the commission has anything even remotely to gain. No one in any party disputes the acute necessity of the proposed reorganization. This is the last chance.

Opposition comes from the intrenched Federal bureaucracy and the labor lobby. Powerful as these are, they should be easy to override on so tremendously essential a matter as this. Yet, incredibly, it lags. Already it is being said that Congress will evade responsibility itself and merely authorize Mr. Truman to reorganize to the extent he desired. That, of course, means nothing at all. Most congressmen shrink from doing anything to disturb the constituents whom they have on the pay roll. Their disposition is to run away from the drastic steps they are now asked to take in the national interests. If some way is not found to save this report from the lingering death which its opponents predict, this country's future is not pleasant to contemplate. It is a dreadful thought that the people are incapable of being aroused on so vital and simple an issue.

Underground Pony Express Featured in Sunday Article

"Underground Pony Express," was the title of another feature article in the magazine section of the Baltimore Sunday Sun concerning the Crellin mine of the Stanley Coal company. The article appeared on April 10, written by Ray O'Rourke, accompanied by a number of photos by Aubrey Bodine.

The magazine cover was a picture of Okey Junkins, stable boss, who has charge of the twenty or more ponies used in the mine to haul the coal cars.

The article is reprinted below:

Twenty-odd ponies that haul coal from under some 2,000 acres of Maryland territory are never seen in this State, and never breathe the air over it.

The mine they work in, and the town of Crellin that has risen about it, lie just inside Maryland's western border, but engineers found that the best place for an opening to the coal seam lay about a mile over in West Virginia. And so they made it there.

Miners travel over the surface of the ground from Maryland to that mine entrance, then backtrack underground with the ponies to do their digging in Maryland.

For a time, this odd situation caused considerable friction between the State governments of Maryland and West Virginia. As things were finally settled, the mining company pays unemployment insurance to Maryland and the miners pay Maryland income taxes, but the mine comes under West Virginia inspection.

The ponies, of course, are stabled near the entrance in West Virginia, and their closest friend is their stable boss. He is Okey Junkins, who weighs 305 pounds—and is "thin" now; he used to weigh 325.

Okey, who is 63, is really considerably more than just stable boss. He is also harness maker, veterinarian, pony trader and pony trainer.

His "office" is a two-by-four building next to the stable. Its only piece of furniture is a swivel chair. Its walls are lined with harness and trappings, tools and surgical instruments.

His home is on a hillside overlooking the mine. In his front yard, a brightly painted merry-go-round pony is fixed atop a pole. His porches are lighted by fixtures made from wagon wheels. Beside his front door hang strings of pony bells.

At 4 A. M. Okey descends the hill, his riding boots slogging through the black mud of the mine installation. An excellent horseman in spite of his great size, he has worn the same type boots almost constantly for 40 years. "Only take em off to go to funerals," he says.

By 5 o'clock he is feeding his ponies. At 6:40 these husky animals are harnessed and setting off to work with their drivers. Their workday is from 7 until 2:30.

Unlike ponies that are kept underground all their lives in deep-pit mines, the Crellin ponies never contract the blindness that constant darkness brings.

They go as deep as 410 feet, hauling empty cars to miners working in rooms on the main tunnel or "heading," and taking loads back to the heading to be pulled to the surface by squat electric motors.

Wider passageways would be necessary in the mine if motors did all of the hauling. Switching would be awkward and inefficient, too.

The ponies on the other hand, can enter low, narrow places where miners work stooped or kneeling down to load the cars. They are never required to rough their way through tunnels so narrow that their heads or flanks might scrape.

A 550-pound pony can pull a 2,200-pound car loaded with two tons of coal. The stable boss is partial to Welsh ponies because of their great strength and stamina. He says two good ponies can pull more than two 1,400-pound horses because "they're lower to the load and can stretch out against it better."

Under ideal conditions, a good pony can handle 50 loaded cars a day. But conditions are seldom ideal. There may not be enough cars to keep the loaders busy, or enough loaders to fill the cars at hand. And since the coal seam follows the contours of the earth, there are steep hills underground just as there are on the surface.

The peculiar seam at Crellin—known as the "Split Six"—at times requires small ponies and at times larger ones, depending upon the way the coal is mined.

Actually there are two seams, one four feet, and one two feet high, separated by a 10-inch strip of rock. At present, both seams and rock are being removed and the ponies average 51 inches in height.

But at times it is more desirable to mine only the upper, four-foot seam. Then "Joe ponies" are used—animals only 35 to 40 inches high. They get their name from the rock strip upon which they work, dubbed "Joe rock" by the miners.

The number of ponies in use varies with the mine's output. Last year that was 96,000 tons. Most of it came to hospitals and State institutions in Baltimore.

Some ponies work "single" some in tandem teams. In the tandems, the lead pony is the experienced one. Only the best are chosen for this job; high-spirited, intelligent, alert ponies.

"They're like high-strung men," Okey says. "They feel their responsibility, and they show it."

A young, untrained pony, working behind a good leader, soon learns his signals with little human help. The response of his harness hate to "gid-dap," "gee," "haw" and "whoa" teaches him to go, turn right or left, and stop on command.

Although the average mine pony sells for $250, the stable boss estimates the value of the best lead ponies to the mining company at $1,000.

Ponies start to work in the mines as 3-year-olds, and sometimes last to the age of 25. When new ones are needed, Okey Junkins goes horse-trading. He may turn up in the markets in Virginia, Tennessee, Iowa, Ohio—anywhere, north or south, as far west as St. Louis. He likes Virginia-bred ponies best because: "They're the stoutest we have; never get a cold. Northern ponies get sick on us."

The Crellin mine works six days a week. Ponies and men—all except Okey—have Sunday off. The stable boss works 12 hours every day. An assistant takes over when he goes on a trading trip.

Okey's merry blue eyes grow cold at the mention of mistreatment of his ponies. Should any of them ever show welts or whip mark, he says: "Better watch—there's gonna be a fit throwed around here. We don't want these little fellas all boogered up."

To promote easier handling, nameplates above the stalls in the clean, well-lighted barn show the ponies' names.

"No pony goes to work barefooted," is an Okey Junkins slogan. He has placed a blackboard at the stable door. On this, drivers write the names of ponies that have lost a shoe during the day. Blacksmith Chauncey L. Miller watches the board and replaces footwear as needed.

The ponies are Okey's life. He has worked with horses since he once ran a riding academy at Deer Park.

"This is the last job I'll ever have," he says. "I'll stay here as long as I'm able to work." He appreciated it that Harold E. Ream, general manager of the mine, gives him a free hand with his charges.

The mascot of his stable is Buster, a pet pony that Okey has taught the proverbial "bag full of tricks." Buster adds, subtracts and tells his age, and when he is asked "What do you do when you go to bed?" he kisses his master.

Not all of the ponies are so demonstrative. But all have the same devotion to Okey Junkins, and their biggest reward is a pat from a hand as big as a Garrett county home-cured ham.

Later Than We Think . . .

The following letter to the radio program, "meet the press," written on February 2 by Rev. Ralph C. Robinson, of Spring Grove, Pa., was declared the most outstanding received on that particular program. As a result he was presented a 30-volume deluxe edition of the Encyclopedia Americana worth $249.50. Rev. Robinson is a son of Mrs. John G. Robinson, Monte Vista road.

"I listeneed with a great deal of interest to your program of January 29th when Senator Owen Brewster of Maine was the special guest. It was a surprise, to put it mildly, to hear him go on record in favor of a universal pension of $100 per month for all citizens who reach their 60th birthday.

"My first and unreflective reaction was, 'That sounds like a good deal.' In these days of high prices the average person is quick to grab all the material security he can, with no questions asked. But on more sober thought I am wondering if we can really afford such a proposal. From the standpoint of economics the senator thinks the plan is sound. I do not question that. But remembering the words of the world's Great Teacher that 'Man does not live by bread alone' I wonder if it is a sound practice for any nation to guarantee that kind of security to its people.

"Are we to become a nation of loafers and sluggards? Already we show signs of our moral flabbiness. The get-something-for-nothing philosophy is fast demoralizing our sense of values, as witness the present craze for gambling and the radio give-away programs. I am disturbed to note that at a time of our nation's greatest wealth and power millions of our citizens are nervous wrecks and are unfit to play their part in a strong democratic society.

"Unearned economic security is no guarantee that people will be saved from the destructive neuroses that are over-crowding our clinics and institutions with unhappy and incompetent people. We cannot violate the basic laws of nature and the moral universe and hope to escape the consequences. Self-discipline and the sense of personal significance it brings are values we dare not lightly discard. In my humble opinion thrift makes better and happier citizens than the dole. I am surprised that a representative citizen from New England—that birthplace of American thrift—should come forth with such a suggestion. Perhaps it is later than we think!"

Other Legislative Bills Are Traced

The travels of several other bills through the legislature, or rather partly through the legislature, were outlined this week by local members of the General Assembly.

A House bill requiring strip miners to back fill and level the ground after taking coal or other minerals, passed the House, but was killed in the Senate.

The Juvenile Court bill, putting juvenile cases in the hands of the magistrates, passed the Senate, was amended in the House to put the cases under the jurisdiction of the Circuit court, same as the state-wide measure, and at no extra cost to the county; was killed in the Senate. It was noted that another administration bill raised the salary of judges to $13,000 per year.

On the forest conservancy act, a Senate bill was introduced to kill the entire measure. A House bill sought to exempt Garrett county from provisions of the act. Neither one got out of committee.

A bill passed the Senate to allow the County Commissioners to purchase $50,000 worth of equipment and machinery without bids. It was amended in the House requiring such purchases to be put out on bids. This was killed in the Senate.

A bill was passed in the Senate repealing a city regulation on grade crossings, without any provision to take care of the crossing. This was amended in the House which required the railroad to keep a watchman on duty 24 hours a day or in lieu thereof, to keep a watchman from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m., and to install flashing warning signals for use from 11 p.m. to 7 a. m. This was killed in the Senate.

To Resume Work of Blister Rust Control

The job of controlling blister rust among white pine trees is to be resumed in certain areas of the county, it was announced this week.

Henry Yost, area blister rust leader, from the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, Harrisonburg, Va., was scheduled to meet yesterday with Jack Paulhamus, assistant district forester and plan the work which is expected to take several weeks.

Blister rust is controlled by removing currant and gooseberry bushes within 900 feet of the white pine timber.

Found Not Guilty

At a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch yesterday morning John Lewis Beitzel, of near Accident, was found not guilty of a charge of assault and battery brought against him by Harry Turney of Oakland.

The assault was alleged to have taken place in front of the Railey Stone Tavern on Deep Creek Lake.

Magistrate Loraditch also heard a case against Jeremiah Paugh for burning brush during restricted hours. He pleaded guilty to the charge but when given a minimum fine of $10 and costs he asked for an appeal.

Permission For Grounds

Permission to use the property of the Board of Education at the north edge of Oakland for the celebration, was granted by the Board, according to a letter from R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools.

Plans for Farm and Home Day, for the Centennial, were discussed with Page Hickman, Howard White, Miss Eleanor K. Dearborn and Mrs. Harold G. Bittinger, members of the committee. The name of Mason Glotfelty was added as a member of the Finance committee, it was reported. The latter committee has topped the $8,000 mark in its goal of $10,000 to underwrite the pageant expenses.

At the central committee meeting this Friday, members will confer with a representative of a tent renting organization as several large tents will be needed for displays, etc.

Youghiogheny Lake Being Studied As Recreation Area

Possibilities of developing Youghiogheny Lake area in this county into a recreational area for Maryland were studied yesterday by Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the department of State Forests and Parks; H. C. Buckingham, state forester, and William A. Parr, district forester.

They toured the area near Somerfield, Pa., with representatives of the Recreational Planning division of the Pittsburgh army corps of engineers. Future development could provide a spot similar to Deep Creek Lake, it was stated, as the lake is accessible from this county at Mill Run, Selbysport, Friendsville and Church Run. The land fronting on the lake is now owned by the federal government and would have to be purchased by the state, it was pointed out, and in this it would differ from the activities at Deep Creek. The lake level would fluctuate, as it is a flood control dam.

Cincinnatian Hits Auto on Crossing

The last coach on the eastbound Cincinnatian train yesterday afternoon struck an automobile stranded on the Beckman crossing, east of Weber's, causing some damage. The car was not occupied at the time.

Miss Eleanor Pritts, employed by the Welfare Board, who was driving the car, tried to flag the train when it was found that she was unable to move it from the narrow crossing where it had slipped off the side of the ballast and stalled.

The right rear fender and body above the fender were mashed. The car was driven away under its own power.

The mishap delayed the through train only for twenty-seven minutes, while trainmen investigated. State Troper Robert F. Henline also investigated.

"Buck" Sines Being Returned to County

Sheriff J. S. Teats left yesterday for Monticello, Florida, for the purpose of bringing back Orville F. "Buck" Sines to this county to answer to an indictment of assault with intent to murder.

He was indicted over a year ago on the assault charge when he is alleged to have beaten William Kisner, of Friendsville, after getting him in an automobile.

According to Paul W. Fisher, deputy sheriff, Sines was apprehended by a detective in West Virginia and given a jail sentence in that state. Upon completing his sentence there he was taken to Florida to serve a sentence in that state on a larceny charge. Garrett county authorities obtained a "detainer" on him, and now that his sentence is completed in Florida, Sheriff Teats was notified to come and get him.

An engineer of the State Roads commission and a representative of the Federal Roads department will be here to go over the suggested roads to Swallow Falls, Bittinger Recreational Area and New Germany state Forest.

At a meeting of the County Commissioners with the State Roads Commission last month, the latter agreed to come up to the county and go over the roads. Fraley and the County Commissioners, the general assembly several weeks ago passed a resolution giving the state an "obligation" to build roads leading to and within state parks.

Proclaims Special Week

Governor William Preston Lane, Jr., has proclaimed the period, May 1st to May 7th, as "National Home Demonstration Week," and is asking that appropriate recognition be extended to the women in their homemaking problems.

The governor declared that the basic economy of the nation rested on agricultural resources and that the welfare of the rural population was reflected in the stability of this basic foundation of national prosperity.

He asked that recognition be given to the efforts of the nearly 14,000 citizens of the State who are devoting themselves to improving homemaking and better living.

No Complaints

At the appeal session of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland on Monday afternoon, there were no complaints by citizens of the town in regard to their present taxable basis.

STRONG PROTEST MADE AGAINST REMOVING OAKS

Thirty-seven Citizens Sign Letter To Mayor and Town Council of Oakland

A strong protest was lodged with the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland this week by a number of citizens, over the proposed plan of removing ten large Oak trees from the streets. In other words a storm is brewing over the mighty oaks, some of them being the ones for which Oakland was no doubt named.

These trees are located on Alder street, Pennington street, Second street and Wilson street, as far as can be learned.

The protest comes from 37 signers of the Oakland Civic club and other citizens of the town, who write that they "most earnestly and vigorously protest the planned removal of the large oak trees from the corner of Alder and Fifth streets, from in front of the Howard property on Alder street between Sixth and Seventh, and from various other locations where we are informed you intend to take down certain trees.

"We feel that the reasons for any such action should first be publicly explained to the citizens of the town who are justly proud of their trees; and that if any reasonable alternative appears, as we are told it will, such action be withheld.

The letter continues: "We are informed that the tree, corner of Alder and Fifth can be put into good condition for about forty dollars, whereas it will cost fifty dollars to remove it. If this is true we ask for an explanation of the action of the Council in ordering its removal, if such action has been taken. Similarly we are told that the only objection to the tree in front of the Howard property is that its roots interfere with certain drains or gutters, and if this is a fact, certainly the town should change the course of these gutters and save this beautiful tree.

"A recent summer visitor declared that in the course of a long life and much travel he had not seen such fine oaks anywhere as we have here, except in the great parks of England.

"We therefore ask that action toward any such removals be withheld, pending a complete investigation and report to the public."

According to Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh who was contacted this week, the council has taken no specific action in regard to the trees except to ask for an investigation from the State Forestry department. He said an inspection was made by a tree expert, a forestry man and himself and that the ten trees were declared to be dangerous, and that the forestry department had recommended removal on those grounds.

William Parr, district forester, declared Tuesday that at the request of the town the State Department of Forestry had granted permission for the removal of trees as being dangerous, but he said he believed that it was necessary that permission be secured also from the property owner affected, unless there was some specific town ordinance covering such a situation.

It was explained by Mayor Hinebaugh that the council had discussed the matter but that no specific action had been taken as yet. He said they were endeavoring to make it a cooperative project with the electric and telephone companies whereby each would pay $10 per tree for a total cost of $300 for the ten trees.

Mayor Hinebaugh said he was concerned with the danger involved from these old trees which had become a menace and in case of accident or death would result in a costly damage suit against the town.

All trees are located on town property, between sidewalks and the streets.

Sines Praises State Hospital for Chronics

The facilities and operation of the State-operated chronic hospital at Camp Ritchie were praised by County Commissioner Jonas Sines, who represented Garrett County at an inspection visit at the institution recently.

Sines said that the patients appeared to be receiving excellent care and the food was described as of the very best.

The hospital has a capacity of 220 patients with two wards set aside for Negro patients, Sines said. Upon completion of another state-operated chronic hospital at Salisbury on the Eastern Shore the Camp Ritchie institution will be used exclusively for residents of the Western Shore. This will give each county additional beds under an allotment system. Garrett and Kent counties are the only two which do not have patients at the Camp Ritchie hospital now.

Commissioner Norman Hess, of Carroll county, was elected chairman of the Board of Visitors of the hospital. It was pointed out that the cost per day per patient is $4.85.

A warship blast was fatal to three Navy men.

Sometimes we feel like a Centipede—on wheels

Ever take a quick look at a string of cars backed up for a traffic light? Looks almost like a centipede on wheels.

We've put so many parts and so much of our skill into those cars that sometimes, just looking at them, we ourselves feel like a centipede on wheels.

* * * *

A Chevrolet dealer's basic job is to provide reliable, economical transportation. We have two ways to do it—by supplying Chevrolet cars and trucks to you folks, and by repairing and servicing the vehicles you already have.

The war put the kibosh on the first way. After the war, Chevrolet led the field trying to catch up . . . was first to build a million vehicles in a post-war year . . . since the war has built over half a million more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer.

Still more folks want Chevrolets. Until they get them, it's up to us to keep the cars they have on the road.

We can do it. We have good, steady mechanics and parts men. We back them up with up-to-the-minute testing equipment and tools. We have a continuous factory-training program to keep our men up on new and better ways to keep your car purring.

And when cars are plentiful again, traffic lines will still make us feel like a centipede on wheels. It's our job to see that your car operates smoothly and economically whether it's been on the road for months or years.

* * * *

Meanwhile, we're supporting 100% Chevrolet's established policy of delivering to the public as many cars as possible at lowest possible prices.

Dorothy R. Dauphin Becomes Bride of Dr. Ralph A. Reiter

In a double ring ceremony in Zion Lutheran church at Accident, at 2:30 p. m., April 17th, Miss Dorothy Ruth Dauphin, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Dauphin, Accident, became the bride of Dr. Ralph A. Reiter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Reiter, Cumberland. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father.

The church was decorated with Easter lilies, tulips, and ferns. The altar was decorated with white snapdragons and lighted with tall white candles.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of nuptial selections was presented by Mrs. Leota Humbertson, who also played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Delbert Lease who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. L. Rohfling of Chardon, Ohio, was attired in traditional ivory satin gown with long sweeping train, and fashioned with off the shoulder effect with long sleeves tapering to a point over the hands, and fitted bodice with side paniers. Her veil of bridal illusion was attached to a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white lilacs with white satin ribbons.

Miss Jeanne Dauphin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a pink marquisette gown, fashioned in lines complimentary to the bride's dress. She wore a pink tulle halo headdress trimmed with pink flowers and matching pink mitts and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Robert Reiter, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Richard Reiter, brother of the groom, and Earl Haenftling, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Dauphin, mother of the bride, wore a street-length black print dress with black hat and accessories. A corsage of white roses completed her costume.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, ornamented with a miniature bride and groom, and with white flowers and white lighted candles.

Serving at the table were Miss June Dauphin, sister of the bride; Mrs. Otto Goehringer, Miss Dora Schlosnagle and Mrs. Edwin Georg.

Dr. and Mrs. Reiter left for a motor trip to New York City and Rochester, Minn. For traveling, the bride chose a gray gabardine suit, with silk blouse and navy accessories. She carried a navy coat. A corsage of white roses completed her costume.

The bride is a graduate of Accident High school and of Sibley Hospital School of Nursing, Washington. The groom is a resident physician of Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Upon the return from the wedding trip, they will reside temporarily at 801 Memorial Avenue, Cumberland.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ruth McArdle, Newfane, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Youngblood, St. Catherines, Ontario, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rohfling, and Miss Freeda Dauphin, of Chardon, Ohio; and Miss Ann Youngblood, St. Catherines, Ontario, Canada.

Wed In Log Church, Altamont

MRS. KENNETH C. SINGLETON

The Log Church, Altamont, was the setting for the marriage last Saturday afternoon, April 16, at 2 o'clock, of Miss Hazel K. Lake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Lake, of Swanton, to Kenneth C. Singleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Singleton, of Forest Hill, Md.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Austin F. Schildwachter, rector of the Episcopal church here, and took place before an altar lighted with candles in standard branched candelabra. White carnations were used on the altar. Mountain laurel and baskets of Easter lilies, stock, snapdragons and jonquils completed the floral decorations. Pews for the families were marked with jonquils and white ribbon bows.

A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Sherman Friend, including "O Perfect Love," "I Love You Truly," and "The Palms." Mrs. Friend also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper satin gown fashioned with pointed bodice, a bertha collar, and long sleeves formed points buttoned at the wrist. The full skirt with soft folds at the hem line ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and sweet peas. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Janet Moorehead, maid of honor, wore a pastel blue taffeta gown with blue mitts and a blue veil held by a cap trimmed with blue rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Misses Shirley and Mary Wright, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids and wore pastel green and pink taffeta gowns respectively with matched mitts and veils held by caps trimmed with pink forget-me-nots. All gowns were fashioned along the same lines as the bride's with pointed bodice, bertha collar and full skirts. They carried old fashioned bouquets of daffodils, snapdragons and stock.

The groom chose Dwight T. Schenk as his best man. Robert E. Reckner, Jr., and James A. Lake, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

Mrs. Lake, mother of the bride, was attired in a navy and rose print crepe dress with which she wore navy and white accessories. Mrs. Singleton wore a green print crepe dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The table was centered with a tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom candles. Easter lilies and wedding bells were used in carrying out the decorations. Mrs. Dessie Moorehead, Mrs. J. G. Woods and Mrs. Helen Jones assisted in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Singleton left for a brief wedding trip to eastern cities.

For traveling the bride wore a sand gabardine suit, a wheat straw hat with brown streamers and green accessories, and a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

The bride is a graduate of Oakland High school, class of 1944, and Strayer's Business school, Baltimore. Until recently she was employed as assistant bookkeeper by the Board of Education in Oakland.

The groom is a graduate of Havre de Grace High school, class of 1941, and is employed at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

The couple will reside in Forest Hill.

Miss Jessie Guard Becomes Bride of Raymond McCullough

In a simply arranged ceremony performed Friday, April 15 at noon, in the Methodist Parsonage, Grantsville, Miss Jessie Mae Guard, daughter of Dorsey Guard and the late Mrs. Laura Fox Guard, of Mill Run, near Friendsville, became the bride of Raymond O. McCullough, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. McCullough, Sr., of Friendsville.

The single ring service was read by Rev. D. J. Coombs, church pastor.

The bride was attired in a light grey suit with navy blue accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Attendants at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Lefevre, of Aberdeen, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. Mrs. Lefevre, acting as matron of honor, was attired in a navy blue suit dress with white accessories, and wore a corsage similar to that of the bride.

Mrs. McCullough attended Friendsville High school and acted as Garrett County Home Demonstration Agent in Oakland for a period. She is president of the Garrett County Homemakers' Council, a member of the Friendsville Homemakers' club, and leader of the 4-H club of that community.

The groom was graduated from Friendsville High school, class of 1928, and after completing a college course he was a member of the faculty of Oakland and Friendsville High schools for several years, prior to his entry into the United States Army. He served in Hawaii during World War II. Upon his return from the service, he headed the department of Mathematics at Allegany High school in Cumberland. At present he is the principal of Central High school at Lonaconing.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for a short wedding trip in Virginia.

MARRIED

Calderwood-French — Mrs. Walter C. Savage, of Oakland, has just returned from Washington, D. C., after attending the marriage of her son, Paul T. Calderwood, of Deer Park, and Washington, D. C., to Miss Ruth French, of Bethesda, on April 19th, at the Little Church of Fort Lincoln, District of Columbia. The Rev. Dr. W. F. Harkey, of the 3rd Presbyterian Church of Washington, officiated.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Albert L. Thompson, wore a grey suit with navy blue accessories. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Albert L. Thompson, who was dressed in green with taupe accessories. Charles C. King acted as best man for Mr. Calderwood.

A wedding supper immediately followed the service at the Cape Cod Inn, in Bethesda, after which Mr. and Mrs. Calderwood left for a two weeks' trip to Florida. Upon their return they will make their home in Bethesda.

Robinett Placed On Probation

Blair Robinett has been given a one-year suspended sentence and placed on probation for two years after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of "false swearing."

Robinett, who appeared voluntarily in the Circuit Court at Morgantown, W. Va., to answer the indictment of the April grand jury, admitted telling a lie to divorce commissioner Hale J. Posten to obtain an annulment of his marriage to a Filipino woman last January.

Arraigned on two counts of "false swearing," Robinett pleaded guilty to telling the commissioner and the court that he had no children by his wife when, in reality the couple had three children, two of whom are living. To the other count of using a false Morgantown address to bring suit for his annulment, Robinett made no plea and the indictment on that count was "nolled."

Judge Charles G. Baker instructed Robinett that under the terms of the probation he can leave West Virginia, but that he must report periodically to the sheriff there on a schedule to be worked out by the sheriff.

Robinett, a former recruiting sergeant, lived in Oakland with his wife and family, until they were sent back to the Philippines last summer.

Continuing the plan to publish each week the photograph of two of the older residents of Oakland, this week Mrs. Edward I. West and Mr. Robert Townshend were selected.

Mrs. West is a granddaughter of Ezekiel Totten, who purchased his land in this area from Isaac McCarty, the first settler in this section. She is aged 86 years, and was born on the Totten farm south of what is now Oakland. She was the former Adelia Tower, daughter of the first clerk of the court of Garrett county, William H. Tower.

Mrs. West still reads considerably and has her favorite radio programs, and is inclined toward modern ideas. She and her husband at one time were proprietors of the old Glades hotel when Bill Cody, General Crook, Mrs. Leslie Carter and David Belasco spent some time there.

Her husband, who was a magistrate and court crier here for many years, died in 1932. Mrs. West, until recent years, was particularly active in the work of the Presbyterian church here. She has one daughter, Miss Elizabeth West.

ROBERT TOWNSHEND

Robert Townshend, a Christmas gift to his parents, was born on that day in 1865, in the house in which he resides at present.

It is the oldest house in the town of Oakland and was built on lot No. 1 on the Oakland plat, corner of First and Water streets.

A son of Singleton L. Townshend, who owned and operated one of the first stores in Oakland, Robert has been plying his carpenter trade for 62 or 63 years, which he learned under the eye of J. M. Jarboe. The first building he worked on is now occupied by James Compton, water superintendent for the town, on Crook Crest avenue, which was being built at that time for W. H. Tower. He also superintended the construction of Monte Vista, south of town, the S. F. Hamill and G. S. Hamill houses, and was carpenter on many houses in both Oakland and Mt. Lake Park. He worked on the Court House in 1908 and the Knights of Pythias building in 1911, Mt. Lake Hotel and the Assembly Hall.

For several years he worked in Pittsburgh, Fairmont, and nearby towns but has spent a good portion his life in Oakland where he still continues his work. On Tuesday he was on a scaffold and helped to lay a roof.

Townshend has two sisters and a brother, Mrs. A. D. Naylor, Oakland; Mrs. C. D. Smith, Parsons; and Ernest Townshend, Oakland; and one daughter, Mrs. C. R. Jennings, Arlington, Va. His wife died over twenty years ago.

The WSCS of the Methodist church of Corinth, W. Va., is having a benefit ham supper on April 26, from 5:30 to 8, at the Ladies' Aid hall. Tickets are 50 cents and $1.00.

Third Accident Victim Succumbs in Hospital

The third of thirteen persons injured in a two-car collision near Kitzmiller on April 10, died on Thursday, April 7, in Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va.

She was Miss Maxine Teter, 16, of Vindex, who suffered numerous fractures of the arms and legs as well as a concussion of the brain. A fourth victim, Wilma Jean Simms, 10, also of Vindex, was reported by hospital attaches as "still unconscious."

Other persons injured in the crash were declared to be in a "satisfactory" condition. Junior McRobie, 23, driver of one of the cars, and his brother, Clarence McRobie, were transferred to the Newton D. Baker Veterans' hospital at Martinsburg on Friday. Both are World War II veterans.

Miss Teter was a passenger in the McRobie car. Maryland State police reported. Mrs. Jean Simms, 49, mother of the unconscious girl, and Mrs. Stella Pennell, 28, wife of Robert Pennell, listed as driver of the second car, died in the hospital on April 10.

Pennell and his daughter Geraldine, 10, both suffered fractures in the crash. Police said 10 persons were riding in the McRobie car which they described as a five-passenger club coupe.

Funeral services for the Teter girl were conducted Sunday from the Nethken Hill Methodist church, Elk Garden, W. Va., with Rev. G. W. Burkhart officiating. Interment was in the I.O.O.F. cemetery in Elk Garden.

Deceased was born September 4, 1933, at Underwood. Surviving are her parents, three sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Tasker, Anna May and Mabel V. Teter, and three brothers, Earl, Austin and William W. Teter, all of Vindex; a half-brother, Clarence Turner, Bayard, W. Va.; and two half-sisters, Mrs. Ethel Knotts and Mrs. Elsie Cosner, also of Bayard.

Dairy Farm Survey Reported

Most Maryland dairymen are using milk substitutes or calf starters in their calf-feeding program. This has been shown recently by a survey of Free State dairymen completed by specialists at the University of Maryland.

J. W. Pou, Extension dairyman, reports that the study revealed the following facts: (1) 65 per cent of the dairymen had their calves completely off milk before the calves were eight weeks old, (2) 80 per cent of the dairymen were using either a milk substitute or a calf starter, or both, (3) 18 per cent of the dairymen were using whole milk alone, and (4) only 2 per cent were using skim milk to raise calves.

He recommends that all dairymen consider the use of milk substitutes or calf starters. "This is a more economical method of raising calves and experience has shown that it is an easy way to grow good calves," he states. "Raising of needed herd replacements is the surest way of improving the herd—both in producing capacity and in herd health."

Rules of Temperance

Lesson for April 24, 1949

THERE IS REALLY something funny about it. Consider a First Church congregation singing:

"Jesus, I my cross have taken,
All to leave and follow thee;
Destitute, despised, forsaken,
Thou from hence my All shalt be."

Oh, come, come, ladies and gentlemen! Your cross? Where is it? "All to leave"—?

Dr. Foreman

You are going right back to your homes for an extra-good Sunday dinner. "Destitute"—? (Some congregations, believe it or not, actually sing "naked, poor," instead of "destitute.") Not a one of you ever has been on relief; you probably have more money in the bank than most of the people who didn't come to church.

Some People Cannot be Christians

IT MAY BE FUNNY to compare what the congregation is singing about themselves with what they really are. But it is sad, too, because that hymn illustrates how foggy-minded some Christians are about their own "cross."

They can sing blithely about it, and even complain (in song) about their own condition as something for the Salvation Army to look into, when they don't mean a word of it.

The fact is, Jesus did demand just the thing the hymn describes. He said, in so many words, "Whosoever doth not bear his cross and come after me cannot be my disciple."

What Did Jesus Mean?

THERE ARE TWO ways of misunderstanding Jesus here. One wrong line is taken by those who think Jesus did not mean a word he said. The other wrong line is taken by a very few people, a very few indeed, who take Jesus absolutely literally. They believe that no one can be a true, 100 per cent Christian, unless and until he gives up all his property, all his family, and lives alone and wild, a hermit in the wilderness. The facts show that both these interpretations are false. The world has never been really made better, either by selfish, comfort-loving, worldly Christians, or by the wild and woolly hermits who are clean "out of this world."

"Love Thyself Last"

THE WISEST, the most devoted Christians, have known better what Jesus meant. Jesus' own parable of the "rich fool" gives us the hint. He tells of a man who had everything he wanted . . . but when he came to die, discovered he had nothing. In that little story Jesus shows us a man who put himself before all other persons; who put himself before God; and who put things before character. He lived for his body, he lived for his comforts, he lived for himself.

The neighbors, maybe, called him smart because he was rich; but God called him a fool, and what God calls a man, that he is.

Taking the cross means living as Jesus lived, not as that fool lived.

Christians and Liquor Don't Mix

CONSIDER JUST ONE illustration of what Jesus means. Should a Christian drink alcoholic liquors? If you are not a Christian, you can try to answer this from non-Christian reasons; but that is not the question. Shall a Christian drink? Just think about this in the light of what Jesus said. The disciple of Christ will deny himself; does the drinker deny himself? The disciple of Christ will put Christ first always; but what does the drinker put first? Jesus called a man a fool who lived for his bodily pleasure, lived for himself; what would he call the man who thinks he can "take it or leave it" but who is actually tied to his bottles?

It is true, a selfish man may perhaps (for selfish reasons, such as saving money) deny himself liquor, tobacco, or even tea and coffee, and still be no Christian.

But a man who really denies himself, who loves himself last, will find that other self-denials follow as a matter of course. A man who lets his appetite dictate to him, especially his appetite for alcohol, is a man who is letting real self starve.

Look ahead—

and you'll see Roadmaster!

LITERALLY or figuratively it still holds true.

That great and gracious carriage swinging past you, flashing its four gleaming Ventiports as it goes, what's that but a ROADMASTER?

And that car you've got your sights set on—the big, roomy, lively, sweet-riding thrill-maker you mean to own "some day"—what's that but this gorgeous travel-mate you see on the roads right now?

You can even go beyond that.

Look ahead—and you'll see that Buick has already met the growing trend toward more for your money.

On the liveliness of its time-proved valve-in-head power plant—on the unequaled smoothness of Dynaflow Drive—on the level-going luxury of its matchless ride, ROADMASTER doffs its bonnet to no one.

Yet look around, check the prices (including what's in them!) and you'll find that this one costs less than you think, gives more than you expect.

As for delivery—just drop in and get the facts. With factory production increasing, you may well find it another reason for getting a firm order in right now.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

Congress last week passed the Economic Cooperation Administration appropriation totalling $5.5 billion, in addition to a record peacetime defense bill of $16 billion, and a $7.5 billion appropriation bill to finance 28 independent federal agencies in the next fiscal year.

In all, the House of Representatives voted some $24 billion in one four-day session—by all odds a record for peacetime spending, or authorization to spend. Thus far, the Congress has authorized the executive agencies to spend more than President Truman asked in his proposed budget in early January, on the items covered.

In short, it appears certain that the Democratic 81st Congress will authorize the expenditure of a good deal more than $42 billion in the next fiscal year. This will be the greatest peacetime budget in national history and it will be almost four times as much as the federal government spent in the last peacetime year before World War II.

President Truman told his press conference that a deficit already appears certain unless taxes are increased before Congress adjourns. As the deficit becomes more and more apparent to more Congressmen, the sentiment against a tax-increase seems to be calming down to some extent, although it would be a bold prophet indeed who would predict what will happen during the remainder of this session of Congress.

I voted for the ECA appropriation, although I must confess that it was with some apprehensions about the manner in which the money is being spent. All Congressmen want to do everything possible to contain Russia, and, in fact, to push the Russian expansionists back. Also, most Congressmen want to help our friends in Western Europe.

But I feel there is a limit to which we can go in appropriating American money. I pointed out in a speech that there ought to be greater control over the expenditure of this Marshall Aid plan money, for it is costing every man and woman and child in this nation $35 a year. It was noted that Great Britian, one of the principal recipients of ERP aid, enjoyed a $3 billion budget surplus last year and actually lent $35 million to Russia. Also, it was noted that many of the countries to which we are shipping goods under the ERP are reshipping the same goods, or similar commodities, to Russia. This is an intolerable situation and I expect to work to prevent such anomalous and contradictory actions by the ECA whenever and wherever possible.

In the supply bill for the armed services, I was glad to vote for the lion's share to be given to the Air Force, which can continue to build toward its 70 groups, as the Congress far-sightedly had ordered a year ago. The Air Force received $2 billion more than the Army and $1 billion more than the Navy.

Washington newspapers were not able to publish for three days during the week before Easter, giving high officials of the federal government a very good idea of the importance and usefulness of daily newspapers in the affairs of all large cities. More than one Congressman commented that life just can't be the same without newspapers. Nothing proves the indispensability of any commodity or service in modern life more clearly or quickly than for it to be denied quickly to a great number of persons. They become aware immediately of the importance of the item. Newspapers are certainly an important part of every American's life these days, despite the addition of many competing forms of media, and the growth and development of others.

Under The Dome

For the past several weeks we have received numerous requests for assistance in bringing persons to this country. Many of the cases are those of displaced persons and I have asked that applications be handled just as expediently as possible by the Displaced Persons Commission.

Hundreds of letters have been received relative to the readjustment of postal rates. Another matter in which constituents are very much interested at this time is the repeal of excise taxes made necessary by the war and I have received many letters and petitions on this matter.

I attended hearings this week of the Public Works committee when interested persons were being heard on the Baltimore-Washington Boulevard legislation.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

A Challenge

So far as the 1950 congressional elections are concerned, practically everybody agrees the most interesting and important contest will be in Ohio, where Senator Robert A. Taft comes up for re-election to a third term. There are two views of what will constitute the issue in that State.

One is expressed by political and journalistic advocates of the old Roosevelt New Deal and the new Truman "Fair Deal." These proclaim that Senators Taft's Democratic opponent will be the "popular and progressive" Gov. Frank Lausche. This, it is said, will create a clean-cut issue between "True Liberalism" and "Standpat Conservatism." The best chance yet will thus be presented the voters of a great State to show which political philosophy they prefer and in what direction they want the country to go. The trouble with this view is that it deliberately ignores the facts and obscures the real issue, which can be stated as follows: "Shall the labor bosses of the AFL and the CIO be permitted to drive out of public life the outstanding member of the United States Senate whose ability and character are not questioned, even by his enemies, solely because he refuses to accept dictation from them?"

This view is buttressed by the following points: (1) Mr. Taft is chief sponsor of a law which in two years has impaired neither the rights nor the health of any union, but to some extent has curbed the unlimited power of the bosses, used to damage the national interests and which could be used to menace the national existence; (2) because of this a campaign of unrestrained villification has been waged against Mr. Taft by the union bosses and their propaganda machines in an effort to make him appear an evil man, the "Arch-enemy of Labor"; (3) these bosses have proclaimed their purpose to destroy Mr. Taft in 1950. Both CIO and AFL publications are full of plans to do exactly that. One AFL leader, testifying before a Senate committee recently, glaring at Mr. Taft, shouted, "Wait till next year. Our boys will attend to you." Their publicity regularly reeks with these threats. Clearly, every ounce of strength that can be mustered will be used to beat him. It is said the CIO alone is prepared to spend $1,000,000 in Ohio to achieve that result.

But for this fight of the labor bosses against Mr. Taft there would be not the slightest doubt of his re-election. Even with the labor bosses going the limit, Senator Taft's friends believe he will win. Under no illusions as to the kind of campaign that will be made and the character of his real foes, Mr. Taft will fight harder than he ever did before. He will have to. A ruthless and determined foe seeks his political life. Governor Lausche and his "progressive policies" do not figure importantly at all. This is a desperate struggle between Senator Taft and the labor bosses, supported by a subservient White House, a servile Democratic National Committee and the lopsided "liberal" columnists. That is why, regardless of party or residence, it is a challenge that cannot be ignored.

For it must be clear if the allied labor bosses succeed in killing off Mr. Taft, no other member of the Senate or House will dare stand up against them. To be blacklisted by the labor bosses will be the end of public service. Under such conditions men of intelligence and courage would shun public life. Congress would become exclusively a body of sycophantic labor-union tools. If Mr. Taft can be defeated it marks the end of his kind of men in public affairs—men able and unafraid, men with convictions, self-respect and courage. For such men there would be no inducement whatever to enter Congress, every reason for keeping out. These being the facts, the success of Senator Taft next year would seem vital to every citizen interested in keeping the public service from sinking to the lowest level. Certainly, it is important to those who would be unhappy under the domination of arrogant labor bosses, distressed over a Senate exclusively composed of Peppers and Murrays.

Whether one likes Mr. Taft's political views or not, it is difficult to see how any thoughtful citizen can escape the conclusion that his defeat would erect insurmountable obstacles to the entry of decent men into public life. That is not an extreme statement. It is in absolute accord with the facts, and an extraordinary number of Democrats, in Congress and out, strongly hold this view. Most Democratic members know a Taft defeat would make congressional service intolerable to self-respecting men. Those out of Congress know it would greatly strengthen the CIO hold on their party, increase its influence over the White House, in effect, mean a labor boss dictatorship.

When the implications of this anti-Taft drive are more fully grasped, there is reason to believe a nonpartisan movement to avert what would be not far from a general disaster will develop in the country. Already sensing the significance and resentful at the mendacious propaganda pouring out (including the false statement that this senatorial fight is preliminary to another Taft effort for the Presidency), men from other states are asking, "What can we do?" And saying, "If they can knock Bob Taft off, there will be no holding them anywhere," which is true.

First Grades to Enroll

The Board of Education announces that on Tuesday, May 3, from 9:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M., all schools of Garrett County will be prepared to register first grade children who will begin their schooling in September, 1949. Parents are urgently requested to bring to the principal of the school on May 3, their children who will be six years of age on or before December 31, 1949. A birth certificate or affidavit is to be presented at that time to the principal, and the principal will need to witness a vaccination scar on each child to be registered for enrollment in September. If the vaccination has been unsuccessful, then a certificate from the physician setting forth that fact is requested.

The principal on May 3 will announce the schedule for the pre-school health examination as outlined by the county health officer.

BOY PROBLEMS

The problems of boyhood often seem trivial and inconsequential to their elders. Adults are apt to reason that these childish problems will eventually solve themselves.

But the probems of childhood are tremendously important, even when they seem trivial in themselves. For in seeking their solution the child forms habits of thought and action which later may influence more important decisions.

If a boy's early training is such that he seeks his solutions within the framework of truth, justice, and right, he will probably stick to this pattern later when larger problems arise. If he resorts to deceit and unfairness, these may become a fixed tendency.

That is why parents should teach their children that God and religion and right are the only safe guides in meeting the problems and perplexities of life. A boy and girl so reared can usually be trusted to do right things and make right decisions.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) for the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday ..... Proverbs 29:15-19
Monday ..... Joel 2:26-29
Tuesday ..... Luke 3:3-9
Wednesday .... Isaiah 49:1-6
Thursday ..... Acts 26:15-20
Friday ..... Ecclesiastes 11:9, 10
Saturday ..... Titus 2:1-8

For schedule of yearly readings, write American Bible Society, 450 Park Ave., N. Y. 22, N. Y.

Centennial Picture Bright. .

The Oakland Centennial picture brightened considerably this week with several interesting announcements.

One is the unique fact that Oakland will have a ballad all its own which is original with a native son and which has unusual possibilities. The tune is a catchy one that music lovers will be picking up and humming as soon as they hear it. And the ballad is historically correct in its portrayal of the times from 1849 to the present. It is to be woven into a dramatic pageant of Oakland's history, also written by a native.

Another announcement that is encouraging is that the young people have taken hold, and when they become enthused, it seems to be contagious. Under a capable Youth committee they have outlined a series of activities that will create much interest.

Of course, other committees are at work on each day's program. What at first seemed like a gigantic and almost hopeless task, is beginning to round into shape and all signs point to a really big celebration that should attract those at home and afar off.

Much work and planning remain ahead but the skies are brighter for those more closely connected with the centennial. What all of the Oakland citizens could do now to make it much more successful would be to become entirely centennial minded, with a willingness to do their share, to keep the more important events on the top side.

This celebration is for Oakland. Let all Oakland have a share in putting it across.

REPLICA OF FIRST SCHOOL HOUSE TO BE BUILT HERE

Youth Committee Outlines Activities For Centennial Celebration

A replica of "The First School House of Garrett County" will be reproduced on the grounds of the William-James hotel in Oakland by members of the Youth Committee as part of its activities for the Centennial celebration, August 8 to 14, it was announced this week by Joseph Sollars, chairman.

Sollars told the Central committee at a meeting on Tuesday night that the school would be constructed of logs and would be 20 by 15 feet, with a built-in fireplace. It will depict one hundred years of progress in the county beginning with the three-legged bench with slates, etc., bringing the furniture through the various stages up to the modern chrome furniture.

Under glass, are to be depicted first editions of various text books and other items of historical interest. At the door is to be a registration booth where there will be a log for people to sign who attended schools in the county. They will register in class groups. There will also be a separate log where visitors may register. The school will be kept open all week as a museum and place of registration, Mr. Sollars said.

The Centennial is to open Monday morning, August 8, from 10 to 12, with conducted tours to historical sites in the immediate vicinity and will be started from the replica of the school house. Painted arrows are to be put on the streets to show motorists where these historical sites are and each will be marked with a wooden plaque.

On Wednesday, August 10, from 10 to 12, the youth committee will stage a marbles tournament on the school grounds with Bruce Jenkins in charge. In the afternoon, beginning aroung 2 o'clock, the youth will have their parade featuring a float from each of the youth organizations, and each float will depict a 10-year period in the town. There will be prizes for both events.

Sollars also told the committee that on Friday morning, August 12, from 10 to 12 they would run a soap box derby on Pennington street, starting at the Nethken property and going across Second street to Third. Prizes will be given.

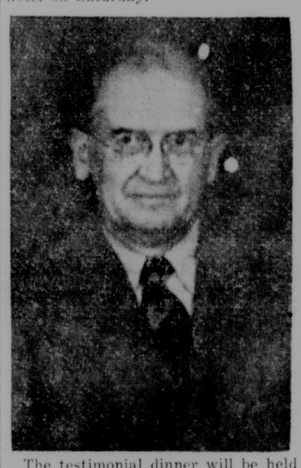
Group Planning For Testimonial Dinner

Dr. George E. Bennett To Be Honored Here On May 12

Plans to honor Dr. George E. Bennett, orthopedic specialist of Baltimore, at a testimonial dinner here on May 12, were outlined at a luncheon of members of the Oakland Chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis at the William-James hotel on Saturday.



The testimonial dinner will be held at the hotel and tickets may be obtained by request to the Oakland chapter.

Dr. Bennett, who has given much time in past years to the welfare of the youth of the county, is on the Johns Hopkins staff and is director of the Children's Hospital school in Baltimore. He is also head of the Maryland League for Crippled Children. He is internationally known as a bone specialist.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, chairman of the local chapter, said Dr. Bennett was instrumental in getting a bill passed designating the Department of Health as the agency of the state to administer a program of service for children who are crippled or who are suffering from conditions which lead to crippling. The department also supervises administration of those services included in the program which are not administered directly by it.

Dr. Baumgartner remarked that "when the files are searched and it is found how many orthopedic cases have passed through the clinics in this county, it makes one wonder how so great a man as Dr. Bennett can devote so much time in one community, freely giving a service that stamps him not only as an explorer but a stabilizer of orthopedic surgery as well." He said that most of the time the community had been wholly unmindful of his presence except those directly interested and working with him.

Also present at the testimonial dinner will be Mrs. William Bauernschmidt, Baltimore, who worked closely with Dr. Bennett in the interest of crippled children.

Officers Reelected

At the luncheon last Saturday officers of the local chapter were reelected including Dr. Baumgartner, chairman; W. J. Glenn, vice-chairman; George Littman, treasurer; Mrs. O. T. Graser, secretary. R. Bowen Hardesty was named chairman for Oakland.

The luncheon was attended by community chairmen and representatives from fraternal and civic organizations.

U. S. extended installment payment time to two years. Down payments cut to 10 percent except autos.

BALLAD AND PAGEANT TO BE SPECIAL FEATURES

Will Provide Unique Entertainment During Oakland Centennial

A ballad of Oakland, written especially for the centennial by Rev. Felix G. Robinson, a native son, and a pageant being written for dramatization during the celebration by Joseph P. Sollars, Elementary school principal, and also a native son, will be worked together into unique entertainment as the town observes the 100th anniversary of its birth August 8 to 14, it was announced this week by the Central Centennial Committee.

Mr. Sollars reported on the progress of the pageant committee at a meeting on Tuesday evening, in the absence of Mrs. Lewis Jones, chairman.

Rev. Robinson's ballad has been officially adopted by the pageant committee and the Central committee declared it to be the official Centennial ballad. Rev. Robinson, Arthurdale, W. Va., met last week with the two groups when a wire recording of his music and a number of stanzas of his ballad were heard.

Inspiration for his entirely new folk tune came to him as he listened some months ago to a Meadow Mountain folk song being played to him on the banjo by Irvin S. Custer, he related. The tune he heard is known as "Hell Around the Hen House," and from this has appeared the "Ballad of Oakland."

More details of the ballad will be available when it has been copyrighted, but the stanzas contain a running history of Oakland from the time of its settlement to the present day, and even delves into the future.

The Youth committee plans to have a narrator to read the story which is being written by Mr. Sollars and they are seeking a leveled area of land for a stage with natural props, such as trees, a stream, etc. The stage is to be divided into two sections with lights playing on the side where the story is being played while on the other stage they are preparing for the next scene. He said most of the large properties such as oxen, horses, a surrey, etc., have already been aranged for.

The pageant will last about one hour and 45 minutes and will be given three nights during the celebration. Admission of 35 and 65 cents is to be charged. Programs containing the text of the ballad and story and a number of photographs and sketches, are being planned.

Explains Method In Obtaining Farm Truck Tags

In order to clear up some of the difficulties in regard to the issuance of farm truck license tags, Arthur H. Green, county treasurer, received a notice from the office of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles on Tuesday.

Mr. Green said he was advised that farmers needing licenses for their trucks must secure a farm affidavit from a notary public or the county treasurer, then fill it out, have it notarized and then send i to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles' office in Baltimore. If allowed by the department, an application for tags will then be sent to the farmer showing the amount to be paid, either $15.00 or $22.00, depending upon size of truck.

All applications must be sent to Baltimore for special markers, Mr. Green said.

In some cases where a father and son jointly operate a farm, or where the farm has woodland and the truck is being used to haul products to market a notation to that effect should be made on the affidavit, Mr. Green added. This could be done on the back.

The department has notified Mr. Green that it will not be necessary to have titles for trucks perforated when sending them into the department for transfer of ownership, as taxes are now included in the flat rate.

GARRETT COUNTY MAN AMONG THREE DROWNED IN BAY

Fred Moon, 21, Loses Life In Tragedy Sunday Afternoon

Fred Moon, aged 21, a Garrett county man, was one of three who drowned in a tragedy in Chesapeake Bay last Sunday. He was a son of Mrs. Melvin Lee, of Loch Lynn Heights, and the late Boyd Moon.

Those who went to their death were John Wrightson, 30, his nephew, Charles Wrightson, 5, and Moon. They drowned when Mr. and Mrs. Wrightson, and Mr. and Mrs. Moon rented a 14-foot motorboat for a cruise on the Bay. Wives of the two men were saved and both told tragic stories of the accident.

Mrs. Wrightson told how she held her nephew in her arms until he drowned while clinging to the wreckage and then saw her husband swin away to his death. Mrs. Moon told of clinging to the overturned craft in the water with her husband, the latter losing his grip as a wave swung the boat around so that it struck him She saw him sink beneath the waves. Mrs. Moon was formerly Ruth Lichty, also of this county.

The two women were picked up by yachtsmen from the nearby Baltimore Yacht club.

The group, according to Essex police, put out from a boat rental firm on Norman Creek about 10 a. m. The boat's motor failed on the way to Miller Island and the craft drifted into deep water before the men were able to make repairs. A squall struck while the boat was still adrift.

Mrs. Wrightson said she and her husband clung to a life preserver cushion and an empty gasoline can, supporting the youngster between them. Waves washed over them, the little boy swallowing water until he collapsed in their arms. The couple became exhausted and the child's body slipped from their grasp and sank. Wrightson then told his wife he feared the wreckage would not support both of them much longer and swam away.

The bodies of the three who drowned had not been recovered up until press time today. Mrs. Lee said her son had worked for two summers at the Imperial Ice Cream plant and also had worked one summer at the Coca-Cola plant. He was graduated from Oakland High School in 1944 and had spent two years in the armed forces.

He was maried at Christmas time 1945. Mrs. Lee said her son would be buried in Oakland when the body was recovered.

Melvin Lee, Roy Lichty, Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Welch returned to their homes at the park on Tuesday after visiting the Moon home at Essex since Sunday evening.

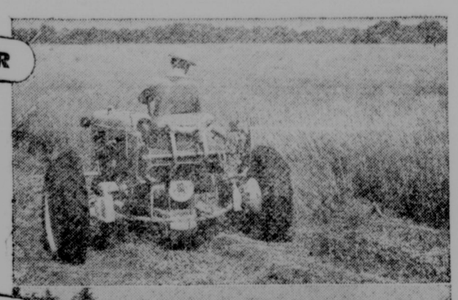
A New HAYING SYSTEM
. . . Fewer Men . . . More Hay . . . and Rolled Bales
These three Allis-Chalmers machines mechanize your hay harvest from start to finish. You don't even need a pitchfork. You get better quality hay, and use a smaller crew.

FRONT-MOUNTED MOWER
Always in easy view of the operator. Better control for mowing around obstructions. Fast hydraulic lift. Unmatched stability, particularly on hillsides. Hydraulically controlled sickle bar.



TRACTOR RAKE
Really engineered for tractor power. Power-driven, has two forward reel speeds and one reverse for tedding — shift easily as shifting your car. Castered, rubber-tired, front wheel makes it easy to lay clean, straight windrows, without pitching or roping. Ball and roller bearings throughout.

ROTO-BALER
ROTO-BALER makes weather-resistant, rolled bales — fast. Saves more leaves. Rolled bales can be fed with less waste, whole or unrolled. You can stack more tons of hay in a given area. They don't break apart when handled rough. Twine-wrapped—safe for livestock.

Here is a team that is hard to beat—a family whose members work together and play together and are bound by a common tie of love and mutual interests. Such families are the hope of the world.

People do not have to be clannish or unsocial to enjoy such home life. They may have interests, associations, and pleasures outside, but their dominant interest will be in the home and the family circle.

Fortunate indeed are the children whose lots are cast in such a home. For parents who are motivated to build such homes are not apt to neglect the moral and spiritual values which make life strong and beautiful.

They turn naturally to the Church and the inspiration of the Holy Scriptures for guidance, knowing that these will endure though everything else may fail.

Children reared in such homes become good citizens and useful members of society.

HOLY BIBLE
THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Came to Oakland in 1882

MRS. SUSAN LAWTON

Continuing the series of pictures of the older residents of Oakland, Mrs. Susan Lawton and Mr. George Little were selected this week, two of the city's oldest citizens.

Mrs. Lawton, a daughter of A. J. Harne, came to Oakland about the year 1882 from Boonsboro, near Hagerstown, and has been a resident since that time. She was 88 years of age last August, having lived here 66 years. She has been a faithful member of the Methodist church for many years and was an active member in three different Methodist edifices. She described the first as a low structure facing Oak street. All were on the same location.

Her husband, Samuel Lawton, has been dead over thirty years. During his lifetime he assisted his father, also Samuel Lawton, in the woolen mill that was operated here at that time near where the Russell Smith home now stands, at the northeast edge of town.

Mrs. Lawton reared a family of five, four of whom are still living, Arthur Lawton, city clerk-collector; Mrs. S. B. Aronhalt, Mrs. Bertie Thrasher and Miss Margaret Lawton, all of Oakland. Another son, William Lawton, died several years ago at Beaver Falls, Pa.

In recent years Mrs. Lawton fell and broke her hip but has recovered sufficiently to get around with the aid of a crutch.

Will Be 91 Next September

Coming to Oakland with his parents at the age of six, George Little will round out 86 years of living in this community at his next birthday on September 4. At that time he will have reached the ripe age of 91.

Born in Ithaca, N. Y., he didn't lose much time in coming to Oakland where his main occupation for fifty years was as a pumper for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

He was a member of the Oakland Town Council for several terms and has been active in the Knights of Pythias lodge, rarely missing a meeting over a half century. He received his 50-year jewel from the lodge several years ago. He was also a regular attendant of the Presbyterian church during its existence here and since that time has attended the Lutheran church. He is known as "Uncle George" by numerous residents and has many experiences to tell to those who will lend a willing ear. He still works around his home and has steadily maintained a garden which often produces vegetables earlier than anyone else with the possible exception of C. F. Hammond, 83-year-old resident who was pictured two weeks ago.

Mr. Little married Mary Pfeiffer who died about six years ago. They reared nine children, four of whom are still living, Mrs. Alice Turney, Mrs. Charles Welling, Miss Marie Little, Oakland; and Mrs. John Bundus, Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Elliott and daughter Meredith, motored to Paden City, W. Va., and upon their return were accompanied by her mother, Mrs. William Aspinall, who will visit here. They were also accompanied on their trip by Mrs. Russell Smith, who visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lewis, at Rockland, Ohio, over Sunday.

Kenneth C. Royall, army secretary, resigned after telling the president "war is not imminent."

Services were in charge of Rev. Austin F. Schildwachter, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, and interment was in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Hinebaugh was born in Upperville, Va., October 20, 1850, a daughter of the late Joel T. Ward and Frances Johnson Ward. She was a member of the Episcopal church in Oakland and visited a son, Harry W. Hinebaugh, in Oakland, every summer.

During her residence here she was an active member of the Episcopal church and was an organist there for many years.

Music always held an important place in her life. She was an accomplished pianist and had a talent for composition. As organist at St. Matthew's she directed numerous cantatas, operettas and varied entertainment. She also sang in the choir and was president of the Episcopal Guild. While residing in Pittsburgh, she remained active in Trinity Episcopal Cathedral there.

Surviving are three sons, Walter and Roy Hinebaugh, Cumberland, Harry W. Hinebaugh, Oakland; and a daughter, Miss Bessie Hinebaugh, Pittsburgh; also seven grandchildren, seven great grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Mrs. Hinebaugh fell several weeks ago and broke her hip and had been bedfast since that time. She would have been ninety-nine years of age had she lived until this October.

Forest Survey To Be Made Here Soon

Aerial photographs will be a major part of a forest survey which will get underway soon in Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties, Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Department of State Forests and Parks, has announced.

Kaylor said contracts for the photography have already been let to the Aerial Service Corporation, Philadelphia, and added the survey will start in the next 30 days.

The forestry director said the survey will be conducted to speed up and intensify forestry activities already underway in the Potomac River Basin.

U. S. Forest Service specialists, he said, will work with William A. Parr, district forester, in determining the condition of Western Maryland watersheds.

Federal specialists, he added, will be assigned to the survey crews to interpret game food and cover conditions for the Department of Game and Inland Fish.

He explained that the photographs will be studied and interpreted by specialists, who will also make field inspections to check and supplement their findings.

The survey should furnish information, Kaylor said, as to which timber lands need improvements to make them more valuable, not only in producing timber, but in conserving water supplies.

State department officials, Kaylor asserted, believe the work will not only give an inventory of conditions of forest lands but will serve to show how recreation facilities in Western Maryland can be improved.

The forest lands, he declared, "can contribute a great deal more toward flood control, siltation and general improvement of the basin through intensive forestry activities within the basin."

Only the four counties in Western Maryland will be included in the survey at present, Kaylor declared, explaining that the remainder of the state's forests will be surveyed as pictures and survey crews become available.

Jesus Is King

Lesson for May 1, 1949

IT IS A SIN to tell the truth out of season. So declares a famous Protestant creed. It is not always good nor wise to tell everybody everything you know. Keeping your mouth shut may be one of the best things you ever do. Jesus himself knew how to keep a secret till time to tell it. He never uttered an untruth about himself, but for a long time he did not openly declare his conviction, in spite of being pestered to say Yes or No about it.

Dr. Foreman

The question was: Are you the Messiah? This was the same as asking, Are you the King? Jesus would not say Yes, because the mere word would be taken to mean "revolutionist" or traitor." But he would not say No, because he was a king; indeed of all men he had the best right to the title.

Royal Entrance

BUT WHEN the time came, Jesus did declare himself king in a spectacular way. We know the story as the "Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem," the story of Palm Sunday, now so fresh in our minds. Jesus lived in a nation of people who were familiar with the meaning of symbols, both in word and action.

When Jesus rode into the ancient capital where his forefathers reigned, astride a mule colt, the people knew, and he knew they would know, that this was not just somebody riding a mule on a Sunday morning. In the history of the Hebrews, mules were the steeds of kings.

King Solomon was crowned riding on a mule. There was a famous prophecy (Zech. 9:9) that when Jerusalen's great king should come, he would be riding on just such a royal steed. So when Jesus rode into Jerusalem, the people threw their palm branches and shouted their welcome, not to the teacher and prophet, but to the King.

Tears in Triumph

IT WAS NOT altogether a victorious occasion. Jesus knew too well how cheap and easy "demonstrations" can be. In his mind's eye he could see a cross standing outside Jerusalem, and in his inner ear he could hear this same dusty-throated mob, now shouting "Hosanna!", yelling instead "Crucify him!" Tears stood in Jesus' eyes. But they were not tears for himself; he never wasted energy in self-pity. They were tears for that blind city, tears for its coming destruction — the city that did not know the way to peace.

Master of the Temple

BOLDER THAN JESUS' triumphal entry was what he did inside the city. It was one thing to claim royal rights over the nation; but at the temple Jesus' claims reached far higher. It should be remembered that in the eyes of all Jews at that time the Temple was absolutely sacred. It represented the dwelling-place of the invisible God. Now the priests at the time were more profiteers and politicians than priests. They carried on what today we call a "racket" in the sale of animals for sacrifice and in changing the ordinary money of all countries into the local Jewish shekel (in which coin alone could temple offerings be paid).

The racket was notorious; every decent Jew hated the priestly profiteers. But no one had ever done anything about it, for that would mean assuming on authority over the temple that no man dared to assume.

But Jesus took it on himself. His direct and even violent action in smashing the racketeering ring was a mark of something more than ordinary self-confidence. He laid claim to being no less than the Master of God's Temple. He was acting in the name of God and with the authority of God.

Master of Man

WHEN THE CHRISTIAN church calls Jesus "Lord" and "King" today, we are making no claim for him which he did not make for himself. What we mean by these titles is that Jesus Christ, for us and for all men, is the authority above all others.

Senator Taft said chances of a Republican party come-back are good if the party remains steadfast in championship of the principle of individual freedom.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

Easter holidays may have been at for thousands of school children
o visited Washington last week,
t the "holidays" were that in name ly for most conscientious Congress-en.

Legislators coming back to the nan's capital from all parts of the untry recounted to each other some the experiences they had in work-g among their people. It was good r the Congressmen to be able to get t and to get the views of large mbers of Americans. No matter
w much mail a Congressman re-ives—and most of us get from 50 100 letters a day, it seems—it is ll good for him to keep in close uch with his constituents.

Since my district is so close to the pital, I was extremely fortunate ring the Easter recess to get to sit each County in the District. I as in Hagerstown on several oc-sions—once to discuss labor-manement legislation with representa-es of labor organizations and once be the guest of the Board of Direcs of the Hagerstown Chamber of mmerce.

In Allegany county I met with a legation composed of the officers labor groups when we went over labor management legislation
w before the House. I also attended installation of officers ceremonies
Henry Hart Post Veterans of reign Wars in Cumberland. I spent e day in Garrett county and made trip to Savage River dam. During week I had several conferences
th the Committee members arrangg for the Airport Dedication at ederick on May 1. Another imrtant meeting was at Rockville on ril 20, when I met with officials of ckville and the members of the ryland State Roads Commission to cuss the proposed Rockville by-ss. This was a most interesting eting and after discussion the ene group went over the proposed ute.

When I came back to my office on week-end and was conversing th one or two other legislators out experiences of the holiday sean, all of us agreed that it was good get away from the confining com-ttee and legislative work of recent eks, but that most Americans uld agree with us that we didn't af during our holidays.

President Truman announced last ek that the forthcoming sesqui-ntennial (150th) anniversary celeation of Washington, D. C., would known as the "Freedom Fair." The rector of the event said confidently at he expected no less than 10,000,- 0 Americans to come to Washing-n next year for the Freedom Fair, hich will begin in April, and there a chance that some 20,000,000 per-ns from the U. S. and other nations the world will come.

Undoubtedly the event will be one the most spectacular ever held in ashington, for, barring war or her calamities, the world by this me next year will be five years way from World War II, and the n to travel to Washington will be eat in the hearts of millions of ople who can afford the trip.

It is a little-known fact that no ss than 4,000,000 to 5,000,00 tour-ts visit Washington every year, en in a normal period. But the in-ax next year is expected to bring erflowing crowds to the capital of e nation, which is in effect the fi-ancial and freedom capital of the orld.

We who live in nearby Maryland metimes do not appreciate, I be-eve, the glories and beauties of our ation's capital as much as we should.
hen I see the hundreds of school ildren from Arizona, New Mexico nd California and other far off tates in Washington, I can't help but ink of the efforts many of them ust have made to get this trip. I now that thousands of boys are rrying papers, running errands, or elivering groceries just to save their ickels and dimes and dollars so that ey can take that long-wanted trip see the shrines in Washington.

Washington is a most unusual city nd one that we could all visit with rofit and pleasure. Here we can re-ew our faith in America and in the rinciples and ideals of the men who amed our wonderful government.
ere we can see with eyes of wonder he evidences of the power and glory f free America. I hope that every erson in my district next year can ome, at one time or another, to the reedom Fair.

Most Pedestrian Deaths Are Due To Carelessness, Booklet Claims

Pedestrians killed or injured in traffic accidents in Maryland last year totaled nearly the population of Laurel, according to a booklet prepared by the Traffic Collision Statistical Bureau of the State Police.

Of a total of 369 traffic fatalities, the booklet declares, 160, or over 43 per cent, were pedestrians. About 74 per cent of these fatalities were due to carelessness on the part of the pedestrian.

The bureau credited careless crossing of the road, walking into the road behind parked cars and walking with traffic at night while wearing dark clothing with 60 per cent of all fatalities between intersections. In the other 40 per cent, the report says, evidence of drinking by the pedestrian was discovered.

Sixty-seven per cent of all pedestrians killed were over 55 years of age or under 15. The breakdown shows that 44 per cent were in the older age group, and 23 per cent were under 15.

The ratio of pedestrians injured to pedestrians killed was 16 to 1, while that of passengers injured to those killed was 39 to 1, which is to say that a pedestrian struck by a car has one chance in 17 of being killed, while a passenger has only one chance in 40. Only five per cent of all pedestrians struck escaped injury.

One interesting fact brought to light in graphs included in the booklet shows that while more pedestrians in all age groups are killed in rural areas every year, pedestrian injuries in cities far out-weigh those in rural areas, probably because of the heavier traffic in cities and to higher speeds in the open country.

Another graph shows that the lowest percentage of pedestrian fatalities is among youths from 15 to 19 years of age.

The booklet ends with an appropriate admonition to pedestrians:

"Be a warm, living human being, not a cold statistic."

477 Deer – One Horse

Among the Maryland field notes of the magazine "Maryland Conservationist," spring edition, is found the following, which needs no further comment:

"The six day deer season in Garrett county ended in a total kill of 477 deer and one horse. The horse was shot and killed on the farm of Virgil Sines in the Savage River area near Bond by spotlighters. (note: as to the deliberate shooting of a horse—there is nothing that polite language will allow us to say, but there are many hunters who wonder at the antagonism of landowners and farmers and we especially call this to their attention."

Meet a has-been!

Meet Mr. Mercury!
The old Romans thought he was the messenger of the gods. With those winged feet he got around fast, doing all sorts of useful little jobs on the way. This Roman messenger is out of date now. For speed, you can't beat electricity. It's on hand 1/10,000,000th of a second after you flip a switch

You can't beat electricity for usefulness, either. It's like an extra pair of hands for the homemaker—always ready and willing to help clean and sew and cook, do the laundry, make life easy and healthy and comfortable. And you can't beat electricity for cost! Just think, one penny's worth of electricity will run your radio for a full evening—or swish the dirt from two tubs of wash—or tell you the time for a week. In this era of sky-high costs, what other item in your family budget does so much—for so little?

Dodge maintenance costs are at an all-time low . . . due to a wealth of engineering features and advancements.

Connecting rod bearings are removable. Oil screen is of the floating, not fixed, type; a rotor oil pump replaces the old gear design. A water distributing tube increases engine efficiency.

Valve seat inserts substantially prolong engine life, increase gas economy, and reduce frequency of valve-grinding jobs. Vast improvements have been made in piston design; top piston rings are now chrome-plated, insuring better compression, longer cylinder wall life.

Famed Amola steel replaces alloy steels in springs and axle shafts. Hypoid rear axles replace the spiral bevel type, and rear axle shafts are shot-peened.

There are 7 frame crossmembers (including a channel-type bumper) instead of 4. Added features include voltage-control regulators, stepped hydraulic brake cylinders, and 35- instead of 20-ampere capacity generators.

VALUE features in the new "Pilot-House" cabs . . . not present in '29 models . . . include 7-step seat adjustment on famed "Air-O-Ride" seats; slanted "V"-type windshield; safety glass; 4-point rubber, instead of rigid mounting; 57¼" seat width as against 45¼"; outside gas tank filler, instead of under seat, and many more.

Replacements For DDT Recommended

Recent changes in recommendations on use of DDT should not prevent Maryland farmers from controlling flies this summer. Dr. E. Cory, head of the Entomology department at the University of Maryland, announced that other chemicals are available and are equal to DDT in their fly-killing ability.

His announcement was brought about by the ruling of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, United States Department of Agriculture, with the concurrence of the Foods and Drugs Administration, that no tolerance of DDT or similar chemicals would be allowable in milk or meat. Because of this, Dr. Cory stated, "Any Maryland farmer using DDT, Chlordane, Toxaphrene, Benzenehezachloride, or any other chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticide except Methoxychlor must do so at his own risk. The University is not recommending the listed insecticides except on plants not to be used as forage."

Methoxychlor Recommended

The chemical now being recommended is Methoxychlor, also known as "Marlate 50" and "Methoxychlor 50". It is available for spraying dairy barns, dairy cattle, and animals soon to be slaughtered. The 50 percent wettable power is used at the rate of 16 pounds to 100 gallons of water to make a 1 percent spray.

Other materials are suitable for space spraying which is that type of spraying that creates a fog or mist of such fine particles that they remain suspended in the air for considerable periods. Insects get a killing dose as they fly through the mist. For this purpose there are several pyrethrum sprays on the market that are remarkably effective. They also may be directly applied to domestic animals and buildings. Two of these sprays, known as "Pyrenone" and "Pyrexcel 20" have materials added which increase the killing and residual effects.

Pyrenone should be used 1 gallon to 9 gallons of water. This dilute spray will cover approximately 750 sq. ft. of surface per gallon and should be effective against flies for 14 weeks. For horn flies on stock it should be diluted 1 gallon to 39 gallons of water and will be effective 8-14 days. For stable flies (biting flies or dog flies) on animals it should be diluted 1 to 9 as for barn spraying and will be effective for 3 to 8 days.

The county agent in each county has been furnished with complete information by Dr. Cory and can advise farmers on fly control programs.

Extension Service Issues Spray Bulletin

"Sprays For Home Fruit Plantings" is the title of a new publication just issued by the Maryland Extension Service. The bulletin, number 125, is free to residents of the State and is intended for those with small non-commercial plantings. A similar bulletin is available for commercial growers.

The new publication gives information on spraying for control of diseases and insects on apples, pears, peaches, cherries, plums, raspberries, blackberries and strawberries. It includes recommended mixtures and tells how to apply them. Copies are available from Extension Offices in each county or from the bulletin room at the University of Maryland, College Park.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

New "Liberal" Leader?

The new Senator from North Carolina, Dr. Frank P. Graham, appointed to fill an unexpired term, comes so widely advertised as a "great liberal" that some say he will soon leap into the leadership of that strangely assorted and rather cloudy-minded group, both Democrats and Republicans, who, linked together under the vague name of "liberalism," constantly and boringly mouth the word.

It is a possibility. On the other hand, there is hope—exceedingly slight, it is true—that his personal taste, his contacts with other senators and the responsibilities of his new job may somewhat dilute Mr. Graham's extreme "liberalism" and induce him to consider political realities the existence of which so far apparently he has slight knowledge. However, the odds are heavy that he will pursue the course upon which he embarked some years ago and which has won him the adulation and admiration of most of the extreme left-wingers and bleeding-heart statesmen in both parties. An example of this occurred right after his appointment. His name came up in the Senate and a debate ensued. There was no suggestion from anyone that Dr. Graham was not a thoroughly patriotic and loyal citizen but it was brought out that he seemed to have an irresistible tendency to join organizations and associations regarded by the Un-American Activities Committee and the FBI as subversive, and that some of them had been Communist fronts. The most that was said about this was that he had been "careless," did not know they were communistically controlled.

Immediately, two of our most valiant and vociferous senatorial "liberals," one a Democrat, the other a Republican—to-wit: Senator Claude Pepper, of Florida, and Senator Wayne Morse, of Oregon—rushed to his "defense," became lyrical in their eulogies. Not everyone would rejoice at entering the Senate under the championship of these two statesmen. It has been said that Senator Pepper is less beloved by his colleagues, regardless of party, than any other member of their body. A more likable character, personally, Senator Morse perhaps is more voluble. Not long ago, some senator, without mentioning names, expressed his desire for some relief from what he called the "talking senators." Next morning, promptly applying this to himself, Senator Morse entered upon a speech that lasted the whole afternoon and filled ten solid pages of the Congressional Record. It was devoted almost entirely to an explanation of himself as a "liberal," and his definition of "liberalism," along with affirmation of his right to talk and his determination to keep on talking, whether nonliberal senators are bored or not.

Several of his colleagues interrupted to tell Senator Morse what a fine character he really is. Modestly deprecating this personal praise as from "biased friends," Senator Morse then really went to town in describing his unshakeable determination to battle for the "underdog" while life lasts. Why Mr. Morse places Dr. Graham "high up" on any list of the "Greatest Americans" may be due to three reasons—1, that they served together on the Roosevelt National War Labor Board; 2, that though named to represent the public there, generally they were as strongly pro labor as the labor representatives themselves.

For example, in one famous extremely pro-union opinion written in 1942, Dr. Graham likened the labor unions to the early Christians of the great Roman Empire who, despite oppression and persecution finally "transformed the sackable City of Rome into the unsackable City of God." In another part of the same opinion he linked the unions with the Pilgrim Fathers in these words: "The little band of religious Pilgrims who in seeking the right to organize for the worship of God . . . fetched up on the wintry shores of Massachusetts, where their spiritual heroism made Plymouth Rock one of the foundation stones of self-government in America."

Dr. Graham is hardly going to disappoint either such ardent admirers as the Messrs. Pepper and Morse—or the CIO bosses who joyously cheered his appointment. Also, he has said that in general he favors the "Truman policies" which caused Mr. Truman to write an exceedingly eulogistic letter about him. By some it is held that his presence and influence in the Senate may make possible successful revival of Mr. Truman's "civil-rights" program. However, there is some doubt, Dr. Graham could, in general, favor the Truman "civil-rights" program and still believe, as does Senator Taft, that a Federal law is not the way to make it effective. Also, he could be in favor of the modification of the Taft-Hartley Act without regarding it as wholly evil and desiring its complete obliteration. Also, it might be that, once in the Senate, he would not entirely subscribe to the soothing, not to say, soft-headed, New Deal theory that deficits are unimportant and the size of the national debt is immaterial.

After all, despite periods of "carelessness," Dr. Graham is an erudite, able and upright man. Maybe as a senator facts will mean more to him than they did when he was just a crusader for the good, the true and the beautiful without power to do anything much except join something.

Vintage of 1900

Continuing to glean from the illustrated guide to Oakland, published in 1900, preserved by Wilbur L. Davis, we publish this week a suggested walk, drive and excursion for the visitors of the area.

The booklet suggested that pedestrians wear outing suits and thick soled shoes and indicated that ladies would find staves fashioned like alpenstocks out of branches or saplings helpful. Field glasses and drinking cups were suggested also.

Will you be able to identify all those this week and succeeding weeks?

Walks

No. 1—Crook Crest.—From railroad station walk up Wilson street past the school house to its end at Pennington street; turn to the left and walk to Bartlett street, about four hundred feet; turn to right and walk up Bartlett street, a steep hill, to its end, about eight hundred feet. To the northeast can be seen through the trees the roofs of Gen. Williams' house and barn and the water tower of Truesdell's Heights, about six miles distant. Deer Park lies between, but is behind an intervening hill. The ridge along the eastern horizon is the big Backbone Mountain range. The buildings among the trees about two miles away to the east are in Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn. To the right and on top of the highest ridge of the Backbone Mountain is an observatory at Table Rock, distance about eight miles. It can be seen with the naked eye sometimes, but always with a glass. To the right, but only two miles away, the house at Monte Vista stands out against the sky. To the right and nearly twice as far away, is a school house, on the old West Union road. The hill behind the Oakland Hotel is known as Totten's Hill and the larger one to the right, as Lloyd's Hill. The range which skirts the north-western horizon is named Cranberry Mountain. It is in West Virginia. The town of Oakland is spread out at the observer's feet. Three-fourths of a mile.

Drives

Excursions

No. 1—Allegheny Heights.—Leave town by Oak street, cross railroad track west of Mt. Lake Park, follow the road through the Glades and out to the Henry Beckman farm, about an hour's drive. The rest of the trip to top of the mountain must be made on foot. This walk is rough, stony and steep, requiring at least an hour for the ascent, hence delicate and elderly persons should not attempt it. The view is of the valleys on both sides of big Backbone Mountain. Two hours are required for the ascent and descent. Arrange for dinner at the farm house before making the ascent. During the long days of summer, this excursion is begun in the afternoon, supper taken at the farm house, and the return drive made in the twilight or moonlight. Eight miles.

IN MEMORIAM

Our family circle has been broken
A link gone from our chain,
But tho we've parted for a while
We know we'll meet again.

Some day we hope to meet you
Some day we know not when,
We shall meet in a better land
And never part again.

We shall meet with many a loved one
That was torn from our embrace,
We shall listen to their voices
And behold them face to face,
Sunshine passes, shadows fall,
Love's remembrance outlasts all.

Three state scholarships for boys in the School of Engineering of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland, are open on an "At Large" basis. Applicants who fail to win scholarships in their respective counties are considered on a state-wide basis for these "At Large" scholarships.

In addition the founder of the University provided for Hopkins Scholarships for boys in the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Business for residents of Maryland. There will be five of these scholarships open for the term beginning September, 1949. The normal procedure is as follows:—The applicant applies to the Director of Admission's office for admission and for a scholarship. He sends Hopkins his high school record and Hopkins ascertains whether or not he is eligible for admission. If he is eligible for admission, he will be notified that he is eligible to take the scholarship examination on May 7, 1949.

The above scholarships are the ones which have been brought to the attention of The Board of Education by the educational institutions represented in the announcement; if additional colleges notify The Board of Education of available scholarships by May 7, 1949, examinations for such scholarships will also be given. Those who take these examinations will compose the eligible list which will first be considered as vacancies may arise later in the above educational institutions.

After the examinations have been taken, all senatorial scholarships will be awarded by Neil Fraley, the State Senator of Garrett County, Maryland, to whom the eligible list will be forwarded after May 7, 1949.

Additional information will be given to all those who attend the examination on May 7, 1949, at 9:30 A. M.

Oil Geologist Finds Hidden Crater in Western Australia

Of interest to scientists all over the world is the discovery of a large crater, believed to be the scar made as a meteorite struck the earth hundreds of years ago, in Western Australia.

The discovery was made by a petroleum geologist, who was flying over the island continent's desert basin in the course of exploration aimed at finding new sources of crude oil. The explorer, Dr. Frank Reeves, Youghiogheny Forest resident, of the Vacuum Oil company returned to the area in a jeep and made a careful study of the crater. The crater is about 2,800 feet in diameter at its bottom. The bottom is about 100 feet below the level of the plain. The rim, composed of rock shattered and tilted at various angles, rises from 160 to 200 feet above the bottom of the crater. The geologist's theory is said to be that the meteorite penetrated the earth 600 feet or more and then exploded. It is impossible to say with certainty whether the great crater discovered in Australia is the largest or the second largest of its kind to be found. The Canyon Diablo Crater in Arizona measures 4,275 feet in diameter, is 500 feet deep and its walls are 150 feet.

Dr. Frank Reeves is a native of West Virginia, and is the founder and owner of Youghiogheny Forest, located on Route 50.

Spring Comes to First Grade of Elementary School

Spring has come to the first grade of the Oakland Elementary school, as judged by some poems written at school for some Easter cards for their mothers. We quote a few but serve notice that this is not a signal to beseige The Republican office with any additional supply of "poems" from either young or old.

"I saw three little robins
Their mouths were open wide
They were so very hungry
They cried and cried and cried.
Just then another robin came along
And sang a little song
And gave them each a little worm
To make them big and strong.
—Carolyn Spoerlein

The sun is out
The grass is green
I don't wear my coat
In the spring
—Ann Lee Lohr

I saw a pussy willow
Down by my gate,
Then I saw another one
That must have been his mate.
—Also Ann Lee

I saw my Easter Bunny
Hopping on my lawn
I turned around to look at him
But he hopped on.
—Pat Turney

Flowers are blooming
Birds are singing
And all the mothers
Are doing housecleaning
—Jane Hanst

On my way to school
One carly spring morning
I saw a frog
Out for a sunning —Tom Mulvey

I found a little lizard
He came out for spring
I though I'd try to catch him
But he crawled on, poor thing.
—Carla Sisler

I saw a bee, flying around the flowers
And he was making honey,
He worked for hours and hours.
—Jimmie Stickel

I saw a worm
I heard a bird sing
And so I'm sure it's spring
—Benny DeBerry

Frogs are noisy
Robins are singing
That makes me know
That it is spring.
—Ronnie Paugh

Buds on flowers
Buds on trees
I like to see
Such things in spring.
—Dickie Castilow

I saw a worm
I saw some buds on trees
I heard a robin singing
In the morning breeze.
—Ricky Dusic

I saw a little squirrel
Sitting on my walk
I gave him a nut
And asked him if he could talk.
—Wanda Wilson

Bunny Rabbit, Bunny Rabbit
Where have you been
I've been making Easter Eggs
In my little pen.
—Gerald House

I saw a little kitty cat
Running up the tree
I called him
But he wouldn't come down to me.
—John Helms

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 73. OAKLAND'S HUNDREDTH YEAR THE REPUBLICAN'S SEVENTY-THIRD OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., MAY 5, 1949. NUMBER 10.

Advice from the Past . . . .

Here is a quotation from a prominent American:

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers. To preserve our independence we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude.

"If we can prevent the Government from wasting the labor of the people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy. The same prudence which in our private life would forbid our paying our money for unexplained projects, forbids it in the disposition of public money."

New Dealers would term the quotation as reactionary. The statement was not made by Senator Taft or even Grover Cleveland. But it was made by Thomas Jefferson, founder of the Democratic party.

When you see great amounts appropriated through the Federal government, don't think it's free. It's tax money and you help pay for it.

This blight which threatens America's freedom is leading people to believe that they will be relieved of much of the burden of making a living—that the government will be able to produce and care for them. But no mention is made of the increase in taxation caused by greater government spending.

Individual opportunity has receded in this country as the people swallow bigger and bigger doses of sugar-coated socialism. We need to get back to Jefferson's way of looking at the problem.

Constables Named

Constables for the county were named by the County Commissioners at their regular meeting this week. Edward Miller was appointed in district No. 3 for a two-year period. Four others were re-appointed: Mark H. Moon, Olin N. Friend, Roy C. Sowers and Edward F. Harvey.

The Commissioners heard a number of road delegations in regard to making needed repairs: George Tichnell and Jake Tasker for Mt. Zion-Shaw road; E. H. Dilley and Walter Peterson for Oakland-Cherry Creek road; William Barnard and Maynard Moon for Chestnut Grove road.

The board authorized the reprinting of plat maps of Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn.

A resolution was passed empowering the First National Bank of Baltimore to purchase government bonds with the school building funds, in the amount of $1,400,000; of this amount $400,000 was authorized at 1½ percent, maturing in 1950; $500,000 at 2 percent, maturing 1951-53; and $500,000 at 2¼ percent, maturing 1959-62.

W. E. Dawson To Head Rotary Club

Walter E. Dawson was named president of the Oakland Rotary club at the annual election held last Friday evening. He will succeed Reaford Purbaugh when new officers take over on July 1.

Other officers named were Nelson Langan, vice-president; Logan Weber, secretary; and Mason Glotfelty, treasurer. Mason Glotfelty, Floyd Leighton, and Nelson Langan were named as new members of the board of directors, to serve with Purbaugh, C. C. Reckard, Earl Zepp and Dawson, hold-over members.

Senator Neil C. Fraley was the speaker at the club's weekly meeting giving a resume of activities at Annapolis, with particular emphasis on the school building funds. Dr. E. E. Church, governor of the local Rotary district, was a guest, and Page Hickman, manager of the Imperial Ice Cream division of Fairmont Foods, was inducted as a new member.

Dr. Floyd R. Cromwell, vocational guidance director of the State Department of health, will be the speaker this Friday evening. The program is in charge of R. Bowen Hardesty. H. C. Riggs is scheduled to discuss the new savings bond drive and show a film at the meeting the following Friday.

Must Still Register

The Selective Service Act of 1948, which is still in effect, requires men becoming 18 years of age to register within five days of the 18th anniversary of the day of their birth, it was announced by Col. Henry C. Stanwood, selective service director for Maryland. "Failure to register can bring a $10,000 fine and five years' imprisonment, or both," he said.

County men reaching 18 years of age will be registered at the local board office at Oakland.

Registrants are to keep the local board informed as to change of status, including change of address. This applies to registrants who have reached the age of 26 as well as all others.

Wolf Den Mine Inspected Recently

Although commending several recent safety improvements in the Wolf Den mine, Nos. 1 and 2 Openings, at Shallmar, a Federal coal mine inspector proposed rock-dusting and further ventilating precautions in a report released by the Bureau of Mines. Operated by the Wolf Den Coal Corporation, this mine employed 57 men and produced 326 tons of coal a day when W. C. Eiduke reinspected it in March.

Inspector Eiduke recommended thorough rock-dusting to within 80 feet of the faces of all dry rooms and entries, more air for one working area, an air lock large enough to contain an entire trip on the main haulageway, always keeping doors closed except when in use, posting warning signs where needed at some abandoned workings, and keeping records of the weekly examinations for hazards. Some rock dust was recently applied, and ventilation was improved in the No. 2 Opening.

A systematic timbering method was being followed, roof was frequently tested, some loose roof in rooms was recently taken down, and permissible explosive and permissible blasting units were used for on-shift blasting, the inspector stated. He also suggested removing or supporting any loose haulageway roof detected, always charging all shots or series immediately after charging on shift, and always giving ample warning before blasting.

Fire-fighting equipment was adequate, all employees used permissible electric cap lamps underground, and electric-light wires were recently supported on insulators, Eiduke also reported.

Students To Gather For Scholarship Exam

A number of students will gather in the Oakland High school auditorium on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock to take the examinations for free scholarships that are being offered in various institutions.

There are scholarships for a boy at Charlotte Hall, Washington College, several boys at Johns Hopkins university; and for a girl at Western Maryland college.

R. Bowen Hardesty, superintendent of schools, announced he would be in Fairmont on Friday to interview prospective teachers, and that the first of next week he would be at West Virginia university, Morgantown.

Harry McDonald, state supervisor of agriculture, was supervising agriculture teachers on Wednesday and on Tuesday met with some graduates of West Virginia university in agriculture at the William-James hotel, Oakland.

Dr. R. F. Cromwell, state supervisor of guidance, was expected to be in the county on Friday. On Monday and Tuesday 26 members of the Junior and Senior high school will meet with Dr. Harold Alberty and Hugh Laughlin, of Ohio State university, in preparation for a course of study.

Mr. Hardesty announced plans were progressing for the spring track meet, to be held for students in junior and senior high schools at Accident on May 20.

Cubs Exhibit Knowledge of Indian Lore

Members of the four cub dens, who had learned of Indian lore during the past two months, exhibited their knowledge at the general meeting of the cub pack Monday evening at the Parish House, under the direction of Rev. Austin F. Schildwachter, cubmaster.

The occasion was also known as charter night. Charles L. Briner, of the Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the troop, received the charter from Julian Patrick, scout committeeman from Piedmont, W. Va.

Each den gave a display of its projects and each presented its own original program. Den mothers are Mrs. Arthur Savage, Mrs. W. W. Nace, Mrs. Bruce Jenkins and Mrs. Robert Ruckert. The first three groups gave a war dance and the fourth group gave a hunt dance.

Tepees, costumes, tomahawks, moccasins, beads, bows and arrows and knives were displayed. An archery contest was won by Lynn Warfield, who was presented with a compass.

Parents were the special guests of the cub meeting.

Report of Cemetery Committee Is Given

A summary of work accomplished by the Oakland Cemetery committee and what is planned for this year, were reported by the committee this week.

The cemetery is being improved at present to make it presentable by Memorial Day. Due to a heavy sleet during the winter, many limbs had been broken, some partly hanging to the tree trunks, and the trees have now been trimmed and broken ones removed entirely from the lots. Several workmen this week are raking the entire cemetery, and cleaning up discarded articles thrown aside from former Memorial Day celebrations.

The committee pointed out that there is still a great deal of work to be accomplished, monuments to be replaced that belong on lots of persons having no living relatives to care for the property. It was stated that generous donations had been made but that funds to complete the work would be needed. Contributions will be appreciated, and may be mailed or given to Jack Treacy, treasurer, at Oakland. Other members of the committee are Mrs. E. Z. Tower, chairman; Miss Julia A. Rowan, secretary; Harry L. Stemple and Herbert C. Leighton.

Population Figure Is Set at 24,700

For the current year the population of Garrett county has been estimated at 24,700, according to a release of the Maryland State Planning commission. There are estimated 5,900 families in the county.

The estimated total population of Maryland has been set at 2,143,900. Baltimore City was given 975,000 of the total or 45.47 percent. Nine counties are listed with less population than Garrett county.

The 1948 value of manufactures reported for Maryland was $2,997,772,000, with $5,372,000 of that amount coming from Garrett county.

Train Robbers Get Twenty Year Terms

The holdup of a B. and O. passenger train near Martinsburg, March 9, brought 20-year sentences in Federal prison to two young Youngstown, O., men at Fairmont yesterday.

The two were Luman Ramsdell, 23, and George L. Ashton, 20, and sentence was pronounced by Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins.

Revival Under Way

Revival services began at Painter church near Swanton, on Tuesday, May 3, with Rev. Ronald Moses, evangelist of Lonaconing, and Rev. D. Hare, pastor in charge.

Services will continue for two weeks or more, daily except Monday, starting at 7:45.

Finance Committee Nears $10,000 Goal

The Finance committee, of the Oakland Centennial Commission, Inc., announced this week it was nearing the goal of $10,000 set as the sum needed to underwrite the expenses of the coming celebration, August 8-14.

B. I. Gonder, chairman, said that 85 pledges of $100 each had been received and that fifteen more were needed. Before the campaign closes he announced the committee wanted to give everybody an opportunity who had not yet been contacted to give their pledge. The names will appear as sponsors of the celebration in the program book, now being prepared.

The money is to be used for centennial expenses in its preparation stages, he explained, with the prospects that the majority if not all of the amount pledged, would be returned to the sponsors within 30 days after the close of the celebration.

Each person pledging $100 will be given a stock certificate, properly endorsed. The committee, which includes Mr. Gonder, Lowell Loomis, Cecil Smith, Paul Naylor, Emroy Bolden and Mason Glotfelty, met Monday night.

Puppet Show Scheduled

Pre-school children and their mothers are being invited to attend a puppet show, to be presented in the Episcopal Parish House on Friday, May 6, at 10:30 a. m. Other interested persons may also attend.

Mrs. Charles Keller, Grantsville, formerly of the Health Education department of the Philadelphia Dairy council, will give the show, called "Penny, Jr." This show will also be attended by the primary grades of the Elementary school. Another show, "Penny of the Circus," will be given in the afternoon for the 5th, 6th and 7th grades, and others interested.

Dawson Re-Appointed School Board Member

Walter W. Dawson was re-appointed by Governor Preston Lane as a member of the Garrett County Board of Education for a six-year term, beginning the first Monday in May, it was announced this week.

Dawson has served twelve years in this capacity, having been named by the late Gov. Nice on May 11, 1937, for a six-year term, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James W. Friend. Mr. Dawson has served as president of that organization most of this time.

Other members of the board are C. O. Bender, Grantsville, and Stuart F. Hamill, Oakland. Mr. Dawson's commission was received this week by the clerk of the Circuit Court, Richard L. Davis.

One other commission was received this week, re-appointing Mrs. Goldie Bittle as a member of the Board of Library Trustees for a seven-year period.

Folders Available About Centennial

Small folders announcing the 100th anniversary celebration of the founding of Oakland, August 8 to 14, including a rough outline of the activities of the seven-day program, are now available for free distribution.

The folders were prepared by the publicity committee in the hope that they would be included in much of the outgoing mail of local citizens to their friends and relatives, so that the latter would be well informed about the approaching celebration, and possibly would arrange their vacations so that they could spend at least a part of it in Oakland that week.

The folders are free for the asking and will be available at either newspaper office, the office of the Chamber of Commerce, Second street, near the railroad crossing, or at the office of the Mayor and Town Council on Third street.

Dramatic Societies To Give Interpretation of "Lena Rivers"

The Dramatic Clubs of Oakland High School will present "Lena Rivers," a three-act play, on May 17, 1949.

The story deals with the plight of young Lena Rivers and her beloved Granny Nichols who are compelled to leave their New England home and seek refuge with Granny Nichols' son; John Livingston, who has changed his family name because of social relations.

Upon arriving at Livingston's large plantation they are treated as servants and Mrs. Livingston and daughter Caroline are worried about what affect the incident will have on their social bearing. Caroline's "lover," Durward Belmont, who is to marry Caroline, becomes very fascinated with Lena and pays his attentions to her, much to the astonishment of the wealthy Livingston family.

The younger Livingston daughter, Anna, and her brother, John Junior, become firm friends of Lena's and in turn Lena helps Anna with her romance with Malcolm Everett. In the last act, when it looks as though Lena is going to lose Durward, fate steps in and proves our heroine's sterling worth, and the end of the play is startling indeed.

Participants in the production will be Lena Rivers, Barbara Winters; Granny Nichols, Gladys Wensel; John Livingston, Leo Rowan; Mrs. Livingston, Barbara Filsinger; Caroline Livingston, Connie Smith; Anna Livingston, Midge Bizer; John Junior, Jack Kight; Frank Graham, Jack Lewis; Mrs. Graham, Norma Jean Lee; Durward Belmont, Thomas Wainer; Aunt Milly, Helen Harned; Old Caesar, George Hanst.

Mrs. Bauernschmidt To Speak at Dinner Honoring Dr. Bennett

Mrs. William Bauernschmidt, Baltimore, who worked closely with Dr. George E. Bennett, orthopedic specialist, in the interest of crippled children, will be the principal speaker at the dinner next Thursday evening, May 12, honoring the man who has spent much time in past years in this county, ministering to orthopedic cases.

Mrs. Bauernschmidt has been active in the work of crippled children for a number of years and worked with Dr. Bennett in getting the Children's hospital school constructed. Dr. Bennett is director of the school at present.

The testimonial dinner will be held at the William-James hotel at 6 o'clock p. m., and tickets may be obtained by contacting Mrs. O. T. Graser, telephone 25-R.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, chairman of the Garrett chapter of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, will be in charge of the program. Dr. Baumgartner said that Miss Henrietta Swarzenbach and Mrs Opie L. Annan, of the Allegany county league for Crippled Children, would also attend the dinner.

To Hold Dollar Day Event Next Month

Decision to have a dollar day event in June was made at a meeting of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening. Newt Coplin, Irvin Rudy, Sr., and Maurice Treacy were named on the committee in charge.

Resolutions calling on the State Game and Inland Fish commission to stock Deep Creek with trout and bass, and on the State Department of Forests and Parks to give consideration to the lake in regard to public park and picnic areas, were passed by the group.

The Chamber decided to have a page advertisement in the Centennial program. Members also accepted the charter of the Oakland cub pack, since the chamber has decided to act as sponsor of the group.

Cancellation Stamp For Centennial Put Into Use Yesterday

The cancellation stamp, indicating the Centennial celebration in Oakland, August 8 to 14, for use at the Oakland postoffice, arrived yesterday and was immediately put into operation.

The stamp was not expected until about the first of June, but its early arrival will give increased publicity to the celebration which is expected to draw thousands of persons to this area.

W. E. Spoerlein, postmaster, said that he had applications for 186 cancellations from twenty-two states of the union for first-day cancellations. A number of persons around Oakland, who learned of its arrival, also addressed letters to themselves or friends and had them run through the cancelling machine.

The stamp will be used on all outgoing letter mail from now until the conclusion of the Centennial.

Repeals Declaration of Intentions Act

Governor Lane last Friday signed the bill repealing the 47-year-old Declaration of Intentions Act.

He also signed a bill which will revise completely the mine safety statutes of Maryland, along lines set up by the U.S. Bureau of Mines and other states.

The measure was introduced by Senators Kimble and Fraley and passed during the recent Legislative session.

Another bill signed by the Governor was one introduced by Senator Fraley providing that notice to delinquent taxpayers of Garrett county shall be mailed out during the first week of August of each year, instead of the first week in September; to specify that interest on unpaid county taxes shall begin on September 30 instead of October 31.

Body Still Missing

The body of Fred Moon, 21, son of Mrs. Melvin Lee, of Mt. Lake Park, who was drowned in Chesapeake Bay on April 26, has not yet been recovered, it was reported yesterday.

Mrs. Lee returned to her home Monday from Baltimore after visiting the home of her son.

Recollection of Old Company B

Note: The following article was prepared by Charles H. Shaffer, Washington, D. C., one of the few living members of the company, who is a former Garrett county resident.

In order to show the uniform of the guard, an enlargement of a tintype of Mr. Shaffer was taken while he was at the Lorely encampment in 1890.

—Republican Engraving.

No history of Oakland would be complete without mention of Company B, 2nd Battalion, M.N.G. This company was organized 1879-1880, by its first captain, E. H. Wardwell, assisted by members of a military company at Cumberland known then as the "Voltigeurs," which in English means Riflemen. At that time the state had four separate battalions and the Fifth Regiment in Baltimore, later the 4th Battalion in Baltimore was expanded into the Fourth Regiment. The 2nd Battalion was composed of two companies from Cumberland, one from Frostburg, and Company B from Oakland. Unfortunately, the early records of this company such as muster and pay rolls, were stored in Brigade Headquarters in Baltimore and went up in smoke in the great fire of 1904. However, we do know that it had four different captains i. e. Wardwell, Peter A. Chisholm, James Newman and Robert Townshend. The lieutenants were R. S. Jamison, John F. White, D. M. Mason and Edward Spedden. In 1886 when E. H. Wardwell became Lt. Col. and commander of the Battalion, Dr. E. H. Bartlett became Major and Surgeon and R. T. Browning was made Captain and Inspector of Target Practice. Unfortunately the early muster rolls are gone but old-timers will recall the names of Browning, Mason, Friend, Chisholm, etc., among the lot.

In getting together a company of that kind and keep it a going concern must have required a high order of ability on the part of the officers. Part of the men lived in the country and there were no good roads or cars in those days. However, there were two incentives, target shooting and summer encampments.

The company was armed with the standard Army 45 caliber Springfield Rifle, single shot, using a bullet of 500 grains of lead propelled by 90 grains of black powder. It was fairly accurate up to a thousand yards, but had a kick like a mule. Most of the original members were experts with the old long hunting rifle so that Captain Wardwell was able to put in the field a rifle team called the "Haymakers" that acquired a wide reputation for skill on the rifle range. The other main attraction was the summer encampments, with special trips for parades in Cumberland, Annapolis, Baltimore, Yorktown thrown in. Just after the company was organized in the summer of 1879, the Company went into a camp for a few days, in a field near the old Court House. A detachment of the Voltigeurs from Cumberland came up and joined in. President Garrett of the B. & O. R.R. presented the company with a flag in 1880 and soon thereafter it took part in the inauguration of Governor Hamilton at Annapolis. In the summer of 1881 it took part in the Centennial celebration at Yorktown, Va. I joined the company in 1890 in time to go to the encampment at Lorley on the Gunpowder River and also was at the Camp at Frederick in 1896. The summer camps were generally delightful affairs. The weather was usually good, the food excellent and we were paid a fair wage. Living in tents was no hardship. Of course there were company and battalion drills and dress parade each evening with plenty of music. Guard duty was a novelty but so light as not to interfere with our enjoyment.

The uniform as illustrated by the accompanying enlarged tin-type, consisted of a dark blue dress coat and light blue trousers. When supplemented with cross belts pipe clayed white belts, it made a fine show. These uniforms were made of excellent cloth and showed fine workmanship. Only once did I see the officers full dress uniform and that was on Lt. Spedden and it sure was some show. The overcoat had a cape and was very warm and comfortable. About the time of the Spanish War a fatigue tunic was substituted for the full dress coat and we used them throughout the war. The little fatigue cap (kepi) was also replaced by the campaign hat.

In 1892 Lt. Col. G. A. Pearre, who had succeeded to the command of the 2nd Battalion, resigned and apparently the battalion ceased to exist as a separate organization. The companies including Co. B were transferred to and became the 2nd Battalion of the 1st Regiment, M.N.G. This regiment was made up of companies from rural Maryland. Major Little was the new battalion commander and Col. William P. Lane was the regimental commander. Soon after this transfer the company was called out for the first time to do police duty in connection with the coal strike in the Georges Creek region in the summer of 1893. An attack of typhoid fever kept me from going with it. The last encampment which the company attended was at Frederick, Md., in 1896. In 1897, for lack of interest the old company was disbanded, and this was unfortunate as it prevented the county from having an organization in the Spanish War although a body of citizens offered its services it was not accepted. Only the eight organized companies were accepted for service.

In July 1898, Capt. Lowndes of Company C was sent to Oakland on a recruiting expedition and as a result, according to a recent issue of the Glades Star, the following named men from the County joined the regiment: Corp. Ray C. Friend, Privates Ward Friend, Walter Mayle, Willis Hetrick, John Collins, Samuel Flowers, George Bucher, Charles Brown, Bert Rabeck, Peter Redline, Charles T. Hoff, Simon Myers, Charles W. Friend and a lad by the name of Sanner, who served as mail clerk for the regiment. At the present time Myers and Sanner are the only two of whom I have a definite recollection. As a result of the second call for more volunteers a battalion of the Fourth Regiment from Baltimore was added to the First, making the latter a regiment of twelve companies with 106 men to a company. Altogether there were about 1500 men in the regiment.

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War we were ordered into camp at Pimlico and were there inducted into active service. In May, 1898, the regiment was ordered to Fort Monroe to do garrison duty, relieving the Regulars stationed there for duty in Cuba. In July orders were issued for us to prepare for active service in the tropics but soon thereafter the armistice was signed. In the latter part of September the regiment was ordered to old Camp Meade near Harrisburg, Pa., and made a part of the 2nd Division. In November this division was moved to Camp McKenzie, Ga., and the Regiment was mustered out in March, 1899.

At the Frederick encampment in 1896, Col. Lane appointed me Sergeant-Major of the Regiment and I was to continue as such in active service. I had had four years of military training in college under a Regular Army Officer and this helped me a lot but I soon found out that the job was no easy one. In addition to keeping a record of all papers passing through headquarters, there was the morning report to be made out, guard details to be apportioned among the companies, carried out to two decimal places, etc., and endless number of reports to be made out to the War Department. Since the data from which this work had to be taken was prepared by inexperienced persons one had to be constantly on the alert for mistakes. Efficient clerical help was hard to find. Through a kindly "tip" we discovered an excellent stenographer in the guard house charged with being A.W.O.L. We had no difficulty in convincing Col. Lane that his sin should be forgiven. Both Col. Lane and Capt. Lauren F. Smith, the Adjutant, were very reasonable men and far above the average National Guard officers of that time, and it was a delight to work under them. At Camp Meade the Colonel had a beautiful black horse which I was permitted to exercise when the Colonel was not using him, which was quite often. When I enlisted for active service I was promised a commission as soon as a vacancy occurred but I found out that political expediency counted for more than the colonel's recommendation. Having no home company to back me up, I was passed over. After this occurred a second time I asked for transfer to the Adjutant Generals Office where clerks were badly wanted at that time and this was promptly granted. I did not care much for clerical work but it gave me an opportunity to brush up on my studies for entrance to the Patent Office where I finally landed and have spent the last 45 years. Several months after leaving the regiment I was offered a commission as 1st Lieutenant and Battalion Adjutant but as the regiment was soon to be mustered out I refused.

Looking backward we can now see that up to the time of the Spanish War a lot of money was spent on National Guard units and but little was accomplished towards fitting such units for actual combat service. They were used largely for show purposes as in parades and precision drills. The pay was small, the clothing unsuitable. Preventive medicine was unknown, typhoid and malarial fevers were rampant in every camp. At Camp Meade I saw a New York regiment that had its active force cut to about 200 men. We fortunately were in fairly healthy camps but still lost a number of men. The last time I saw Simon Myers was in a big hospital tent at Camp Meade, fighting an attack of typhoid. While ample food was supplied no effort was made to train cooks so that food was often wasted and usually poorly prepared. But in spite of all these handicaps, those of us who were a part of the military life of this period and survived were better men for our experiences.

Senior Class To Be Entertained With Annual Prom, May 12, by Tenth Grade

The Senior Class will be entertained this year at the annual Prom, May 12, by the members of the tenth grade. Faculty members, seniors and tenth graders will be eligible to attend but no under classmen or outsiders will be admitted. Plans for the dance are under the direction of Norma Browning, tenth grade class president. Miss Field, Mrs. Miller, Miss Schmidt and Mrs. Littman are advisers of the various committees.

The prom will be held in the high school auditorium and will begin at 8:00 p. m. Mona Lou Evans, chairman of the decoration committee, announced that the decorations will be constructed around the theme, "Stardust."

An orchestra will be engaged to play but a definite one has not been chosen. There will be a twenty minute intermission at which time a floor show will be presented. Each tenth grade homeroom is presenting some form of entertainment.

Ellen Johnson, who is in charge of the entertainment committee, said that refreshments will be served in the course of the evening.

Clifford Friend, tenth grade treasurer, is chairman of the finance committee which is composed of the treasurers of the tenth grade homerooms. The tenth grade is receiving an amount from the school fund and the remainder will be contributed by the members of the tenth grade.

These prices feature "Extras" that aren't!

IF you're price-conscious these days as you shop for new cars, you've probably made a big discovery.

It's important to find out what the price includes—particularly in the normal "spread" between list and delivered prices.

Take these Buick prices given here. All of them, as the panel tells you, cover such universally wanted accessories as radio and antenna, heater and defroster, windshield washers and built-in back-up lights.

These are individually itemized on your bill of sale. Not itemized, but still included in your Buick when you get it, are many things that classify as extra-cost items on many other cars.

For instance, Foamtex seat cushions are an extra value on Buick SUPERS and ROADMASTERS that cost you nothing extra. You get direction signals, rear wheel shields, a flexible steering wheel, an air cleaner, an oil filter, a clock—all included in the basic list price. On all ROADMASTERS, these prices even cover Dynaflow Drive as standard equipment, not an extra-cost item.

Included also, of course, are such Buick extra values as Fireball power, which you get nowhere else—all-coil springing, almost an exclusive—the widest rims in the industry—and that very special and desirable solid Buick feel.

So—check the "extras" when you price today's cars. Check the "deal" too, and make sure it's as fair and aboveboard as the Buick sales policy.

We're pretty sure what your conclusion will be when you see what stepped-up production is doing to deliveries. You'll decide "Buick's the buy!"—and get your order in.

Wins National Honor

Miss Mabel Umstot, member of the faculty in elementary education at the Mansfield State Teachers college, Mansfield, Pa., has been signally honored by being chosen one of twelve in the United States to receive a scholarship to the International Conference, to be held at the Edith Macy Training School, June 29 to July 8. There are only 24 leaders at the conference, twelve from this country and twelve from foreign countries.

Miss Umstot, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Umstot, of Keyser, W. Va., is a sister of Clarence Umstot and Mrs. Melvin Kight, of Oakland. She has done 4-H club work in this county.

A letter from the National headquarters of the Girl Scouts of America, says this of Miss Umstot:

"The Scholarship committee carefully considered every United States application submitted in order to insure the best selection of candidates, both from the standpoint of personal qualifications of the candidate herself, and from the standpoint of creating a total conference group well representative of our country. Thus Miss Umstot was selected as a member of the Conference from many angles."

MISS BERTIE CLEVELAND

Miss Bertie Cleveland is one of the older residents of Oakland, having come to Oakland with her parents in 1879, from Frostburg, at the age of five years.

She was born in January, 1874, a daughter of James O. Cleveland, a plasterer by trade. A few years after they arrived they built the house, corner of 7th and Green streets, where Miss Bertie resided until in July, 1947, when she moved to the home of Miss Bridget Maroney.

Having been stricken with infantile paralysis at the age of two, nevertheless her handicap did not prevent her from being a most tireless worker around her home. She made garden year after year, weeding by sitting upon a turned up dishpan. Much of the vegetables she produced and canned was presented, either to orphanages or to many of her friends.

Her gardening was not confined to vegetables and her flowers were always plentiful. She maintained an active interest in church work and for 35 years she furnished flowers for the altar at the Lutheran church, in its three locations, on 6th street, corner of 3rd and Alder, and the present location on Second street. Her giving, in proportion to her worldly goods, will not easily be surpassed.

She recalls that when she moved to Oakland they used oil lamps for street lighting. Chickens and butter were bought for 10 cents a pound.

Her father died in 1913, her mother in 1922. She has three sisters and one brother: Mrs. W. C. Pifer, Keyser; Mrs. O. W. Hinebaugh, Terra Alta; Mrs. Alice Troy, Martins Ferry, O.; and W. O. Cleveland, Fairmont.

THADDEUS C. HINEBAUGH

One of the older residents of Oakland selected this week is Thaddeus C. Hinebaugh, aged 84, and a resident of Oakland since 1886.

Born at Accident October 30, 1864, he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hinebaugh, the third child of ten. Moving to Oakland when 21 years of age he operated a store with his brother Will for a time, was proprietor of the Randolph hotel at Elkins, and also Oak Hall, a summer hotel between Oakland and Mt. Lake Park, but his interest was in farming, logging and working in the woods. He had a love for horses and still kept one on his small farm north of town until recent years, using it to plow the Oakland streets and to prepare gardens for those nearby.

He married Minnie Phillips, who died in February, about 5 years ago. They had five children, three of whom are now living, Mrs. Elinor Hoye, of Washington; Paul Hinebaugh, with whom he resides; and Edward Hinebaugh, of Canton, Ohio.

His memory remains accurate and he is in good health except for his eyesight. Not being able to read he spends much of his time in walking, and can tell one almost exactly the number of steps he has taken in any particular day.

Homemakers' Corner

The week of May 1st to 7th is National Home Demonstration Week and will be celebrated by more than three million homemakers' club members throughout the United States. States.

The theme used last year and continued for this year is, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." This is a thought provoking statement rather than a slogan and every man, woman and child might ask themselves how they are contributing to a better home life that is to build a better world.

Through their club activities Homemaker club members are broadening their thinking and gaining the latest homemaking information with which to raise the standard of their home life.

Officers and leaders are the backbone of the Home Demonstration program. It is they who carry on the business of the club and plan the program of educational, cultural and recreational activities for the year to meet the ever-changing needs of the families of the county.

While much of the program is carried on through the organized groups of homemakers' clubs much individual service is given to the club members and non-club members by the Home Demonstration Agent.

The Home Demonstration program is constantly growing and is available to all in the county.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Hypocrisy

The extraordinary manner in which Mr. Truman's program has flopped makes plain so many things that it is impossible to present them all in a single column. The best way is to touch today only upon a couple of outstanding facts now clearly revealed.

One is the absurdity of the claim that in the last election either Mr. Truman or his program was indorsed in a way to constitute a "mandate." If such had been the case, public sentiment would have insured congressional compliance. No such public sentiment manifested itself. It simply is not there. It is unlikely we will hear much more about those "mandates"—except from the CIO and the professional "liberals.' Mr. Truman just squeaked through last November and the only "mandate" he justly can claim is from the special groups to which he especially appealed, to which he owes his election and to which his promises were made. These are still behind his program, but there is not the slightest evidence the people generally want to go in its direction.

That is the real story of why a Congress which the Democrats fully control so far has refused to go along with a newly elected Democratic President. The second outstanding fact is the shocking hyprocrisy in both parties on the so-called "civil rights" program, the heart of which is the ending of racial segregation and the breaking down of all bars to complete political and economic equality erected against the Negro in the South. Of all public questions this racial equality issue is the one most completely saturated with politics and demagoguery. With few exceptions, the only sincere politicians about this business are those in the South who oppose—and not all of those. For the rest, Democrats and Republicans, it is not a question of conviction—it is solely a question of votes. Ninety-five per cent of the breast-beating and bellowing on this subject is sheer humbug.

Up to 1936 this was not the case—at least not to the same degree. Up to that time the Negro vote had been almost solidly Republican—and the Democrats had been content to leave it so. In that year, the then Senator Joe Guffey, of Pennsylvania, the then Democratic chairman; Mrs. James A. Farley and the then President, Frank-Roosevelt, concocted a cynical political scheme, without a trace of principle in it, to transfer the Negro vote in eleven pivotal Northern states to the Democratic party. The instruments they used, in the order of their effectiveness, were the late Harry Hopkins and his WPA, the personal Negro popularity of Mrs. Roosevelt, the Federal patronage made available by Mr. Roosevelt, the Democratic National Committee, pay rolls and propaganda.

The scheme was so successful that Mr. Farley still regards it as the greatest political coup in the history of American politics. The appalling result, however, was to create a fierce competition, such as never before existed, between the two parties for the Negro vote in the big cities of the North—the Democrats trying hard to hold on to what they had stolen; the Republicans desperately striving to get it back. In consequence, Northern Negro leaders found themselves in a position, not previously occupied where they could dictate to both parties. And both parties found themselves in a fix where they could not refuse their demands and were compelled to make promises which honest men knew would not be carried out and most believed should not be.

Under such conditions the failure of the civil rights program in Congress is not surprising. The real reason for failure was not the filibuster of the Southern Democrats. A real majority can always beat a filibuster, if it occurs at the beginning instead of near the end of a session and if the majority is sufficiently earnest and not entirely inept. The real reason was the utter lack of conviction and heart among the advocates of the program. The conviction and heart was in the opposition, and Walter White, the ablest and most important of the Negro leaders, has made that charge.

In modified form some of the Truman program will go through, but the civil rights part seems really wrecked. This is privately admitted by leading Senators of both parties. If, they ask, with both parties thoroughly committed, as they were, and the President determined, as Mr. Truman was, it can be beaten this time, when can it win? It is not only that the Southern Democrats are supplemented by others who, while favoring, believe action must be left to the states and that racial relations will be hurt rather than helped by any attempt to achieve the goal by Federal law—but, in addition, there is no general public sentiment for such attempt.

Despite the "hollering and whooping" about discrimination and equality, the racial gulf is still the widest and deepest in the world. Gradually it can—and should—be bridged. But it certainly cannot be successfully bridged through a Federal law that violates the deeply rooted social as well as economic customs and beliefs of a large section of the country. Particularly is this true when it is so clear the movement is not inspired by sincere desire to improve the condition of the Negro but is promoted by hypocritical politicians competing for Negro votes in elections.

Our Money-Go-Round

Total Federal spending in 1929 amounted to less than ⅔ of the personal incomes in California. Last year Federal expenditures approximately equalled all the personal income west of the Mississippi.

The Hoover Commission reports: In the VA Insurance Service the workload per employe last year was 450 policies. Normal workload in a private insurance company is almost 4 times this number — 1,762 policies.

* * * *

ECHOES OF THE REBEL YELL: Bonus bonds for Confederate vets are still outstanding to the amount of $1,345,000 in Louisiana — will not be paid off until 1950 and 1951.

* * * *

Hoover Commission estimates: Federal records occupy 18½ million cubic feet of space, the equivalent of 6 Pentagon Buildings—require over $1 billion in Federal salaries for record-making and record-keeping. Up to 35 per cent of the records are worthless, and 10 per cent of the remainder should be destroyed annually.

* * * *

Thirty agencies, according to the Hoover Commission, are actively engaged in lending, guaranteeing loans or insuring loans. They represent an investment of $12.5 billion, with another $9 billion now committed by the government; guarantee $85 billion in loans and deposits; and underwrite $40 billion of Federal insurance. For this massive credit operation there is no coordinated Federal credit policy.

Expert testimony in a Congressional Committee revealed that engineering and supervision costs for the Reclamation Bureau's Central Valley Project in California run from 25 to 60 per cent of total construction costs. The percentage for private projects of comparable size and nature usually runs under 10 per cent — was 5.4 per cent for both Boulder and Shasta Dams.

According to the Hoover Commission, our military establishment cost Americans $2.25 per capita in the year before World War I; $8 per capita in the year before World War II; and about $100 per capita last year.

The Old State Road Thru Garrett County

AFTER THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR one of the great problems facing the Federal Government, and some states, was transportation from the East into the Ohio Valley. Pennsylvania already had the Forbes Military Road to Pittsburg. Maryland had the Braddock Road; never a good road, in the 1780's it was in such evil repair that wagons could use it with difficulty. Virginia needed a road to its growing northwest.

COL. FRANCIS DEAKINS

In 1784 General Washington, returning from the Ohio Valley by way of McCullough's Path, studied the problem of a road or canal across the mountains. When he discussed the matter with Charles Friend he told Friend that Virginia was preparing to build a transmountain road, and that old hunter naturally hoped the new road would pass his cabin, which stood at the intersection of two great trails, the McCullough and Glades Paths.

In the November, 1784, session of the General Assembly of Maryland the following was adopted:

MARYLAND ACTS

Resolved, That three thousand three hundred and thirty three and one third dollars be appropriated to defray one half of the expense of examining, surveying, cutting, clearing, improving, and keeping in repair, a proposed road from the waters of Potowmack river to the river Cheat, and, if necessary, to the Monongahela; and that the intendant of the revenue be authorized and directed to pay the said money to the use aforesaid; and that *Mr. Francis Deakins be appointed to join and act with such person or persons as may be nominated by the commonwealth of Virginia to execute this trust, and that the money aforesaid be subject to their order; and if said Francis Deakins shall decline to act, that his excellency the governor be authorized and requested to appoint another in his place.

Virginia took similar action. Its commissioner, Major Thos. Mauie, was soon succeeded by Jos. Nevill of Hampshire County.

It is of interest to us of Western Maryland to note that our state was at this time also considering repair of the Braddock Road or the construction of a new road westward from Cumberland, as indicated by the adoption of a second resolution as follows:

Resolved, That his excellency the governor be requested to write to the legislature of Pennsylvania, to request permission to lay out and improve a road through such part of that state as may be necessary, in the best and most proper direction from Fort Cumberland to the navigable part of the Youghogany.

DEAKINS AND NEVILL IN CHARGE

The new inter-State Road connected Winchester, Virginia, thru Romney, with Clarksburg and Morgantown, passing thru what is now Garrett County, Maryland, from the mouth of Savage River to Cheat at Dunkard Bottom, following the old Glades Path, one of the old Buffalo trails into the glades.

Col. Deakins' expense account shows that he conferred at Alexandria on May 17, 1785, with General Washington, "at his request." On September 20 Deakins went "to Annapolis after money." Again, on July 20, 1786, he went from his home to Annapolis for money and tents, and paid 3£ 5s for cartage of the tents to Georgetown.

Under date Aug. 4, 1786, are two items:

(1) "As no physician could be had in the mountains, it was thought prudent to carry a little physick. Paid for it . . . £0.9."

(2) "To traveling expenses from Montgomery County to the Mouth of Savage (River) . . . £5.10.0 ($11.34).

It appears that the "laying off" or surveying of the Maryland section of the road was finished in 1785 or early summer of 1786, and that the actual work of clearing and construction began in August, when Deakins arrived with tents and supplies.

Joseph Nevill wrote Governor Henry of Virginia under date of June 3, Sir:

Colo. Francis Deakings and myself has been out a Viewing and Laying off the Road over the Allegania mountains, to be cut by this State and the State of Maryland, and is now preparing to open the same. We have agreed to draw £500 from each State, which, we think, will be sufficient for the first opening . . . You will please furnish to Mr. Vanmeter, the bearer hereof, with the same. . . .

Joseph Nevill's letter to Gov. Randolph of Virginia, dated May 13, 1789, indicates that the road was "opened" to Cheat River by that date. He wrote:

Sir:

. . . I have opened them a very good Road through many mountains, the distance of seventy miles, for which I received nothing or next to nothing . . .

It is difficult to find records of the construction and operation of the Old State Road, but from the Virginia State Library we have received a photostat copy of Deakins' and Nevill's joint expense account, dated April 16, 1791, after the opening of the road was completed, from which the following data is copied:

KINGWOOD, in 1807, was a cluster of houses, on the old wooded camping ground, two miles from Dunkard Bottom, at the Union of the Clarksburg and Morgantown branches of the State Road. In 1811 it was established as a town. It became the county seat of Preston County in 1819.

About this time one pound (£) Maryland currency was equal to $2.67.

(Signed) JOSEPH NEVILL, Comr., Virginia.
FRANCIS DEAKINS, Comr., Maryland.

This account covers only part of the cost of opening the State Road. Nevill was paid $3 per day for six months by Virginia; presumably Deakins received the same from Maryland. Part of the work of opening was done by contract, but thru Maryland, where there were few settlers, day labor was employed, and provided with work camps.

According to the map accompanying Shriver's report of 1823 on the C. and O. canal the State Road crossed Savage River near its mouth, passed over Backbone at Castle Hill, passed Swan's Mill (Swanton), thence thru the glades to Capt. George Calmes', thence to Yough Glades (Oakland), crossing the Little Yough at Armstrong's tavern; thence to the State line and down to Dunkard Bottom on Cheat.

The State Road served immigrants into Western Maryland and Western Virginia, and was the main outlet for the glades country until the construction of the B. & O. railroad in 1851. We do not know when it ceased to be a State Road and was turned over to the counties thru which it passed. In 1795 William McCleary, Michael Kerns and others were appointed to repair the western part of the road from the mouth of Savage River to Morgantown.

At present the Oakland-Bloomington road follows part of the old State Road. The section from Swanton to Bloomington was paved by W. P. A. labor in the 1930's. From Oakland to Terra Alta the old road was replaced by what is now State Route No. 7.

Taverns and Inns flourished on the old State Road. Briern Gainor's was 3 miles west of Savage River; Castle Hill was near the summit of Backbone. John Haye's place, known later as Henry Ingman's inn, was at the intersection with the Glades road from Selbysport; this was the poling place for Glades District No. 1. The old road was an important post route when William Armstrong was postmaster and inn keeper at Yough Glades.

Dunkard Bottom was an important stopping place from early times until Kingwood became a town. Several persons accommodated travelers there. In the MONONGAHELA GAZETTE of Morgantown, in the year 1800, William Price announced that he had "removed from Western Port to Dunkard's Bottom on Cheat River on the road leading directly from Winchester to Morgantown and Clarksburg." He solicited the patronage of travelers, stating that he had "a large quantity of grain and liquors."

The Old State Road is almost forgotten, but poets could write stirring verses on its pioneer history.

A.A.U.W. Completes Study of Chinaware

Mrs. C. W. Englander gave a history of the china industry in the United States at the May meeting of the Garrett Branch, American Association of University Women, on Monday evening.

Members learned from Mrs. Englander that as our country developed there was an increasing demand for a tableware, especially for hotels, which would stand up for hard and fast service. Steady, progressive development in the art of chinaware production, pioneered by American potters, produced the unusually strong type of ware which is known in the world as American Vitrified china. A true American product, it is lighter than bone china and as translucent. The group studied pictured examples and backstamps of fine china made in America and examined pieces brought to the meeting for exhibit.

This discussion was the final one in the study of pottery, subject for the year. Earl Zepp talked to the group last fall and members subsequently gave talks on the history of the art in China, France and England. A sound moving picture called "Color in Clay," will be shown at the next meeting by Mrs. S. T. Naylor, who gave the history of Wedgewood. It will be shown June 6 at the Parish House at 8 p. m., and the public is invited.

Officers elected were Mrs. Leo Helbig, vice-president and program chairman; Miss Eleanor Pritts, recording secretary, and Mrs. S. T. Naylor, corresponding secretary.

Travelers Over The State Road

THOMAS WALCUTT and a companion traveled part of the State Road in March, 1790. They left Ramsey's at Dunkard Bottom on Cheat after breakfast and followed the McCullough Path east to Augustine Friend's, "where (they) ate a little bit of fried salt pork and venison"; they crossed the Little Yough at Boyle's (Oakland), thence thru the glades and across Backbone to "Briern's", where they arrived after dark, and ate "a bit of Indian bread . . . and drink about half a pint of mik each, which was all our supper." Surely a hard day's travel, from Cheat River almost to the Potomac! Briern Gainor's tavern was on the (then) new State Road three miles west of what is now Bloomington. Walcutt's journal also mentions Stackpole's place at Castle Hill, but he says they passed it by, going by a nearer path six miles farther to Briern's.

ERIC BOLLMAN traveled west on the newly opened State Road to the present site of Oakland in 1796. His letter, written in German and published in Hulbert's "Pioneer Roads", follows:

From Cumberland we have journeyed over the Alleghany Mountains in company with General Irwin, of Baltimore, who owns some 50,000 acres in this vicinity. These mountains are not so high and not so unproductive as I had imagined them to be . . . . . .

We spent the first night at West Port (Westernport). Up to this point, at the proper seasons, the Potomac is navigable and could be made so quite a distance further . . . The road is not in bad condition and could be made most excellent. This will, without doubt, be accomplished just as soon as the country is sufficiently inhabited, since there is no nearer way to reach the Western waters.

The next day we dined with Mr. M. McCartin, still higher up in the mountains. There are many settlements in this vicinity. We were entertained in a beautiful, cool, roomy house, surrounded by oats fields and rich meadows, where the sound of the bells told us that cattle were pasturing nearby. We dined from delicate china, had good knives, good forks, spoons and other utensils. Our hostess, a bright, handsome, healthy woman, waited upon us. After dinner, a charming guest arrived on horseback; a young girl from the neighboring farm, of perhaps fifteen years of age, with such bashful eyes and such rosy cheeks, so lovely and attractive in manner that even Coopley, our good mathematician, could not restrain his admiration.

This is the "backwoods" of America, which the Philadelphian is pleased to describe as a rough wilderness—while in many parts of Europe, in Westphalia, in the whole of Hungary and Poland, nowhere, is there a cottage to be found, which, taking all things together in consideration of the inhabitant, can be compared with the one of which I have just written.

Four miles from this we reached the Glades, one of the most remarkable features of these mountains, and this land. These are broad stretches of land of many thousand acres, covered with dense forests; beyond this there is not a tree to be found, but the ground is covered knee-deep with grass and herbs, where both the botanist and the cattle find delicious food. Many hundred head of cattle are driven yearly from the South Branch and entrusted to the care of the people who live here. What can be the cause of this strange phenomenen! One can only suppose that at one time these glades were covered with timber, which, overthrown by a mighty hurricane, gradually dried and fell into decay.

Only lately have the Indians ceased roving in this vicinity, which has done much to delay its cultivation, but now it is being cleared quite rapidly and in a short time will, without doubt, become a fine place for pasturage.

We spent the second night with one named Boyle, an old Hollander. Early the next morning we could hear the howling of a wolf in the forest.

We breakfasted with Tin Friend, a hunter, who lived six miles further on. . . . . .

We left our noble hunter and his large attractive family unwillingly and followed a roadway to Duncard's Bottom, on the Cheat River.

(End of quotation).

Augustine Friend then lived at Teen's Glade on or near McCullough's Path. For Bollman's interesting description of Friend see The Glades Star, No. 20, "Teen Friend, Wandering Pioneer".

"Mr. M. McCartin", in 1796, had probably succeeded James Stackpole as host of the Castle Hill inn on Backbone Mt. It would be interesting to know the name of the "attractive" visitor at McCartin's inn when the Bollman party dined there so long ago.

Our Anniversary

"This week marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Maryland State Board of Health," according to an announcement by Dr. R. H. Riley, Director. "On May 6, 1874, a State Board of Health appointed by the General Assembly during the Legislative Session of that year held its first official meeting in the Baltimore office of Dr. Nathan R. Smith, the member who was then elected President.

"Maryland was the sixth State to organize a board of health. In 1869 Massachusetts had been the first to take such action—followed by California in 1870, Minnesota and Virginia in 1872 and Michigan in 1873.

"Epidemics of yellow fever, cholera, malaria and typhoid fever had contributed to a growing awareness of the need for prevention measures.

"When Maryland organized its State Board of Health the principal purposes were prevention and control of epidemics of malaria and typhoid fever, the improvement of poor sanitary conditions and the reporting of deaths. Bacteriological discoveries, notably those of Pasteur and Koch, and chemical advances later resulted in the application of newer scientific knowledge to public health. In 1922, the State Department of Health entered the field of personal hygiene with the provision of educational and preventative services for expectant mothers. The dental program, school health work and concern for industrial health problems followed. Curative services were included in the public health program in 1945, when the medical care program was inaugurated, and have been expanded to include the administration of chronic disease hospitals and State tuberculosis sanatoria. This State's public health program has grown and developed in accordance with general progress in the field, and in some instances we have set the pace."

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP

Come on, let's put things in order. Our entire town can and should be made as clean and orderly as its cleanest home. Then we will have a safer, happier, healthier town.

To have a town clean and beautiful should be the ambition of every one of its citizens.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as mayor and with the hearty approval of many conscientious citizens I hereby proclaim

MAY 16th TO 21st

AS CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP WEEK

Trucks Will Haul Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday Thursday and Friday

Away with rubbish piles! Banish the plague spots! Cut weeds, mow lawns and trim hedges. Repair and paint every building that needs it.

We need a thorough cleaning and renovation. It is the sensible thing to do for health, safety, pride and happiness of all our people.

This being our Centennial Year let's all of us get behind this job and make it the best cleanup our town has ever had.

If our town employees should miss any rubbish during this campaign do not hesitate to call City Hall, phone 215, giving name and place of same and I will see to it personally that it is removed.

Anna Jarvis Spent Life In Mother's Day Crusade

Mother's Day will be celebrated for the first time this year without the active blessing of its founder, Miss Anna M. Jarvis, of Philadelphia.

Miss Jarvis, who almost single-handed created the nation's most sentimental holiday 42 years ago, died last November in a Pennsylvania sanatorium. She was 84, weak with the infirmities of age and almost forgotten by the public.

Anna Jarvis grew up in Grafton, W. Va., where her mother taught Sunday School in St. Andrews Methodist Church. Each year Mrs. Jarvis conducted a celebration honoring the mothers of her Sunday School pupils.

In 1905, when Anna Jarvis was 41, her mother died. Anna spent the rest of her life in a great crusade to establish the second Sunday in May as a memorial to her own mother and to mothers all over the nation.

She arranged the country's first Mother's Day service in May, 1907. Held in St. Andrews Church, it was dedicated to Mrs. Jarvis and all the mothers of Taylor County.

The next year, Anna Jarvis persuaded the first city-wide Mother's Day. At her urging, West Virginia made Mother's Day a State-wide holiday in 1912, and Pennsylvania followed suit the next year.

With single-minded tenacity, Anna Jarvis made innumerable speeches before men's and women's clubs and meetings of all kinds. She carried on extensive correspondence with governors, statesmen, clergymen and editors.

Public response was enthusiastic. Congratulatory letters piled so high that she purchased an adjoining house for storage purposes.

In 1914, Anna Jarvis' persuasive pen won over President Wilson himself. He signed a joint Congressional Resolution lauding the American mother as "the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration." It established Mother's Day permanently and authorized federal display of the flag "as a public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of our country."

In the succeeding years, Miss Jarvis spent every penny of the moderate fortune left by her mother in establishing Mother's Day as a deep-rooted American tradition. During these years, too, she cared for her younger sister, Elsie, blind since birth.

The carnation was suggested as official Mother's Day flower by Anna Jarvis because it had been her mother's favorite. Gradually the custom developed of wearing red carnations to honor living mothers, and white boutonnieres for deceased mothers.

In 1943 a small group of her friends and admirers was shocked to discover that Anna Jarvis was penniless, ill, and nearly blind. They immediately placed her in Marshall Square Sanatorium in West Chester, Pa., where she was comfortably cared for during her declining years.

Devoted sons and daughters will be honoring more than their own mothers when they shower them with gifts and affectionate Mother's Day greeting cards on Sunday, May 8. They will be paying tribute to the idealism and perseverance of Anna Jarvis, who gave the nation's respect for mothers its first tangible expression—Mother's Day.

Holding Tomorrow in her Arms

Many mothers and fathers overlook the long-range meaning of parenthood. This beautiful mother, cuddling her little boy, may not realize it, but she is holding an armful of tomorrow.

This child of her heart belongs to another generation—the one that is to follow. It is her high privilege to rear him and train him for that future life.

If she thinks merely of the happiness the little fellow has brought into her life and home, she has missed the point entirely. Her main thought should be of what he may mean to his own generation and the world, and of his own future happiness.

It is a sobering thought that the next generation is being molded like clay in the hands of the present generation of parents.

Religion is an essential element in the training of a child. Teach him to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly before God, and he is not likely to stray into dangerous paths.

The Church can give valuable aid to parents in fulfilling this duty.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Congressmen don't need such influences. They are intelligent enough to make up their minds on the facts.

Under The Dome

Several cases have been brought to my attention relative to increased compensation for Star Route contractors as provided under Public Law 669. The contractors in question have not been granted the increase they requested and we have contacted the Post Office Department regarding the matter.

This week I introduced a bill which has been referred to the Veterans Committee. The bill would amend Public Law 702 of the 89th Congress to extend assistance to veterans with certain service connected disability involving the loss of both lower extremities in acquiring specially adapted housing which they require. As the law now stands veterans are now entitled to this provision if they are permanently and totally disabled (service connected) due to spinal cord disease or injury with paralysis of the legs and lower part of the body. My amendment would change this to "the anatomical loss of both lower extremities so near the hip joint as to prevent the use of prosthetic appliances."

Bulletin Available For Fruit Plantings

Residents of Garrett County may now get copies of the new bulletin giving complete information on sprays for home fruit plantings, County agent, John H. Carter said today that he has a good supply of the new bulletin, number 125, just published by the Maryland Extension Service. His office is at the Post Office Building, Oakland, Md.

"This publication is not intended for commercial growers," he said, "although we do have a similar publication for them. Number 125 tells the home gardener how to mix sprays, when to spray, and gives other information about the control of insects and diseases. It includes information on spraying apples, peaches, plums, cherries, pears, raspberries, blackberries, grapes and strawberries."

"Healthy plants mean good yields," the agent emphasized," and an important way to keep plants healthy is to give them necessary sprays throughout the season."

Vintage of 1900

Other suggested walks, drives and excursions for the visitors of the area in 1900, gathered from the illustrated guide to Oakland, preserved by Wilbur L. Davis, are given this week.

How many of these and those of future weeks will be familiar to the readers?

Walks

No. 2—Iron Spring—Starting from railroad station walk north to school house, thence take road to left and proceed along this road which takes a sharp turn to right a quarter of mile from school house and runs north along a ridge overlooking the valley of the Little Yough river. Continue along this road, known variously as the Elk Shoals, Stone Cow and Sang Run road, for about quarter of a mile, until the brow of a steep hill is reached, where to the right a spring issues and a grassy road winds into the wood. Follow this latter road, which turns to the right always, past two stone cairns until the trunk of a tree blocks the way; to the right, down a path, twenty feet away, is the Iron Spring. Visitors should carry a cup. Two miles.

Drives

No. 2—Tram Road — Hoop-pole road to road alongside of which are remains of ex-Senator Davis' timber car tracks. Follow this to junction with road passing the Anchorage or Perry farm, and return to Oakland by Deer Park road and Second street. Fifteen miles.

Excursions

No. 2—Table Rock—Leave town by Third street and West Union road. Take road to left at Gortner's and drive to junction of old National road. A few rods to the right is Table Rock. Parties usually bring lunch and eat it on the Rock. There is a spring nearby. In the neighborhood is an observatory, and a farm house where a hot meal can be had. The view from the observatory is extensive.

After lunch or dinner, continue the drive down the National road to settlement called Red House. Return by West Union road and Third street. Twenty miles.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Conflict and Confusion

Considering the admitted peril and enormous cost involved in the world leadership forced upon us, not many will contend there has ever been a time when governmental wisdom in the conduct of domestic affairs was as essential as now. Are these being conducted wisely? Do we know what we are doing and where we are going? Informed and detached men find it hard to give an affirmative answer to those questions.

—o—

The evidence is so heavily the other way as measurably to sustain the charge that in domestic affairs the bewilderment and crosspurposes that today exist are without precedent. Very little of what goes on in Washington makes sense. Some of it is literally incredible. During the Roosevelt regime there were at times terrific confusion, violent criticism and widespread alarm over some of the things proposed. However, at least the Roosevelt domestic policies all went in the same direction. Whether or not you liked the direction, at any rate you knew the way they pointed.

—o—

This is not true of the Truman Administration. Not only do parts of the Truman program go very much farther to the left than anything sponsored by his exceedingly leftish predecessor but other parts of it go much farther to the right than that gentlemen would have dreamed of going. In other words Mr. Roosevelt consistently pointed in one direction; Mr. Truman points in two diametrically different directions. Some of his major proposals going left clash headon with others going right. The results, of course, are not far from chaos. The Administration is bereft not only of a sense of direction but a sense of balance. The best illustration of this state of affairs is in the way in which the gigantic White House "welfare" program conflicts with the Hoover Commission's recommendations to which he is completely committed and for the adoption of which he has repeatedly called.

—o—

Reconciling these contrasting attitudes with reason is a tough job indeed. For example, the President favors the Hoover report, which would abolish, consolidate and reorganize the hundreds of overlapping and duplicating agencies, boards, bureaus and commissions. It would reduce the terribly swollen Federal establishment to manageable proportions, eliminate waste, increase efficiency and simultaneously save more than $3,000,000,000 annually. Almost everybody is for that except the labor-union bosses, the extreme left wingers, the Federal jobholders and their sponsoring members of Congress. Opposition can hardly be defended except on the lowest political and patronage planes, and the President is for it 100 percent.

—o—

Yet, if the Congress should pass, as he demands, (1) his bill expanding the social security laws so as to take in some 20,000,000 more beneficiaries; (2) his bill for compulsory health insurance under Federal supervision; (3) his bill to pay enlarged and extended subsidies directly out of the Treasury to the subsidized farmers; (4) his bill grandiosely called the Economy Stabilization Act of 1949, under which Government control over and participation in private industry would be greatly increased; (5) his so-called Point 4—the "Bold New Plan"—by which this Government proposes to develop and stimulate industry and agriculture in the "backward areas" of the world—if even half of these measures should become law, obviously it would be ridiculous to adopt the Hoover recommendations. For, these presidential "welfare" proposals immediately, and at great cost, would create vastly more boards, bureaus, commissions and jobholders than the Hoover Commission plans to abolish, eliminate, consolidate and reduce. Yet the facts as here stated are not even denied.

But an even more absurd contradiction is in the above-noted "Bold New Plan," generally known as "Point 4." First Administration mention of this was in the Truman inaugural address in which a program for the "undeveloped countries" and "backward areas" of the world were outlined. The idea was, through American money, materials and technique to "raise substantially the standards of living" in the "undeveloped countries" and "backward areas" of the world. It was a scheme so vague and visionary that the hearts of the True Liberals everywhere were gladdened and their heads began to teem with suggestions—all of them exotic—by which these splendid objectives might be achieved.

Those of a practical frame of mind regarded the whole thing as a grandiose gesture. Even after the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations had been prodded into a resolution of approval and the ECA had set up a "colonial development division," it was not taken seriously. Something like twenty or thirty millions may be spent in "surveys, studies and research." No one thinks anything will be actually done and the real interest is in who first sold Mr. Truman this idea and where it originated. As to the latter, Mr. Henry Hazlitt recently revealed the astonishing fact that it came directly from a book called "Tehran, Our Path in War and Peace," written five years ago by Mr. Earl Browder, then officially head of the American branch of the Communist party. The quotations which Mr. Hazlitt presents in "News Week" seem to sustain his charge and do rather baffle those who try to understand how an Administration which inveighs against Communism as an evil thing can so enthusiastically espouse an idea plagiarized from a Communist-written book.

"FRESH FRUIT" FLAVOR WINS ACCLAIM FOR ORANGE-CRUSH

TASTE TESTING WAS FUN . . . "Really fun," said the women, men, girls and boys who recently took the carbonated orange drink "blind" taste test. Some voted for this drink, some for that, not knowing the names of any at the time. But when all returns were chalked up, Orange-CRUSH with its distinctive "fresh-fruit" flavor, natural color and just-right carbonation was away in the lead.

Scientists reveal reasons why . . .

BROWN BOTTLE PROTECTS "FRESH FRUIT" FLAVOR

Many people ask why Orange-CRUSH is always sold in special "krinkly" brown bottles. The reasons are good ones. Orange-CRUSH technicians give the answers:

1. The brown, corrugated glass structure of the Orange-CRUSH bottle resists sunlight. This is most important because sunlight is especially harmful to orange juice, causing it to deteriorate quickly. By preventing these damaging rays from reaching the juice after it has been bottled, the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle carefully guards Orange-CRUSH until you open it and taste all of its delicate, sweet, natural fruit flavor.
2. The distinctive "krinkly" brown bottle identifies Orange-CRUSH so the public can easily and quickly recognize it.
3. Wherever you find Orange-CRUSH, all over the world, it is always bottled the same way—in the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle. There is never a variation to confuse you.
4. The Orange-CRUSH "krinkly" brown bottle feels comfortable in the hand—a sure grip when pouring.

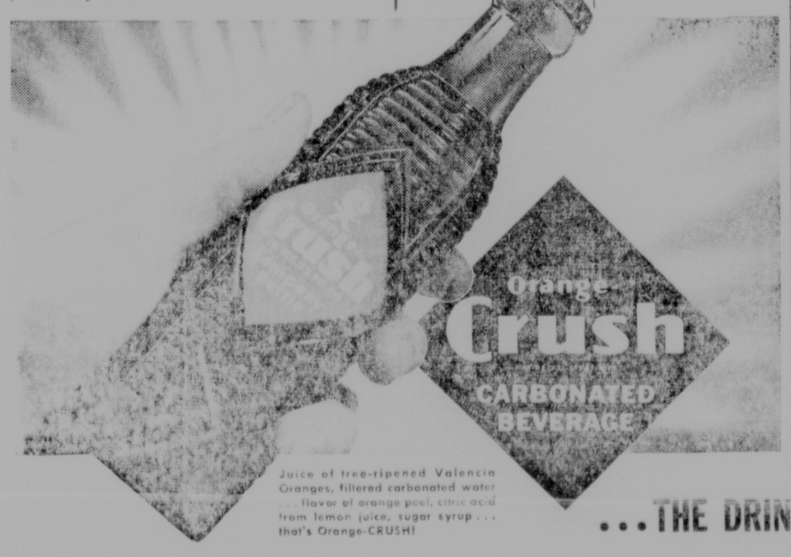
With these facts in mind, look always for the distinctively-shaped, "krinkly" brown bottle that invariably identifies the genuine Orange-CRUSH, that protects its delicate "fresh fruit" flavor and natural color; that fits the hand so well. Be foresighted, be thrifty . . . buy delicious Orange-CRUSH by the case, with confidence that you get a bigger money's worth, and that its goodness is always protected by the Orange-CRUSH "krinkly" brown bottle. Keep its picture in your mind.

Bit of Home Abroad

"Good Neighbors" ENJOY Orange-CRUSH IN RIO

Orange-CRUSH is sold in twenty countries throughout the world. So on a "good neighbor" jaunt . . . for example, to Rio de Janeiro in Brazil . . . you'd find Orange-CRUSH awaiting your pleasure. A "little bit of home" to cheer and refresh you with its familiar bottled goodness, it's sparkling, zesty, "fresh fruit" flavor.

And no matter where you find Orange-CRUSH you'll find the same delicious "fresh fruit" flavor and natural color protected by the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle.



Juice of tree-ripened Valencia Oranges, filtered carbonated water . . . flavor of orange peel, citric acid from lemon juice, sugar syrup . . . that's Orange-CRUSH!

Taste-Teasers

Mrs. L. D., housewife, enthusiastic Orange-CRUSH user, suggests these taste-tempting variations.

My-o-my . . . it's really amazing how many delicious variations you can get with bottled Orange-CRUSH! For example, children love "Orange-Sicles" made by freezing Orange-CRUSH in ice trays, with wooden skewer in each. Frozen Orange-CRUSH cubes are wonderful, too, as the "ice" in lemonade or grape juice. I use Orange-CRUSH for basting meats—as a sauce flavoring—with ices, ice cream or milk. And here are three of my Orange-CRUSH "guest specials".

ORANGE FROSTY. Serve chilled Orange-CRUSH in a frosty glass topped with a sprig of mint. Sheer taste enjoyment with a chicken sandwich or deviled ham sandwich! A snack deluxe for family or guests.

ORANGE FLIP. Fill tall beverage glass one-fourth full of chilled Orange-CRUSH. Add one tablespoon Vanilla Ice Cream. Stir into Orange-CRUSH until smooth. Fill glass with Orange-CRUSH, stir well and serve. Delicious, extra-cooling flavor blend!

ORANGE SHAKE. Fill parfait glass one-fourth full of Orange-CRUSH. Into this stir one tablespoon orange sherbet or raspberry sherbet. Stir until smooth. Fill glass with Orange-CRUSH. Stir well. When it foams it's ready to enjoy. And, umm-mm . . . serve with cookies or plain cake!

Customers Choose Favorite Bottled Orange Drink in "Blind" Taste Test

Orange-CRUSH Enjoyed By Whole Families

Men, Women, Children Like Orange-CRUSH Best

In a most unusual taste test, Orange-CRUSH, famous "fresh fruit" flavored orange drink, proved again why it has been a favorite bottled refreshment for more than 33 years. All comers—men, women and children—were asked to taste several carbonated orange drinks. One was Orange-CRUSH. All tasters were served "blind," in cups, none knowing names of orange drinks tasted. An impartial scorer asked, "which drink do you prefer?"—which of these do you say has the finest 'fresh fruit' flavor?"

"DIFFERENT" TASTE WINS PREFERENCE

Score marks lengthened in the "Orange-CRUSH" column as more and more said, "This for me." When asked reasons for this preference, the real story of Orange-CRUSH leadership was told: "Fresh fruit" flavor—just enough "sparkle"—more "cooling"—no foreign "after-taste"—more "satisfying"—"just like it better"—tastes like "more"!

Here was human, present-day confirmation of the reasons why Orange-CRUSH is the best-known bottled, carbonated orange drink—sold in twenty countries throughout the world. Proof, once more, of the qualities that made Orange-CRUSH the official orange drink of the New York World's Fair, Chicago World's Fair, and other great fairs. You, too, can taste the "difference" that has made Orange-CRUSH a world favorite carbonated orange drink for years. Delicious, "fresh fruit flavor," bottled Orange-CRUSH is sold in grocery stores and fountains all over America. You'll find it in your block, or "just around the corner." Try some today.

"Fresh Fruit Flavor"

Marjorie J., mother, when informed of her choice in "blind" taste test, volunteered: "What I like about Orange-CRUSH is its 'fresh fruit' flavor. I have enjoyed Orange-CRUSH for years, but had not realized that its pleasing, distinctive 'fruity' taste is so distinguishable when compared with other carbonated orange drinks."

"Orange Sparkle Pleases"

Richard J., father: "I made my choice because I found the orange flavor 'sparkle' of this Orange-CRUSH drink particularly pleasing. The makers of Orange-CRUSH have certainly found the formula of tingling taste perfection in a bottled orange drink. There'll be more of it at our house."

"Natural Tasting"

Willie J., son: "Orange-CRUSH is so natural tasting—full of the fruity fresh-orange flavor that's tops with me! Does it ever taste good when it's nice and cold—and its sparkly tingle kind of 'hugs your tongue'—and a glassful is gone far too soon! Yes sir, I could go for a bottle of cooling, natural tasting Orange-CRUSH any time."

"Freshlike Flavor"

Louise J., daughter: "It's the 'freshlike' orange flavor, with just enough cooling tingly taste, that I like about Orange-CRUSH. At picnics and places I've had a lot of bottled orange drinks, but none of 'em had the rich flavor like you smell when you open a sack of big, ripe oranges—and that's what I think of when I taste Orange-CRUSH."

"JUST RIGHT" IN TASTE TEST

Drink "A" TOO STRONG — Heavy, sweet flavor—too much sweetening gave Drink "A" a syrup-like taste—lacked refreshing lightness . . .

Drink "B" TOO WEAK — . . . thin but sharp flavor of Drink "B" lacked naturalness—no zest or tang—no fully rounded fruit quality . . .

Orange-CRUSH "PERFECT" — . . . but Orange-CRUSH, ah, that "fresh fruit" flavor, that natural color—cooling, delicious, refreshing!

Only Tree-Ripened Valencia Oranges Used

FROM SUNNY GROVES come the luscious Valencia oranges that are used in preparing Orange-CRUSH. Only the choicest oranges are selected, picked at the very peak of their maturity. These select oranges are rushed to the plant where they undergo a special processing developed over many years by Orange-CRUSH technicians. In this way, every bit of flavor and goodness is saved for your enjoyment in a bottle of Orange-CRUSH.

TEEN-AGE "CRUSH"

YOUNG MODERNS HAVE "CRUSH" . . . Yes, it's after-school or holiday Orange-CRUSH time for today's teen-agers who know what tastes good . . . in the best of company . . . when having the best of times. Umm-mm . . . delicious, cooling, "fresh fruit" flavored Orange-CRUSH . . . at the fountain of youth!

SMART DEALER . . . SMART SHOPPER . . .

HE MAKES SHOPPING EASIER . . . because he knows families in growing number are buying Orange-CRUSH, in brown bottles, "by the case." So he keeps well stocked with cases of Orange-CRUSH, and helps shoppers remember to buy with a well-displayed reminder to "BUY IT BY THE CASE."

YOU'LL BE HAPPY AT HOME . . . if you buy Orange-CRUSH by the case—and keep a few bottles always cool and handy in your refrigerator. Delicious, cooling refreshment between home tasks . . . for active, thirsty children . . . for "drop-ins" while you chat . . . for parties . . . for the unexpected, always!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By DR. KENNETH L. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Mark 11:27—12:44.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Mark 12:1-12.

Jesus And Critics

Lesson for May 8, 1949

DURING JESUS' last week, his enemies were firing at point-blank range. They were dead set to kill him; but they did not want to do that if they could ruin him some other way. What they tried to do was to make him out either a rascal or a fool, or both. Mark's story shows how Jesus took it.

Dr. Foreman

The first question they asked sounded perfectly fair. "Where did you get your authority?" As we saw last week, Jesus had assumed simply tremendous authority. Wasn't it fair to ask him where he got it?

The trouble was that the men who asked the questions didn't want to know. They only wanted to heckle Jesus.

The world is full of just such license-hunting snoopers as these. They do not like it when a man succeeds. They particularly do not like it when a man succeeds without their help.

"Who is this fellow anyway? Where did he get his start? What family does he have, where is his diploma?" Jesus never answered this question, because he knew why they asked it. (Mark 11:27-33.)

Taxes

IN JESUS TIME you could not vote either for more taxes, or less. You paid what the Roman soldier at your door said to pay, and you were thankful not to be poked in the ribs with his sword while you were fishing up the money. But no one dared to complain. The Romans had some deep dank dungeons for people who complained about high taxes. So the next question Jesus' enemies asked him was about taxes, or tribute, which means the same thing. They thought they had Jesus on a spot where whatever he said would put him in the wrong. Suppose he said: "Yes, pay taxes by all means." Then they would snarl: "Bootlicker of the Romans! Traitor to your country!" But if Jesus said, "No, don't pay taxes," then they would howl: "Treason! Police! Arrest this man who defies the Emperor!" Jesus' answer was a masterpiece, because he not only did not dodge the hot question, he did not leave the questioners a leg to stand on. (Mark 12:17).

Hairsplitters by Trade

THE CRITICS of Jesus were hairsplitters by trade. Yet none of them had ever been able to answer another tricky question with which they now expected to floor Jesus.

"Which is the greatest commandment of all?" The question had been going the rounds for generations. The greatest minds in Jewery had wrestled with it. But it was a foolish question after all.

Which is the most important brick in a wall? What position on a volley-ball team is the most important? What is the most important link in a chain? An answer to these questions would seem about as easy as answering that one about the greatest commandment. Jesus knew they were trying to show him up as a bungler, as a very poor and amateurish hairsplitter indeed. But instead, he did what no one expected him to do: he answered their question, and answered it so well that it is one of the cornerstones of our religion today.

How to Take Criticism

THE READER should consult Mark for the whole story. It bristles with practical thoughts, one of the most practical being how to take criticism. All of us can take it from our friends and families: we know they mean it for our own good. But criticism that is unfair from people who want only to show us up for fools or to get us into hot water—that is hard to take. Jesus should be our example.

He did not let other people's criticisms interfere with his work. He never avoided criticism. He did not "twist the lion's tail, he did not deliberately provoke criticism. But he would not claim exemption from what every one has to stand, being looked over and rated by the people who knew him.

He never broke his heart over what people said of him. He did not go around crying to himself.

MY MOTHER'S SOUL

Within the heart of a lovely rose,
And a lily, pure and fair;
I sometimes feel my Mother's soul
Must live and blossom there.

For like a flower was her dear life,
With beauty, richly crowned
By the love that blossomed in her heart
And spread a fragrance 'round.

And in a quiet garden spot,
I pause, and seek to find;
Within a flower her sainted soul,
More beautiful, and kind.

And to each flower my lips I press
And say a tender prayer;
That if by chance within their heart
My Mother's soul is there.

And when for her I wear a flower
I choose a rose of red,
In memory of her soul that lives,
It's but her heart, that's dead.

In memory of my mother, Mrs. Martha Fresh, who passed away January 20, 1949.

Mrs. Robert B. Winters

Thanks, Dr. Bennett . . . .

Those words come from the lips of hundreds of people of Garrett county in recognition of the unselfish service performed during the past twenty-five years.

Persons from all over the United States, and even foreign countries, beat a path to the door of this well known Baltimore bone specialist, and he could have been kept busy attending the wealthy and the moderately well to do without ever leaving that city.

But he chose to come to Garrett county upon regular occasions and give advice, prescribe treatments and arrange for medical attention to all who needed it, without regard to payment.

A short notice in the newspapers that an orthopedic clinic would be held at the health office on a particular date, was all that the general public ever saw. Sometimes the notices would not even say that Dr. Bennett would attend. But for many years he did come, and as a result, those handicapped by infantile paralysis, those with some physical defect dating from their birth, those who had tendencies toward bad posture were materially aided. Not all of them have openly expressed their appreciation, but all have been grateful for their improvement.

This evening Dr. George E. Bennett will be honored by a testimonial dinner. It would be impossible for all whom he has helped to attend this function so this newspaper speaks for them in saying with all sincerity, "Thanks, Dr. Bennett, for an unselfish service toward the betterment of mankind."

Fast Time Motion Fails Four to Three

Oakland Council Defeats Move To Change Time—Smoke and Trees Also Discussed

Time, smoke and trees, came in for their share of discussion at the regular meeting of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland on Monday evening, and the results in brief are:

Time: A motion that the town adopt saving time failed to pass by a vote of four to three.

Smoke: A number of residents made a protest over excessive amount of smoke emitted from stack of Imperial Ice Cream division plant of Fairmont Foods, Third and Center streets, and plan for reduction of nuisance is being worked out.

Trees: Any action on proposed removal of about ten stately oaks, to be held up until some future dates.

To Remain on Standard Time

As the result of a vote on the time question, Oakland will remain on standard time officially. This will coincide with the balance of most of the county, as the County Commissioners had not considered taking any action on the question.

As far as is known now, Grantsville, Bloomington and Crellin are the only places observing fast time.

Smoke Committee Appears

A smoke committee composed of Mrs. Margaret Liller, Mrs. Andrew Wolf, Miss Ruth Field, Mrs. W. R. Browning, Mrs. Thomas Currie, Miss Zaidee Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruckert, Mrs. Ray Teets, Mrs. H. R. Gibson, appeared before the council in reference to excessive smoke from the Oakland Creamery. Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh said he had previously contacted the manager in an attempt to work out a solution and that some progress was being made. The city attorney was asked to notify the creamery officially about the numerous complaints and that some remedial action should be taken by the company at an early date. Running at capacity with the use of gas coal were said to be the main causes of the smoke nuisance.

The petition of a number of citizens against removal of the oak trees was presented to the Council. Two in particular were discussed, those at the corner of Fifth and Alder, and in front of the Howard property on Alder street. Property owners near the trees agreed to have them put in good condition. Mayor Hinebaugh said no immediate action was contemplated in regard to the other ten, but that eventually they would be removed to prevent possible damage in the future.

Joins League

The Council joined the Maryland League of Municipalities at a cost of $70.00 dues to May, 1950.

Mrs. Andrew Wolf appeared before the council in regard to the condition of Fourth street. The Council is preparing to oil or screen this street and a number of others within the city limits.

A three-light traffic light, to take care of pedestrian traffic, was ordered for trial at Second and Green streets.

The weighmaster was given opportunity to keep all receipts from operation of city scales, but he would bear expense of licenses and scale books, hitherto borne by the city. Heretofore weighmaster received 90 percent of all receipts.

Receipts for the month amounted to $5,465.13, exclusive of a loan of $7,000 from the First National Bank. Water receipts were $3,500.59; taxes $111.83; and among the miscellaneous items of $1,852.71 were $686.76 from gasoline tax; $537.84 from motor vehicle tax; and $450 from parking meters. Expenditures came to $11,410.60, including $1,900.24 for water supplies, and $6,500 payment on newly finished garage building; and $477.17.

Movie tax for the month, turned over to the city, to be distributed to the Red Cross, Library and Fire Department, amounted to $80.55.

Prentice DeBerry was granted a permit to block off front of the former Clover Farm store location, for remodeling.

Held For Larceny of War Bonds

William D. Heath, Norfolk, Va., was brought to this county on Wednesday, May 4, and is being held for action of the September Term Grand Jury, on a charge of grand larceny, according to W. Dwight Stover, the State's Attorney.

Stover said the man is charged with taking 17 war bonds, having a maturity value of $25 each, from Mrs. Marguerite Sine, of Friendsville. The alleged theft is said to have occurred on April 17, 1949.

At that time Heath was said to be visiting in the Friendsville area.

He waived a preliminary hearing on May 6 before Magistrate Norval Speelman in Friendsville, and was released upon furnishing bond in the sum of $500. Heath waived extradition and was brought to this county last Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Paul W. Fisher.

Plan Fellowship Tea

Members of the Council of Church Women, of this area, have planned a Fellowship Tea, to be held tomorrow afternoon, Friday, May 13, from 3 to 5 o'clock at the community center in Mt. Lake Park.

Interested women of the Park are in charge and they are inviting all churches to participate.

Centennial Seal

The seal for the Oakland Centennial, to be used on stationery, the program book, and other publicity material, was received this week, and is unique in that it embodies the work and ideas of two persons.

Some of the thoughts are those put into a poster by Barbara Winters, High School senior, which won first place in a contest sponsored by the Centennial committee, depicting two miniature worlds with oak trees growing from the county and showing one hundred years of progress.

This poster was given to Aza C. Stanton, Jr., student in the Maryland Institute of Art, and a member of the publicity committee, who had to eliminate one of the worlds in order to get it down to a size that could be photographed and a cut made from the photograph. He added the appropriate acorns around the edge and the ribbons with 1849 and 1949 upon them.

Stanton then made the drawing as shown above, and the engraver completed the job.

The celebration will be observed in Oakland August 8 to 14.

ELLA FAZZALARI NAMED DELEGATE TO NATIONAL CAMP

High 4-H Club Honor Won By Oakland Girl, Now University Student

Miss Ella Fazzalari, of Oakland, is one of Maryland's four delegates to National 4-H club camp, to be held June 15 to 22 in Washington, D. C. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fazzalari, Third and Alder streets.

—Republican Engraving.

The other three delegates are Virginia Mullinix, of Woodbine, and Bill and Alexander Blackhall, of Faulkner.

Miss Fazzalari was an active member of the Oakland girls' 4-H club for several years and was assistant leader until she entered the University of Maryland last fall. She will be one of the leaders assisting Miss Eleanor K. Dearborn, home demonstration agent, at the girls' 4-H camp at Bittinger this summer, and has assisted there upon previous summers.

She is considered an outstanding seamstress by the present and former home demonstration agents in the county, is home economics student and an active member of the Collegiate 4-H club at the University of Maryland.

She is the fourth girl from this county to be selected to represent Maryland at the National camp, the others being Mrs. Mildred Stemple Altstetter, Mrs. Jessie Guard McCullough, and Miss Rita Bittle.

Miss Fazzalari was chosen as an all-star among the state 4-H group at a meeting two years ago, an honorary 4-H club organization.

Virginia Mullinix, the other girl chosen from the state this year, is a freshman at Peabody Institute in Baltimore, and has distinquished herself in nine years of club work through her leadership and unusual musical abilities.

The Blackhall boys are identical twins, aged 19, sophomores in agriculture at the University. They hold long and almost identical records of leadership, scholarship and beef raising.

Request For Permit To Sell Beer Refused

The request of Samuel W. Tasker, Jr., to obtain a license to sell beer at a place of business, at the intersection of the Vindex-Kitzmiller highways, was refused at a hearing before the board of License Commissioners in the court house on Tuesday.

The refusal was made on the grounds that it was not necessary for the accommodation of the public as there were two beer parlors within two miles of the location, it was stated. There is a church within 400 feet of the business and there is a regular school bus stop at the location, it was testified.

Two petitions were before the commissioners, one against the granting of the permit with 278 names on it, and one in favor of the permit, with 252 names on it. W. R. Offutt and E. Ray Jones were the attorneys for Tasker, while W. W. Dawson argued against the granting of the permit.

Oakland's Tax Rate Remains at 90 Cents

Amount Is Same As Previous Two Years— Town's Assessable Basis Over Two Million

Oakland's city tax rate for 1949 was fixed at 90 cents on each $100 of assessable property, the same figure as the previous two years, it was announced following a meeting of the Mayor and City Council on Monday night.

In the estimated budget it was assumed that expenditures would total $67,568. Receipts were expected to be over $68,000. Receipts from the water department were calculated to be $19,475, but expenses in this department were expected to exceed $22,500.

The tax rate was based on an assessable basis of $2,360,423, which is an increase of over $270,000 more than last year. Added to this would be receipts from an assessable basis of corporations, etc., through the state tax commission, the basis there being estimated at $500,000.

Twenty-five cents of the rate would be used to retire bonds and pay interest, with the remaining 65 cents for general expenses.

Covered Wagons Will Be Symbols of New Bond Drive

County's Quota Is $76,000— Campaign to Begin May 16th

One of the original covered wagons which carried American pioneers west in the historic gold rush of 1849 is coming to the Cumberland area during June to dramatize the United States Savings Bonds Opportunity Drive for 1949, it was announced by Howard C. Riggs, chairman of the Garrett County U. S. Savings Bonds Committee, a volunteer group.

Adopted as the symbol of the drive, which opens May 16th and ends June 30th, the covered wagon is part of a train of 30 wagons which will tour all 48 States. They are being flown by air "boxcars" of the Army and Navy from Utah to Independence, Missouri, where many of the wagon trains began the westward journey for the opening day ceremony, in which Governors of three States will participate. President Truman will officially open the drive on May 16th with a radio broadcast to be carried by the four major radio networks.

Garrett County's practical and attainable quota in this drive is $76,000 in Series "E" Bonds, its share of the Maryland quota of $12,700,000, Mr. Riggs said.

With Treasury Secretary Snyder at the Independence ceremony will be Governor Dever of Massachusetts, Governor Warren of California and Governor Smith of Missouri.

Following this ceremony, by airlift again, the covered wagons will be flown to 30 cities across the nation, to begin regional tours. Two of the wagons will visit Maryland.

The wagons, mounted on a special truck and trailer unit donated by the International Harvester and the Fruehauf Trailer Companies, will visit eight Maryland cities from June 11th through June 28th.

A unit will visit Cumberland for two days.

The covered wagon has been chosen as symbol for the Opportunity Drive, Mr. Riggs explained, first, because this year marks the 100th anniversary of the gold rush and in this manner the Treasury is commemorating it; and second, because the covered wagon played a big role in transporting those seeking opportunity, across the plains of the new land; and third, because Savings Bonds offer Americans today an opportunity to better their fortunes, and find security for themselves and generations to come.

A primary purpose of this Drive in pushing the sale of "E" Bonds, which can only be bought by individuals, is to spread ownership of the national debt, said Mr. Riggs.

Wins Softball Game

Oakland Independent softball team defeated Bethlehem 26 to 4 on the high school field last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Stanton, chairman of the Housing committee told the central committee she and her committee members plan to make a survey for available rooms, and will report later.

The Central committee is making plans to obtain necessary lighting equipment, and Frank Kley was invited to attend the meeting on Friday evening to work out lighting equipment for the grounds.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP

Come on, let's put things in order. Our entire town can and should be made as clean and orderly as its cleanest home. Then we will have a safer, happier, healthier town.

To have a town clean and beautiful should be the ambition of every one of its citizens.

Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me as mayor and with the hearty approval of many conscientious citizens I hereby proclaim

MAY 16th TO 21st

AS CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP WEEK

Trucks Will Haul Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday Thursday and Friday

Away with rubbish piles! Banish the plague spots! Cut weeds, mow lawns and trim hedges. Repair and paint every building that needs it.

We need a thorough cleaning and renovation. It is the sensible thing to do for health, safety, pride and happiness of all our people.

This being our Centennial Year let's all of us get behind this job and make it the best cleanup our town has ever had.

If our town employees should miss any rubbish during this campaign do not hesitate to call City Hall, phone 215, giving name and place of same and I will see to it personally that it is removed.

JOSEPH HINEBAUGH, Mayor
Oakland, Maryland.

LOOK at its clean and sweeping lines so unmistakably Buick—the room expressed in its broad beam—the level-going smoothness shown in its sizable length.

Now — slip in. Settle back. Take in the spread-out room everywhere—even to extra room overhead from super-soft seats that cradle you deeper.

Then notice this: You can really see!

Resigns Pastorate; To Return Here

Rev. Felix G. Robinson, founder and director of the Mountain Choir Festival association, has announced his resignation as pastor of the Community Church at Arthurdale, W. Va.

Completing almost six years of ministry in Preston county, Rev. Robinson announced his resignation at the Mother's Day service with the action to be effective June 1. He and his family expect to return to their farm home just south of Oakland, where they will reside for an indefinite period. During this time he plans to put his writings into shape for publication.

According to a news item in a Morgantown paper on Tuesday, many people were baptized at the service at Arthurdale on Sunday, and that since Rev. Robinson went to Arthurdale almost 250 have been added to the church rolls through baptism.

Farm Land Prices Have Reached Peak

After 10 years of almost steady climbing, farm land prices in the country as a whole appear to have reached the postwar peak, says Dr. S. H. DeVault, head of Dept. of Agricultural Economics and Marketing at the University of Maryland. Land prices in Maryland are up one percent from November. Values in this State still are 112 percent above prewar average, 1935-39, which means that farmers should think twice before buying, especially if a mortgage must be obtained.

Dr. DeVault points out that United States land prices turned downward one percent during the last 4 months ending March 1. This, he said, is the first significant decline in these prices since the late thirties, though, for the country as a whole, they are still more than double the average in 1935-39.

During the past 12 months, the prices of land purchased have continued to rise a little, but the 3 percent rise in the past year is a slowing down from the 7 percent rise for the previous 12-month period. It is much less than the approximate 12 percent a year rise in the war years.

Examples of Good Family Living

MR. AND MRS. J. M. FALKENSTEIN

The first of several aging couples of the town of Oakland is pictured this week in continuing the series of photographs of persons who have contributed to good living, throughout the past half century or more.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Falkenstein have been an influence for Christian family living ever since they appeared in Oakland in 1893.

While Mrs. Falkenstein was kept busy rearing a family and raising a garden, she made church work one of her main activities. Keeping pace with her in this respect was her husband who served as a church councilman at various times, sang in the choir, and was continually active in Sunday school work.

Mrs. Falkenstein was born January 30, 1867, at Cleveland, Ohio, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Leighton. Her husband was born February 25, 1862, in Sugar Valley, W. Va., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ethbell Falkenstein. They were married June 24, 1866, and observed their 62nd wedding anniversary last summer.

Mr. Falkenstein started carpentering in 1885 at Cranesville where he built a number of houses and barns. He came to Oakland May 20, 1893, as a wagon maker for A. D. Naylor and has resided here since that time excepting six and one-half years on a farm near Swallow Falls. After ten years in the wagon shop he entered the carpenter business in earnest. The J. T. Mitchell, B. H. Sincell, Hostetler, Nally and Bullard homes, the latter now owned by C. E. Sharps, were among the many buildings he helped construct.

Due to a recent illness from which Mrs. Falkenstein is now recovering, it was necessary that the above picture be taken indoors, although it would have been more typical to have snapped Mr. Falkenstein from the top of some apple tree engaged in pruning. Indeed, he was doing just that only a few days ago and scoffed at the idea that there might be danger connected with it. You see, he is only 87.

Their children are all living and include Walter Falkenstein, Myersville; Miss Grace Falkenstein, Mrs. Karl Kahl, Oakland; Mrs. Emerson Bishoff, Hoyes; Mrs. O. M. Smouse, Clarksburg, W. Va.; and Mrs. Edward Hinebaugh, Canton, O.

Substantial Citizen Through the Years

Mrs. Truman W. Casteel has been one of the substantial citizens of Oakland during the past seventy-nine years, although she didn't begin to make her influence felt for the first few years of that number.

But before her marriage school teaching was her job, influencing the minds of the pupils who went to the Brant, the Bernard and the Shook Shop schools.

Born August 21, 1869, on the farm north of Oakland that is now occupied by her brother, Walter DeBerry, she has lived in that general vicinity all her lifetime.

She was a daughter of Clark and Jane Fredlock DeBerry. She married Truman W. Casteel in 1893, and until 1906 they lived on the Deer Park road. Her husband who was a farmer and cattle dealer, died in 1937.

She helped to rear four stepchildren, all of whom are now dead except one, Mrs. William Glotfelty; and she also reared two foster children. She has been a faithful member of the local Methodist church and maintains her farm home on route 219, about a mile north of town.

Few openings in private enterprise offer you the leadership training, the educational advantages, the exciting travel and adventure, the supervised sports and recreation programs and the clean, wholesome, active life that can be yours with an Army enlistment.

Few openings offer you such comradeship with America's finest young men—for today—only the best are acceptable for service in the United States Army.

To win a place in today's Regular Army you must pass physical examinations that are tougher — mental examinations more difficult—than ever before. And with these more rigid requirements you will face keener all-'round competition for assignment to the more than 200 courses offered at Army technical and specialty schools.

The rewards are also greater —opportunity for advancement is limited only by your ability and initiative. Many of today's general officers began their careers as Privates. Some of today's Privates may be our future Generals!

Appointments to Officer's Candidate Schools and to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point are available to those who can make the grade. In what other field can you aspire so high?

You owe it to yourself to get all the facts. See the friendly recruiting officer at your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today. He will be happy to give you full details without any obligation to you.

"LIKE FATHER... LIKE SON"
"Like father, like son" is one reason why the Woodmen Society has kept growing in membership, protection, financial strength and service throughout the past 59 years.
"Hundred per cent" Woodmen families are no rarity. Scores of thousands of Woodmen have enrolled their sons to enjoy with them the life insurance protection and fraternal and social benefits Woodcraft offers men and boys.
"National Officers Appreciation" campaign, ending May 31, is a good time to enroll to enjoy Woodcraft's protection and fraternal benefits.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Humphrey Activities

One of the new Democratic senators who has not quite received the attention his friends think he deserves (though certainly that is not his fault) is young (38) Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, of Minnesota, who recently became the head of the left-wing organization known as "Americans for Democratic Action."

This is the group which last year decided that Mr. Truman, politically, as they say on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, was a "gone gosling" and that it would be suicide to nominate him. Accordingly, they concentrated on forcing him to abdicate, which is a measure of their political intelligence. In order to "save" the Democratic party, they waged a terrific campaign to draft General Eisenhower or Justice Douglas. It will be recalled that their efforts, though strongly supported by the Roosevelt brothers, James and Franklin, were not wholly successful. Nor were their predictions of Democratic disaster with Mr. Truman entirely fulfilled.

However, they did have one convention success—and largely through Mr. Humphrey. It was he, supported by the anti-Truman elements, who forced into the platform the extreme civil-rights' plank which Mr. Truman did not want and which was very widely resented, indeed. It is quite a strain to regard it as "saving" the party. Nevertheless, it gave Mr. Humphrey considerable prominence and is probably the cause of his selection as president of the ADA, which is packed with former Roosevelt New Dealers, all bursting with ambitions involving almost everything from the presidency down.

Those who know young Senator Humphrey say that it is entirely in character for him to regard the ADA presidency as making him the outstanding national Democratic leader, and that in the next three years a good many loud leadership noises may be expected from him. As a matter of fact, he already has begun to make some of these in the Senate, where he is noted more for his highly articulate energy than for the soundness of his views. It cannot be said that he has greatly endeared himself to his colleagues nor won the unstinted admiration of the press gallery. It is true, however, that they recognize in the young Minnesota statesman a man certain to be heard from in one way or another on almost any subject and at almost any time.

Perhaps, the best idea of his remarkable versatility can be had from his autobiographical sketch in the most recent Congressional Directory. Leaving aside the ADA and the various Minnesota offices he has filled, the number of associations, agencies and organizations to which Senator Humphrey belongs is truly impressive. In this respect, he easily excels not only every other Senator but all 435 members of the House. Among them are the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the American Bible Society, the American Federation of Radio Artists, the American Municipal Association, American Pharmaceutical Association, First Congregational Church of Minnesota, the American Political Science Association.

Also, the American Public Administration Society, Boy Scouts of America (scoutmaster for five years), Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Foreign Policy Association, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Inland Waterways Corporation, Masons, Loyal Order of Moose, Minneapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce, Committee for the Marshall Plan, National Conference for Prevention and Control of Juvenile Delinquency, National Conference for Permanent FEPC, National Municipal League, National Public Housing Conference, Optimists, Sons of Norway, Oslo Lodge, United Nations Committee, Minnesota Chapter, Young Men's Christian Association, Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Sigma Rho.

It may be that since January 1 Senator Humphrey has acquired a few more affiliations but these are those he himself listed at that time. Certainly, they testify to the extraordinary variety of his activities and his direct participation in numerous fields of human endeavor. Clearly, he has not missed many. If he should speak for all these organizations he would be a remarkable spokesman, indeed. It would be a considerable achievement for any one man to absorb all their ideas and reconcile all their interests. it would keep him busy to stay abreast of their development and the mere raising of his voice in their behalf seems like a full-time job. Yet, raising his voice is one of the easiest things Senator Humphrey does.

Not long ago Senator Humphrey wired young Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., who, unable to get the regular Democratic nomination for Congress to succeed the late Sol Bloom of New York, is running as an independent, backed by the "Liberal party." The election is to be held in about two weeks. "Hurry up," characteristically wired Mr. Humphrey, "we need you!" Well, whatever Senator Humphrey needs young Roosevelt for, it isn't to help him raise his voice. He can do that without any assistance from any quarter—and does.

When someone says, "It's for you," our minds begin to buzz with questions. Who is it? What do they want? Good news? Bad news? Work? Pleasure?

It's for you! Commanding words that summon our immediate attention. And those words apply as well to the Church as they do to a telephone call.

The Church is for you! Its services of worship, its program of religious education, its comforting ministration in time of spiritual crisis . . . all for you!

And the Church has a vital message—good news for a discouraged world. It has a glorious work before it—a happy fellowship for men, women, and children of noble purpose.

The Church deserves your support. It's for you!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) for the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

George Rinehart, Pioneer in The Glades

—Reprinted from The Glades Star.

GEORGE RINEHART was the most noted early settler in the Youghiogheny Glades. He was born in Germany, January 22, 1769, and came to America with his parents in 1773. His father, Thomas Rinehart, settled in Frederick County, but in 1788 moved to the Legg farm in the German Settlement at Carmel (Aurora), (West) Virginia. George came to Carmel with his father and married Susannah (Susan), daughter of A. D. Wiles.

SUSSAN'S CHURCH

Prior to 1798 Geo. Rinehart settled on "The Glades", a tract patented to Gov. Thomas Johnson. On November 22, 1800, Thomas J. Johnson deeded "The Glades," 297 acres, to George Rinehart. It is clear that he had been living in the glades prior to the time he obtained his deed from Johnson; in the assessment of 1798 for Allegany County he appears charged with four horses and ten cattle, and in the census of 1800 he was listed as head of a family of seven.

RINEHART'S FARM was on both sides of the road, now U. S. 219, at Sunnyside. His house was on the east side of the road, the present Ray Beeghly farm. It was a large two-story log structure, built in two sections with a hall and kitchen between them, and an 80-foot porch in front. For many years it served as an inn or tavern as well as a family residence; one large room was used as a dance hall. The Rinehart farm was sold about 1875 by Johnathan Rinehart to Jacob Yutzy, and the old house was torn down about 1890.

SUSSAN'S CHURCH

On September 20, 1827, George Rinehart deeded to Rev. Frederick Hass, "minister of the Gospel of the first Church of Christ in Youghhogany Glades—known by the name of Sufsan for the use of the German Lutheran and Dutch Reformed congregations as consecrated and confirmed by the Rev'd Fred'k Heyer and Henry Gearhart—forever" a half acre lot, surveyed by John Hoye, Esq., August 20, 1820, "beginning at a stone near the southeast corner of the present house of worship."

From this deed it appears that Sussan's Church was built in 1820, or soon after, and that it was the first church in the Youghioghany Glades. It stood on the west side of the road in an oak grove in the garden of the present E. G. Kite home. It was a substantial structure of hewed logs, and served the neighborhood until about 1864, when a frame church was built nearer Red House. It was torn down about 1885. The present fine church, St. John's, of the Red House Lutheran Parish, is a granddaughter of Sussan's Church at Rinehart's.

THE RINEHART SCHOOL was doubtless the first school in this neighborhood. In 1823 Ann Thayer was its teacher, and some of its later "masters" were Nat. G. Campbell, Christian Yutzy, Dalles Miller, Rev. John Phillips, Everet Ross and Elizabeth Taylor.

The school house was a small, poorly furnished log building on the west side of the road. In 1862 school was held in one end of the church nearby.

BY HIS WILL, dated March 4, 1840, and probated March 26, 1840, George Rinehart left the "old Homestead" to his son Johnathan, he to pay certain sums to the other children. Susannah Rinehart was already deceased, December 16, 1834. They were buried in the family graveyard near the church.

Their children were: (1) Johnathan; (2) Eve Elizabeth, who married Edward Root; (3) Margaret, m. George Loar; (4) Sarah, m. John Steyer, Jr.; (5) Susan, m. Taggart; (6) Catherine, m. Thomas Bosley; (7) John; (8) David O., m. Rachel Warnick; (9) Maria, m. William Smouse.

EARLY POLITICS IN THE GLADES

George Rinehart was successful in farming and business. He was also interested in all civic affairs in his community—school, church and politics.

Meshack Browning, writing of elections in the Glades District before the War of 1812, says:

In those times, politics were but little understood; and all the voters in the glade country were Federalists, except one, old Mr. George Rinehart . . . a Frederick County man, and a Democrat, or rather a Republican, as they were called in the days of Thomas Jefferson's Administration. At every election he would deposit his vote, and it was the only Republican vote polled in the entire District. I speak of this merely to show the firmness of one man, in contending against ninety or a hundred, as a circumstance which does not often occur among voters.

Rinehart's party became more popular in the Glades District after the Federalist party ceased to exist.

CELEBRATION IN THE YOUGH GLADES

The following account of a celebration in 1834 was published in the Maryland Advocate under the date of July 15, 1834.

Independence Day, 1834, was loyally celebrated at the home of George Rinehart near Red House. Several hundred people attended, including seventy five women.

At the break of day two guns were fired. At noon a procession formed, led by a small band, and marched to the place of dining, when Meshack Browning, Esq., was unanimously appointed President of the day, and Ralph Thayer, Vice President. The Declaration of Independence was read by Dr. Lewis F. Klipstine followed by an oration by R. F. Furgason.

The company then sat down to a dinner that, for sumptuousness, variety and taste, was scarcely ever equaled; the choicest vegetables of that healthy climate, venison and trout were plentyful and served up in a manner that showed the host regarded his guests.

Thirteen "regular" toasts were drunk, then thirty "volunteer" toasts, proposed by George Lower, Johnathan Rinehart, James L. Layman, Wm. Kight, John Rinehart, Thomas Rinehart, Benj. Reckner, Wm. Dawson, Dr. L. F. Klipstine ("The glades—a land of milk and honey"), Daniel Gower, J. Collier, John Browning, John Waltz, Geo. Rinehart ("Happy our civil and religious liberty—may no banking institution ever prostrate them"), David Rinehart, Thomas Drane, R. Jameson and others. Evidently liquid refreshments were plentiful. Some of the toasts were drunk standing.

THE JACKSON PARTY of the Glades District met at George Rinehart's home on July 26, 1834. Christian Nine was chairman, and Johnathan Rinehart secretary of the meeting. Resolutions were adopted, and George Rinehart and Joshua Kight were chosen as delegates to the county convention to be held in Cumberland, August 26, 1834.

Note: The drawing of Sussan's Church is from Dr. Alvah K. Jones' HISTORY OF ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN PARISH.

A CIVIL WAR STORY

During the early part of the Civil War Wright Thayer resided in the Thayer hotel building in Oakland, later used by the Federal soldiers as barracks. Wright's team and wagon were "pressed" by the troops to haul army supplies. While crossing Cheat River at St. George the swift current carried horses and wagon down stream—a total loss, but Wright, a strong swimmer, and his companion reached the shore. The official papers in this case were lost: Thayer was not reimbursed for his team and wagon.

THE THAYER BEAR DOG

Ralph Thayer, when a young man, bought in Romney, Va., a young "bear dog", a very promising pup. When the dog grew up Ralph and a companion took him to Back Bone Mountain to teach him to hunt. They soon found a fresh bear track and released the dog on the trail, but to their surprise, the promising canine, after one sniff of the track, tucked his tail between his legs and ran yelping home, hiding under the house.

This cowardly conduct of their young hopeful dog the Thayers explained by recalling that sometime previously they had heard a great commotion among their sheep, which were kept at night in a pen near the house to protect them from bears and wolves. Upon investigation they found a sheep missing and the dog nowhere in sight. Later, the dog returned badly injured, and the remains of a sheep were found next harvest in an oats field. Evidently the "bear dog" had met one bear and never would contact another.

GOING TO THE MILL, 1820

Ralph Thayer was a lad of fifteen when he was sent to the grist mill on Bear Creek with two pack horses loaded with wheat. The miller ground the grist at night and the next morning the boy started home.

The road then followed Hoop Pole Ridge, thence over Shafer's Hill, crossing the Little Yough where Armstrong's tavern stood below the present town of Oakland. Night overtook the boy as he crossed the stream and ascended Totten Hill. He heard the cry of a panther, and the frightened horses needed no urging to make their best speed over the hill, but the panther followed close by in the thick woods. Finally an open space was reached and the hungry cat gave up the chase, but Ralph never forgot that trip to the mill.

Oakland firemen answered three alarms during the past week, none of them of a serious nature.

One call came last Thursday evening as the result of a brush fire near the Carl Frazee farm on the old Deer Park road.

Sparks from a locomotive caught some cross ties on "88" bridge west of town, early Sunday morning, causing the second alarm. The third alarm came as the result of a fire in a sawdust pile near the C. C. Mason lumber mill at Mt. Lake Park.

Better Hearing

"Conservation and improvement of hearing yield tremendous dividends in terms of happiness, better social adjustment, educational progress and improved occupational efficiency," Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, stressed recently in calling attention to the observance of National Hearing Week. "It would be almost impossible to over-estimate the far-reaching benefits to the individual, his family and the community.

This week, from May 8 until May 14, National Hearing Week is being observed throughout the United States under the auspices of the American Hearing Society. The slogan chosen to express the aims of the observance is "Better Hearing for Life." It is hoped that this special emphasis upon the importance of hearing may further the continuing aims of the society—prevention of deafness, conservation of hearing and rehabilitation of the deafened.

In Maryland the State and County Health Departments, the State and County Education Departments, the Baltimore Hearing Society and other agencies are concerned with the problems related to impaired hearing. The national observance of a week devoted to stressing these needs is accompanied by intensified local activities and publicity campaigns.

Within the last year additional hearing clinics have been opened in the counties of Maryland through the cooperation of the State and County Departments of Education and the State and County Departments of Health. Audiometer tests have been given in a large proportion of the State's public schools and children found to have hearing and speech difficulties have been referred to the clinics for further examination. A special feature of these clinics is the use of irradiation of the nasopharynx to clear up chronic infection which contributes to impairment of hearing. When the clinics have advised the removal of tonsils and adenoids as a means of improving hearing some counties have made arrangements for the provision of free operations for children whose parents could not pay. In some instances hearing aids are provided for children whose hearing loss is permanent.

County May Obtain Trout Rearing Pond

The Western Maryland Wildlife Federation is making progress toward having a trout rearing station established in this county, according to Clyde W. Michael, Westernport, secretary.

At the request of the federation, Edward M. Berry, chief of Maryland Game and Inland Fish Management, has invited Eugene W. Surber, chief fish culturist of the Fish and Wildlife Service, Leetown Hatchery, Kearneysville, W. Va., to inspect several proposed rearing station sites in this county.

He has been invited to come in July or August for a review of the problem, and to make a preliminary survey of Deep Creek Lake, Herrington Manor lake and New Germany lake. Michael said that under the present set-up, when the rearing station at Bear Creek has exhausted its supply of legal fish for restocking it becomes necessary to transport trout from the hatchery in Washington county.

The Wildlife federation felt that a rearing station in Middle Ford of Savage river would be the logical site.

Vintage of 1900

Additional suggested walks, drives and excursions for visitors of Oakland in 1900, gathered from the illustrated guide to Oakland, preserved by Wilbur L. Davis, are given this week.

How many of these are familiar to the readers?

Walks

No. 3—Bishop's Hill—Return to fallen tree mentioned in Iron Spring descriptive walk, pass under it, and climb fence a hundred feet beyond. Walk straight up the hill to its brow, whence a magnificent view can be obtained. The road which stretches to the left disappears in the woods, is called the Hoop-pole Road, after the ridge on which the observer is standing. On the opposite horizon is the big Backbone Mountain. In the foreground are cottages of residents and summer visitors. To the extreme right the edge of Oakland can be seen. Descend the hill and return to town by Hoop-pole road. Two and one-half miles.

Drives

No. 3—Deer Park—Leave town by Second street, Enter hotel grounds at gate. Fashionable hotel and many handsome cottages. Leaving hotel grounds at far side, turn to left, take road in rear of hotel grounds, return to Oakland by Deer Park road, Mt. Lake Park and Oak street. Ten miles.

Excursions

No. 3—Aurora—Leave town by Third street and West Union road. At stone marking boundary between Maryland and West Virginia, take road to Eglon, a hamlet and also resort for summer visitors. Beyond Eglon take road to right, joining Aurora road west of Brookside. There are two good hotels at Aurora where dinner may be had. Return by way of Brookside, also a summer resort, and join West Union road at boundary stone. The drive required three hours each way, and the horses should have at least three hours rest at Aurora. Twenty-eight miles.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

The consensus among observers in both parties here is that the President's prestige took a tremendous nosedive as a result of labor legislation developments in the House of Representatives.

The result was a fight by the Administration to send the whole problem back to committee for further discussions. This, in Washington parlence, means that the Administration hopes to be able either to hoodwink or browbeat a few key Democrats into voting for whatever legislation the leaders will endorse. If only eight members of the House of Representatives have their minds changed by pressure from the White House, the Administration can get a face-saving bill from Congress, unless, of course, some of those who voted for the President last week in the meantime decide that it is wiser to vote against him next time.

Pleasing 140,000,000 Americans in a labor bill is a tremendous problem. It never has been a political problem, although many politicians have tried to make it so, in an effort to reap political benefits. Writing labor legislation is, in effect, writing legislation about human beings of every race, creed, color, and walk of life. Labor legislation affects all the people who work. Making rules under which all groups are treated fairly all the time is a ticklish job, and when it is mixed with politics, it becomes an impossible job.

Many Democrats and many Republicans have worked to solve labor problems in line with the best interests of all classes, not just to please this group or that special group. If we are to have labor law that will work best for all groups, we must approach its writing in this spirit.

It is apparent to me that no labor law can go year after year without being changed and amended. It does not have to be repealed to be improved and to give equity to those who, inadvertently, may have been treated inequitably by certain provisions. I said only a month after passage of the Taft-Hartley Act that I would be in favor of amending it when the need was shown. I am now in favor of amending it in certain important respects, as most members of Congress are also.

This, to me, is the best way for us to go about handling the delicate problems of human relations created by free labor and free management in a free society. Any other way can bring injustice or tyranny to this or that group—the very thing every Congressman should work to prevent.

Judging by the amount of comment in the Washington papers about various candidates for the office of city commissioner, now filled by J. Russell Young and just reappointed to a fourth term by the President, a visitor would think that this was one of the highest government posts in existence. It is an important position to the people of the District of Columbia, but whether one particular Democrat or another gets the spot is of little national moment.

There is something ridiculous about the manner in which the various Democratic factions in voteless Washington worked to promote this or that candidate, or to keep Mr. Young in as commissioner. If the incumbent had made outstanding accomplishments, or outstanding blunders, in his present post, there might be some reason to get excited about whether he should or should not have been changed.

But, alas, for Mr. Young, he has neither become a hero nor a heel to any particularly powerful group. He has simply done a good job in a political post. I am pleased that the President has seen fit to reappoint him.

I was advised by the State Roads Commission that survey parties will start work on the Rockville by-pass on Monday, May 9.

We contacted the Civil Aeronautics Administration relative to the inclusion of Hagerstown as a Class IV Airport.

I appeared before the Board of Veterans Appeals at a meeting for a veteran in my District. I also attended the Maryland Delegation meeting to discuss the Housing bill.

This week, I introduced a bill to provide for flight experience for certain students in the senior high schools of the District of Columbia. This is an amendment to Public Law 348 of the 77th Congress. I also attended hearings of the Public Works Committee.

Judgment Day

Lesson for May 15, 1949

FORTY DIFFERENT Christian denominations sponsor this column, although it goes without saying that not all of the millions of Christians in those denominations would agree point for point with everything that is said here. Now if the reader could interview one leading Bible expert from each of these 40 denominations, and ask each one the same question: "In your personal opinion, exactly what is the meaning of Mark 13?" you might not get 40 different answers, but you certainly would get more than one.

Dr. Foreman

There is no chapter in the Bible that has been the subject of more arguments than this one, and no arguments have ever been more useless than these.

Leaving extreme views aside, let us try to discover some meanings which all 40 denominations would find in this chapter, some truths on which all reasonable Christians can agree.

A Certain Fact

IN JESUS' view one thing is certain: God's judgment on this world and on all persons in it. Christian churches have different ideas about what happens after death. We have different ideas about how the judgment is to be carried out, or where it will be held, or when. But that every man will have to give account of himself before God is something Christians believe.

Your true unbeliever is not the person who goes around saying there is no God. A more subtle and dangerous form of unbelief is in the person who takes the Christian creed upon his lips but lives as if the creed were a lie.

He repeats the Apostles' Creed: "From thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead." If these words are sincerely spoken, the believer will honestly try to please God above all others. But the unbeliever, whatever his words may say, shows that he does not believe by the fact that he tries to please, first of all, either himself or his family or his neighbors, and not God above all.

An Uncertain Time

IT IS ONLY children who think that if something doesn't happen Now, it will never happen. Now and never are not the only times on God's clock. When will the judgment be? The disciples wanted to know, but Jesus did not tell them. He did not claim to know, himself, when it would be (Mark 13:32.) What he did say was, Watch! There is a sense in which God's judgments are going on all the time. The end of your world will come in your own lifetime, whoever you are; for there is not much difference whether the world folds up and leaves you or whether you fold up and leave the world.

Death is the end of the world for every one who dies. Further, whenever a person suffers by and because of his own wrong-doing, here in this life and on this earth, God is judging him by the eternal moral laws which are the very warp and filling of the fabric of life.

There is also a sense in which God judges societies and nations. We have recently seen how terrible a judgment Germany drew down on its head. The nation that takes the sword shall perish by the sword. The nation that sets out to enslave others by force will come under the same death-sentence that cut down Assyria and Rome and Japan and Germany. But not all God's judgments are on this earth. "God does not settle all his accounts in October." There is a final accounting, and no man, in this life or any other, can escape that solemn meeting with God.

The Only Judge

TWO THINGS are sure. One is that the only true judge of any man is God. The man himself is partial, his friends are partial, his enemies are prejudiced against him. Further, no one knows all the facts but God. Only God knows what a man's motives are; only God can trace to their final end oll the consequenses that flow from a man's act.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my mother, Della M. Miller, who passed away two years ago, May 15

I watched her suffer day by day,
It caused me bitter grief
To see her slowly fading away
When I could not give relief.
Her weary hours and days of pain,
Her long, troubled nights are past
And with "Farewell" unspoken
She found rest in Heaven at last.

Mrs. John Wilson
Frostburg, Md.

—Adv. 1t.

IN MEMORIAM

May brings sad memories of our Mother gone to rest;
You will never be forgotten by ones who loved you best.
The call was sudden, the shock severe,
We little thought such grief so near.
Only the ones who loved can tell,
The pain of parting without farewell,
And while you sleep a peaceful sleep,
Your memory we shall always keep.

In memory of my dear mother, Della Mae Miller, who passed away two years ago, May 15th.

Joe Kahl and Bob Glaze hit safely six times each getting a double and five singles, while Ted James rapped four singles. Glaze was touched for 13 hits.

Crellin made it three straight wins by defeating Shallmar on the latter's field by the score of 11 to 9. Sanders banged a triple, double and single and Iser had three singles for the winners.

Klondyke Colts took over the league leadership of the eight-team circuit by winning a doubleheader from Terra Alta 17-4 and 3-1. Elk Garden handed Kitzmiller its third straight defeat at Elk Garden 15 to 11.

In last Thursday's games Oakland defeated Shallmar 3 to 0 at Oakland with Jack Corbin holding the visiting nine to four hits. Oakland bunched three of their five hits and when the visitors made three errors, the locals made all their runs in the 6th inning. Dick Wolfe batted in the deciding run.

Many Farmers Under Insured, Survey Shows

Many Maryland farmers are underinsured against fire loss. This fact has been discovered by a survey conducted in 19 Maryland counties by John C. Bouma of the department of Agricultural Economics and Marketing at the University of Maryland.

He reports that insurance on the average farm would pay about 45 cents of each $1.00 replacement cost. Many items such as farm machinery, feed, stored crops, and livestock were not covered on some farms. Only 27 percent of the farm owners interviewed carried insurance on feed, 39 percent protected stored crops, while about one-half carried insurance on livestock.

Part of the situation, he says, has come about because of the great increase in replacement costs. Many farmers have failed to increase the amount of their insurance, or have failed to increase it in proportion to the advance in costs. The study shows that less than 20 percent of the farmers interviewed had their property covered to as much as 65 percent of replacement cost.

His recommendation? "Have the property reappraised and then take out insurance to give adequate protection at today's replacement costs."

Private First Class Randall R. Glotfelty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beeson D. Glotfelty, Second Street, Oakland, has recently been transferred to Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque, New Mexico, from Ft. Warren, Wyoming. He enlisted in the Air Force in October, 1948. Pfc. Glotfelty graduated from Oakland High school in 1947. He has been assigned to the Orderly Room as a Clerk-typist here at Kirtland.

Becoming a Reality . . . . .

Oakland's Memorial hospital is rapidly becoming a reality, but the interest of each one is still vitally needed if it is to become a real part of the community.

A drive for $75,000 additional funds to fully equip the hospital has been started at a time when interest in the project seems to be at the lowest point. Over a year ago there were skeptics. They said the hospital never would be built. They intimated funds would be sidetracked. But while there was all the skepticism there was also enthusiasm and the money rolled in. Enough was raised to contract for construction of the building and this was done. Now that the building is well under way that enthusiasm has been lost. We hope it was just a temporary matter.

The County Commissioners are seeing that funds for the administration of the hospital are being provided.

Now it is up to the balance of us to see that it is fully equipped. Hundreds have not yet given to the hospital who will no doubt do so. And there will be those who already have contributed who will add to their total. Let's finish the job that was begun when George W. Loar provided such a start in his will.

Hamill Field Selected as Site of Centennial Pageant

The Hamill field, on the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park road, was selected last week as the site for the Centennial pageant, which would be presented on three evenings during Centennial Week, August 8 to 14, it was announced by Mrs. Lewis R. Jones, chairman of the pageant committee.

The pageant committee has arranged to carry its own expenses, receiving all receipts from the pageant and paying all expenses. A string ensemble is to be obtained at a cost of $425, to furnish music for the pageant. Rev. Felix Robinson will direct the pageant. His ballad recently was accepted as the official ballad for Oakland's celebration.

Lighting needs for the carnival and pageant areas were discussed last Friday evening at the meeting of the Centennial central committee with Frank Kley, of the West Maryland Power company. He is making arrangements for flood lights, etc.

Hickman Resigns

E. P. Hickman resigned as chairman of the committee on commercial displays. The committee will send an invitation to the Fort Hill High School band to give a concert on Homecoming day.

Centennial Folders Are Still Plentiful

Plenty of folders giving the daily schedule of Oakland's 100th anniversary celebration, August 8 to 14, are still available for persons who want to use them to mail to their friends or business associates in all outgoing mail.

The folders were prepared in the hope that they would be included in such mail so that those receiving them would be well informed about the approaching celebration and possibly would arrange their vacations accordingly.

The folders are free and are available at the Chamber of Commerce, the City Hall, the two newspaper offices, the William-James hotel, and in several of the stores.

120 Present To Honor Dr. Bennett

One hundred twenty persons attended the testimonial dinner last Thursday evening honoring Dr. G. E. Bennett, Baltimore bone specialist, who had been giving his assistance at orthopedic clinics in this county for the past twenty-three years.

The dinner was held at the William-James hotel. Mrs. William Bauernschmidt, Baltimore, principal speaker, told of the work which Dr. Bennett had done in child welfare thruout the years. Dr. Bennett was presented with a framed testimonial, hand done, telling of his work, and a dozen goblets, while Mrs. Bennett, who accompanied him to Oakland, was presented with a gift of hand-loomed towels from the Janny Lee Craft House. Mrs. Bauernschmidt was presented with a similar gift.

There were responses by Dr. Bennett and also Dr. George O. Eaton, who has assisted Dr. Bennett in the orthopedic work. Both specialists had worked that day at the regular semi-annual orthopedic clinic at the county health office where over 100 had been there for diagnosis and treatment.

Among those attending the dinner last Thursday also were Mr. and Mrs. Obie Annan, Miss Henrietta Schwarzenbach and Dr. and Mrs. Winter B. Frantz, of Cumberland, and most of the community chairmen in the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Cleaning Fluid Causes Explosion

Cleaning fluid, being used in cleaning a rug at the home of Mrs. W. C. Ready, in Mt. Lake Park, caused an explosion there on Monday morning, which broke several windows and caused some damage.

The Oakland firemen were called but no blaze resulted. Mrs. Ready was upstairs at the time of the explosion. What caused the fluid to explode was not known.

Oakland firemen also were called to Mt. Lake Park last Thursday evening as the result of a flue fire at the restaurant near the Park auditorium. There was no damage.

WASHINGTON SPRING TODAY

An historic spot of Oakland, the Washington Spring, is one that should present a neat and well-kept appearance for Centennial visitors this year.

How it has been forgotten is shown by the picture taken this week. Located just off the Crellin road, west of town and just east of Rosedale, there are three well-beaten paths to the spot, but no attempts to clean up the area around it.

The water is used daily by several families of that locality, one housewife, Mrs. Floyd Mayles appearing for two buckets of water with her niece, Jessie Welch, at the time the picture was being taken. The spring shows clear but its water is not recommended due to the nearness of a number of homes.

Here is an opportunity for a project by some local organization.

Memorial Day Will Be Just Another Day For County Students

Memorial Day, on Monday, May 30, will come to Oakland as usual, but it will not be the same for the students.

Members of organizations will be excused to participate in the annual parade, and the entire student body will be excused to hear the Memorial address of Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., to be delivered at the Oakland cemetery, but they will then be compelled to spend the balance of the regular school day in their classrooms.

In former years the schools here were closed for the day following the morning parade and program, in recognition of the day, which is to honor the war dead, particularly of the war between the states.

This week there were rumblings when it was learned that classes would not end until the regular time.

According to regulations of the State Board of Education, Memorial Day is not observed as a legal holiday. The regulations state that the schools on that day "shall devote a portion of the day to exercises bearing on the war between the states and Maryland's part in the conflict," but does not go beyond that. Heretofore it was the custom in this county to allow schools to close for a half day on certain holidays, providing an appropriate program was rendered. According to R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools, this practice is not followed in other counties of the state.

However, he said the present situation was as a result of a ruling of the Board of Education, made last year upon recommendation of F. E. Rathbun, former superintendent, that there be no half-day holidays. This, he also said, was in line with a recommendation of school bus operators, who were met with a problem of some schools observing a half holiday while others remained in session the entire day.

So the following procedure was outlined for schools this year. They will remain in session the entire day, but organizations and the student body may participate in Memorial exercises and will be excused for such. School buses will not come until the regular time to take the students to their homes.

Inspection Made of Mill Run Mine

Better ventilation and safer blasting practices are proposed in an original inspection report on the Michael Nos. 1, 2, and 3 mines of the Mill Run Georges Creek Coal Company and Lee Coal Company, located at Mill Run, this county, issued by the Bureau of Mines. The report also endorses suitable haulage practices. The mines employed 10 men and produced 35 tons of coal a day when they were examined by Inspector W. C. Eiduke in April.

Instead of blasting with black blasting powder on shift, the inspector recommended using permissible explosives or permissible blasting devices in conformance with the Federal Mine Safety Code. He also advised providing adequate fire-fighting equipment underground, using permissible electric cap lamps instead of open lights, and discontinuing smoking in the mine.

The inspector proposed coursing more air to some working places in the Nos. 1 and 2 mines, offsetting the ventilating fan at least 15 feet and equipping it with safeguards, erecting fire doors at effective points in the mine openings, erecting another door to form an air lock in the chute between the Nos. 1 and 2 openings, posting warning signs at abandoned workings, providing at least two permissible flame safety lamps, and making preshift and weekly examinations for gas and other hazards.

Track Meet Is Set For Friday, May 20

Junior and senior high school students will go to Accident on Friday morning to participate in a track and field meet there under supervision of school instructors.

In case of inclement weather the meet will be held on May 27, it was announced by R. Bowen Hardesty, superintendent of schools.

Also planned are four or five smaller meetings for track meets and games among elementary students.

School Employes Must Refute Any Subversive Tendency

All school teachers, supervisors, bus operators, laborers and in fact all who are employed in any way with the Board of Education, will be required to sign a certification that they are not engaged in subversive activities as defined in what is known as the "Ober bill," it was learned this week through the office of the Board.

R. Bowen Hardesty, county superintendent of schools, was notified this week by Dr. Thomas E. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent, that such a certification would be required.

The blanks are being mailed out this week to all who come under the regulation. Among the requirements each person certifies that he is not a subversive person as defined by the act, not a person who "commits, attempts to commit, or aids in the commission, or advocates, abets, advises or teaches by any means any person to commit, attempt to commit, or aid in the commission of any act intended to overthrow, destroy or alter, or to assist in the overthrow, destruction or alteration of, the constitutional form of the Government of the United States, or of the state of Maryland, or any political sub-division of either of them, by revolution, force or violence."

They further certify that they are not a member of subversive organization, not a member of a foreign organization that attempts to overthrow or destroy the constitutional form of government.

Employes in the health office and other state employes will be included under the regulations for signing affidavits, and it was considered likely that city and county employes would be asked to sign them too.

Runaway Boys Held

Two boys who admitted running away from their homes at Grundy, Va., were being held in the county jail this week, awaiting arrangements by their parents to get them back.

Sheriff J. S. Teats said that Kinsey Justice, 17, and Don Sadler, Jr., 16, had come to the jail Tuesday night for something to eat and for lodging. Upon questioning the boys they admitted having left their homes the previous Thursday night.

He contacted the sheriff of the Virginia county and arrangements are being made to call for them, it was stated.

Robert Hauser, Red House, home on furlough from the army, was fined on two charges brought this week by Oakland policeman, William Sheets. He paid fines of $15 and costs for speeding through Oakland, and $5 and costs for reckless driving. The violations occurred last Thursday night and he was given a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch on the 14th.

Armory Construction To Begin Very Soon

Construction on the National Guard armory, corner of 8th and High streets, was scheduled to get under way in the near future as a representative of the Glove Improvement company, of Baltimore, was here this week making preliminary plans.

John G. Owens, engineer, was representing the company, and he told Employment office officials that they would sub-let various jobs to local contractors.

Scouters Confer

Scouters interested in cubbing and the regular scout troops of the area were present at a scouters meeting in the Episcopal Parish house on Monday evening. This was the first of a series of planning and instruction meetings for this district.

Earl S. Black, field executive, of Petersburg, W. Va., led the discussion. Also attending was Julian Patrick, of Piedmont, W. Va., president of Potomac Council, B.S.A.

Pictures Tell the Hospital Story

The above picture of the Oakland Memorial hospital is the second one of a series designed to show the progress being made. The first one was taken during the winter months when workmen were engaged in placing the foundation.

The above shows more clearly what is being done than several paragraphs of explanation could do. This is proof positive of where the money is going which several hundred contributed, after the late George W. Loar had started the ball rolling with bequests of $175,000.

Boosters Plan Dinner

Plans for the annual Booster club dinner honoring the athletic teams of Oakland High school, are going forward, according to Robert W. Lohr, president.

The meeting is scheduled for next Thursday evening at the William-James hotel, at which time Dudley S. DeGroot, head coach of West Virginia university football team, will be the speaker.

Dr. DeGroot has been a popular speaker about the Mountain state since assuming the football helm last July 1. He led the Mountaineers to eight victories against three losses and a Sun Bowl championship at El Paso, Texas.

Before joining the University's staff as coach and associate professor of physical education, DeGroot had been a professional football coach for four years. He is an honor graduate of Stanford.

Additional $75,000 Needed To Equip Oakland Hospital

A campaign to obtain an additional $75,000 to completely equip the Memorial hospital at Oakland, now under construction, was launched this week at the suggestion of the County Commissioners and executors of the George Loar estate.

There is to be no particular time limit on the campaign, and it was hoped that the needed amount would be forthcoming voluntarily, without any intensive personal solicitation.

The construction of the 34-bed hospital, under contract for $426,000 has been underway since late last fall and its progress is noted in a photograph in today's issue.

The financial status was outlined as follow.: $175,000 contributed through a bequest from the late George W. Loar, with E. R. Jones and J. M. Jarboe as executors of the estate; an additional $101,727.54, contributed or pledged by individuals and places of business; approximately $135,000 due from the federal government through the Hill-Burton act, on a matching basis.

Mr. Jones said yesterday that it was still necessary to obtain money for furnishing the hospital after the structure was completed, and that $75,000 was estimated as needed. It is the plan of the commissioners and executors to use the same committee for the new drive as was used in the solicitation of the $101,727.54.

George Hanst, chairman, reported this week that all pledges except $2,850 had been paid. A recent contribution not previously announced is that of Mrs. George Altstetter, of Williamsburg, Pa., for $25, raising the total to $101,752.54.

To Try Out For All-State Chorus

The auditions will be held at Fort Hill High school, Cumberland, on Saturday. Judges for the area are Anneta Yates, Mrs. Ruth C. Brown, Jack Platt and Miss Dorothy Willison.

Legion Officials Plan District Meet

American Legion officials discussed plans for a district convention, to be held in August, with Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, as the host organization, at a meeting in Lonaconing last Sunday.

A department committeeman and district vice-commander are to be elected at that time.

The Mountain District legion post representatives, at that meeting, also reaffirmed their stand on the Ober Bill and said they are unalterably opposed to a plan to put the question to a referendum.

The measure calls for the signing of a loyalty pledge by all public and civil employes.

Local Women Comment on Book

Three copies of "The Big Fisherman," by Lloyd C. Douglas, are in the Garrett County Free Library.

Begun in 1943 and completed in the summer of 1948, it is the eleventh of the Lloyd C. Douglas novels.

"The Big Fisherman" is the story of Simon Peter, that most lovable and human of the Apostles of Jesus. You meet him first at the Sea of Galilee, a powerful, two-fisted, profane and irreverent fishing boss, who lays down his nets to follow Jesus to Calvary.

But the world of Peter on the shores of Galilee, was the crossroads of the world, warring then as it is now. It was a polyglot world of quarreling, scheming people living unmolested by Rome, only because she was busy in the West. Mr. Douglas has taken his characters from all these people. There is Fara, half Arabian and half Jewish, who rides into Palestine on an errand of vengeance, and Voldi, a young Arabian noble, who takes up the errand when Fara is purged of her hate. In "The Big Fisherman," the characters of the greatest story in Western culture live in three dimensions—Joseph of Arimathes, Pontius Pilate, Caiaphas, Herod, Antipas, John the Baptist and the other Apostles.

"The Big Fisherman" is a big book. It accounts for the five thousand-year-old feud between the Arabians and the Jews. It is a daring book, for in it Jesus is Himself a central character. No other writer could have so illuminated the Passion Story. Only the man who wrote "The Robe" could have written "The Big Fisherman." —From the paper cover jacket of "The Big Fisherman."

Local Comments

Mrs. E. Z. Tower, Gnomeland, Deep Creek Lake: "This book is a wonderful portrayal of the Bible characters that are made to live and move about among ordinary people. And it gives the reader a feeling of living with them. 'The Big Fisherman' is a wonderful book. It is a source of both pleasure and profit to the reader. I recommend it very highly."

Mrs. Charles F. White, 94 Liberty Street: "It has been my opportunity throughout my life to read hundreds of worthwhile books—both ancient and modern. 'The Big Fisherman' in my opinion gives a wonderfully fine description of the people and the times of St. Peter in the early days of the Christian era. It made such an impression upon my mind that I shall never forget Douglas's contribution to our modern literature. He has won a warm place in the hearts of those who today secure great joy and pleasure from reading."

Starter Solutions Give Vegetables An Extra Boost

Vegetable crops specialists have found that, in most years, "starters" solutions have boosted yields and profits where they are applied at transplanting time to tomatoes, cabbage, head lettuce, and other plants. These solutions are high analysis soluble fertilizers mixed with water.

According to Edward K. Bender, of the University of Maryland Extension Service this practice costs about two dollars per acre, but the returns to the vegetable grower are many times that amount. Transplanters should be adjusted to deliver from one-fourth to one-half pint of the starter solution per plant.

This applies both to home gardens and commercial planting. It will take approximately 80 gallons of solution to set out an acre of tomato plants spaced three feet by six feet.

Starter solutions may be purchased commercially or they may be prepared by using ordinary complete fertilizers. Some root-burning may result when home solutions are made from fertilizer containing high amounts of nitrate of soda.

Bender suggests that manufacturer's directions be followed for the commercial starter solutions. In most cases three pounds of the fertilizer are used to each fifty gallons of water in transplanting.

A TOUCH on the handle — and a wide front door swings open on a prospect full of invitation.
There's a wheel that seems actually eager for the touch of your hand.
There's a broad 63-inch seat cushion, comfortably angled, soft and inviting, and only a hand's width narrower than a full-size parlor sofa.
There are narrower corner posts hardly wider than the space between your eyes, so plenty easy to see around—and there's a broad, sweeping, full-curved windshield spreading a horizon-wide view before your eyes.
There's a gas treadle that flicks into instant life the great power of a big Fireball power plant. Under the wheel there can be a Dynaflow† selector lever you set once and then forget through all normal forward driving.

Electric Wire Size Important On Farms

Adequate size of electric wire can make the difference between farm appliances working properly or not working satisfactorily. The low voltage which is caused by wires that are too small, can keep electric brooders from heating, make it impossible for motors to start, or even cause motors to run at such slow speeds that they overheat and burn out.

According to A. V. Krewatch, Extension agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland, the loss from voltage drop may, in the course of a year, equal an average month's bill. This amount will often go a long way toward paying the cost of a larger wire installed for bigger appliances and farm equipment in general.

Krewatch points out that a vacuum cleaner operating with a 10% drop in voltage will lose about ten percent of its cleaning ability. Heating devices with the same drop will lose almost twenty percent or one-fifth of the heating they should be putting out.

House members in Washington clapped hands last Thursday for government economy, then shouted their approval of a bill which would add about $1,500,000 a year to government costs, to provide them with extra clerical hire and allowance for telephone and telegram charges on official business.

Trained Minds of Youth

MR. AND MRS. H. A. LORADITCH

Among the "younger" old folk of Oakland who had the responsibility of training many youthful minds of the community are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Loraditch, residents of Liberty street.

He has been a resident of Oakland since October 21, 1901, while his wife alighted here in 1879. A few years later she left with her parents and did not return until 1899. They were married June 24, 1907.

Mr. Loraditch was born at Pocahontas, Pa., September 18, 1871, and is aged 77. He is a son of Steven and Catherine Loraditch. While working in a lumber store in West Virginia for 18 months and while teaching at the Finzel school for three years, he also attended Indiana State Normal School, Indiana, Pa., graduating in 1899, and is leaving Oakland tomorrow for that town to attend the 50th reunion of his class.

He came to Oakland as a teacher in what later became Oakland High school and was among those who helped organize the high school in 1901. Teaching at various times practically every subject taught at that time, he later confined his teaching to mathematics and manual training, resigning in 1923 after having taught 22 years. A year later he was made a member of the Board of Education, serving 11 years, 9 years of that time as president.

Moving out of the educational field he was made a justice of the peace in 1939, then substitute trial magistrate, and in 1941 received the appointment of trial magistrate, a position which he still fills.

He helped to organize the Knights of Columbus lodge in Oakland in 1909 which is no longer active, and is at present a member of the Moose lodge.

Mrs. Loraditch was born in Keyser December 10, 1878. She moved here with her parents in 1879, remained until 1887 when they went to Baltimore where her father was clerk in a sub treasury. They returned to Keyser in 1890, then to Kitzmiller, and in 1899 returned to Oakland.

She taught school in the elementary grades for 7 years. She has been an active member of the Oakland Civic club through the years, a singer in the Lutheran choir, and during World War I worked in various sewing and other groups for the benefit of the soldiers.

P.-T.A. To Meet Tonight

The final meeting of the school year for the Oakland Elementary Parent-Teacher association will be held this evening, May 19, at 8 o'clock at the school, it was announced by W. W. Nace, president.

During the business session there will be election of officers for the term.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

It is becoming more and more apparent that the Congress should probe deeply into the executive branch's handling of atom secrets, education of students for confidential government research work, and the federal "loyalty" program.

Such an investigation is not expected for the immediate future, but as Congressmen of both parties read about developments that cast doubt on the effectiveness of the loyalty program and learn of how Communists students are being trained in atomic work, the investigation inevitably will take place.

Just last week, it was brought out that certain youthful physicists at several universities, taking special work at federal expense, were known Communists, or were on extremely friendly personal terms with known Communists. It is bad for men, however young or old, to be infected with the virus of Communism and it is extremely dangerous for any young man, even a farmer, to flirt mentally with Communism.

But when young men who are accepting government aid to pursue training in atomic energy work are found to be Communists, it is downright pernicious for the government to continue paying for their training, or, in fact, allowing them to be trained. One college professor said that the nation had nothing to fear, since these young men did not work on any secret data yet. This is a ridiculous argument, for once these young men are trained in atomic work, whether they ever do anything or not on an atom project for our government, what is to prevent them from going to Russia and working for the Soviet Union on atom production?

Many Congressmen of both parties are convinced that the present directors of the Atomic Energy Commission have been negligent in more than one or two instances in revealing highly-important information to Russia. Very useful secret information is contained in the actual printed report of the AEC and in articles and pictures cleared for publication by the AEC.

Neither I nor anyone else can say whether or not Judith Coplon, who is accused of divulging American secrets to a Russian diplomat, is guilty. She is being given a fair trial in a free country. But I and other Congressmen feel keenly that she is not the only employee of the executive branch who has maintained liaison with Russian Communists in recent years and still are maintaining close and friendly relations. This is true of both men and women employes of our government. Maintenance of such friendships between the nationals of two nations as antipathetic to each other as the United States and Russia is a dangerous practice, for it promotes infinitely the possibilities of espionage by either accident or planning.

The underlying cause of these numerous "friendships" between Americans and Russians is American recognition of Soviet Russia. If we ever are effectively going to keep secrets from Russia, we must withdraw official diplomatic recognition, for no Russian ever is allowed to come to this country unless he is dyed-in-the wool Communists and is trained in the technique of espionage in every phase of his life.

It is grimly humorous to many Congressmen that Secretary of State Dean Acheson says that we cannot recognize Spain because its government is self-imposed on the people and is so "difficult" from our form of government. This is indeed a laugh when you consider that we have been recognizing Soviet Russia, which is ruled by less than two percent of the total population and is about as different from our government as it is possible to conceive. Spain is not an expanding, aggressive nation, but Russia surely is. The Spanish regime is friendly to religion, but the Russian rulers hate religion and fight it vigorously. There are many other differences—most of them favorable to Spain. But we continue to recognize Russia and our Department of State refuses to do business with Spain.

Under The Dome

I was advised by the Civil Aeronautics Administration that a check would be made this week of the Cumberland Airport with the view of erecting obstruction lights. These lights are badly needed and if the CAA decides the work should be done the cost will be borne by the City of Cumberland with Federal assistance under the Federal Aid Airport Act. Since the inauguration of air service by All-American Airways at Cumberland it is most necessary that these obstruction lights be constructed in order to better serve the people of the community.

I have been in touch with Senator Stennis, Chairman of Sub-Committee considering H.R. 1243 because of my interest in an amendment to this bill which would relieve federal employes from being barred from active participation in political campaigns of the two major parties at the county level. Last year Representatives Sasscer of Maryland, Smith of Virginia and myself appeared before the Civil Service Commission relative to this matter which was clearly presented. The Commission took no action and conditions have grown worse.

After graduation comes opportunity!

THE approach of Commencement Day 1949, brings many high school seniors face to face with a big question — what next? There's one big opportunity to which every high school graduate should give serious consideration. This is the career offered you in today's Regular Army.

Few openings in private enterprise offer you the leadership training, the educational advantages, the exciting travel and adventure, the supervised sports and recreation programs and the clean, wholesome, active life that can be yours with an Army enlistment.

Few openings offer you such comradeship with America's finest young men—for today—only the best are acceptable for service in the United States Army.

To win a place in today's Regular Army you must pass physical examinations that are tougher — mental examinations more difficult—than ever before.

And with these more rigid requirements you will face keener all-'round competition for assignment to the more than 200 courses offered at Army technical and specialty schools.

The rewards are also greater —opportunity for advancement is limited only by your ability and initiative. Many of today's general officers began their careers as Privates. Some of today's Privates may be our future Generals!

Appointments to Officer's Candidate Schools and to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point are available to those who can make the grade. In what other field can you aspire so high?

You owe it to yourself to get all the facts. See the friendly recruiting officer at your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today. He will be happy to give you full details without any obligation to you.

Observe 45th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. WALTER HARDESTY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hardesty, residents on Pennington street, Oakland, for the past thirty-nine years, observed their 45th wedding anniversary last Sunday afternoon and evening with an open house. More than 75 persons called during that time to wish them well.

Rain and hail on their wedding day, May 15, 1904, did not alter their determination to get to Oakland from their homes north of town, which they did in a "runabout" of that day. They were married in the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Hezekiah Scott.

He was a son of Henry and Lydia Ann Hardesty and was born January 9, 1879, on a farm between Aurora and Terra Alta. At the death of his father, he was compelled to go to work at the age of 13 for $13 a month at the Riggs factory at Terra Alta, to support himself and mother. He worked as a sawyer for a time on a mill on the Steve Casteel place north of town, and boarded nearby. A little ways out the road, around the Dodge School House area, was Anna C. Sowers, daughter of John and Margaret Hilberg Sowers, whom he married. She was born April 5, 1885.

Coming to Oakland in 1905, they resided for a time on Liberty street, but moved to Pennington street in 1910.

Both persons have been active in the Methodist church here. Mr. Hardesty has been a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge since 1916, and secretary of the lodge for 23 years. His wife has been a Pythian Sister for 25 years and is one of the charter members and a past chief.

Mr. Hardesty has been an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for forty-three years, 39 of those consecutively. A few years of that time he worked at M. and K. junction, but the balance of the time at the Oakland station.

They have two sons, Olin Walter, of Oakland; and Harland Harold, of Pittsburgh; and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Adrian Smith, of Pittsburgh, Pa., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fulcher P. Smith, for several days.

Members of the 9th grade of Oakland Junior high were on a picnic at Herrington Manor yesterday afternoon.

Miss Marie Hardesty and Miss Virginia Hauser, students of the Maryland Medical Secretarial school, Hagerstown, Jack Crunkleton and Leon Spessard, students of the Hagerstown Business College, were weekend guests at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar T. Hardesty.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

He works a full day—and all through the night

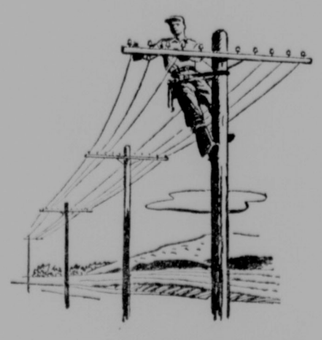
Today, people are using their telephones more than ever . . . for shopping and selling, running errands, keeping in touch with friends and neighbors and a host of other things.

Whatever the need, whatever the time of day or night, the telephone is on the job—ready to take you where you want to go. This "service around the clock" is one of the real values of your home telephone.

All it takes is a little teamwork

Youngsters practice teamwork when they "take turns" at the pump. So do grown-ups when they share a telephone party line.

Sharing a party line means allowing an interval between calls so that others have a chance to use the line . . . giving up the line quickly when someone needs it in an emergency . . . answering the telephone as promptly as you can. Party-line service is good service when everybody on the line remembers "the other fellow." All it takes is a little teamwork.



High man on a telephone pole

This is the telephone lineman—rugged, skillful, well-trained. In good weather and bad, he carries on the vital job of maintaining the lines that carry your telephone calls. He repairs trouble when it occurs and tries to prevent it before it happens.

The lineman is truly an important member of every hometown telephone team.

Federal Bill Would Allot $23,525 for County Education

Garrett county's school system would receive $23,525 of the $1,580,000 that pending congressional legislation would allot to Maryland for its schools. The figures are based on a $4 per pupil minimum using October, 1949, enrollment figures.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent of schools, said he would make no plans for expenditure of the Federal-aid money until the bill becomes a law and the money is appropriated. The money could not be used for buildings but could be used for current school operations including teachers' salaries.

The pending legislation which is before the U. S. Senate, calls for a national appropriation of $300 million for school aid. Under the proposed Maryland allotment Baltimore city would receive $535,000, and Allegany county $77,040.

Walks

No. 4.—Coddington's Riffles.—Follow route of walk No. 2, but do not turn into woods. Descend hill and continue along road for about quarter of a mile until a clearing, in which are a log house and barn in a hollow on the right is reached. Enter the woods to the left and find a narrow footpath running down hill at right-angle to road. Follow this rather steep path down to the big Yough River. The scene is one of unusual beauty. Great rocks rise out of the river and between them the water rushes noisily and rapidly. To the right the stream broadens into a quiet pool and rocky cliffs rise abruptly. To the left tall pines cast their shadows over the still waters. Morning is the better time to visit Coddington's Riffles. Two miles, one way.

Drives

No.4.—Boiling Spring—Leave town by Oak street, pass through Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn, and take the mountain road to the left to Deer Park, but go to Boiling Spring by the right. Return through village to Deer Park, hotel grounds, and by Deer Park road and Second street. Fourteen miles.

Excursions

No. 4.—Cheat River—Leave town in the afternoon and drive to Aurora by old West Union road, crossing the Big Yough River about five miles west of Oakland and passing through hamlet, Carmel. Spend the night at Aurora and in the morning drive down to Cheat River, seven miles each way. Return to Oakland by way of Brookside in the afternoon. Forty-two miles.

Noted Speakers To Be At Short Course

Among them will be Dr. Chih-mai-Chen, counselor at the Chinese Embassy, Congressmen Walter H. Judd, of Minnesota, and Ed Gossett, of Texas, and Grace S. Overton, author, lecturer and authority on family life and marriage counseling

A large number of Garrett county women always attend this course.

Two new fields have been included in the 1949 curriculum, Miss Venia M. Kellar, assistant director of Extension, announced. They are radio and art in the home, the latter including hooked rugs.

Further information is available from Miss Eleanor K. Dearborn, home demonstration agent.

Millions of books have been written since man first learned to record his thoughts in written symbols. Many of these have been valuable; others were hardly worth reading, and few possessed the qualities of literary permanency.

The book most essential to the happiness and welfare of humanity is the Holy Bible. It is educational in itself, touching every phase of human thought and knowledge, and is the only book that bridges the gap between man and his Creator.

Writing may be educational, inspirational, promotional or merely entertaining. Books deal with the arts and techniques of life, the lives of people and the movements of history. Essentially the Bible deals with the spiritual elements of life and man's relations to God.

Wise men keep their hands on the Bible as the source of ultimate truth and an infallible guide to right living. They know that beyond the material is the spiritual, beyond today is tomorrow, and beyond the world is God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hardesty Submits Low Bid of $30,735 For Library Building

Bids ranging from $41,540, to $30,735 were submitted last Saturday to the Board of Library trustees for the construction of the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland.

The low bidder on the project was Edgar T. Hardesty, Oakland, while the high bidder was Moyer Brothers, of Altoona, contractors on the Memorial Hospital, now under construction.

George F. Hazelwood, Cumberland, submitted a bid of $32,000; while the Fairchance Lumber company submitted a bid of $31,000.

There were five alternate bids submitted by the four concerns, wherein certain phases of the original bid would be omitted.

The bids were based on a building of stone and brick, outside measurements of 42 by 50 feet, and on revised plans as specifications as completed by Johannes and Murray, Silver Spring architects. The architects followed the requests made by E. E. Enlow, of Sebastopol, California, former county resident, who is sponsoring the construction in memory of his daughter, the late Ruth Enlow.

The interior includes a reference room, stack and work room, working quarters for the librarian, and two reading rooms, one for adults and one for children. There is also a substantial entrance to the building. Heating accommodations are in the basement.

The library is to be located on the corner of Second and Center streets.

Copy of the bids are to be sent to Mr. Enlow and the Library board will meet on Thursday, June 2, to discuss the project and possibly to award the contract.

Hail and Wind Cause Damage In County

Hail and wind did considerable damage to gardens and property throughout the county and in nearby West Virginia last Sunday afternoon.

It was the most severe electrical storm of the season and was accompained by a heavy downpour of rain. Telephone and electrical service were disrupted in nearby areas, but the county apparently was not damaged much in this respect.

Large hailstones that covered the ground in some areas fell at Bayard, W. Va., and Bloomington, Accident and Cove areas in this county. The hailstones cut down garden vegetables and peppered holes in a number of roofs. Orders for roofing began to come into Oakland Sunday evening and took all available supplies.

Rain has fallen at frequent intervals throughout the entire week and temperatures were lowered to the freezing point.

A looked for frost this morning did not materialize but instead a forty degree reading before midnight was altered by rainfall.

The high of the week was 80 degrees on the 19th, with the low 37 on the 25th. Four days of rainfall brought a total depth of 2.14 inches.

Graduation Speakers Listed For Schools

Brothers Are Held In Cabin Thefts

Two brothers are being held on charges of a series of alleged thefts from cabins in the New Germany recreation area that date back to the fall of 1947.

The brothers were booked as Alva and Delbert Wilt, of Jennings. Troopers Glen Folk and Milton Hart said the two were arrested at their home last Thursday after much of the loot was traced there through recent sales.

M. E. Martin, superintendent of the recreation area, told police, they said, that a set of window sashes found at the Wilt home were taken from a cabin in the fall of 1947. Police estimated damage to the cabins and the loot taken at "a couple of hundred dollars."

Delbert Wilt, Trooper Folk said, has admitted participating in the thefts, but his brother declined to sign a statement.

Police said the thefts have been occurring at infrequent intervals, but in the last week window sashes and doors were removed from several cottages. It was the sale of the recently stolen equipment that led to the brothers' arrest, police said.

Delbert Wilt, at a hearing before Magistrate Norval Speelman in Friendsville on Friday was fined $50 and costs on a charge of petty larceny. After spending five days in jail at Oakland Wilt paid the balance due the state and was released on Wednesday.

Alva Wilt, however, was charged with grand larceny and he waived a preliminary hearing and is being held for action of the September term grand jury.

Magistrate Fines Trio

Trial Magistrate H. A. Loraditch fined two Kempton residents on charges of disorderly conduct at a hearing on Tuesday and issued an unusual verdict in the case of the third.

Mrs. Marjorie White, wife of Raymond White, and Marvin Novalis were fined $25 and costs and $20 and costs respectively on charges of disorderly conduct, but it was a different story for Martin Fuelketti, brother of Mrs. White, who was found guilty of assault and battery.

A former offender, Fuelketti said he planned to visit his sister in the south. After hearing the testimony, Magistrate Loraditch fined him $25 and costs but stipulated that if the man had left the county for the south by Thursday and stayed away for at least six months he would suspend the fine. He also advised Fuelketti if he returned to the county before that time that a sentence of six months in the House of Correction would be pronounced.

The three came up for trial as the result of a quarrel at Kempton last Thursday night. Following the quarrel Novalis was sent to the Elkins hospital with marks on his head that officials said were caused by a cut with a knife and being hit on the head with a bottle.

Two were arrested on Saturday evening and Novalis was arrested after his return from the hospital.

Hobby Brings Him Fame

DR. JOSEPH E. HARNED

Dr. Joseph E. Harned's picture is not a new thing for The Republican, since his hobby as a student of botany brought him fame some years ago, but he is pictured again as one of the older residents of town, and one who has brought distinction to the community.

Although having received an honorary degree of Doctor of Science at West Virginia Wesleyan college, Buckhannon, last year, he will get the same treatment all over again on Monday, May 31, this time from Western Maryland college, Westminster. He is being honored there for his "outstanding contribution in the field of botany, an active churchman, and parent of Western Maryland graduates."

Both his children, Harold H. Harned, Oakland, and Mrs. Hubert Burdette, Mt. Airy, are graduates of the school, as is also a grandson, Kenneth Burdette.

Dr. Harned, a pharmacist in Oakland since 1892, and in Mt. Lake Park two years previous to that, was born in the Promised land area near Hutton, on a farm, December 1, 1870, a son of John and Ann Harned. He received his training in Pharmacy from the Philadelphia college of Pharmacy.

He was married September 12, 1894, and he and Mrs. Harned observed their 54th wedding anniversary last year.

He has attained wide recognition for his book, "Wild Flowers of the Alleghanies," and has lectured to important groups upon numerous occasions. He and H. P. Sturm, of Clarksburg, just returned yesterday from Wilmington, N. C., where he gave an illustrated lecture on wild flowers to members of garden clubs and scouts.

Still vitally interested in unusual plants he brought back with him a Venus flytrap, the pitcher plant and other rare plants, now on display in his pharmacy. The flytrap thrives only in that one certain spot in North Carolina and will be of interest to all flower lovers.

An active churchman and teacher of a women's bible class in the Methodist church here for over 50 years, Dr. Harned exclaims that people make "too much fuss," over his success in the field of science, and takes it all as a matter of course.

He is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Botanical Society of America, the American Nature association, just to mention a few.

Reaford Purbaugh will entertain members of the Owls club at his home this evening.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid of Loch Lynn Heights is having a bake sale in the Harvey, Ream and Humbertson store in that town on Saturday, May 28.

Members of the Mizpah class of the Methodist church met last evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Naylor, with Mrs. Joseph Sollars as assisting hostess.

Mrs. Robert Talbott and Mrs. Hamill Spedden, Fairmont, W. Va., visited the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Treacy, yesterday.

Mrs. Edith Schlossnagle, who had spent the past week at College Park, returned to Oakland on Wednesday, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Glenn Hoffman.

Charles M. White and daughter, Mrs. George F. Thomas, of Cleveland, Ohio, spent the week-end here with the former's mother, Mrs. C. F. White.

The Oakland Girl Scouts have accepted the responsibility of making improvements around the Washington Spring site, to the west of town, so that it will be presentable during the Centennial celebration, according to Miss Cara Weber, one of the leaders.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Loraditch were in Indiana, Pa., last Friday where the former attended the 50th reunion of his class at Indiana State Teachers college. There were 101 in the class, according to Mr. Loraditch, of whom 63 are still living. Forty registered for the reunion.

The Pleasant Valley 4-H club met last Thursday evening at the Community hall. Garments were judged under the supervision of Miss Eleanor Dearborn, home demonstration agent. Following the business meeting there was a game of shuffle board, which had been made by the boys of the club and used that night for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. Follie Hogue and sons, Paul and James, Akron, Ohio, visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sisk and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sisk, at Loch Lynn. Mr. and Mrs. John Hunt, Wooster, O., also visited the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sisk, enroute to their home after spending the winter months in Florida.

Robert Bittle, student at West Virginia University, Morgantown, is at his home for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sincell, Morgantown, also spent the week-end here at the home of his parents.

Vintage of 1900

Additional suggested walks, drives and excursions are printed this week from the illustrated guide to Oakland, published in 1900, and preserved by Wilbur L. Davis. Older residents recall these trips and most of them are clearly defined today.

Walks

No. 5—Bucksbones—Climb the hill from Coddington's Riffles, but, before emerging from among the huge trees, take the grassy road to the right. Follow this, always taking the openings to the left and not to the right. When the brow of the hill is reached, glimpses of big Backbone Mountain, Mountain Lake Park, Loch Lynn and Oakland may be had through the trees. The grassy road leads to a county road. When latter is reached turn to left, and follow it to town. Two miles, one way.

Drives

No. 5—Truesdell's Heights—Leave town by Second street and Deer Park road. Follow road to rear of Deer Park hotel and Gen. Williams' grounds. Turn to right after passing latter and go to gate on the Altamont side. Drive slowly through the estate. These are private grounds and must be respected as such. Depart by gate nearest Deer Park. Return through village of Deer Park by road in rear of hotel grounds, Deer Park road and Second street. Fifteen miles.

Excursions

No. 5—Crellin—Leave town by Liberty street and cross railroad track at baseball grounds. Follow the direct road to Crellin to right of Stephen Browning farm. Crellin is a lumber plant belonging to the Preston Lumber company and permission to visit the mills, logging camp, etc., should be asked at office of company in Oakland. Lunch should be carried, but it can be obtained in a private house at Crellin. Fourteen miles.

Mrs. Deffinbaugh Will Head Women's Club

Mrs. Thornton Deffinbaugh was elected president of the Oakland Business and Professional Women's club, at a regular meeting last Thursday evening. She will succeed Mrs. Arthur Humbertson following installation ceremonies on June 2nd.

Mrs. Beeson Snyder was named vice-president, succeeding Miss Ruth Field. Miss Helen Chisholm was named secretary and Mrs. Joseph Frantz, treasurer.

At last Thursday's meeting at the William-James hotel a report of the state convention in Baltimore early in May was given by the delegates, Mrs. Arthur Humbertson and Miss Susy Smith. They told of their meeting with Miss Sally Butler, International president of B. and P. W., and Dr. Raphael Lemkin, professor of international law at Yale university, and member of the United Nations assembly.

The club appropriated $5 for purchase of zippers, pins, needles, snaps and other items needed by people of Finland, to mail to Miss Butler, now in Helsinki attending a meeting of the International Federation.

The club also will send letters to Secretary of State Dean Acheson requesting his submission of the Genocide convention to the U. S. Senate for ratification during its present session. It was explained that the Genocide Convention, approved by unanimous vote at the meeting in Paris last December of the General Assembly of the United Nations, is a treaty outlawing the mass murder of national, racial or religious groups. Dr. Lemkin pointed out that its ratification by the United States and the other 19 nations of the U.N. would be an epoch-making step in progress toward world peace.

The club president announced that the next meeting was being held on June 2, because the regular meeting date fell on the date of the high school commencement.

Three Condemnation Suits Are Filed Here

Three condemnation proceedings were filed in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Richard L. Davis, on Saturday, by the State Roads commission, regarding three pieces of property along route 219, between Gortner and Red House.

The proceedings were filed to obtain the necessary ground to complete widening of the highway between those points.

The suits were filed against Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Gnegy, Mr. and Mrs. Howard O. Stahl and Mr. and Mrs. Benj. F. Knepp. The Roads commission has made appraisals of the property involved and have placed on deposit in the clerk's office the amount of the value of the three properties which allows them to carry out the project, pending final action by a jury trial in the cases.

The suits involve .17 of an acre of Mr. and Mrs. Gnegy, appraised by the commission at $469.00; 1.68 acres of Mr. and Mrs. Stahl valued at $429; and .13 of an acre of Mr. and Mrs. Knepp, valued at $70.

The clerk said the cases probably would be tried at the September term of court.

THE SILENT FIELD

Since the noise of battle died away there is hardly a sound to break the silence.

The men who come here to lay their wreaths on the graves never speak. Only the birds seem oblivious to the spell; and their song is a hymn of peace.

But sometimes, when your heart is full, you'd swear you heard voices, the voices of men you fought with . . . and left behind.

There's no use breaking the stillness of this silent field to answer those voices.

The way to answer them is to make this the kind of world they wanted it to be. And to bring this about, we must strengthen Christianity as the chief requirement of a successful democratic way of life. For this reason, we must all support our churches and take an active part in their development and growth.

The world "they" prayed for, lived for, died for, can be won. Sunday is another D-Day.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HOT WEATHER THIRSTS CRAVE COOL, FRUITY ORANGE-CRUSH

Sparkling, Delicious, Refreshing; Nation's Choice for "Fresh Fruit" Flavor

STOP . . . FOR Orange-CRUSH. Yes, stop . . . let the engine cool a bit, and allow all in your motoring party to thoroughly refresh themselves where you see the road-stand sign, "Orange-CRUSH ON SALE HERE." It's the sign of good-fellowship, and especially, good taste . . . delicious, cooling, "fresh fruit" flavor Orange-CRUSH . . . hot weather thirst delight.

Orange-CRUSH . . . ALL OVER THE WORLD. Orange-CRUSH is sold in twenty countries throughout the world. So almost anywhere you travel you'll find this favorite, fruity refresher awaiting your pleasure. As at home, the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle identifies Orange-CRUSH and protects its sparkling, zesty, "fresh fruit" flavor.

"Krinkly" Brown Bottle Protects "Fresh Fruit" Flavor

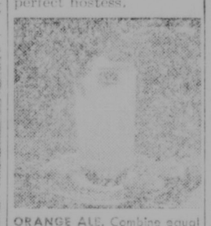
Orange-CRUSH technicians give four excellent reasons why Orange-CRUSH is always sold in special "krinkly" brown bottles:

1. The brown, corrugated glass structure of the Orange-CRUSH bottle resists sunlight. This is most important because sunlight is especially harmful to orange juice, causing it to deteriorate quickly. By preventing these damaging rays from reaching the juice after it has been bottled, the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle carefully guards Orange-CRUSH until you open it and taste all of its delicate, sweet, natural fruit flavor.
2. The distinctive "krinkly" brown bottle identifies Orange-CRUSH so the public can easily and quickly recognize it.
3. Wherever you find Orange-CRUSH, all over the world, it is always bottled the same way—in the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle. No variations to confuse you.
4. The Orange-CRUSH "krinkly" brown bottle feels comfortable in the hand—a sure grip when pouring.

Keeping these facts in mind, look always for the distinctively-shaped, "krinkly" brown bottle that invariably identifies the genuine Orange-CRUSH . . . that protects its delicate "fresh fruit" flavor and natural color . . . that fits the hand so well. See picture below.

Orange-CRUSH HOT WEATHER SPECIALS

The alert hostess knows that the ever-welcome treat to beat the heat is a long, cool delicious drink. But the difference between usual servings and those that seem to require a spark of genius is often so quick and easy—just a tiny bit of know-how. Here are three unusual hot-weather treats you can prepare in a few moments with fruity, delicious Orange-CRUSH—treats that look cooling, taste wonderful, mark you the perfect hostess.



ORANGE ALE. Combine equal quantities of chilled Orange-CRUSH and Old Colony Ginger Ale. Serve in tall glasses with tasty sandwiches or any desired snack.

ORANGE-PINEAPPLE. Combine 3 parts chilled Orange-CRUSH with 1 part chilled pineapple juice. Pour over cracked ice in tall glasses. Real fancy with mint or cherry garnish.

ORANGE-LEMON. Make iced lemonade, using half Orange-CRUSH and half water for the liquid. Slices of lemon, sugar "as you like it." You'll refill the glasses again and again.

FAMILY THIRST-QUENCHER "PUT ON ICE"

HOORAY! ANOTHER CASE OF DELICIOUS Orange-CRUSH TO HELP US KEEP COOL! "Look, Mother, Daddy's brought another case of yummy Orange-CRUSH! Now we can have those last four bottles, cold from the refrigerator, for all of us. Then you can fill up every spare space. Oh, mother—cookies too! Great way to beat the hot weather . . . with Orange-CRUSH and Jack Frost to help us . . . right in our own kitchen!" Yes, "fresh fruit" flavor Orange-CRUSH is always a home "hot weather" delight.

BOTTLED ORANGE DRINK CHOICE AT HOME, OUTINGS

All over the nation, hot-weather thirsts are calling for the natural "fresh fruit" flavor taste winner, bottled Orange-CRUSH. Yes, it's a winner—at the tennis courts, after a lively set—at golf, after a few hilly holes—on the sailboat, after a tricky tack—at the picnic—at the ball game . . . wherever folks of any age work up a thirst amid warming winds, under sizzling sun.

At home, too, delicious natural-color, "fresh fruit" flavor Orange-CRUSH is the great taste winner. Cold, right off the ice—on the porch, in the parlor, under a tree on the shady side! What a warm-weather treat for the family, quick pick-up thrill for guests! Hear what people say as they enjoy every cooling, delicious sip of this natural "fresh fruit" flavor taste winner, bottled Orange-CRUSH! "So fruity, yet not too sweet"—"such sparkling tastiness"—"so satisfying to hot-weather thirst"—"no foreign after-taste"—"refreshes so quickly, so completely"—"Hope you have plenty on ice, I'd like another."

Here, in the way people react, is the human, every-day confirmation of winning reasons why Orange-CRUSH is the best-known bottled, carbonated orange drink . . . sold in twenty countries throughout the world.

Taste the superior "difference" that has made this delicious, thirst-quenching carbonated orange drink a world favorite for years. Buy a case of bottled, "fresh fruit" flavor Orange-CRUSH this very day!

Parents, Children Say: "Bottled Orange-CRUSH is 'TOPS IN TASTE'"!

Best-Loved Summer Drink

Family folks—men, women and children by hundreds, when asked, "What do you want a hot-weather drink to be?"—reply without hesitation, "Something fruity, something cold." That's bottled Orange-CRUSH, right out of the ice box. Luscious, "fresh fruit" taste of choice, grove-ripened Valencia oranges . . . tingle of sparkly, gentle carbonation . . . rapturously cooling to parched throats . . . tempting treat to tired tastes—who wouldn't love it!

Orange-CRUSH achieves the real "party" flair in hot weather hospitality. Real chummy, quick and informal. Double-cool, double good! Especially when served with tasty sandwiches, crackers or cookies. Never be without plenty of bottled Orange-CRUSH on ice, ready to serve. It's the "friend in need" every time.

"Fresh Fruit Flavor"

"What I like about Orange-CRUSH is its 'fresh fruit' flavor. I have preferred Orange-CRUSH for years, because its pleasing, distinctive, 'fruity' taste is so easy to distinguish from that of other carbonated orange drinks."

"Natural Tasting"

"If you ask me, Orange-CRUSH is so natural tasting—full of the fruity fresh-orange flavor that's tops. Does it ever taste good when it's nice and cold—and its sparkly tingle tastes good all the way down! Mmm-m-m, nice cold Orange-CRUSH for mine!"

"Orange Sparkle Pleases"

"I find the orange flavor 'sparkle' of Orange-CRUSH particularly pleasing. Orange-CRUSH makers have certainly found the formula of tingling taste perfection. There'll be more CRUSH at our house—by the case!"

"Fresh-like Flavor"

"It's the 'fresh-like' orange flavor, with just enough sparkling tingle, that I like about Orange-CRUSH. Whenever I taste Orange-CRUSH I think of that gra-a-and aroma like when you open a sack of big, ripe oranges. Gee, wish I had some now!"

Make "Orange-Sicles"

Youngsters love 'em! Simply pour Orange-CRUSH into refrigerator ice cube compartments. When partially frozen insert a blunt wooden skewer in each cube. Finish freezing. Better'n candy!

Only Tree-Ripened Valencia Oranges Used

FROM SUNNY GROVES come the luscious Valencia oranges that are used in preparing Orange-CRUSH. Only the choicest oranges are selected, picked at the very peak of their maturity. These select oranges are rushed to the plant where they undergo a special processing developed over many years by Orange-CRUSH technicians. In this way, every bit of flavor and goodness is saved for your enjoyment in a bottle of Orange-CRUSH.

SMART DEALER . . .

Savage River Dam Work Progressing

Fall should see the completion of excavation work on the Savage river dam in this county, near Bloomington, according to officials of the Hunkin-Conkey company and Sheffner, Gordon and Hinman, of Blairsville, Pa., contractors.

About five percent of the 700,000 cubic yards of excavation has been completed with 50 men, mostly truck drivers and machine operators employed.

After the present phase of the project is completed, the second and final contract will be let. This provides for the installation of hydraulic control gates and concrete outlet works. Engineers estimate the project will be finished by 1951.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 73. OAKLAND'S HUNDREDTH YEAR THE REPUBLICAN'S SEVENTY-THIRD OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., JUNE 2, 1949. NUMBER 14.

One Solitary Life . . . . .

Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty and then for three years he was an itinerant preacher. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never traveled a hundred miles from the place where he was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but himself.

While he was still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against him. His friends ran away. One denied him. He was turned over to his enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed on a cross between two thieves. His executioners gambled for the only piece of property he had on earth—his coat. When he was dead he was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen long centuries have come and gone and today he is the Center of the human race and the Leader of the column of progress.

I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched and all the navies that ever were built and all the kings that ever reigned and all the parliaments that ever sat have not affected the life of man upon this earth as has that one solitary life.—Author unknown.

School Board Lists Changes In Faculty

Arrangements Made to Dispose of Excess Properties

Resignations of some present teachers were accepted and appointment of additional teachers were approved at a meeting of the Board of Education last Friday. The Board also made plans to reduce the amount of property that had accumulated through the years, by arranging for the sale of a number of parcels of land.

The Board reorganized by re-electing Walter W. Dawson as president; Stuart F. Hamill as vice-president, and C. O. Bender as associate. Mr. Dawson's reappointment was recently confirmed by Governor Lane.

J. Edward Helbig, County Commissioner president, and Senator Neil C. Fraley met with the board briefly and discussed disposition of properties now occupied by the Purnell and Crowthers families, and arrangements were made for their sale. The property on route 219 purchased as a possible site for the new high school building is to be disposed of, according to R. Bowen Hardesty, superintendent of schools.

The Commissioners have an option on the Hamill property between Oakland and Mt. Lake Park, where it is supposed the new school building will be erected.

Other action on properties as taken from the minutes of the meeting include the following: license being issued to 4-H boys of North Glade to use the old North Glade school with right to purchase within a five-year period. ANDREW WOLF SHOOTS MOTHER-IN-LAW THEN KILLS SELF IN DUAL TRAGEDY

Forces Way Into Apartment of Bertha Platter Early Sunday—Note Indicates Suicide Was Planned

Andrew J. Wolf, 46, an unemployed coal miner, last Sunday morning shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bertha Platter, 68, and then turned the gun on himself, firing a shot from a World War II souvenir automatic pistol into his brain. Both victims died within a few minutes of the time they were shot, according to Dr. E. I. Baumgartner.

With his wife, Beulah, and a granddaughter in the room, he forced his way into the apartment of Mrs. Platter on Oak Street, and saying "Here's one for you, Mom," he fired two shots at her. One slug struck the woman in the right arm which also penetrated the chest. The other went through the abdomen. While Mrs. Wolf fled from the apartment with her granddaughter Wolf pointed the weapon above his right ear and pulled the trigger again.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, deputy state medical examiner, returned a verdict of murder and suicide.

Emroy Bolden, funeral director, and assistants carry Andrew Wolf from his mother-in-laws home on Oak street following the murder and suicide Sunday morning. —Staff Photo and Engraving.

Police were told that Wolf was subject at times to fits of violent rage and had frequent quarrels with his wife. They had argued last Saturday night, police were tMold, before Mrs. Wolf left their home on Fourth street to spend the night with her mother, who had been ill for about a week.

Paul W. Fisher, deputy sheriff, who assisted in the investigation, along with State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover, and Trooper Robert Henline, said Wolf came to the Platter home about 6 o'clock and banged upon the door for admittance. Mrs. Wolf stepped out into the hallway with her granddaughter and talked briefly with him, but she said the hallway was too cold for the baby and she returned to the room and closed the door. He demanded admittance and authorities said they were told that this time Mrs. Platter replied: "You won't let me in your house and I won't let you in mine." He thereupon broke in the door which was fastened by a wooden knob, and shot her and himself.

Stover said a note indicating Wolf had planned suicide was found in the dead man's pocket. It said, "Kenny and Jim to get my guns," and was signed "A. J. Wolf." The man had quite a collection of guns at his home.

His eldest son, Andrew J. Wolf, Jr., had recently returned from a tour of army duty in Germany and had given his father the gun which was used in the tragedy. He had come home from Fort Knox, Ky., where he was stationed to celebrate his birthday with his wife and parents. They said they believed Wolf apparently had gone to his mother-in-law's home to see if his wife was going to cook a birthday dinner for their son. A cake, complete with candles which had been baked for the occasion, was on a table in the apartment.

The double killing was reported to Oakland Centennial To open with "Action"

That the Oakland Centennial would open with several bangs and other well-defined noise was announced following the regular meeting of the Centennial Central committee.

The official opening of the Centennial is set for Monday morning, August 8, at 10 o'clock, which is to include the ringing of church bells, blowing of the fire whistle, a rifle salute by a National Guard squad, selections by the Oakland band, and the discharge of aerial bombs. The only two notes of solemnity will be the invocation and the official address of welcome by Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh.

Reporting for the Fraternal and Service committee, A. G. Gortner, chairman, said the service clubs and lodge rooms would plan to have open house on Monday, would have information and registration booths which they hope to keep open all week. He said in addition he would try to arrange for 100 automobiles to take people to points of interest.

Lester Yutzy, chairman of Wild Life and Conservation committee, said they were planning a fly casting and bait casting tournament and possibly a trap shoot as part of the opening day.

Walter E. Dawson, Denzil Bowyer and Mr. Gortner discussed with the committee the possibility of the Rotary club, Lions club and Knights of Pythias sponsoring a decorated approach to the town.

The committee announced that the Old Glory Flag and Decorating company would send in a representative around July 15 to contact merchants about floats, outside decorations, etc., and the problem of feeding those expected to attend the Centennial came in for a share of the discussion.

Cecil Smith is serving as treasurer of the commission. Committee chairmen were being contacted and urged to submit detailed outlines of their respective programs by this week.

Carrier Pigeon Shot

A pigeon came to the Harvey Fike farm last Thursday, May 26, it was learned this week from John Pysell, of route 2, Oakland. He wrote to the newspaper that he had shot the bird in his corn field.

Leg markings were on an aluminum band with WDC 4930 AU 47, and a rubber band S 39. Pysell said they could be seen at the farm.

Visits Red Cross

Miss Lillian K. Throckmorton, field representative of the American Red Cross, this week conferred with the local officers of the Garrett County chapter, relative to the formation of a local program for the coming year which begins July 1.

State Health Head Addresses Rotary

Dr. Robert H. Riley, director of the Maryland State Health Department, told Rotarians at Grantsville on Tuesday night that he "hopes that the time is not far distant when Garrett county will have a full-time health officer."

After reminiscing about his career as health officer for both Allegany and Garrett counties many years ago, Dr. Riley referred to the strides in public health work in the two counties. He said he was especially well pleased with the fight against communicable diseases.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, Cumberland and Allegany county health officer, accompanied Dr. Riley to the meeting. Dr. Frantz also is part-time health officer for this county.

Eglon Pastor Dies

Rev. Ezra Fike, born February 7, 1884, at Eglon, West Va., a son of the late Rev. Jonas Fike and Carolina Henzy Fike, died suddenly on June 1, 1949, at the age of 65 years. When only eleven years old he accepted Christ and was received by baptism by his father into The Church of the Brethren.

In January, 1950, he married Cora Hamstead. To this union were born two children, Rev. Earle William Fike, pastor of Circleville, W. Va., and Mrs. Ruth Terry, teacher in Southern College, and wife of L. H. Terry, in Lakeland, Fla. When Ruth was just a baby, Rev. Fike's first wife died. He was later united in marriage to Virgie M. Judy. To this union were born five children, Mrs. Dove L. Miller, wife of Rev. Joseph W. Miller, pastor of Timberville Church in Virginia; Mrs. Maye Arnett, wife of Dr. J. C. Arnett, physician at Rowlesburg, W. Va.; Rev. Galen E. Fike, field District man of The Church of the Brethren at Eglon; and Mrs. Virginia Lois Life, wife of Lawrence Life, operator and owner of a turkey ranch at McGaheysville, Va.

His father, mother, three brothers and four sisters and his two companions preceded him in death. Four sisters and one brother are yet living: Mrs. Obed Hamstead, Morgantown; Mrs. Daniel Spaid, Eglon; Mrs. Minnie Hile, Eglon; Miss Allie Fike, of Morgantown, and John T. Fike, of Egion. There are fifteen grandchildren.

Rev. Fike was an outstanding and influential churchman. As a young man he served as superintendent of the Sunday school at Maple Spring. He was elected to the ministry in 1905, but due to ill health was not installed until early 1906. In December, 1906, he was advanced to the second degree of ministry. In 1912 he was ordained to Eldership. In 1912 he was elected district treasurer of the church and served in this capacity until three years ago. In 1905 he was chosen as a member of the District Mission board in which capacity he served until 1946. His interest in the mission cause both at home and abroad, was always manifested in his attitude and program of sharing. He was selected a number of times as delegate and represented his district on the Standing Committee of the Annual conference. He was a promoter of youth camps and college training. For a number of years he was trustee of Bridgewater College and enjoyed the experience of witnessing all his children receive their A.B. degree from this institution of Christian training.

For many years he has been Elder of the Eglon congregation which has sent forth a number of ministers, teachers and missionaries in the home and foreign fields. Rev. Fike is the third generation of faithful, loyal and sacrificial ministers of this district. He was an ardent promoter of the cause of peace, believed in sharing the blessings of God with others and attributed much of his success in the business world to his program of tithing and sharing with others. He has filled the pulpit as a free minister and has held many revivals, preached many funerals, married many couples and has been instrumental in helping many young folks to a life with Christ and his shadow of influence is felt not only by his own family but all who knew and shared life with him.

As a citizen and business man of the community he was held in highest esteem. After leaving the farm due to ill health twenty-five years ago, he located as a merchant and postmaster at Eglon. His honesty, fairness and a desire to serve the public, won for him a well honored name far and near. He was one of the directors of the Miners and Merchants Bank of Thomas, W. Va. His constant work, interest, guidance and sacrifice for the church, his contributions to community affairs, his service rendered to patrons of business and his relationship to business concerns will long be remembered.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Marshall Wolfe, of Bridgewater college, at the Maple Spring church at 2:00 p. m. Friday, June 3. The body will lie in state from 1 p. m. at the church. Interment will be in Eglon cemetery.

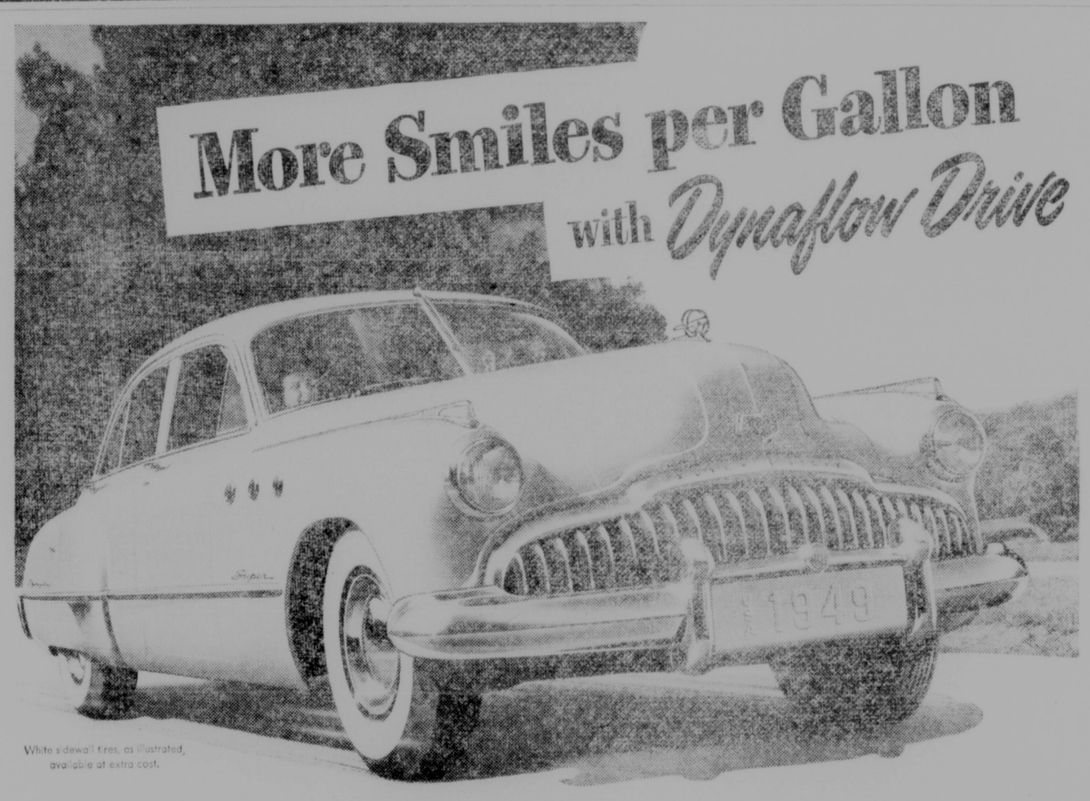
More Smiles per Gallon with Dynaflow Drive



White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

THERE'S the smile when you slip the selector lever into Driving notch—and realize that's all there is to do.

There's the smile when you swing smoothly up to cruising speed without halt or check or break of stride. There's the smile at traffic lights when you halt, wait, then move away with never a thought about shifting.

But the broadest grin of all comes at the end of a long day's drive and you find you've covered more miles more easily. Even your treadle-foot — so likely to become tired and cramped maintaining an even speed in direct-drive cars—appreciates the fluid ease of Dynaflow.

For Dynaflow Drive† is not merely a new transmission. It's a new experience — a new luxury in driving. In ten minutes you are handling it like a veteran — in two days you wouldn't be without it.

Small wonder, then, that Dynaflow is the drive with which all new developments in transmissions are compared.

Not merely "something better," it is something entirely new, the first exciting chapter in a whole new book.

Go learn for yourself how abundantly rich in pleasure every gallon becomes when you have Dynaflow.

Your Buick dealer will be glad to demonstrate—glad to quote delivered prices — glad to talk terms of as fine a deal as you could want.

And you'll find glad surprise in the delivery dates he is now mentioning.

A gift for the graduate! What shall it be? A pen, a watch, clothes, money? Yes, any of these gifts will bring joy to the young graduate.

And so it's just a matter of choice. We make our purchase, and see that the package is delivered with our congratulations.

It is natural and right that we should yield to these generous impulses. But at a time when young people begin their own careers, with their own decisions to make, we should see that they are fortified with gifts that make for character and good living. At this turning point in life, we should do all in our power to help them establish their careers upon the strong foundations of godliness, love, honesty, charity, and friendship.

Let us give our graduates gifts of lasting quality. By example and advice let us teach them the merits of Christian living. Let us bring them with us to our churches, where they will find the greatest gift of all—the gift of God's love.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1949.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

The tragic death of James V. Forrestal, who served as Secretary of National Defense so competently and so earnestly, caused sincere mourning throughout official Washington last week.

Although certain persons in the executive departments could not escape fully from sharing some of the blame for Forrestal's break-down, either by allowing him to work too hard, by contributing to the slanders perpetrated against him, or by ruthlessly giving him his walking papers in the wake of a political campaign, the regret at his death was real among all parties and factions. It was felt that Mr. Forrestal had been a casualty of the war, just as truly as if the deceased had been killed on the field of battle.

One lesson the death taught to official Washington was that of tolerance for the other fellow's feelings and views and a new determination on the part of officials not to feel too keenly the jibes of the opposition. It has been said that a person in political life must have the hide of a pachyderm. This is true, but even a person with a thick skin can feel deeply cutting personal remarks about him and his mistakes of the past.

It would be well for all of us—in or out of official life—to remember again with Swinburne that "the world is a tragedy to those who feel, a comedy to those who think." We can temper thoughtfulness with feeling. We must not allow our feelings, however, to rule our lives and actions to such an extent that we cannot relax and look on national problems with a certain philosophic detachment.

Disclosures by committees of the House and the Senate in recent days, if pondered deeply, would be enough to drive any thoughtful American almost into despair.

Here we have a great country, a great system of business and government, assuring freedom for all, flexibility of movement to all honest men, the right to habeus corpus, the right to vote, the right to an education, and many other rights, either expressed or implied in our constitution.

Yet, as the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities has proved clearly, there are hundreds and hundreds—perhaps even tens of thousands—of native-born Americans who are either so misguided or so insane that they work assidously to overthrow this precious system which our forefathers left to us. These misguided persons may or may not give their loyalties to Moscow, but it is evident that they are playing the game of the Muscovites, although many of them claim to be "American Communists."

A young college student offers to take a loyalty oath to retain his government-paid scholarship, but insists on his right to belong to the Communist Party, which states in its by-laws that it is working to overthrow our legal government. A scientist who has actually worked in atom projects is proved to be a dues-paying Communist, but insists that he is loyal to America. How can this be true? How can he be loyal to America if he is not loyal to anything that America stands for? America is not just a certain body of land. It is a system of government, a system of freedom, a system of rights under law. No person can be disloyal to his family, disloyal to his teachers, disloyal to the traditions of his land, disloyal to the ideas of freedom of his people and still claim to be loyal to a particular country. It is contradictory and obviously so, on its face.

But committees of Congress are bringing out damaging facts against administrators who are supposed to be highly-intelligent, far-sighted men. These administrators have "played ball" with the Communists, either through ignorance or through willful intent to better themselves by kowtowing to ignorant and thoughtless people. This fact is even more tragic than the fact that there are a certain number of stupid people who will swallow Communist doctrines.

It is the duty of every American—regardless of political party—to expose and ferret out either government officials or individuals who would overthrow our government, cause us to lose our freedoms, and, in the end, bring to an end the kind of America in which we have lived and for which our sons and brothers gave their lives on the field of battle.

We must never falter in our battle against such a menace as the Communists represent. We must never fail to be alert to every danger that could bring us under the domination of tyrants.

Both Taught School 28 Years

MISS MARION LEARY MISS ELIZABETH LEARY

Oakland got its first glimpse of the Leary family in 1882, and since that time many pupils who passed through the public schools had occasion to remember well at least two of them. They were Miss Elizabeth Brown Leary and Miss Marion Bealle Leary.

Daughters of Lewis and Rebecca Leary, Miss Elizabeth was born July 21, 1870, and Miss Marion not quite five years later, June 19, 1875. They were born in Downsville, Maryland.

Miss Elizabeth attended the grade school and summer normals here then taught schools in both Garrett and Allegany counties for 28 years, both elementary and high schools.

She has been a member of the Lutheran church for 60 years, and is a member of the Missionary society and the Lydia circle of the church.

Her community activities also extended to include the Pythian Sisters, of which she is a past chief. She became public librarian in Oakland in 1930.

Miss Marion Leary

Miss Marion also attended Oakland grade school and summer normals and also Keemar college, in Hagerstown. She taught schools in Garrett and Washington counties in Maryland, and in Breckinridge, Colo., a total of 28 years. She also was a past chief of the Pythian Sisters, is a member of the Lutheran church, the Missionary society, the Bethany circle of the church. Both sisters are members of the Homemakers club.

They have three other sisters, Mrs. Annie Meisenbach, and Mrs. Ernest Townshend, Oakland; and Mrs. Carney Hartley, Denver, Colorado.

An Ohio boy became the nation's top young speller. The runner-up fainted after contest. The runner-up failed on the word "dulcimer."

"Two Breaths From Old Ireland"

MICHAEL R. MARONEY PATRICK R. MARONEY

Among the older residents of Oakland selected for this week are two brothers and two sisters. The brothers are Michael R. Maroney and Patrick R. Maroney, sons of Michael and Bridget Maroney, who were parents of 13 children and who came to this country from Tipperary, Ireland, in 1845.

They moved to Oakland shortly thereafter where the father had a livery stable business. Michael was born May 27, 1869, and last Friday observed his 80th birthday.

He was a member of the Garrett Guards under Bob Townshend, and worked for the town of Oakland for over 30 years.

A member of the Oakland Fire Department since it was organized, he also was a member of the Moose lodge at Frostburg for over 40 years, the Knights of Columbus, the Holy Name society of St. Peter's Parish.

What few years of his life he spent away from Oakland, he served as a coachman for Daniel Lamont, secretary of war under the administration of President Grover Cleveland. Before returning to Oakland, he also was coachman for L. Z. Lighter, a Chicago millionaire, in Washington.

He married Mary E. McAteer, whose family also came from Ireland. They were married in 1896 and she died in 1929. He has one daughter, Mrs. George W. North, Crisfield; and one son, Robert Maroney, Oakland.

Patrick R. Maroney

Patrick Maroney will be 75 years of age on July 23, having been born in 1874. He is best known to rather recent Oaklanders as caretaker of the Oakland cemetery, although he also was sexton of St. Peter's church for 20 years and worked for G. S. Hamill for the same period of years.

Patrick also is a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Holy Name society of St. Peter's Parish. He was the father of three children, two of whom survive: Joseph and Edward Maroney, both of Oakland; also four grandchildren.

The graduates are mostly transfer students, Mr. Hardesty said.

There will be a teachers' meeting on September 6 from 9 to 12 in Oakland High school, with part of that time being given to the County Teachers association. In the afternoon all teachers will go to their respective schools to prepare for the opening of school the following day.

Wilbert Savage Wins Top Place In Contest

A former resident of Sang Run, Wilbert N. Savage, now a resident of suburban Conneilsville, Pa., recently won first place in Pennsylvania in an egg-production contest sponsored by the Ralston Purina Company of St. Louis, Mo. Savage's prize for his outstanding egg record for a three-month period was a new washing machine.

Not long ago he was a winner in the Mutual Broadcasting Company's "Hunting and Fishing Club of The Air," sponsored by a Wheeling, W. Va., tobacco manufacturer. For answering the question "Does a beaver actually eat fish as many people believe?" the former county resident was awarded fifty dollars' worth of fishing lures in a display case, a handmade fly rod, a pair of hunting and fishing boots, an imported brier pipe, an insect bomb, tobacco, and other lesser prizes.

Savage is currently working with the feature editor of a Pennsylvania weekly, and has completed on assignment a series of articles about historical personalities who helped make America great. These include Andrew Carnegie, John Chapman (Johnny Appleseed), Mark Twain, William F. Cody, Molly Pitcher, Capt. John Sutter, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Dr. Benjamin Rush, and others.

Church Moderator

Dr. Paul H. Bowman, who served as president of Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Va., for 27 years, will be moderator of the 163rd Annual Conference of the Church of the Brethren at Ocean Grove, N. J. from June 14 to 19. This will be the third time Dr. Bowman, of Timberville, Va., has been moderator. He will speak on "Our Re-emerging Frontiers."

Several delegates from this area will attend the Conference to help determine church policies and objectives for the next year. Each Brethren church in the country will send a representative to the delegate body, and each district in the church will send a delegate to the Standing Committee. Any member of the church may enter into discussions from the floor, although only delegates may vote.

Amendment Made To Compensation Law

An amendment to the Unemployment Compensation Law, effective June 1, 1949, provides that an unemployed worker who is receiving weekly unemployment benefits may claim allowance of $2.00 for each dependent child, not exceeding four, under 16 years of age.

The first claims for dependants' allowances will be accepted beginning Tuesday, June 6, and these claims will cover the claimant's previous week of unemployment, Mr. Russell S. Davis, Chairman of the Employment Security Board, stated.

Dependents are defined by the Board as sons, daughters, step-children and legally adopted children who receive their principal financial support from the claimant. The claimant will be required to submit proof of birth by a birth certificate or a certified copy of a birth certificate.

Under this provision, payments ranging from $2.00 to $8.00 will be made for dependent children. The claimant who is entitled to the minimum weekly benefit amount of $6.00 and to the maximum number of dependents will receive $14.00; the claimant who is entitled to the maximum weekly benefit amount of $25.00 and to the maximum number of dependants will receive $33.00.

A partially employed worker may be eligible to receive benefits if his earnings because of reduced hours due to lack of work are less than his weekly benefit amount plus allowances for dependents.

Arthurdale Choir To Sing In St. Mark's

The a capella Choir of the Arthurdale community church, Arthurdale, W. Va., will present a program of ecclesiastical music, Sunday evening, June 12th, at 7:30, in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Oakland, the Rev. Luther Hare, pastor.

The choir is coming under the auspices of the the Worship and Music committee of St. Mark's. Prior to their program they will be entertained at the Robinson home on Monte Vista Road.

This choir was organized six years ago when Rev. Felix Robinson was called to the Arthurdale Pastorate. It has made a unique record in attendance at rehearsals and church services, in the number of pieces committed to their memory, over a hundred, and the many communities in which it has appeared. It has also done outstanding work in connection with the Mountain Lake Choir Festival.

The choir is composed of thirty teen-agers. Its vestments are light grey poplin with golden cincture which they have purchased out of the proceeds of their several performances. Mrs. Myra Finn is the choir-mother. Rev. Robinson will direct the choir in several summer engagements. The choir is well organized and plans to meet regularly and review the music learned in the absence of the director. A successor to Pastor Robinson has as yet not been determined. Mrs. Lucille Robinson, together with Ariel, Muriel and Heather Robinson are members of the choir.

The program to be given here is in essence the program presented Good Friday at Wesley Memorial church, Morgantown, and on Rogation Sunday in First Methodist church, Fairmont. The program is done entirely from memory. Wherever the choir has appeared it has sung to a full church, even Sunday evenings.

June Day Is Theme of Civic Club Luncheon

"A June Day," was the theme of the Oakland Civic club luncheon held Tuesday at the William- James hotel, carried out in song, poetry, music and decorations.

"Vision of Sir Launfal," and "What is so Rare as a Day in June," were presented by Mrs. W. W. Grant. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bell rendered three vocal numbers, "Mighty Like a Rose," "My Garden," and "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal."

Mrs. Earl Zepp, president, turned the meeting over to the luncheon chairman, Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner. Mrs. Ray Brown, president of the first district, of Woodbine, presented to the club a gavel which was a gift of Mrs. Baumgartner.

Mrs. Brown informally discussed plans of the district for the coming year.

Tables were decorated in flowers and carried out the theme by representing a garden party. An unusual feature of the three tiered garden was a rose arbor with appropriately dressed dolls placed throughout. The second tier disclosed a small pool complete with tiny goldfish, plastic garden furniture and a fence around it. The decoration committee included Mrs. O. T. Graser, Mrs. R. E. Weber and Mrs. A. G. Gortner. Tickets were in charge of Mrs. Emroy Bolden. Mrs. Fred Bell gave the invocation.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 73. OAKLAND'S HUNDREDTH YEAR THE REPUBLICAN'S SEVENTY-THIRD OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., JUNE 9, 1949. NUMBER 15.

One Sure Way . . . . . .

(From an advertisement by the Standard Steel Spring Company)

There's a lot going on in this country today that you don't read about. It has nothing to do with threat of war, atomic bomb, or the fact that the big bad wolf inflation, is now just about a dead duck. It has to do with this steady, insidious chipping away at what we know as Freedom.

If people really knew the whole truth, really know how carefully the plans have been made, there'd be the devil to pay.

We're talking about just one thing, about the biggest single asset we have in this nation. It comes under the heading of Freedom, and only you in the end will decide how much you want to give up for the substitutes that have brought plunder and wreckage to the countries we seem at times to be following.

This thing is not easy to define. But let's call it the Hope of Reward. It is present on every farm, in every store, every factory, every office building. It's the mainspring of every man at production, wherever free men work and live. It rides with every tractor on the nation's farms. It is back of every good and great thing this nation and its people enjoy. It is the motive power, the life-blood, the backbone this country cannot and will not get along without.

Whether our critics here and abroad like it or not, it's a blood brother of profit. For profit is the reward, and progress, U.S.A. style, is the goal of profit. All the fancy economic theories ever dreamed up cannot alter that one simple fact.

We are what we are and where we are because men have been free here to work where they pleased, risk savings, invest hard earned dollars, plow earnings back, grow, expand, progress and never stop.

Who then is to criticize or erect barriers against this hope of free men? Who is to control and regulate the profits of business through which the growing expanding needs of this country must be met?

Think it over seriously in terms of your own freedom and hope of reward, and remember, as long as that Hope of Reward remains unlimited, this country will remain truly free. Destroy it and you destroy America, Quick!

Bible School To Get Underway Monday

The Community Daily Vacation Bible School will start in Oakland next Monday, June 13, at the Lutheran church, and will continue through Friday, June 24.

Interesting new courses for this year were announced by Rev. Luther L. Hare, director. Each pupil is to receive a work book and a blue and white VBS button, and a diploma also will be given for those completing the course. Gold stars are to be attached for good attendance, work, conduct and punctuality.

There will be Bible study, worship, handwork, playground recreation, with a picnic at the close of the school. Group pictures also are planned.

Courses are for ages 4 to 14 with pre-school "God Gives Us Ourselves"; grade 1, "Children of the Bible"; grade 2, "Growing Up"; grade 3, "Serving Jesus"; grade 4, "We Want to Know Jesus"; grade 5, "My Home"; grade 6, "Bible People and How They Lived"; grades 7 and 8, "Wanted—Twelve Witnesses."

Sponsored by the Methodist, and Lutheran churches, the school is for children of any faith and those who attend no church or Sunday School.

Mrs. Newton Coplin is the registrar. Enrollment blanks are obtainable at the churches or from the pastors and are to be brought Monday morning. Additional information may be obtained from the director.

Teachers will be Mrs. Mary Warfield, Miss Connie Smith, Miss Mary T. Naylor, Mrs. Richard O. Glotfelty, Miss Jane Reckard and Miss Joan Smith. Patty Yutzy and Betty Lou Hinebaugh will assist Mrs. Glotfelty with the pre-school group.

To Resume Pictures

The pictures of the older residents of Oakland who have contributed to the life of the community, will be continued next week after a lapse of one week.

It is planned to continue the series of photographs until after the Centennial celebration in August. A few of those contacted have been unwilling to submit to the "ordeal" of getting their pictures taken, and one or two have been downright "contrary". Modesty or embarrassment over age may be causing this, particularly among the women. Whatever the cause, there will be some elderly persons who deserve a place of honor who will not be pictured—unless they change their mind.

Free Parking To Be Allowed For Dollar Days Event

After hearing about the proposed dollar day sale of the merchants of Oakland in July, explained by I. R. Rudy and A. G. Gortner, the Mayor and City Council, at their meeting on Monday night agreed to have free parking on the streets of Oakland during the days of the sale.

Parking meters would not be used on July 15, 16 and 18, to give people an opportunity to park near the business establishments.

The sale on those days is being sponsored by the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce.

Mostly routine business occupied the balance of the council meeting.

Members agreed to exchange a parking sign, corner of Third and Alder street, from "No Parking at Any Time," to "No Parking from Here to Curb."

Charles H. McIntire said the first one sign implied that no parking was permitted on that street at all.

It is also planned to remove the desks in the lobby, replace them with longer ones. Old radiators are being removed and are being replaced with higher ones in such a manner that there will be more room for the customers in the lobby. Venetian blinds will be placed, and other cabinet work done inside the "cage".

Mr. Rathbun said Mr. Hardesty also consulted with the architect and the board on the plans. The revisions will be subject to the approval of E. E. Enlow, of Sebastopol, Calif., who is contributing the funds as a memorial to his daughter, the late Ruth Enlow.

A damaging frost struck Garrett county yesterday morning when the temperature dropped surprisingly to 30 degrees. Pair Sentenced to House of Correction

Orville "Buck" Sines and Arly Michael were found guilty of assault at a trial Monday afternoon before Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., in the circuit court.

The case was the only criminal trial before the court which was the regular non-jury term

Sines and Michael were indicted by the grand jury in March, 1948, but Sines was not apprehended until recently. It was learned that he was being held in Florida on a conviction on a larceny charge, and arrangements were made with Florida authorities to release him in custody of the sheriff of Garrett County upon completion of his sentence there.

The original indictment was "assault with intent to murder," the intent to murder charge was dropped by the state before proceeding with the case. Upon being found guilty Sines was sentenced to one year in the House of Correction, while Michael was sentenced to six months in the same institution.

They were charged with having beaten and robbed William Kisner, in a Friendsville tavern one night early in 1948.

Honorary Degree Is Conferred Upon Charles M. White

An honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering was conferred upon Mr. Charles McElroy White, of Cleveland, O., at commencement exercises for the University of Maryland, last Saturday.

White, a native of Oakland, received his B.S. degree from the College of Engineering, University of Maryland, in 1913. Later he studied at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, for three years.

Upon graduation he began his professional career in Pittsburgh. Commencing as a millwright helper, he rose progressively through the ranks to his present position of president of the Republic Steel Corporation.

In 1937, in recognition of his contribution to the technical advances in the industry of smelting iron and the manufacture of steel, White was awarded the medal of the American Iron and Steel Institute. A further national recognition is his selection as a trustee of the National Industrial Conference Board, composed of outstanding American business leaders.

In addition to his technical accomplishments, he has done an outstanding job in his organization in handling labor relations.

White is a son of Mrs. C. F. White, Liberty street, and the late Mr. White

Assistant County Agent Is Named

John Lough, of Morgantown, W. Va., has been appointed an assistant county farm agent for this county, it was announced this week.

Mr. Lough, a June graduate of West Virginia university, is in College Park this week for a four-day training course before taking up his duties here. The leadership training is under the direction of Mylo S. Downey, state boys' club agent. Next week Mr. Lough will be in Hagerstown for a few days getting acquainted with the type of club work that is being done in this state.

Upon his arrival in Oakland, he will assist John H. Carter, county agent, in extension work, particularly in the work of 4-H clubs. He is a veteran of World War II and is married.

Hamill Option Taken Up For Oakland High School Site

A resolution authorizing the purchase of land upon which to erect high school buildings near Oakland and Keyser Ridge, was passed unanimously by the County Commissioners at their regular meeting this week, bringing one step nearer to realization the two high school plan which was recommended last year to improve the educational opportunities here.

The resolution authorized the purchase of land in district No. 5, owned by Albert Beckett, consisting of 167 acres, for the sum of $16,000, and 40 acres of land now owned by Stuart F. Hamill, between Oakland and Mt. Lake Park, for the sum of $17,500.

The resolution was passed under authority conferred upon the Commissioners by Chapter 575 of the Acts of the Assembly of Maryland, passed at the regular session in January, 1947. The board consulted with members of the advisory committee, named in the act, prior to passing upon the resolution. Members of the committee include George Littman, H. C. Riggs, Floyd O. Leighton, Oakland; R. O. McCullough, of Friendsville, Stuart Rodamer, Grantsville; Milton Pritts, Kitzmiller; and Earl Ault, Accident.

The amounts are to be paid out of the school construction funds. The acreage previously purchased for the Oakland High school site, at the north edge of town, probably will be disposed of, and may revert to the previous owners by previous agreement.

Under the building program the present five high schools will continue to be used, all but the one at Oakland remaining as elementary schools.

The land in district 5 was definitely located as that fronting along U. S. 219 just south of where the unimproved road leads to the Cove. The land is bounded on the north by the Glover and Walter Richter property; on the south by the Stanton-McCullough properties; on the west by the Uphole property; and on the east by route 219 and the Ed Richter property.

The land on which the new high school will be erected for Oakland and the southern end of the county is bounded by the Oakland-Mt. Lake road on the south, on the north by the old Dennett Hotel road, on the east by the Stockman and Sweitzer properties; and on the west by a county road and the Winters property.

Work on Hospital Now In Tenth Month

As the work on the new Garrett County Memorial hospital went into its tenth month this week, those in charge are now looking forward to a speedy completion, it was announced by Theodore J. Peters, clerk of the works. He said inclement weather hampered progress for some time.

Masonry work has been completed to the second floor line at this time, and attention is being given the concrete work which is to make up the second floor. A tower has been constructed of steel pipe which will carry the concrete mix to the various levels in the building.

Electrical and plumbing work is in progress throughout the building, both being pre-requisites for the concrete and masonry work. Mr. Peters estimated that total construction was 20.93 percent completed.

Auction Warehouse Opens on Saturday

Oakland's Auction Warehouse will be officially opened on Saturday evening with a commission sale of farm machinery, furniture and other items.

Announcement of a list of articles to be sold appears in another section of The Republican today. A trial sale was held at the warehouse, Pennington street, east of Third, last Saturday evening by Joe Weller furniture man of Altoona, Pa., who has been holding sales at Terra Alta and Accident over the past several months.

The City Council, at a meeting on Monday evening, agreed to open Pennington street, between Third and Fourth, Dr. A. E. Mance agreeing to furnish lumber for the construction of a bridge over Wilson Run, and culvert pipe at the entrance to his building. This will overcome the blind street there and allow customers to travel freely in either direction.

Trio Climb From Wrecked Plane Unhurt

A three-year-old boy, his father and the pilot of a three-passenger Cessna airplane, climbed out of the wreckage unhurt last Friday afternoon at the Hubert Bowman farm field on Deep Creek Lake, after a trick wind slammed the craft's wings against a tree and pole.

Maryland State police who investigated, listed the pilot as Russell Foxwell, 42, Baltimore, and the passengers as Fred Jenkins, Cumberland, and his son, Fred, Jr.

Investigating officers said the trio was attempting to take off from the field where they had landed a short time before while on a pleasure trip from the Cumberland airport. A still wind halted the first attempt to take off but after a short time the second attempt was made.

The craft's wheels had not left the ground when a cross wind blew the plane off course and through a narrow passage between a tree and post. The obstacles tore both wings from the plane, police said.

Jenkins, an official of the Mountain Air Service, was listed as owner of the plane by Cpl. Thomas Currie, of the Maryland police.

Damage to the craft was listed at $1,000. The fuselage was not harmed.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

The Crisis Is Close

The concededly sick condition of the ation's finances is being taken more riously now by more members of ongress than ever before. Republins as well as Democrats agree that is is a reflection of the feeling of any hundreds of thousands of citins, hard pressed for money to pay xes and still maintain a reasonable andard of living for their families. any have reached the point where e increasing penalties and perils of tional debts and deficits have bene a nightmare.

Certainly, it has taken them a long ne to get to that point. For a good ny years the dangers of vast vernmental expansion and uncon-lled expenditures have been essed in vain. Even those who adtted the unsoundness of the spend-g policy and regarded the three-mbed theory of the self-styled beral economists" that the size of national debt does not matter beise "we owe it to ourselves" as silly to deny—even these were too athetic to be actively antagonistic. the other hand, while the Treasury lions continue to pour out, great des of voters directly profit either getting on the Federal pay roll or eiving some form of personal nty, subsidy or dole.

For four elections the "tax, tax, nd, spend, elect, elect" formula of late Mr. Hopkins, which expressed h complete accuracy the whole w Deal political philosophy, has vailed. Perhaps it will prevail ain, but there is in Congress today concern about economy and an rm about waste that has not sted since 1933, when the Teasury odgates were flung open and a ge part of the population rushed in get theirs. In less than a month fiscal year of 1949 will close and cal 1950 begin. There is reason to ieve that the figures then made blic will shock all save the most zy optimists and callous politins.

Last January Mr. Truman prented a voluminous but unintelli-le budget in which he forecast for cal 1950 a deficit of $900,000,000. e joint Congressional Committee on ternal Revenue Taxation points out at, accepting the President's estiate for 1950 is far too low. They y appropriations already authorized stify putting the figure at $44,-0,000,000. In other words, the 1950 ficit easily may run to $7,000,000,-0. Republican Senator Wherry a w days ago estimated it at $11,000,-0,000. The facts seem to bear the rd figure out. If and when they are bstantiated, the crisis confronting e country will be one no citizen can ford to blink. Clearly, something en will have to be done or down the ain we go. Obviously there are ly three possible courses of action spend vastly less; tax vastly more; take the foot off the brakes.

Despite passage by the House of a ew veterans' pension bill sentiment r economy appears rapidly growing. ecent newspaper polls in various ates are highly significant. There a real prospect that the five per ent cut all down the line will be ade. But that would total only 1½ illion, which is a long way from nough. The Hoover Commission has hown how 3 billion can be annually aved but the power of the Federal obholders is such that few believe 'ongress has the guts to go full disance on that. Clearly, you can't raise 5,000,000,000 more in taxes without urther depressing business and dry-ng up revenue. Faced with the stark rospect of a bankrupt nation, the nly possible way to avert disaster is o push aside all new expensive exeriments, completely cut out waste nd recover our financial equilibrium.

It is interesting to note that while Ir. Truman is alarmed over the rospect of a big deficit and still—ublicly anyhow—favors raising four illions in new taxes his zeal for conomy is not great. So far he has pposed every cutting proposal. Nor as he really put his weight behind he Hoover proposals. It is even more nteresting to note the attitude of the mericans for Democratic Action and heir allied labor bosses. These denounce the President's partial retreat rom the more fantastically expensive art of his program as a "betrayal" f the people. But they do more than hat. Recently a Harvard economist, epresenting the ADA, rather stunned ome senators by declaring that govrnments cannot afford to economize, nd family heads who save instead of pending are anti-social."

There is no available information s to how he behaves with his own oney but certainly Senator Hubert lumphrey (sometimes called "Lip-y"), who is head of the ADA, does ot intend if he can help it that Uncle Sam shall go "anti-social" in this way. In five months he has personally sponsored bills totaling more than 22 billions of dollars of taxpayers' money. Anyhow, it's a great thought that the deeper the deficit and the higher the debt the better off everybody is. Those who believe that—and there are still an astonishing number—may have a lot of fun—until the dam busts.

Safety Measures Are Recommended

Further improvement in ventilation, added precautions in blasting, and the elimination of ignition dangers were among the chief safety measures recommended by a Federal coal mine inspector after a reinspection of the Ajax Coal Company's Ajax No. 1 mine, at Mill Run, Garrett County, the Bureau of Mines announced today. Near Barton, Allegany County, the mine employed 19 men and averaged 65 tons of coal daily when it was visited in April by Inspector W. C. Eiduke.

A summary of recent improvements showed more effective ventilation in one set of entries and better face ventilation, but Inspector Elduke recommended similar improvement in other specified entries. Additional betterments noted were the use of incombustible stoppings, posting of abandoned workings, maintenance of two permissible flame safety lamps, making of preshift fire boss examinations, leaving of evidence in places tested for gas weekly, and display of signs to escapeways from the dip section.

United States and Canada announced a new air agreement with liberalized traffic rules.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

Events in Berlin and the antics of Andrei Vishinsky, the Soviet foreign minister, at the "big four" meeting in Paris are convincing proof to many Americans that lifting of the Berlin Blockade did not presage a change of heart on the part of Russia's leaders.

To the more realistic Congressman, who have been stdying and observing the activities of Russian leaders for many years, many Americans are allowing themselves to be misled into thinking that it is possible for the United States to make any kind of last agreement with the present Soviet leaders. Such an attitude is not pessimistic and it does not necessarily mean that these Congressmen believe war is inevitable.

The point toward which our diplomats and executive leaders should work, these Congressmen believe, is the overturning of the present regime in Russia through an aroused populace in the U.S.S.R. itself. Such an overturn is not impossible, if the United States would reveal dramatically to the hundreds of millions of Russians and Russian - dominated civilian populations, that this nation will not have anything to do with the present Soviet leaders.

Through the Voice of America, through every church missionary, and through every individual lover of freedom throughout the world, we could spread the gospel of freedom for the Russian masses from the Soviet rulers who are the taskmasters of the people. Such a policy might bring war, but any policy we pursue possibly could bring war. The American people should learn that when war with Russia comes, if it ever comes, it will come when the Soviet leaders want it, and not a second before.

The present Russian leaders have proved in a thousand overt acts that we cannot trust them, no matter what they say or how sincerely they say it. They have tricked us again and again, and they have spies in every possible place at which they can place spies.

The better-informed the average American, the more he agrees with this. Our danger is that millions of our citizens will not become informed and remained informed of the danger of Communism from within and without.

The House of Representatives last week went a long way toward giving justice to the servicemen of both World Wars by passing, and sending to the Senate, legislation to provide a realistic pension payment for all our former warriors.

Big point in the debate was over whether to give the pension to all veterans, or only to those who could prove the need for it. Congress voted overwhelmingly in favor of giving the pension to all, for it was emphasized in debate that passage of such legislation would do away with the necessity of creating a huge new bureaucracy to administer the legislation. Besides, as several Congressmen pointed out, all veterans who reach the age of 60 or 65 are unable to work easily, even if some of them cannot prove it to a "board" that the government would have set up under suggested legislation.

The House of Representatives also amended the displaced persons legislation, originally passed by the Republican 80th Congress last year to enable more than 200,000 homeless Europeans to come into the U. S. Most Republicans voted for the new legislation, for, at the time the original legislation was passed last year, the Republicans felt that it might have to be amended in the light of new developments.

Walks

No. 7.—The Quarry—Take road running north-west from railroad station, past the electric plant, and follow it for a mile, alongside the railroad and where it turns to the right into the woods, until it finally descends a steep hill down to the big Yough River. From the bridge, the views up and down the stream, are lovely. Cross the bridge and enter a gate at left. Follow this for a quarter of a mile, hearing and seeing the river through the fringe of trees, mountain laurel and rocks, until the railroad tracks are reached. Follow the tracks back to town. This part of the walk is not safe for children and elderly people, as trains run every few minutes. They can return as they came. Three miles.

Drives

No. 7—The Glades.—Leave town by Oak street, pass through Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn. Turn to right and follow road until it joins West Union road at log house beyond Monte Vista. Return by West Union road and Third street. Five miles.

Excursions

No. 7—Fort Pendleton.—Leave town by Third street and West Union road, turning towards big Backbone Mountain at Gortner's. A drive of about fourteen miles will end at site of old fort and residence on North Branch of Potomac River. This is a favorable picnic ground. Four miles south of Fort Pendleton is Mt. Savage, from the summit of which may be obtained a view hard to equal on the American continent. Twenty-eight miles.

After graduation comes opportunity!

The approach of Commencement Day 1949, brings many high school seniors face to face with a big question — what next? There's one big opportunity to which every high school graduate should give serious consideration. This is the career offered you in today's Regular Army.

Few openings in private enterprise offer you the leadership training, the educational advantages, the exciting travel and adventure, the supervised sports and recreation programs and the clean, wholesome, active life that can be yours with an Army enlistment.

Few openings offer you such comradeship with America's finest young men—for today—only the best are acceptable for service in the United States Army.

To win a place in today's Regular Army you must pass physical examinations that are tougher — mental examinations more difficult—than ever before. And with these more rigid requirements you will face keener all-'round competition for assignment to the more than 200 courses offered at Army technical and specialty schools.

The rewards are also greater —opportunity for advancement is limited only by your ability and initiative. Many of today's general officers began their careers as Privates. Some of today's Privates may be our future Generals!

Appointments to Officer's Candidate Schools and to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point are available to those who can make the grade. In what other field can you aspire so high?

You owe it to yourself to get all the facts. See the friendly recruiting officer at your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today. He will be happy to give you full details without any obligation to you.

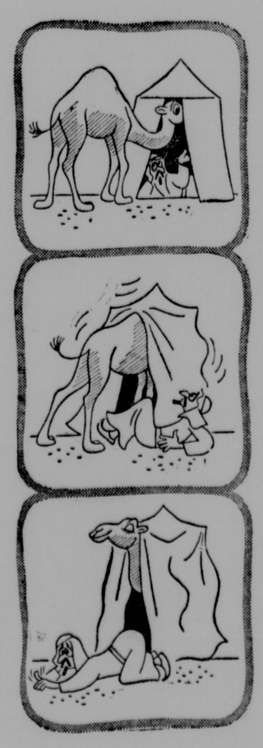
the camel that broke the man's back



Remember the old story about the merchant and the camel? It was a cold night, and the camel begged to warm his nose — only his nose — in the tent. Then what happened? Little by little, the camel inched in his shoulders, his front legs — until he took over the whole tent. And the merchant was out in the cold.

That's how government agencies are inching their way into the electric business. First, public funds were set aside to build dams — for flood control and navigation. Then it was argued that the water behind the dams could be used to make electricity.

That led to the building of power lines, and then to more dams, more lines, and so on. Now these same agencies want more millions of dollars to build fuel-burning power plants—which have nothing to do with floods or navigation at all.

Yes, the camel of State Socialism is creeping farther and farther into the tent of the electric business. What it is doing here it can do in other industries. For when a government can enter one business in unfair competition with its own citizens, it is but a short step to entering all businesses — and eventually taking over all businesses.

Like the camel and the tent. What business are you in? This can affect you, too. Write your Congressman about it.

New Motor Oil Introduced

A new series of Motor Oils has been developed by Esso Standard Oil Company and was introduced to the public last week.

The quality of the new lubricants is attributed by company officials to an unusually high viscosity index, which greatly reduced the natural tendency of oil to thicken as it cools or thin out as it is heated, and an excellent resistance to oxidation and bearing corrosion. Controlled detergent properties have been added to help keep engines clean.

Lake-Bray—Announcement is made of the marriage of Elaine Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tichinel, Mt. Zion, to James Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lake, Altamont.

The ceremony was performed May 28 by Rev. J. D. Shaffer in the Methodist parsonage at Bloomington.

The bride wore a blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Attendants were Miss Agnes Wright and Robert Reckner, Jr.

The bride will receive her diploma this evening from Oakland High school. Mr. Lake was graduated from that school in 1945 and served in the Navy during the recent war.

The couple is residing with bridegroom's parents.

Kolb-Dauphin—Miss June LaVerne Dauphin, Cumberland, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Dauphin, Accident, became the bride of William A. Kolb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kolb, Accident, last Saturday evening. The wedding ceremony was solemnized at 7:30 p. m., in Zion Lutheran church, Accident, with her father officiating.

Miss Carol Dauphin was her sister's maid of honor, and Carol Ann Haenftling, niece, her flower girl. Robert Kolb served as best man with Dr. Ralph Reiter and Earl Haenftling, as ushers.

Assorted white flowers and candles were used in decorations and Mrs. Delbert Leese sang "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Leota Humbertson, who also played the wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Lawrence Rohlfing, Chardon, O. She wore a white satin gown, fashioned with high neckline, long pointed lace-trimmed sleeves, fitted bodice with marquisette yoke edged with lace and a long train. Her fingertip length veil of bridal illusion was held by clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias with white orchid center.

Her matron of honor's gown was of pink marquisette made similar to the bride's. She had a headdress of spring flowers matching her bouquet. The little flower girl wore a blue taffeta floor length frock, blue hair ribbon, and carried a basket of rose petals trimmed with flowers.

Mrs. Dauphin chose a light flowered print for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Kolb wore a navy blue costume and corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of Accident High school, attended Catherman's Business School and prior to her resignation was secretary for the Teamster's Union at Cumberland. The groom is a graduate of Accident High school and Bliss Electrical School, Washington. He is employed by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, Pittsburgh.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the church social hall with white flowers and a tiered wedding cake centering the table.

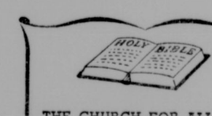
The Sand Lots of America
Baseball has been a healthy and wholesome influence in the lives of American youth. It has taught them the lessons of fair play and obedience to rules in all human relations. Like other clean sports, it has furnished an outlet for youthful energies and enthusiasm.
The delinquency in America today is traceable to idle time spent in street-loafing and back-alley sessions with questionable associates rather than in healthy, constructive activities.
In contrast, it has been said that the character and stamina shown by American boys on the battlefields of the world was built up on the sand lots of this country in clean and invigorating sports.
Only a nation founded on the concepts of Christianity can produce this fair-minded and honest sportsmanship. Only by upholding such standards as the Golden Rule can we expect our youth to engage in constructive spare-time activities.
Thus we find that religion is the true answer to delinquency. So that Christian teachings may become a greater part of our national life, we must bring our youth into the Church where they will learn to live and play by the Golden Rule.



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Why Jesus Died

Lesson for June 12, 1949

THE FACTS of Jesus' death were simple. They are told in the four Gospels without dramatics and without tears. Yet the drama is there, stark and terrible; and only the hard of heart can read it without tears.

There is a deeper question than what happened. Why did it happen? The first Christians were forced to think about the crucifixion. They all knew it was no legend. It was so. But they were hunted, as we are, with the question, Why? Here was a person whose teaching was truth, whose touch was health, whose life was love. You would have thought the world would welcome such a man, and give him the highest honors in its power. But instead, all it had for him were nails and thorns and a cross. Why? If God, who sees all things, knew that even his Son would come to no better end than a death of shame, why did God allow Jesus to be born, much less send him into the world, the world where the cross was waiting?

No Other End

THERE WAS, of course, "historical reasons" why Jesus was killed. If we used the words "murdered" or "lynched" it would be nearer the truth. Jesus' death, from one point of view, was both a tragedy and a crime, and the Gospel stories show this. Jesus died because Pilate was a spineless man.

> Jesus died because the priests of Jerusalem saw that if this man won, they would lose, and they would commit murder rather than be defeated. Jesus died because the Pharisees had closed minds and would not listen to truth if they did not think of it first.

He died because Judas was a traitor, because his friends were cowards and even the best of them dared to show their faces only after he was dead. He died because the Jewish people had their minds set on one sort of Messiah, and when Jesus turned out to be quite another sort, they would have none of him. Being altogether the sort of person he was, in that kind of world, at that particular time and place, you could say, as Jesus himself did, that the Son of Man "had to" die. (Luke 24:26.) No other end was possible. There was no help for it . . . except to turn coward and hide; and if he had been capable of that, he would not have been the Christ we know at all.

The Plan of God

THEN was Jesus simply a victim of circumstances? Was he no better than a fly caught in fate's dark web? Far from it. The Christian church has always believed, even before these stories of the crucifixion were ever written, that the death of Christ was in the plan of God. In fact, it is at the heart of God's plan for mankind.

> It is by the death of Christ that God reconciles man and brings men back to himself. The Christian church believes and teaches that Christ died for us, that is, for you and for me. We believe that this was not simply Jesus' own idea, something God had not thought of till Jesus suggested it.

We believe that this was the intention of God "from before the foundation of the world." The God who is over all, works through all things, even very evil things, to make his love known.

"That The World . . . Might Be Saved"

MEN had long thought of God as living in far-off heaven, seated on a throne, high and lifted up. A just and mighty God, one who cannot be touched with any human weakness, a holy and infinite Lord of the universe,—such a God men knew. But on earth there walks and suffers a race of men who are slaves of sin, slaves to evil. How can such a God help such men? Not by staying on his throne and hurling down more curses. Only by doing what men would never have guessed God would dare to do—come into this world, himself as a man, translating himself into the life of man; putting his shoulder under the human load, even bearing "our sins in his own body on the tree" (I Peter 2:24).

Listen to Others . . . . . .

Listening to the advice of other individuals may have more effect than the constant grindings of one editor, so this week we list some American ideals and principles advocated.

Former President Herbert Hoover advised a graduating class not to abandon self reliance in a quest for security. "While security eliminates the risks in life, it also kills the joy that lies in competition, in individual adventure, new undertakings and new achievements. These contain moral and intellectual impulses more vital than even profits."

Dr. Dudley DeGroot, head football coach, West Virginia university, told a graduating class to work, because "nothing you ever get for nothing will be any good to you."

A. C. Spurr, president of the Monongahela Power company, in advising his employes to vote at an election to determine whether or not the CIO should represent them in bargaining, said "If you don't vote, you still will be controlled by what the others may vote for you."

"The great illusion of recent years has been belief that the Federal government's resources are inexhaustible and free. That illusion is responsible for the grants-in-aid program under which nearly $2½ billion in Federal funds are budgeted for state and local governments in fiscal 1950.

"This program implies that the Federal government has resources outside those available to state and local governments. Actually, all governments, Federal, state and local, must be supported by the wealth and income of the same people. The Federal government has no resources other than these."—National Association of Manufacturers.

Summer Music School Is Being Considered

Well Known Felix Robert Mendelssohn, of Baltimore, Would Be the Teacher

Plans are being discussed here this week for a possible summer school of Music, to commence the first week in July, continuing through September. Courses of 12 lessons each would be given in all instruments of strings, woodwinds and brass.

Felix Robert Mendelssohn, member of the Baltimore Symphony orchestra and first dean of the Baltimore Institute of Musical Arts, has tentatively consented to teach here until the fall season of the Symphony opens in Baltimore. He is considered one of the top artists now living in America and has toured extensively in Europe and South America prior to World War II. A number of local persons are interested in the prospect and it is understood that Mr. Mendelssohn will take both beginners as well as advanced students. In order that he will know in advance if a sufficient number plan to take a course, prospects are being urged to contact the Music Shop in Oakland for further information. The school will be conducted, only if enough students are interested, it was pointed out.

Ford Official Speaks

Adam Appel, of Pittsburgh, Pa., Assistant District Manager of the Pittsburgh Division of the Ford Motor company, was the speaker at the Oakland Rotary club on last Friday evening.

Mr. Appel, who was introduced by Mason J. Glotfelty, spoke on the "Characteristics of a Leader." He mentioned ten points on how to be a better leader, grouping the characteristics as follows: He is emotionally adult, sure of his abilities, makes decisions easily, leads his people, has good judgment, is adaptable, is consistent, knows what he wants, is a good planner, has a fine sense of humor. And then Mr. Appel added another point to the ten above mentioned by saying, "He must stand up and breathe."

President Reaford Purbaugh announced that in the attendance contest, which has been under way since the first of January and which ends with June 24, that the Gold and Silver teams are exactly even in points. There were two visiting Rotarians and Dr. W. W. Grant had with him his son, Lt. William Grant.

Graduates with Honors

Charles Walworth, Charleston, W. Va., son of a former Oakland resident, was graduated June 1st from Charleston High school with high honors, being valedictorian and president of his class. He received the Bausch and Lomb award, National Honor Society, Quill and Scroll, and was co-editor of the Portfolio, school literary magazine. He had a poem "Flame", published in the annual anthology of high school poetry with an honorable mention.

He will follow his father's footsteps this fall by entering Cornell University and majoring in chemistry. His father, C. A. Walworth, is chief chemist for the Libby-Owens Ford glass company of Charleston. His mother is the former Miss Fanny Newman, formerly of Oakland.

Women of St. Matthew's guild served a luncheon at noon.

Miss Joanne Fisher, member of the graduating class of Friendsville high school, received her diploma last Thursday evening while on a cot in the balcony of the auditorium.

The student had an attack of appendicitis on Thursday afternoon at the school. In order to be present that evening her father carried her on a cot to the balcony where she received her diploma. She was then taken to Memorial hospital on Friday morning where she underwent an operation.

She is the daughter of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Paul W. Fisher, of Oakland, formerly of Friendsville.

BRINER OUTLINES RAILROAD DAY OF CENTENNIAL

B. & O. Glee Club To Give Concert and President Roy B. White to Speak

Singing by the B. and O. Glee club, and an address by Roy B. White, president of the railroad, were among the features of B. and O. railroad day of the Oakland Centennial, it was announced by Charles L. Briner, committee chairman for that day.

Mr. Briner conferred with R. M. VanSant, director of public relations of the B. and O. system in Oakland, last Thursday, and a program for the day was mapped out. B. and O. Day in the Centennial celebration, August 8 to 14, is Thursday, August 11.

From the schedule outlined the Glee club and B. and O. officials will arrive on train No. 11, at 12:46.

The Oakland band will play from 1:30 to 2 p. m., after which the Glee club will sing from 2 to 2:30. President White is scheduled to speak from 2:30 to 3, after which the Glee club will render another half-hour concert. A stage and steps are to be provided for the Glee club and speaking.

Mr. Briner also advised that the railroad would provide two floats for at least one parade during Centennial week, and possibly for all parades that week. Arrangements were being attempted to get the Cincinnatian to stop here each day of Centennial Week, August 8 to 14.

Briner said his committee also was trying to arrange for a tour which would include Herrington Manor, Swallow Falls and Deep Creek Lake, for the railroad officials and Glee club members, which would total 60 or more. In case of rain, B. I. Gonder offered the use of the theatre to the commission for the concert. Piano accompaniment is to be provided by Paul Stockman, of the Music Shop.

Earlier Fishing Dates Sought For Deep Creek Lake

At the request of a number of landowners around Deep Creek Lake, a special meeting of the Western Maryland Wildlife Federation will be held at Point View Inn on the lake this evening at 8 o'clock to discuss the possibility of having Deep Creek Lake legally opened for fishing on June 1, instead of July 1, the present date.

Landowners and sportsmen were of the opinion that if Lakes Prettyboy and Roland near Baltimore were open for bass fishing on June 1 there is no reason why the season could not be advanced at Deep Creek Lake.

Representatives of more than 20 clubs are expected to attend, and Harry J. Barton, of Pinto, newly appointed game commissioner from Western Maryland, has been invited. A meeting of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission is to be held next month in Baltimore, and views of the sportsmen of Western Maryland in regard to Deep Creek Lake are to be presented at this meeting.

Large Number Hear Arthurdale Choir

The a cappella choir of the Community church of Arthurdale, W. Va., presented a program of church music to a large congregation in St. Mark's Lutheran church last Sunday evening.

The choir was under the direction of Rev. Felix G. Robinson, until recently the pastor of the church, who is now residing in Oakland. The choir is composed mostly of high school boys and girls numbering about 30. About twenty participated in Sunday night's concert.

The auditorium and balcony of the church were filled for the presentation.

Advertising In Program Reaches $4,500 Total

Advertising in the Centennial program thus far has reached a total of $4,500, according to a report of Miss Susy Smith, solicitor, given last Friday night to the central committee of the Centennial Commission.

Miss Smith urged advertisers in Oakland and elsewhere who were interested in having an advertisement appear in the program, and who had not already been contacted, to make their wants known right away as the book would have to be completed in the near future.

Dates Re-Established On Camping Trip Of Famous Men

As efforts went forth to interest Henry Ford II in providing some kind of a plaque to be erected at the Swallow Falls-Muddy Creek Falls area to indicate where Henry Ford I camped with other celebrities, Thomas A. Edison and Harvey Firestone, a search of the files of The Republican re-established the definite dates that they were here.

Actual camping at Swallow Falls was done the latter part of July in 1921, according to stories appearing in the issue of July 28 and August 4 of that year. The three famous men, accompanied by John Borroughs stopped in Oakland in August of 1918, but tarried only for a short time, continuing toward Elkins, W. Va., where they headed for the Great Smoky mountains in Tennessee.

From a story of August 22, the group also was accompanied by Edwin N. Hurley, chairman of the U. S. Shipping board; Charles B. Hansford, U. S. Intelligence bureau; Prof. R. J. H. DeLoch, agricultural expert of Chicago. The party occupied three Packard cars and carried their camping equipment on two trucks. Mr. Ford chopped wood and built the campfire while Mr. Edison arranged electric lights for the camp by connecting wire with the batteries of the automobiles. They were the first electric lights to be used in a camp in this section.

The issue of July 28, 1921, said Ford's party was composed of himself, his son, Thomas A. Edison and H. S. Firestone. The caravan was composed of several large trucks, touring cars and other motors numbering eight in all. They arrived July 26, and headed for Swallow Falls. Later it was learned that there were eleven members in the party with 15 attendants. The members included Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Edison, Mrs. Firestone, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Firestone, Jr.

Mason Glotfelty and C. C. Reckard, local Ford dealers, have secured information about the trip and have written to Henry Ford II suggesting a plaque. Mr. Glotfelty said that if a suitable plaque was provided the Oakland Rotary club would be responsible for its erection on a suitable spot. This would be done in time for the Centennial celebration, it was stated.

There had been much speculation as to the year of the local camping trip, the time ranging from 1917 through 1922.

Three Will Attend Girls' State Conference

A school of citizenship and Americanism training known as Girls' State, will be attended this year by three girls from this area, it was announced by the American Legion Auxiliary.

They are Mona Lou Evans, Mt. Lake Park, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association; Gladys Wensel, route 1, sponsored by the Business and Professional Womens club; and Delores Jean Ream, route 1, sponsored by Proctor Kildow auxiliary No. 71.

Eligibility is limited to girls who will have completed their third year of high school work when the camp convenes at Annapolis, July 13. The camp will close on July 16. Girls are to be housed at Carvel Hall and all sessions will be held in the State house. They will learn about government, study duties of various offices, participate in non-partisan political campaigns, elect a girl governor and other officials.

In Need of Rain

The Oakland area was still in desperate need of rain to aid growing crops. Other scattered areas of the county were well supplied during the week with thunder showers and in some parts even hail fell.

The government station at Weber's showed a total of eight-tenth of an inch of rain on the 12th, .02 on the 13th. The high reading of the week was 82 degrees, on the 12th.

Bond Sales Reach $40,985

Total sales in the Opportunity drive for U. S. Savings bonds reached a total of $40,985 as of June 4, it was announced by H. C. Riggs, county chairman. The total showed Garrett county in 15th place with 53.9 percent of its quota of $76,000 in "E" bonds sold.

Maryland went to sixth place in the nation from twenty-third in percentage increase in the sale of bonds in May as compared to April, according to the latest official treasury report.

To Be Installed

The Rev. Verle C. Schumacher will be installed as pastor of the Lutheran churches in the Aurora charge, Sunday evening, June 19, at 7:30. Dr. William P. Cline, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Clarksburg, W. Va., will be the officiating minister.

Pastor Schumacher was born in West Leechburg, Pa., in 1924, and in 1945 received his Bachelor of Arts Degree at Thiel College, Greenville, Pa. On May 13th of this year, he completed his work in the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg and was ordained at Jackson's Mill, W. Va., on May 17th.

Prior to his call to Aurora, Rev. Schumacher served a clinical year as assistant pastor of Luther Place Memorial Church, Washington, D. C., and as the summer supply in Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, Westernport in 1948.

The sermon at the morning service will be entitled, "On Having This Ministry."

MAN WHO HELD POLICE AT BAY SENTENCED TO EIGHTEEN MONTHS

Webster House Pleads Guilty To Charge of Resisting Arrest

Webster House, 22, was given 18 months in the House of Correction by Magistrate H. A. Loraditch, when he pleaded guilty yesterday morning to a charge of resisting arrest.

House held authorities at bay for more than an hour on Tuesday evening with a pistol at his barricaded apartment home in the Naylor building, corner of Wilson and Liberty streets.

Sheriff J. S. Teats, who went to the home Tuesday after the unemployed quarry worker's wife had obtained a warrant for his arrest on drunk and disorderly conduct charges, said House told him "Nobody will take me unless they take me dead," as he waved a pistol at Teats from his second-floor window.

Mrs. House told Teats she and her husband moved into the house on Tuesday and that her husband had been drinking during the course of the day and started breaking furniture. She then obtained the warrant from Magistrate Loraditch and reported that when she started back to the house her husband pointed a .22-calibre target pistol at her and her two children from the upstairs window.

When Teats went to the home to arrest House the latter pointed the gun in his direction and shouted that he would not be taken alive. The second floor apartment entrance was locked and Teats said he tried to reason with House from the sidewalk for more than an hour. City policeman William Sheets was on the scene by this time but neither could make any headway. State police were then summoned.

When State Troopers Glen D. Folk and Milton Hart arrived they called to House to surrender but he refused. Teats helped Hart climb through a transom over the apartment door far enough to unlock the door. Teats, Hart, Folk and Sheets then entered the apartment. House was in a bedroom and threw his weapon under the mattress of a bed and made no attempt to resist arrest.

Teats said House's gun was loaded with nine cartridges, but that he had not fired it. At one time while still on the street Teats had persuaded House to throw down his gun and he withdrew the cartridges, but suddenly decided against it and reloaded while standing in front of the open window. At that time Teats said House told him not to try to come up and get him as he also had a rifle there.

The disturbance caused more than the usual interest in the neighborhood as the first report was to the effect that a convict had barricaded himself in a house that was being moved on Second street. Housewives began to close and lock their own entrances.

Lieut. C. W. Magaha, state police Troop B, commander and First Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale barracks arrived on the scene as House was captured. They were equipped with tear gas, shotguns and other riot equipment.

At the hearing Wednesday morning House told Magistrate Loraditch that he didn't intend to use the gun. The magistrate replied that "nobody knew that but you," and proceeded to pronounce sentence. House was under a six months' parole at the time on a previous charge of having beaten his wife. Mr. and Mrs. House resided until Tuesday at the home on Oak street which was the scene of a murder and suicide two weeks ago. At that time he told a representative of The Republican, "We're going to get out of here. This place is too tough for me."

News Release Arouses Centennial Interest

The first news release issued by the publicity committee of the Oakland Centennial Commission, Inc., has aroused interest in the feature writing department of the Baltimore Sun.

The release was mailed on Monday, and on Tuesday, Rev. Felix Robinson, who is mentioned in the release as author of the ballad "Song of Oakland", received a telephone call from a Sun feature writer.

This was taken to indicate that interest in the music and pageantry of the centennial would have a wide appeal and create the spark that would bring many people here to witness their presentation.

Webster House sits in his second floor apartment window in the Naylor building, Wilson and Liberty streets, and defies Sheriff J. S. Teats and Officer William Sheets. Teats talked in vain for an hour in an attempt to get House to let them arrest him peaceably, and at one time persuaded him to unload his gun, but on a sudden impulse he reloaded.

House is shown being led away to the county jail after state police had gained entrance to his apartment and cornered him in a bedroom. Left to right are Trooper Milton Hart, who climbed through transom far enough to unlock door, Sheriff J. S. Teats, the prisoner, and Trooper Glenn Folk.

Truck Destroyed

A large dump truck owned by Artenis Harsh, of Eglon, W. Va., being operated on the relocation project north of town, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday afternoon about 4:45 o'clock when it went over an embankment and ignited.

Mr. Harsh, driver of the vehicle, jumped when the wheels became locked and he saw that the accident could not be averted. The truck was loaded with stone at the time.

Oakland firemen were called to the vicinity of King's Run, where the accident occurred.

Awarded Scholarship

Announcement that Miss Barbara Winters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Winters, had been awarded a full senatorial scholarship to Western Maryland college, was made this week by Senator Neil C. Fraley.

Miss Winters was graduated from Oakland High school last week.

John Murphy, Jr., also has been awarded a one-year scholarship to the University of Maryland, which will complete his course there. Other appointments have not yet been announced.

Form New Corporation

As of June 1, the Mountain Lake Motor company, a Maryland corporation, was formed by Carlton J. Callis, of Mt. Lake Park, and Truman W. Ashby, of Kingwood, W. Va., former garage business man there.

The new company will own and operate the business formerly known as the Callis Service station in Mt. Lake Park. A new building is under construction and substantial expansion of buildings and facilities is planned. The company has the agency for the Nash automobile, and will carry on regular garage business.

To Preach Sunday

Capt. Paul G. Linaweaver, U. S. Navy chaplain and former rector of St. Matthew's parish, will be at the church in Oakland on Sunday morning. He will have charge of the 8 o'clock celebration of Holy Communion and the 11 o'clock preaching service.

Conquest of Death

Lesson for June 19, 1949

DOCTORS TALK about conquering death, but they never do. All they can manage is to put it off a little. In all the long sad story of mankind there is only one absolute conquest of death. It happened on the first Easter morning, and it was a turning point in the history of the world. The few lines about the Resurrection, in our New Testament, would not cover the front page of this newspaper. We do not know all we want to know. But those few lines tell us enough to set us singing, they are a solid foundation for a soaring faith.

The Mighty Act of God

WE shall be disappointed if we expect the Gospels to "explain" the Resurrection. If there is anything the stories show clearly, it is that the first persons who knew of the Resurrection were confused and shaken by it. The disciples had not expected anything like this, and they may not fully have understood what was going on.

What they were sure of, what they could not deny, was first of all that Christ rose from the dead, and also that it was God who raised him from the dead. God had beaten the one unbeatable power — death. Death, the universal conqueror, turned out for once to be the conquered.

It is only those who can believe in an all-powerful God who can fully believe in the Resurrection.

It Is The Lord

WHAT MANNER of person was Jesus, after that first Easter morning? There were some differences hard to describe, and in fact not described, only hinted at. You notice that at times it was not easy to recognize him at first. Paul refers to Christ's "glorious body" and surely there must be a glory in a person who has actually proved too strong for death to hold—a glory such as even Christ, before Calvary, had not shown. And yet—and yet, it was the same Jesus they had always known.

No Ghost

BY NIGHT, in many a "seance," mediums "profess to get in touch with the spirits of the dead. If you could believe the spiritists, Shakespeare and Queen Victoria and innumerable other famous people, have come back and talked from beyond the grave. But the thing that makes the Christian church more than doubtful about such performances, is that somehow the dead-and-come-back genius is never a genius any more. Neither Shakespeare nor any other famous person has said anything worth saying through a "medium." And even these feeble ghosts cannot endure the daylight. They have to come at night.

How different were the comings of Jesus! There was nothing weird or uncanny about him. Around the supper table, or on an afternoon walk, or out on the lake shore under the morning sun . . . never the poor mumbling ghost of a seance, never any stupid trifles from his lips, but words of truths and comfort which the church cherishes as among the best from our Lord's mind. Jesus' resurrection is not the story of the survival of a ghost, still less the mere return of a revived and walking corpse.

It is the story of a Divine Person who conquered death, and who came back from that conquest in power and majesty, yet with all the tenderness, love and brilliance he had ever shown.

Our Hope in Him

PAUL (in I Cor. 15) makes it clear that our hope of life-beyond-death grows right out of Christ's resurrection. The enemies of Christ would have given their right eyes to stop the mouths of the men who told that story, and to prove it a lie.

But they could never do it. You cannot well stop people from believing what they have seen with their own eyes. So our hope of eternal life is not just a hope.

As Paul says, if that were all, we should be miserable men.

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

The Pennsylvania railroad announced that 15,000 men would be laid off as a result of work stoppage of John L. Lewis' coal miners and general current decline in business.

New Publications For Farmers And Homemakers Issued

Four new publications of interest to farmers and their families have been issued by the Extension Service of the University of Maryland. Their titles are: "Sprays for Home Fruit Plantings," "Control Tomato Diseases," "Games for 4-H Club Meetings," and "Home Demonstration Program Serves Maryland Families." Free copies are available at county agent and home demonstration agent offices in this county.

"Sprays for Home Fruit Plantings" is useful to people who have one or two fruit trees, or a small orchard. It tells how to protect the trees from insects and diseases. Designated as Bulletin 125, it has sections on strawberries and raspberries, as well as on apples, peaches, pears, grapes, cherries, and plums.

Complete information on spraying tomatoes to prevent disease is given in Extension Leaflet L-2, "Control Tomato Diseases." It was written by Dr. C. E. Cox and Dr. L. O. Weaver of the University of Maryland, and includes a suggested spray or dust calendar for tomatoes.

Leaflet number L-1 is called "Home Demonstration Program Serves Maryland Families," and it describes the homemaking phase of the Extension Service. The publication on games for 4-H Club meetings is Extension Bulletin 123. It describes over fifty games suitable for both indoor and outdoor meetings.

Single copies of these bulletins will be sent free to residents of Maryland who request them from either their local county agent office or the Bulletin Room, Extension Service, College Park.

Good Pasture Management Needed

Good pasture management is important to farmers who want to provide abundant grazing throughout the pasture season. According to Stanley P. Stabler, Extension agronomist at the University of Maryland, it is easy to grow lush pasture in the spring, but it takes careful planning and good management to provide plenty of nutritious grazing during the hot, dry summer.

One way that farmers can help assure full-season grazing is to fence off the pasture into small units. One unit is grazed at a time. The units should be small enough so that the growth can be eaten off in a reasonably short time and then allowed to recover while the animals graze another field. Size of each section depends on the number and type of animals, the type of pasture, the fertility of the land, and the season.

"Some of our best Maryland farmers," says Mr. Stabler, "provide continuous grazing throughout a long pasture season by the careful rotation of animals on a succession of different pastures. These may be bluegrass, orchard-grass and ladino, lespedeza, and red clover aftermath. It is particularly important that ladino clover not be grazed too closely for too long a period, and none of the pastures should be grazed too late in the fall."

Another important phase of pasture management is frequent mowing. The best time to mow a pasture is about two or three days before the animals are removed. The animals will eat some of the mowed grass, and the pasture plants get an even start in their recovery.

Other important pasture management practices are spreading the droppings with a chain of spiked-tooth harrow once or twice a year and proper fertilization.

Just how high is "HIGH COMPRESSION" ?

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

Your key to Greater Value

WHEN the talk turns to cars and car engines these days, that's a topic you hear much about.

So it's fairly interesting to note that, even back before the war, Buick engines like this one were touring the testing grounds with compressions as high as 10 to 1.

Even later than that this same big Buick power plant has been filling our engineers' notebooks with data on 8 to 1 compression ratios.

What has come out of this? Two or three interesting points.

First of all, that this big Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight already has a compression ratio that gets as much out of present fuels as any engine on the market.

Next, that these ratios can readily be stepped up to fit higher octane gasolines as they become available.

And probably most important of all, that high compression is only one measurement of a good engine.

There's the fundamental matter of engine efficiency—power output per cubic inch of displacement, engineers call it. On that score, Buick stands where it always has—just about tops in its field!

Which means, in very simple words—better go see for yourself.

The fun you get from your car—the pleasure and satisfaction it gives you—are best measured in just one place—behind the wheel.

So we invite you to see your Buick dealer for a firsthand test of Buick. Take it in your own two hands and find out how good it feels, how full of get-up-and-go.

It won't take long to make it pretty clear that the place to get your order in is the place where you get Buick power.

Marriages and Divorces Decline

"Both the marriage rate and the divorce rate in Maryland have apparently started a downward trend after the war-created peak established in 1946," Dr. A. W. Hedrich Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Maryland State Department of Health, has just announced. "Although it has not been possible to make detailed studies of the reasons behind the changes of recent years it is generally recognized that marriages and divorces tend to increase in times of prosperity and to decline in hard times.

"The number of marriages more than doubled during the period between 1939 and the peak year of 1946 when 69,472 marriages were performed, probably to a considerable extent because of the large scale return of veterans from World War II. Since that time the number of marriages has declined by nearly a fifth, there having been 60,181 marriages in 1947 and 56,177 in 1948. During the first quarter of 1949 the downward trend continued when compared with statistics for the corresponding period last year.

"The number of divorces increased similarly up to the peak year of 1946 when 8,408 were granted. Subsequently there has been a decline of about 20 per cent, a total of 6,653 divorces having been granted in 1947 and 5,999 in 1948. Here again the decline continued during the first quarter of 1949.

"The low for both marriages and divorces was reached during the depth of the depression. The lowest figures on record are those for the year 1932 when there were only 22,779 marriages and 1727 divorces, which was less than one third of the figures for the peak year.

"In Maryland there was one divorce in 1948 for every 9.4 marriages, as compared with a ration of one divorce to 4.4 marriages in the country as a whole. This favorable picture was, however, caused in part by the large number of non-resident marriages in Cecil county. Exclusive of that county there was one divorce to every 7.4 marriages.

"Baltimore City contributed only 29 percent of the marriages performed in 1948, although it contains half of the State's population. Marriages and divorces have recently declined more sharply in Baltimore City than in the counties."

Has Had Lots to Do With Early Life

In continuing the series of the older residents of Oakland who have contributed materially to the growth and prosperity of the town, the one listed above, Miss Julia Lawton, has had a lot to do with the earlier life of many of its citizens.

As a practical nurse through the years she has "been around" at the birth of 500 or more infants and upon 10 or 12 occasions delivered the children herself in the absence of a regular physician.

Born in Philadelphia, Pa., October 1, 1868, she moved to Oakland in 1870 with her parents, Samuel and Margaret Lawton, and resided here most of that time since with the exception of the last seven years which she has spent in Keyser, W. Va.

Having trained as a practical nurse at Morgantown, she was for many years the right hand assistant for scores of physicians and endeared herself to many families. She also kept herself more than busy by working for nine years in the woolen mill which her father managed in Oakland for many years. She was attracted for a short time to Clarksburg and Webster, W. Va., also to work in the woolen mills there.

She was a member of a family of four brothers and seven sisters, and now only she and Mrs. M. L. Trenton, of Keyser, remain. She has been a faithful member of the Methodist church.

AURORA-EGLON

Last rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Davis Funeral home at Clarksburg for Mrs. Charles Stewart, 67, who died Saturday evening, June 11, in a Clarksburg hospital where she had been a patient for two weeks. Death followed a lingering illness. Mrs. Stewart was born in Portland, O., a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sayre. She was twice married. Her first husband, Lyman Taggart died in 1918. Immediate survivors are her second husband, Charles W. Stewart, of Aurora; one son, Mack Taggart, of Madina, O.; two grandchildren, three brothers, Floyd, of Clarksburg; Dillon, of Huntington, and Thomas, of Portland, O.; and three sisters, Mrs. M. E. Martin, of Mansfield, O.; Mrs. J. H. Rheun, of Huntington, and Mrs. B. D. Davies, of Parkersburg. Burial was in the Bridgeport cemetery.

Her brother, Floyd Sayre, a Clarksburg photographer, made the photos of the seniors of the Aurura High school this year. Several ladies from Aurura and community paid tribute of respect by visiting at the funeral home on Monday. The Stewarts own the Mt. View hotel at Aurora, which they have operated for a number of years. This hotel was formerly owned and operated by the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Lantz.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fike, of Cash Valley, are living in a furnisher apartment in Morgantown where Mr. Fike is engaged as a carpenter. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Harsh moved to their farm home and will manage and operate it during their absence.

Word was received here of the serious illness of Rev. Obed Hamstead at his home in Morgantown.

Mr. and Mrs. William Procter were recent guests at the Dr. Miller home. Mrs. Procter is a daughter of Mrs. Nellie Werner Redabaugh, and a first cousin to Dr. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamstead and two little daughters, of Bridgeport, W. Va., were Sunday guests at the G. B. Hamstead home at Eglon.

Mrs. Tom Sisler, of Crellin, is remaining at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Wilhelm, at Eglon. Mrs. Sisler is indisposed but appears to be improved.

Dr. W. P. Cline, of St. Mark's Lutheran church, of Clarksburg, will conduct worship service at the Aurora Lutheran church Sunday evening, June 19, beginning at 7:30. During this service the Rev. Verle Schumacher will be installed as pastor of the Aurora charge.

The Methodist Aid society of the Aurora church is sponsoring a spa- 17, at the Community building. Come ghetti supper Friday evening, June and bring your friends.

Has No Liking For Loyalty Pledges

Dear Editor:

Several weeks ago you ran a story disclosing the signing of loyalty check affidavits by all school Board employees. The article was entitled: "School Employes Must Refute Any Subversive Tendency."

This whole idea of loyalty checks is one of the most provoking and disturbing things that has ever swept across the United States. It is strictly unAmerican because the whole idea of democracy is based upon the assumption that a man is innocent until he is proven false. This loyalty check condemns a man on the basis of what he might do in the future and not on what he has done.

This loyalty check also discourages reform which, more often than not, is a good thing. I do not believe that we should use force for reform, but at the same time, the person who has signed a loyalty check is afraid to discuss honestly and sincerely some of the things he believes to be true. If he gave anyone, particularly his employers, the slightest inkling that he was advocating peaceful reform, he would probably lose his job. What kind of a social order is this so-called free enterprise democracy?

What I'm suggesting is that human reason and human understanding are the greatest of all forces on the earth and when we, here in the United States, learn that it is necessary for us to share some of our good fortune with others, we shall have found the secret to most of our problems today.

We are not really afraid of Russia when we make a loyalty check. We are afraid of losing our prosperity in a world where most of the people are going hungry. Let us quit spending time, money, and energy worrying about what is and isn't a subversive tendency in an individual. Let us build a positive program by sharing our ideas freely; by sharing our food and clothing with those who have little; and above all, by sharing our confidence in other human beings, believing that they are innocent until proven guilty.

Robert C. Gnegy, Rec.
Secretary, National Conference of Methodist Youth of Washington, D. C.

Suggests Interesting Stories of Experiences

To the Editor:

It would be interesting to readers of The Republican if some of the older residents of the community would write a story or an experience which took place in one's early life in the county.

We have news items of years back but stories of the individual that can be recalled but have never appeared in print, would be of interest to readers. Come on, think back, tell one of your own experiences. Mrs. B. H. Sincell is number one on the voluntary list.

"One of my earliest experiences when a very little child when visiting in Oakland was standing in an old doorway in what is now the First National Bank, when an old but dignified man (Mr. Pat Hamill it proved to be) with a high silk hat, came by, walking with a cane. Pointing it at me he said in a very loud voice, 'Whose little girl are you?' I did not stop to answer but ran into the James Bishop store crying. Mr. Bishop told his young clerk to get me a stick of candy. Years after, that young clerk became my husband, and I have lived in Oakland over 50 years."

DAD'S THE LAD!

It's a pretty gesture, of course, to fence off a day a year for Father. But, actually, every working day is Father's Day. For Dad's the lad who makes the money to pay the way for the family.

Like everybody else, Dad worries about the high cost of living. Everything costs so much! Everything but electricity, of course. We'd like to remind Dad—and you, too—that electricity is the one item in the family budget that still gives high living value at penny prices.

Yes, a penny invested in electric service will do any one of these things for you—

Tell you the time for about a week — Do half a week's washing — Light a 100-watt bulb for more than 3 hours — Vacuum clean 6 large rugs

Disease Control For Tomatoes Outlined

The battle to protect home garden tomatoes against disease should start about 4 weeks after the plants have been set and should continue until the crop is harvested. Dusts or sprays containing copper fungicides should be put on at about weekly intervals—more frequently if the weather is cold and damp, less frequently during hot dry weather, according to plant pathologists at the University of Maryland.

The specialists stress that all the leaves, stems and fruits should be covered with a very fine, uniform layer of spray or dust. The materials may be purchased in small packages and the manufacturer's directions should be followed. Equipment need not be expensive; knapsack or other compressed air sprayers are satisfactory and so are the plunger or rotary type dusters.

Other reminders to the home gardener as he girds for the annual battle are: (1) do not use spray materials for dusting or prepared dusts as wet sprays. (2) spray at any time of day, but apply dusts when the plants are wet with dew, (3) do not use a sprayer in which weed killers have been used, and (4) clean the sprayer after use.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

Shameful Servility

A more unpleasant exhibition of political servility than that of the Democratic leaders in Congress last week would be hard to imagine. It was an utterly unconcealed performance, too—right out in the open. Strangely, it got slight newspaper attention.

Reference is to the extraordinary manner in which, after the unctuous Mr. Philip Murray, head of the CIO, cracked the whip over their backs, these Democratic leaders cravenly swung away from the position they had assumed and obsequiously chorused, in effect: "Yes, Mr. Murray"; "Yes, indeed, Mr. Murray"; "You are perfectly right, Mr. Murray"; "We are in complete accord with you, Mr. Murray." Previously they had given every evidence of not being in the least accord with Mr Murray. On the contrary, they had publicly promulgated the view that most of Mr. Truman's fantastic "Fair Deal" program was doomed as far as this session is concerned.

Publicly, Mr. Truman rejected this notion—though there is reason to believe he privately accepted its truth. He piously hoped at a press conference that most of his proposals would be enacted before adjournment. Paying slight attention to this, Administration leaders declared that only the North Atlantic pact, the reciprocal trade agreements and the Taft-Hartley repeal could be acted upon at this session. Everything else would have to go over until next fall. Adjournment would be not later than July 31. That was the way things stood up to May 31. On that day, speaking as one with authority, Mr. Murray sternly rebuked the Democratic leadership. He abruptly ordered it to halt its "drift toward congressional inaction." He called upon it for a "forthright statement" of its purpose to stay in session "until substantial sections" of the "Fair Deal" program are enacted. He sneered at the "reputation" of the Eighty-first Congress and sharply criticized its leaders.

The immediate result was a stampede to reverse themselves. Mr. Murray's May 31 statement was in letters to Senate Leader Scott Lucas and House Leader John McCormack. On June 1, Mr. McCormack replied to Mr. Murray substantially as follows: "I am in receipt of your letter and there is nothing in it with which I am not in full agreement." With equal speed, Senator Lucas replied that much of what Mr. Murray demanded had already passed the Senate (which is not at all accurate) and that it was the House that lagged. "If, however," he said, "it is impossible to pass the major measures demanded by July 31, we will extend the time for adjournment."

Other leaders followed with similar stultifying declarations. Literally, over night their attitude changed. But the realities of course have not changed. It is just as true as before that the bulk of Mr. Truman's domestic program will not go through at this session—first, because sentiment in the country does not favor it; second, because a majority of Congress is opposed. Mr. Murray, with his solemn mandate, has not changed a single vote in Congress but he has accomplished two things. For one, he compelled the Democratic leadership publicly to put on a show of shameful subservience such as has not been seen in our politics before. Of course, since 1936 the Democrats, nationally, have been allied with the CIO and acquiesced in its claim of being indispensable to Democratic success. But, previously, there had been no uncamouflaged admission that they took orders from it.

That is exactly what the party leaders have done this time. A considerable number of their followers are humiliated. It is one thing, they say, to play politics with the CIO; it is quite another to submit openly to CIO dictation. The second thing Mr. Murray has accomplished is to postpone Senate action on the terribly important North Atlantic pact, for which Secretary of State Acheson and General Marshall have earnestly appealed. Until he cracked the whip and the leaders jumped through his hoop, the pact had the right of way in the Senate. Due to the unselfish patriotism of Mr. Murray and the noble nature of the Democratic leaders it has now lost priority and the Taft-Hartley repeal proposal has taken its place. This may mean weeks of labor-bill debate before the pact can be taken up at all. At a very critical moment this has weakened our hand at the Paris conference. In his statement Mr. Murray mentioned practically everything else but significantly said no word for the pact, perhaps the most vital of all Administration measures.

The pathetic feature of this mortifying Democratic performance is that it is so completely unnecessary. Fear of Mr. Murray is so completely unfounded. Politically, he is a bluff, a bully and a fraud. As proven in the last campaign (in which the CIO pledged itself to drive out of public life every candidate for Congress who had supported the Taft-Hartley Bill), he is totally unable to deliver his own votes. The claims of his organization are demonstrably absurb. As shown by the 1948 Dunn surveys in some states and many districts CIO support is more a liability than an asset. It all adds up to make Democratic leaders in Congress seem a particularly pusillanimous lot of rabbits.

Protection Against Typhoid Fever Urged

"Now is the time for those who plan to enjoy swimming and camping during the summer months to protect themselves against typhoid fever," Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, reminds Maryland devotees of the outdoor life. "Persons who have not already taken this precaution should go to their family physicians for immunization now, so that their immunity will have time to develop fully before the vacation season is in full swing.

"Inoculation against typhoid fever is needed by all persons who have not received this protection since '46. A physician can immunize patients quickly and safely, usually by means of three 'shots' given at intervals of one week. Since immunity conferred in this way lasts only about three years all residents of this State who enjoy swimming, camping and outdoor picnics during the summer season are strongly advised to repeat the treatment every third year in order to maintain continuous immunity.

"Although there have been phenomenal reductions in the incidence of typhoid fever during recent decades, personal immunity is still highly desirable for those indulging in outdoor pleasures that may take them away from approved sources of water supply or safe food and milk. Clear and sparkling water is not necessarily safe to drink—or even to swallow in small quantities while swimming. Camps and picnic grounds may present unsuspected threats to health even though their proprietors make a conscientious effort to supervise them carefully.

"Typhoid fever is transmitted from one person to another by means of milk, food and water that has been contaminated by discharges from a person suffering from the disease or from an apparently healthy carrier. Community efforts to improve sanitation, isolate patients and supervise the activities of carriers have resulted in a great decrease in cases and deaths since the beginning of the twentieth century. The fact that there were 48 known cases and five deaths attributed to typhoid fever in Maryland during 1948, according to provisional figures now available, indicates, nevertheless, that there remains a need for continued vigilance and that immunization is a desirable protection for individuals who may be exposed to the disease."

The cub scout minimum age for entrance was reduced to 8 years by the Boy Scouts of America.

Hay Cutting Rules Given

Three reasons for allowing stands of alfalfa to become mature before cutting were given today by Conrad Liden, of the Agronomy Department, University of Maryland. Too early cutting reduces the amount of nutrients harvested, produces a hay that is harder to cure, and may injure the stand, he warns.

As a general rule, Liden recommends that for the first cutting alfalfa should be in one-fourth bloom. The second cutting should be delayed until one-half of the plants are in blossom and the third cutting should be no later than thirty to forty days before the first killing frost. In no case, should the last cutting be made after September 10.

For red clover Liden says that maximum yields may be obtained if the field is cut when in half bloom. This means that Timothy in the clover stand will be slightly past maturity when cut.

Recommendations for other kinds of hay are: Soybeans, cut just as the lower pods begin to form beans or cut before the lower leaves begin to drop severly. Lespedeza may be cut as a perennial hay plant if cutting is done in August or early September and reseeding allowed from the aftermath. The best quality Lespedeza hay is obtained if the crop is cut when the lower blooms have begun to drop.

The Thirteenth W. Va. pen fugitive was recaptured, leaving only one still at large.

DELINQUENCY

We hear much about juvenile delinquency and the statement is repeatedly made that juvenile delinquency is a result of adult delinquency.

Perhaps the current discussion concerning time may serve to illustrate.

Delinquents are persons who for one reason or another ignore and violate the laws by which Americans enjoy their freedom.

From the most primitive period, man recognized that the sun seemed to rise in the east each morning and set in the west each evening. As man became more and more acquainted with the facts of life, it was discovered that the earth rotated on its axis every twenty-four hours and revolved around the sun in 365 and a fraction days.

The intermediate point between sunrise and sunset is called noon.

To avoid confusion, the nations of the world long since adopted a rule for the goverance of time calculations and federal and state laws have been enacted to conform with this rule.

Of course, in each community in a free country, the people determine when they will arise, go to work and cease their activities. But the avoidance of confusion has been held desirable and conformity with law has been urged as necessary to the maintenance of our civilization.

Softness and needless self-indulgence have been allowed to play havoc with the inclinations of the less serious portion of our population and so we have a debate as to whether the clock should rule the activities of Americans, or whether its hand should be moved about at the caprice of the movers.

The disregard of law evidenced by this sort of thing has its influence upon our young people—our juveniles—so that disobedience to constituted authority becomes a sort of fad.

If the adults may change the law concerning time, the children may select their own laws for violation—and do.

The example of adults to children ought to be such as will not demoralize the lives of the children.

Perhaps when parents return to obedience to law respecting time, the children will be less inclined to rob and murder.—Reprinted from Somerset Daily American, May 13, 1949.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Amenemhat Was Right

In the interesting pamphlet on the Gulbenkian collection issued by the National Gallery of Art and written by Mr. John Walker, chief curator, Amenemhat I, the great Twelfth Dynasty King of ancient Egypt, is quoted as follows: "Be on thy guard against subordinates; approach them not and be not alone. Trust not a brother, know not a friend and make not for thyself intimates that profiteth nothing. If thou sleepest, do thou, thyself, guard thine heart. For in the day of adversity a man hath no adherents."

—o—

This grim and lonely discipline engendered by one of the great rulers of men is, perhaps, much too drastic to apply to Presidents in this country and in these times. Nevertheless President Truman undoubtedly would benefit if he should grasp the entirely sound idea back of this age-old precept. For a considerable portion of his present troubles stems from his failure to understand that except rarely a President cannot afford to say or write things confidentially and in private he would not say or write publicly. Other men may be blunt and outspoken when surrounded by friends but not a President—anyhow, not without risk.

—o—

"Trust not a brother, know not a friend," as old Amenehmat said, may be too rigid a restriction. But as least a President ought to trust exceedingly few and those only after they have been thoroughly tested. He should select his intimates with great care and in talk with them measure well his words. It would be better if he did not indulge in loose conversation about public men and public affairs with anyone, but under no circumstances should he do so with those not closely bound to him by ties of personal loyalty and friendship. Yet, in the past three weeks he has done exactly that in several instances with resulting embarrassment and damage to himself.

—o—

The first was when he declared that the trouble with Congress was that there were "too many Byrds." Mr. Truman thought when he said that he was having a "confidential conversation." It remained confidential just as long as it took the men to whom he talked to get to their hotel. The effect was highly favorable to Senator Byrd and damaging to Mr. Truman in more ways than one. His friends have not made things better by their strained explanations, the last and lamest of which is that the President was speaking humorously. Very soon after that Mr. Truman held another "confidential conversation" with a congressman from Wisconsin who began to apologize for the senators from his State. "Oh," said Mr. Truman, in effect, "they are pretty bad but not the worst. The worst pair are from Missouri and the next worst from Indiana. I'll grant you Wisconsin is third." Well, that stayed confidential until the congressman met a newspaper friend from his home State. Now it isn't confidential at all. It did not receive the publicity of the Byrd incident because the criticized senators did not have the same national prominence. But it has been published in a number of papers, and it can be stated that the Messrs. Donnell and Kem, of Missouri; Capehart and Jenner, of Indiana; Wiley and McCarthy, of Wisconsin, are not unaware of it. These are all Republicans, it is true, but Mr. Truman's confidential comments are well calculated to make them personal as well as political enemies.

—o—

The third incident was a "confidential" letter written by Mr. Truman to a labor leader which did not stay confidential more than a short while. Its contents were construed as a criticism of Mr. Truman's House supporters for compromising on his demand for out-right Taft-Hartley repeal. One of these was Speaker Sam Rayburn, of Texas, who had led the Truman fight in the House and the Truman letter was said by unfriendly writers to be a "slap" at Mr. Rayburn. A considerable stink was stirred up and the White House issued a denial that any "slap" had been aimed at anyone. This denial was accompanied by the rather weird explanation that the uncomplimentary interpretation was based on typographical errors.

—o—

As such incidents accumulate, an ill will that is entirely unnecessary increases. Mr. Truman is a simple and sincere man. He has strong likes and dislikes. He loves to speak his mind freely to those he considers friendly. There is something engaging about this quality, about his impulsive off-the-record utterances. But it seems too bad he does not realize that the old Amenemhat was right and that rulers of nations cannot afford to indulge their impulses nor trust even all their intimates. They are not ordinary men. Their power is so great that even their casual words are important and when repeated are always exaggerated. To make Mr. Truman's risk more pronounced there is in Washington that hostile group of "liberal" press columnists, radio commentators and politicians affiliated with the old Roosevelt regime, eager to take advantage of every slip. Another fact is that there are "leaks" in his own Cabinet and even among those, outside the Cabinet, regarded as "close advisers." It would seem that the more Mr. Truman ponders the trouble caused by his wholly natural desire to be sincere and frank with those he likes and the more he thinks about these "leaks," the sounder he must think the Amenemhat precept.

WILLIAM A. STURGISS

One of the residents of Oakland who can remember more of the people of the bygone era than most anyone else is William A. Sturgiss, pharmacist since May 15, 1896. That is the date when fate decreed that he be a pharmacist instead of a physician which he originally set out to be.

Born in Morgantown, W. Va., October 12, 1872, William A. came to Oakland with parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sturgiss, in 1873 and has remained here since that time. The Sturgiss pharmacy was originally in the area where the Manhattan hotel now stands, but later moved to Alder street, west of the present building.

Mr. Sturgiss will talk about most any old timer but himself. He keeps photographs of Oakland's old bands, the old rifle teams, has a dim photo of his store with Martin's horse and buggy taxi to Mt. Lake Park in front of it, also one with a high wheel bicycle. He will talk about history—of other people, but not himself.

Last March 2nd he handled the one millionth prescription over his counter.

His wife was the former Evelyn T. Hocking, of Meyersdale, Pa. They have a daughter, Mrs. David Lind, of Cleveland, and one grandson.

I SEE BY THE DAILIES THAT

Preston Tucker, would-be mass producer of rear engine autos, was indicted on Federal charges of mail fraud, conspiracy, and others.

Drives While Drunk

Walter C. Tasker, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor on Sunday, June 12, at a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch on Monday, and was fined $100 and costs.

He was found guilty of a reckless charge and was fined $4 and costs for this offense.

Rosella Lowery was arrested Saturday night in Oakland on a charge of being drunk and disorderly and was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail.

Red Cross Meeting Scheduled June 21

The annual membership meeting of the members of the Garrett County chapter, American Red Cross, will be held on Tuesday afternoon, June 21, at 1:30 o'clock, in the director's room of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland.

All persons in the county interested in Red Cross are being urged to attend.

Soldier Is Drowned

Funeral services for recruit Clarence F. Crawford, 18, who was drowned at Fort Bragg, N. C., on Wednesday, June 1, were conducted at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at Mt. Storm, in the Methodist church, with Rev. J. E. Hodges officiating. Interment was in Queens Point cemetery, Keyser, W. Va.

Deceased was a son of Vance Crawford, Paw Paw, W. Va., formerly of Mt. Storm and a nephew of Stanley Roderick, of Deer Park.

—o—

A continuing downward drift in economic activity during the past few months was indicated.

In spite of persistent rumors, the charge for my services is the same as that established in 1941.

Recreational Sites On Youghiogheny Are Contemplated

Two possible sites are being considered for development as recreation areas in the vicinity of the Youghiogheny reservoir between Friendsville and Somerfield, according to Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the Maryland State department of Forests and Parks.

Kaylor was authorized by the State Commission of Foresty and Parks, meeting Monday in Cumberland, to negotiate an agreement and contract with the Army corps of Engineers in Pittsburgh.

Sites considered were those at Mill Run and Selbysport. The area was not expected to be ready for recreation before next year but day-use activities such boating, bathing, fishing and picnicking were planned. Cottages were not contemplated, he said.

What is found to be satisfactory on the Youghiogheny reservoir, according to Kaylor, no doubt would be tried on the Savage river once the dam there is completed.

MARRIED

Shaffer-Underwood— Miss Eleanor Jean Underwood, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Golden Underwood, Parkersburg, W. Va., became the bride of Raymond Edmon Shaffer on Sunday afternoon, June 5, at 2 o'clock, in the First Evangelical United Brethren church, Parkersburg. Dr. J. M. Knight, retired minister, read the service.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white duchess satin. Wide Alencon lace formed an off shoulder effect. The skirt fell into a court train at the back. Her veil of nylon was held to her head with a fitted cap and across the front with a coronet of orange blossoms. The veil extended the full length of the train of the gown. The bride carried a cascade of white madonna lilies, white roses centered with a white orchid and outlining it was frilled net.

The bride's attendants wore white gowns. Miss Ruth Ann Mickel, maid of honor, wore white organdy. The gown worn over white taffeta, had a full floor length skirt of marquisette, worn over old fashioned hoops. Her hat was of imported lace. Misses Leah and Lelah Cline, twin sisters of Fairmont, and Mrs. Robert Rexroad, were bridesmaids. They also wore white marquisette gowns over white taffeta. Hats were like that of the maid of honor and all wore long marquisette mitts. They carried large colonial bouquets of white larkspur, white roses with sprays of soft blue delphinium intermingled.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony.

The bride is one of Parkersburg's well known young women. Her father, who served as Parkersburg's mayor a few years ago was recently named by the city council to again fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Carlton Welch. She was educated in Parkersburg schools and is now employed at the Union Trust and Deposit company in that city.

Mr. Shaffer was graduated from Stonewall Jackson high school in Charleston. During World War II he served two and one half years with the U.S. army, most of that time being in the European theater. He is a member of the senior class at Marietta college and will be graduated from there in January. His father was formerly a resident of Crellin.

2,700 At Swallow Falls Area Sunday

Swallow Falls state forest was a favorite spot the past Sunday with total number of visitors reaching 2,700, according to officials of the State Forestry department. There were 500 persons at Herrington Manor. Cars in the Swallow Falls area were from Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, eleven from North Carolina, and at least two cars from California, from a check by Merle Wilt, forest assistant there.

A. R. Bond, assistant state forester, who accompanied H. C. Crellin Loses First Place In League

Elk Garden knocked Crellin out of first place in the Upper Potomac League by defeating the latter 4 to 3 Sunday at Crellin.

Klondyke moved into a first place tie with Elk Garden by swamping Shallmar 15 to 0 in a game halted by rain with one out in the last of the 6th. In other contests, Terra Alta defeated Swanton 9-7, and Oakland downed Kitzmiller 12 to 5.

Clarence Lyons, 16, got credit for his fifth straight victory for Elk Garden. Evans rapped two doubles and Henline two singles for Crellin. A large crowd witnessed the game which was played under protest by Crellin.

Bob Fraley and Rinker had a strikeout duel at Swanton, each whiffing 11 batsmen, with Fraley emerging the winner. Watson smashed a homer for Terra Alta and B. Reckner slammed two doubles for Swanton.

Klondyke racked up 13 hits against Shallmar. Oakland extended its winning streak to four games by defeating Kitzmiller. Bob Glaze who blanked Shallmar on Thursday 11-0, went the route again and took his third win against as many losses. Jimmie Lyons hit a three-run homer in the 8th and Ted James smacked a double and single. Mosser accounted for three of Kitzmiller's 11 hits.

In games last Thursday Bob Glaze hammered a grand slam homer, Ted James hit for the circuit with one aboard and Lyons clouted a three-bagger for the winners in Oakland's game against Shallmar. Klondyke trounced Kitzmiller 18 to 2. Elk Garden defeated Terra Alta 12 to 9.

Games for Thursday, June 16—Terra Alta at Kitzmiller, Oakland at Crellin, Elk Garden at Klondyke and Shallmar at Swanton.

Lloyd's Hill

No. 8—Start from railroad station and enter hotel grounds, crossing the bridge over the little Yough river. Follow the path to the right to the spring house, a quarter of a mile away. This spring is called the Washington, as it never has been successfully denied that Gen. George Washington did not drink of this spring when surveying land in Western Maryland. Cross the stile, the road, and the baseball grounds. To the left a path will be found. Follow it over a brook, and where two paths diverge, take the one to the right. Follow it up the hill and along the ridge. This path is well-defined and almost wide enough for a wagon. It leads straight to a fence, where can be had a view of the railroad winding alongside the little Yough, the bridge over the big Yough, and the mountains beyond. After resting here a few minutes, retrace steps for about a thousand feet or until a narrow path joins the main path on the right. Follow this path up the mountain, past the mass of huge stones and rocks at the top and down the other side, for a mile. This path leads to the big Yough river. Return to Oakland by same route, or cross the river and return by railroad tracks. Five miles.

Drives

No. 8—Old School House—Leave town by Third street and West Union road. Follow latter three miles and take road to right to Old West Union road. Return by latter, stopping at Old School House on brow of hill for view, to junction with West Union road. Follow latter and enter town by Third street. Seven miles.

Excursions

No. 8—Davis—Leave town by Oak street and drive through Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn. Turn to left and follow road to Gorman, twelve miles. Take train on West Virginia Central railroad to Davis. Get dinner at Davis. Return by train to Gorman in the afternoon and drive back to Oakland. The scenery on line of above railroad is wild and magnificent.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

She's only one of twelve

Did you know there are one dozen different kinds of telephone operators serving the people of this state?

Even for those customers with dial service, there's a Long Distance operator nearby to put through out-of-town calls, an "Information" operator to supply telephone numbers not yet listed in the directory. The newest type of operator works at the mobile radio-telephone switchboard, completing calls to and from automobiles and trucks equipped for this kind of service.

Almost everywhere you go, you'll find the "voice with a smile" on the job, providing the friendly, helpful service which has earned her a proud place on the American scene.

Two bells that say, "Come and get it"

Remember the familiar sound of the old dinner-gong? One ring was usually enough to bring the youngsters "a-running."

The telephone bell is another bell that says, "Come and get it." So, when you're sure it's your ring, please answer as promptly as you can. It might be a call you wouldn't want to miss.

Your markets are "right next door" —by Long Distance

Want to compare market prices before you sell your farm produce? Or locate some repair parts for your machinery? The quickest way is to call Long Distance.

Long Distance service is convenient and economical. Most calls go through while you hold the line. See the inside front cover of your telephone directory for some typical low Long Distance rates.

Enlarged Reforestation Program in the Making

A much amplified reforestation program centered around increased production of trees by the state forest nursery is in the making for Maryland, Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the State Department of Forests and Parks, announced following a meeting with the State Commission of Forests and Parks, and Forest Conservancy Board members.

Every board member voiced concern over the lowering water table, but expressed interest in intensive forest fire control, enlarged reforestation and good management of existing lands.

Bernard I. Gonder attended as a member of the Commission, and Virgil Steyer attended as a member of the Garrett County Forest Conservancy board.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

The startling disclosures relating to spies, Communists fellow-travelers and disloyal persons within the government itself were emblazoned last week on the front pages of every newspaper in America and were heard on every radio broadcast.

Even some Congressmen who for years have pooh-poohed and minimized the threat of Communism in this country were aghast at the apparent extent to which the subversives have gone in this nation in recent years. One Congressman remarked that when the Department of Justice, through the Federal Bureau of investigation, began to naming names of prominent men it was time for the average American really to perk up.

Two Congressmen were named by the FBI as Communists or fellow-travelers, according to testimony given in the federal court trial of Judith Coplon, former Department of Justice aide accused of spying while working for Uncle Sam.

Melvyn Douglas, who was codirector with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt of the Office of Civilian Defense during World War II and long has been active in Democratic politics, also was branded a Communist fellow-traveler by the FBI reports, according to the court records.

In New York, where Alger Hiss, a former high New Dealer is being tried for perjury and has been accused of espionage, Whittaker Chambers, the former editor of Time Magazine, named the names of other former federal employes who also are alleged to have passed official documents to him.

On Capitol Hill, a House Committee and two Senate Committees are obtaining startling information regarding other spy rings, or Communist personnel in the federal government. The president, who only a year ago branded all such hearings as a "red herring," is now backtracking. He has even come out in favor of keeping known Communists from teaching in public schools—quite a concession for a man who has been making fun of spy investigations for so long now.

Since the Democrats are controlling the committee hearings at which damaging facts are being uncovered, it would appear that Mr. Truman's charge of a year ago that such spy investigations are for political reasons is utterly without foundation.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities has ferretted out dozens of new names of new former Communists who did work for the government or are now employed in the government.

The joint Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy has elicited some rather startling information from David E. Lilienthal, Director of the Atomic Energy Commission. One former member of this commission virtually endorsed the position of Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.), who had charged Lilienthal with "incredible mismanagement."

It has been disclosed that persons suspected of Communism have been given access to the most confidential files. Lilienthal answered these disclosures by claiming to believe in civil liberty for all men. That hardly is the point. The point is that with 150,000,000 Americans, it hardly seems likely that the AEC would have to hire a hundred persons, more or less, who were even faintly under suspicion of being Communists, fellow-travelers, or remotely connected with subversion in any way. The suspected persons have no vested interest in a job with the Atomic Energy Commission. Mere suspicion, with any foundation whatsoever, should cause them to be bounced, for they can obtain work in private industry, run a farm, or do whatever they want to do in private industry and still continue their leftist or Communistic leanings. It is inexcusable that any person under suspicion—and the FBI does not go around making false charges against individuals—should be kept employed by the AEC.

Every American should ponder deeply the meaning of the treachery that has been nurtured within the very heart of our government and our society. We must work unceasingly both to remove this sore from our body politic and to work for a better nation in which fewer and fewer Americans will want to substitute a free way of life for a totalitarian state.

THE approach of Commencement Day 1949, brings many high school seniors face to face with a big question — what next? There's one big opportunity to which every high school graduate should give serious consideration. This is the career offered you in today's Regular Army.

Few openings in private enterprise offer you the leadership training, the educational advantages, the exciting travel and adventure, the supervised sports and recreation programs and the clean, wholesome, active life that can be yours with an Army enlistment.

Few openings offer you such comradeship with America's finest young men—for today—only the best are acceptable for service in the United States Army.

To win a place in today's Regular Army you must pass physical examinations that are tougher — mental examinations more difficult—than ever before. And with these more rigid requirements you will face keener all-'round competition for assignment to the more than 200 courses offered at Army technical and specialty schools.

The rewards are also greater —opportunity for advancement is limited only by your ability and initiative. Many of today's general officers began their careers as Privates. Some of today's Privates may be our future Generals!

Appointments to Officer's Candidate Schools and to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point are available to those who can make the grade. In what other field can you aspire so high?

You owe it to yourself to get all the facts. See the friendly recruiting officer at your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today. He will be happy to give you full details without any obligation to you.

Improvements Noted In Kempton Mine

Reporting several recent improvements, a Federal coal mine inspector commended the 165 workers and officials of The Davis Coal and Coke Company's 900-ton-a-day No. 42 mine, at Kempton, for progress in eliminating substandard conditions, the Bureau of Mines announced. Some supplementary safeguards were proposed for the mine, which was examined in April by Inspector W. C. Eiduke.

A summary of beneficial changes credited included the removal or support of loose roof at several places, cleaning of several shelter holes, guarding of some exposed belt drives, the elimination of a few power wire contacts, frame grounds for electrical buildings. Work was started to remove coal dust accumulations, Eiduko noted in suggesting the continuation of this cleaning.

Attention to additional unsafe observed and precautions to set timbers before other work is started were recommended along with safer location for the explosives container in one place, firing of all shots or series of shots immediately after charging when blasting on shift, and rock-dusting of dry parts of the A17 section headings and crosscuts.

Recommending a few haulage safeguards, Inspector Eiduke also proposed the elimination of more power-wire contacts, safe anchorage of the trolley wire in a few places, approved controls for conveyors in two sections, permissible junction or distribution boxes in working places, restoration of the permissibility of some electrical equipment and overload protection of some cables, and wearing of goggles by men exposed to flying particles.

LITTLE HANDS AT WORK

Some of the projects for little tots in Daily Vacation Church School might seem to an adult mind to be far removed from religion. For instance, these youngsters are putting together animal cut-outs!

Their teacher tells us that the lesson today was based on the truth; God created heaven and earth. Maybe you could listen to a discourse on that subject for an hour or more (and maybe you couldn't). But a child soon tires of listening . . . he needs a chance to put his hands to work.

And so these little hands are busily engaged in a bit of creative work of their own that will impress the lesson on their minds better than a thousand words.

Your child needs the advantage of, and the stimulation of religious education this summer. Enroll him in one of the Daily Vacation Church Schools that thousands of churches will conduct.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Receive Instructions On Forest Surveys

Men who are to make a forest and game survey for Maryland are receiving instruction this week on how to do it at a school conducted by experts at New Germany. The school was scheduled yesterday and today.

Experts are members of the Northeastern Forest Experiment station, Upper Darby, Pa. Some 30 students from Maryland and adjoining states are attending and include field men from eastern states and personnel of the State Department of Forests and Parks who will make the forest and game survey for Maryland.

Instructions in map reading and aerial photography interpretation to aid crews in determining species and sizes of trees, are being given. Aerial photographs already have been made in Garrett and Allegany counties.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 73. OAKLAND'S HUNDREDTH YEAR THE REPUBLICAN'S SEVENTY-THIRD OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., JUNE 23, 1949. NUMBER 17.

Democracy Begins at Home

(Excerpts from article by Carl J. Faist, Saginaw, Mich.)

Did you ever compare your local taxes with those you pay the Federal government? It may surprise you.

I don't mean just the Federal income tax. There's also the tax on cigarets, transportation tax, telephone, admission, processing, oil and gasoline taxes, tax on luggage, furs, cosmetics, tires, jewelry and many other commodities. There are probably sixty Federal taxes involved in every loaf of bread you buy.

I am just an ordinary citizen in a typical American city. For a year I carefully calculated my various taxes. I found that my local city and school and county tax was only $95.18—less than I paid for cigarets. My Federal taxes, however, were $1,079.60, eleven times all these local taxes combined.

Now I know that Federal taxes are necessary to support Congress, Supreme court, defense forces. But I have a growing feeling that some Federal costs ought to be local ones. When we need a new bridge, or an additional health nurse, or an addition to the airport, we go to Washington for the money. It is called a "Federal grant," but it looks like some of our own tax money coming back to us, with a great many restrictions as to its use. For every dollar we get back this way, I'll venture to guess that another dollar is eaten up in Federal administrative expense—collecting it from us in the first place, telling us how, when and where we may spend it, and then compiling voluminous statistics about it afterward. Certainly it is not a gratuity.

I didn't realize that one-fifth of everything I earn goes to Washington in taxes. That's two and a half months every year that I work for Federal taxes only. Not many years ago it was a week's salary. Times surely have changed or is it I? Have I been causing some of this tremendous increase by demanding more and more "benefits" from the Federal government as if there were a Santa Claus down there?

What is democracy? A part of it is doing for ourselves, standing on our own feet and paying our own way, working and building, self-reliance, self-government. You cannot have it and run everything from Washington. It is on the local levels of government that democracy was founded and on which it rests today.

Vacation School To End With Program

The vacation Bible school, which has been in session for the past two weeks, will end with a special program for visitors and parents, on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Lutheran church auditorium.

One hundred twenty were enrolled this year with an average daily attendance of a hundred or more, according to Rev. Luther L. Hare, director.

The program will include a song by the pre-school group, the twenty-third psalm by the first graders, while other grades will have students tell of the work done and participate in a quiz, pantomime and a typical class session. The 7th and 8th graders will conduct a brief play, "Witnesses of Jesus." Diplomas are to be given out at the Friday night session.

A display of work done will be given in the Sunday School room.

The school is sponsored by the Methodist and Lutheran churches. Teachers included Mrs. Richard Glotfelty, Betty Lou Hinebaugh, Patty Yutzy, Emily Martin, Mrs. John Sharps, Connie Smith, Jane Reckard, Joan Smith, Mrs. William C. Warfield, Mary T. Naylor, Edward Stephenson, Shirley Stockman, Gladys Wensel, and Richard Leighton. The director conducted the half-hour devotions the first week and Dr. Denver C. Pickens is conducting them this week. Mrs. Newton Coplin served as registrar with S. T. Naylor as treasurer.

Refreshments are to be served at 11:30 Friday for the students. A group picture of teachers and pupils was taken.

Plan Special Service At Accident Church

Special services June 26 to July 3, were announced this week for the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren by Rev. Olonzo P. Fike, pastor. All services are at 7:30 standard time.

Speakers include the pastor on Sunday evening, June 26; Rev. Samuel D. Lindsay, Hagerstown, Monday and Tuesday evenings; the pastor, Wednesday evening; Dr. Harold C. Miller, of Eglon, W. Va., on Thursday evening; Rev. M. Guy West, Uniontown, Pa., on Friday evening.

No services are scheduled Saturday night but a communion service will be held Sunday evening, July 3, at 7 oclock. A male chorus of Meyersdale, Pa., will sing Wednesday, and Wayne Hamilton, Red House, will sing on Friday night, July 1. Other special musical numbers and congregational singing are planned each evening.

To Organize Holy Name Group

A Holy Name society will be organized in St. Ann's parish, Avilton, and St. Stephens parish, Grantsville, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. Lawrence P. Landrigan, pastor of St. Mary's church, Cumberland, and other officials will assist Rev. Fr. David Dressman, the pastor, in the organization.

Group Wants Lake Bass Season To Open on June 15

At a meeting last Thursday, the Western Maryland Wildlife Federation decided to request the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission to open Deep Creek Lake to bass fishing June 15 of each year instead of July 1, the date in effect at present.

The subject was discussed by club representatives, sportsmen and landowners. Fulcher P. Smith, former member of the commission, pointed out that Deep Creek Lake never had received the amount of bass for restocking that it should. He reviewed the record of the commission in past stocking of pike, brook trout and large mouth bass and said it was only in the past few years, after stocking of large mouth bass was begun, that fishing had been good to any degree.

Bernard I. Gonder, Oakland; and Jonathan Sleeman, Frostburg, also spoke. Harry J. Barton, newly appointed member of the game commission, declared he was interested in the problems of sportsmen and would help with any practical suggestions made by the Wildlife Federation.

The club will petition the commission at its July meeting to change the legal open season on squirrels and turkeys to October 10-30, with grouse to be legal in the rabbit season as at the present time. It was felt that a September season was too early since many mother squirrels are killed while still feeding their young, and that a 30-day season was not practical because of the scarcity of squirrels.

Firemen Preparing For Big Celebration

Oakland firemen were preparing this week for their annual July 4th celebration.

Although Monday, July 4, will be the feature day, the Dumont Shows will be on the old Glades hotel site from July 4 through July 9, with rides and shows.

A parade of fire companies and bands, trades display, etc., is scheduled for July 4th at 1 o'clock. Robert Stanton, in charge of the parade, said 15 or more fire companies had promised to attend, some of them planning to bring their equipment and bands.

Graduate Of Hopkins

Harry Lambert Holman, 21 years old, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Holman, of Friendsville, was graduated from the Johns Hopkins University on June 14th with a degree of Bachelor of Engineering. He majored in chemistry and has taken a position with a Dye company in Baltimore. Another son of Mr. and Mrs. Holman was graduated from the same institution in 1940 and has been with the du Pont Co., Waynesboro, Virginia, since graduation. This particular plant makes rayon thread and Holman is Shift Supervisor of the spinning area.

Artists To Speak At Civic Club Meet

Nationally known artists, Joseph Goethe and Arthur Ramier will be the speakers at a meeting of the Oakland Civic club, to be held next Tuesday, June 28, at 2 p. m., in the Methodist assembly room, it was announced by Mrs. Earl Zepp, club president. The meeting will be open to the public, at no charge.

Mr. Ramier, native of Wisconsin, has been residing in Washington, D. C., where most of his exhibits have been on display, but at present has his studio in Youghiogheny Forest. He has studied both sculpture and painting at the Rinehart school and Black Mountain college in North Carolina. Recently he returned from Paris where he was studying under Ossip Zadkin. Mr. Ramier's subject will be "Schools of Art."

County Gets Plenty of Rain During Week

Garrett county enjoyed a plentiful supply of rain last Friday and Saturday with moderate winds, but other areas were not so fortunate.

The South branch of the Potomac river rose to a flood stage greater than in 1936, causing untold destruction in the areas around Moorefield and Petersburg, W. Va.

Several persons lost their lives in the flooded area and damage to crops, livestock and property was still impossible to approximate.

One of those who died was Cpl. A. M. Hurst, of the West Virginia State police.

A cloud burst on Monday caused damage in the Georges creek communities but there was no loss of life.

The waters of the north branch of the Potomac were out of their banks at Kitzmiller while at Shaw, a few miles east of Kitzmiller, water inundated tracks along the Western Maryland. Damage was slight.

At the Weber station during the past week there was rainfall measured on six days, with a total of 2.53 inches.

The highest reading of the week was 85, the day before summer actually began. The mercury dropped to 41 degrees this morning.

The Crellin troop has been in existence since March with Harold Lantz as scoutmaster and Ward Ashby as assistant, and most of the twenty boys in the troop are planning to attend the camp.

Roads within the Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls areas are to be surfaced within the near future, it was announced this week by William A. Parr, district forester.

The road to the Herrington Manor lake for a distance of one mile, the road to the service area, a distance of six-tenth of a mile, and six-tenths of a mile in the Muddy Creek Falls section of the Swallow Falls state forest, are included in the improvement plans.

Nothing definite is known as yet on the surfacing of the roads leading to the forest areas from Oakland.

One County Over Top in Bond Drive

Baltimore county was the first in the state to go over the top in the Opportunity Savings Bond campaign, reporting 102.4 percent of its quota and passing Queen Anne's which had the lead for two weeks, it was announced by Richard Dixon, Jr., state director of the U. S. Savings Bonds division.

Baltimore county's quota was $1,130,000. Queen Anne reported 99.1 percent of its quota of $26,500, and Frederick County jumped from sixth to third place with 91.1 percent of its goal of $280,000.

Garrett county was in 8th place with 76.5 percent of its quota the total amount purchased was $58,197.

Only the three mentioned, and Caroline, Harford, Washington and Calvert were ahead of Garrett county in percentage of quota.

The Opportunity Bond drive ends officially June 30, but all E bonds purchased up to July 15 will be applied to the state quota. The goal for the entire state is $12,700,000. Of this amount $9,536,579 has been realized, or 75 percent of the total.

Council Alters Size of New Pipe Line

Decision to lay a four-inch water line from 8th to 9th street, so that it would be available to the high school when completed east of town, was made at a special meeting of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland on Monday evening.

The meeting was called by Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh to recommend the change, and rescind a motion of the previous meeting to lay a two-inch line there. Site for the new high school recently was purchased from Stuart F. Hamill, and is located near the Weber crossroads.

The council also decided to rebuild and widen Mason street. Eighth street is also slated to get a top dressing from Oak to High streets.

Permission to close Second street from Alder to the railroad crossing during the evenings and all day on July 4, was granted to the Oakland Firemen for their celebration.

Arthur Lawton, clerk-collector, said the six-inch pipe supply for the line to the hospital from Third street, was on its way after having been ordered for 18 months.

The council accepted the resignation of Lee R. Mason as weighmaster and appointed Percy Frantz in his place. The resignation is effective June 30.

Number Fined For Disorderly Conduct

They were charged on June 15th with approaching William Coddington, who was in Jim's place, and attacking him without reason.

Victor Tasker pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch the following morning. Raymond Tasker was found guilty and fined $5 and costs. A charge against Coddington for disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Six other persons were before the Magistrate on charges of being drunk and disorderly on the streets of Oakland. In one group were Boyd DeWitt, Claude Rodeheaver, Lawrence Welch and William Shobe. The first three were fined $15 and costs while Shobe was given a fine of $10 and costs.

New Appliance Store To Open

Oakland will have a new and larger appliance store, starting Saturday, June 25, with Paul DeWitt and Prentice DeBerry announcing the opening of their establishment on Alder street, formerly the location of the Clover Farm store.

The two proprietors worked together at the Oakland Creamery company since 1930, and in 1945, opened an appliance store in the Naylor building on Alder street.

In their new location, every piece of equipment is "alive" and can be demonstrated, with running water in the sinks and garbage disposal unit, heat in the electric stove, current in the washing machines, etc.

A full page advertisement gives details of the opening, with a free gift to each housewife on opening day.

Unemployment Status In County Is Serious

Figures released this week by the office of Employment Security reveal that the number of unemployed persons has increased considerably in the area since last year.

During May a total of 3,000 claims were handled, and a total of $42,440 paid out. This represents an increase of 245 percent over May, 1948, according to Charles L. Briner, manager.

The office also took a total of 320 new claims during May, an increase of 162 percent over May of 1948. The increase is due, he said, to the lack of activity in the coal mines and in the timber industry.

Fireworks Law Has Reduced Accidents

All fireworks are forbidden under state law, unless approval has been obtained from the Insurance department of the state, it was announced by Claude A. Hanley, insurance commissioner.

Specifically banned are the use of firecrackers, squibs, rockets, sparklers, roman candles, torpedoes, bombs, paper caps, grenades, fire-balloons, signal lights and any combustible or explosive composition.

Permits for special displays will be authorized when safety and health are safeguarded. Hanley pointed out that loss of life had been eliminated by reason of enforcement of the Fireworks Act, and that there are practically no accidents as a result of burns and explosions incident to the use of firecrackers.

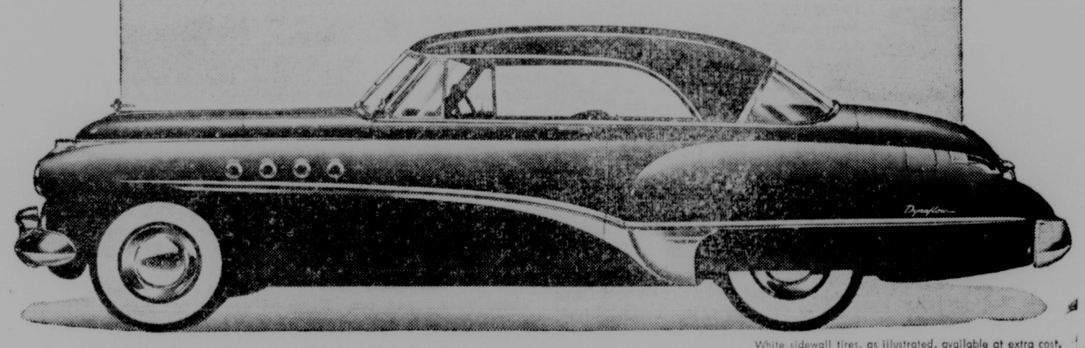
Who'll be First with the Last Word?



White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

ACT QUICKLY—and in your neighborhood it might be you.

For there's no doubt that this exciting new Riviera model — styled and executed by Buick — is the very last word in new body types.

It has, as you see, the swift and racy lines of a Convertible, made even more distinctive by a bold new sweep of chromium along its fenders.

But the top is solid—a single sheet of stout steel, neatly finished off inside with chromium bows. And a broad rear window curves gracefully around, giving really abundant rearward vision.

Push-button controls drop all windows out of sight at a touch, leaving not even a doorpost to block your outlook. And the interior trim is the richest yet — a really stunning creation inside as well as out.

As pictured here the Riviera is now in production on the Buick ROADMASTER chassis — which means 150-hp Fireball power, the silken luxury of Dynaflow Drive, and the matchless levelness of the Buick "dream ride." That means "the last word" in brilliant performance as well as in luxurious dress and styling.

Production on this high-styled road star is limited, as you might expect.

To be "first with the last word," therefore, it is wise to see your Buick dealer soon about getting your order in.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

Truck Gardener for 20 Years

MRS. ELIZABETH FILSINGER

Being a truck gardener for twenty or more years, delivering food to the summer residents of Mt. Lake Park, was just one item of hard work in the life of Mrs. Elizabeth Filsinger, of near Deer Park, who has been a farm resident in this area since she was 12 years old.

Mrs. Filsinger was born February 26, 1871, in Ohio, a daughter of Edward and Catherine Deal, and moved to this section in 1883.

Well known to Oakland residents by her frequent visits here until recent years, she has reared a family of substantial citizens, most of whom have moved to other areas. She plans to visit soon her four daughters, Mrs. Mary Cremusz, Mrs. Elizabeth Moseheim, Mrs. Pauline Maus and Mrs. Emma Wiseburn, in Philadelphia. Her four sons are Adolph, Akron, Ohio; Carl Filsinger, Deer Park; Harry Filsinger, Baltimore; and Gilbert Filsinger, Deer Park.

She is a regular attendant at church, either at Paradise or Sand Flat. She is still busily engaged in the endless work around a farm home, but by her manner shows that she has enjoyed life throughout her 78 years.

Mrs. Flora Collins, of Kansas City, Mo., is visiting her sisters, Mrs. H. V. Leighton, and Miss Blanche Cale, in Loch Lynn Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Duncan Patton and daughter, Miss Helen Caroline, of Hollywood Beach, Fla., are at their summer home on Deep Creek Lake.

EDWARD W. HELBIG

A man who has spent his life of seventy-four years in Oakland, with the exception of about seven months as a street car conductor in Philadelphia, is Edward W. Helbig, who resides on Monte Vista road, just south of the city limits.

First known as a paper hanger and later as a lumber dealer, Mr. Helbig was born May 25, 1875, in the house now occupied by the Ervin Smith family, where his father ran a tannery. He was a son of John and Mary Helbig and was the ninth in a family of 10 children.

Speaking of his experiences as a paper hanger, Mr. Helbig said that his usual capacity was three rooms a day, and with a helper he could stretch it to five. At $2.50 per room, he considered he did pretty well in those early days. He helped to paper the Deer Park hotel upon a number of occasions.

He quit the lumber business in 1917, his last timber cutting job being one of 1,254 acres in the Moorefield-Petersburg area. Since that time he has remained at home, gardening and the like, and when the above picture was taken on Tuesday he was in his strawberry patch.

Starting out as a street car conductor in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1900, he stayed only seven months, wanting to get back home. He married Della Browning in 1909 and she lived until seven years ago. One son, Fred Helbig, lost his life in World War II. Two other children are living, Donald Helbig and Mrs. Edwin Michael, both of Oakland. There are also six grandchildren and a brother, George Helbig, who is three years his elder.

Mr. Helbig is a member of St. Peter's Catholic church. He has been an election official in district 14 for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Whittington, of Greensboro, N. C., were visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Welling.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Georg, of near Accident, and grandsons Dale Fike and George Glotfelty, were business visitors in Oakland last Thursday.

A Letter To The Taxpayers!

To the Citizens of Garrett County:

It seems that our County Commissioners and the new Senator have no regard for their word or promises.

When the bond Bill was discussed with them it was agreed that the money would be spent as the bill was written and according to the intent of the bill. We did not want to hamper them or tie them up so that they could not do a good job for the whole County. That is the reason that specific amounts were not named to be spent at the several places in the County. At that time we in the House had full confidence in the Board and were satisfied they would carry out their obligation.

The Board and their Senator-Attorney have done an about face and are going to use this bond money and all other cash they can get to finance the two high school plan.

The present bond money can be paid off without working a hardship on our people and it will do all that is necessary towards improving our schools and all that we can afford. They know that the members of the House of Delegates are against using the $1,500,000. for the two high school plan.

If they have changed their minds and are for the two high school plan I say let the people of the County vote on it and be ruled by their decision. It is their money and there is nothing unfair in letting them say how it will be spent.

The Board has been asked for two years to tell the people what they stood for. They have had too many meetings behind closed doors and have let only a few insiders know what their intentions were.

All of us that had anything to do with the bond bill have agreed that the present amount is all the County can stand.

There is nothing free about either the $283,000 so-called grant or the $804,000 loan from the State.

The Commissioners must be put on notice that they are not to use either of the above loans and that the money now on hand is to be spent as the law reads and is intended.

Give the people a vote on the two high school plan as that is the right and fair way to settle it.

If anything other than this is done it will be a betrayal of the Citizens of Garrett County as well as the members of the House of Delegates.

If the Commissioners will not do this job as they agreed and promised drastic action should be taken at once.

Yours truly,

R. E. McIntire.

Progress Noted In Having Music School

Progress in establishment of a Mendelssohn school of music in Oakland, was reported this week with a number of inquiries concerning the school being made through the Oakland Music shop.

As announced last week if a sufficient number of students sign up tentatively for a 12 weeks' course, Dr. Felix Robert Mendelssohn, cellist of the Baltimore Symphony orchestra, would come here during July, August and September. Those desiring to take a course in their chosen instrument are to let the Music Shop know not later than Monday, June 27.

Dr. Mendelssohn, since coming to the United States, has taught at the School of Music at New York University; Peabody Institute, of Baltimore, and the Founder of the Baltimore Institute of Musical Arts. He was a professor of composition in Stern Conservatory, Berlin, prior to the Hitler regime. He has composed the Passion oratorio, "Christus," similar to that produced at Oberammagau. He has composed for orchestra and individual instruments.

He is the grand-nephew of Felix Mendelssohn, composer of many living classics.

Farmers Face Serious Grain Storage Problems

A serious problem in grain storage and marketing is threatening Maryland producers this year. Extension officials at the University of Maryland point out that farmers now have a great deal more grain in storage than at this time last year. Prospects are for even bigger crops in the State this year.

They fear that lack of storage space will keep many farmers from taking advantage of the price support program offered by the Production and Marketing Administration. The possibility that much of the grain will be too moist to store well is another threat which may tend to force dumping of grain on the market at prices below the support level.

Farmers can do much to protect themselves by arranging adequate storage space and then handling the grain in such a manner that it may be stored.

Suggestions as to how this may be done include:

1. Do not plan to harvest more acreage than the combine can handle in a reasonable length of time. (It may pay to go back to the old threshing machine rather than to depend on a combine which has to run during wet weather in order to get the crop harvested.)
2. Let the grain get thoroughly ripe before starting to combine.
3. Do not start too early in the morning or work too late in the evening, but be sure everything is in shape for full-scale operation during the dry part of the day.
4. Do not combine too soon after a rain.
5. Do not leave bags on wet ground.
6. Do not store wet grain in large bulk.
7. Make provision for at least temporary farm storage so as to avoid market glut.
8. If some wet wheat has been combined, be sure to keep it separate from the dry wheat and give it special care.

Vintage of 1900

No. 9—Totten's Hill.—Start from railroad station and proceed to Washington Spring, through hotel grounds; cross stile and take road to left for about a thousand feet until a grassy road leading into wood on left is reached. Follow this road as it winds up the hill for about half a mile. Cross fence into a pasture and follow narrow foot path to clump of trees on top of hill opposite. From this point the reverse view to that from Crook Crest can be had. The town of Oakland is below. To the north-east the Hoop-pole and Deer Park roads wind. Truesdell's Heights, King Hill and big Backbone Mountain are clearly defined. Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn are conspicuous. Monte Vista is close at hand. Return by foot path to where fence was crossed, but keep to right and follow foot path down to bottom of hill, or until a stile is reached, on the left. Cross this and follow a broad, well-made path for a quarter of a mile from which glimpses of the little Yough River may be had through the trees, several hundred feet below, until a gate is reached, which opens into hotel grounds. A path leads down the hill to roadway and thence to railroad station. Two miles.

Drives

No. 9—The River—Leave town by Third street. Follow West Union and Old West Union roads, past the Old School House and down long hill to big Yough River. Return to brow of hill, take road to right and follow it to where it joins West Union road at school house about a mile beyond Gortner's. Return to town by West Union road and Third street. Twelve miles.

Excursions

No. 9—Grafton—Take accommodation train on Baltimore and Ohio railroad in the morning. The train soon reaches Terra Alta, top of the grade on the West and rapidly descends to Cheat River, which it crosses several times. Several tunnels are passed through, one being more than a mile long. There are no grander views on the line of this railroad, remarkable for picturesque scenery, than between Oakland and Grafton. The distance is about fifty miles and the trip is made in two hours. There are an accommodation and express train East in the afternoon on which the return trip can be made.

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

The House of Representatives last week passed, and sent to the Senate, a military pay-raise bill which should do much toward encouraging those in the armed services to give more of their thought and energy toward making the nation strong.

As is well-known, when the first attempt to pass such a pay-raise bill was made in Congress recently, the effort failed because it was felt by many legislators that the bulk of the increases went to the colonels and generals—known among enlisted men as the "brass."

The pay raise for all persons in the armed services was needed and I joined with the majority in voting approval when the bill came up for final action. Let us hope that we need never stint too much with the brave men and women who stand, ready to serve, at any call in a future hour of peril. If enlisted men are adequately compensated there will be no need for universal military training or selective service.

On the other hand, it is evident from what I hear and observe in Washington that the Department of National Defense is wasting money on a great scale. Congress has served notice on this department that future appropriations may not be as great as those of the immediate past, for startling evidences of mis-use of public funds have been brought to light from time to time.

Merely because the people, through Congress, are generous with the military is no reason why waste should be condoned and foolish projects sponsored by the military services.

Much of my mail these days concerns the famous "Hoover Plan" for re-organizing the various branches of the federal government to streamline Uncle Sam's work so as to save taxpayers every dime possible.

I certainly want to make it plain that I have been for passage of the Hoover streamlining plan all along and, in fact, already have voted for certain segments of this program to put into effect. After study of the various proposals which will be brought up in Congress from time to time, I expect to vote for most of them, for I am convinced Mr. Hoover, the former President, has rendered an outstanding service to the American people.

President Truman has paid high praise to former President Hoover and the commission which the latter headed for more than a year in Washington for the marvelous studies undertaken by this group. It behooves Congress to act on these recommendations as expeditiously as possible, for it is obvious that billions of dollars could be saved if the executive branch of the government were better organized.

Another Mr. Hoover—this one being J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation—has been in the news lately. There have been many rumors around Washington to the effect that he has been at loggerheads with Attorney-General Tom Clark.

The disagreement is supposed to have arisen over the contents of secret documents which were publicized as a result of the trial of Judith Coplon, a former Department of Justice aide, now accused of having conspired with a Russian spy to steal American secrets. Attorney General Clark only a few months ago had written Miss Coplon a warm personal letter of commendation on her work.

I do not know how true the rumors about Mr. Hoover's resignation as FBI chief were, but they contained enough substance to cause President Truman to deny them strongly, too strongly, many Congressmen believe.

Whatever the quarrel, I can only say I hope Mr. Hoover remains head of the FBI for years to come. He is truly one of America's greatest public servants, faithful, non-partisan in the performance of his duties, sincere and conscientious in the conduct of his great office.

I submitted a petition to the Post Office Department from the patrons of Star Route 1 out of Barton, Allegany County to Merrill's Bridge, Garrett County, asking that they be given daily delivery of mail instead of three days as they are now receiving.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 28:16-20; Mark 16:14-20; Luke 24:45-53; Acts 1:1-14; Hebrews 7:25.
DEVOTIONAL READING: I Corinthians 1:1-9.

He Lives On

Lesson for June 26, 1949

WHAT IS JESUS, after all? A name in a book? A picture on the walls of churches? More than that! A historical character? Founder of a great religion? More than that! He is the one and only Person who can be everywhere. He would be important if he had only lived; he is far more so because he lives on. But where does he live, and how?

Dr. Foreman

Christians would often feel lonely and discouraged, if it were not for one thing. They know Jesus prays for them. In long-ago times the High Priest of Israel used to pass beyond his people's sight into the silent Holy of Holies, and when he did, the people knew that in that sacred place he was bearing on his heart the whole people, the people whom he served. So the writer to the Hebrews, in the New Testament, pictures Jesus as the perfect High Priest, who has passed beyond our sight, beyond the beautiful blue veil of heaven, into the very presence of God, where he lives, now to intercede for his people who are ever on his heart.

Jesus lives on today in the life of prayer which we believe is still his. No matter what comes to the Christian, he can remember that One is praying for him who is stronger than all the world of evil.

"Greater is he that is for us than he that is against us," said John the Apostle.

In His Book

LUKE tells us that Jesus had to show some of his friends his own picture in the Old Testament. His portrait is not very plain there, but in the New Testament it is very plain indeed. The Bible leads up to Christ, he is its crowning figure. The Bible is, so to speak, a frame for his picture. Many a person, in remote regions of the world, has become Christian just by reading about Christ in some stray copy of the New Testament. The reader begins by reading about Jesus—then the pages come alive, and he meets Jesus, face to face. Jesus lives on, wherever the Bible goes.

In His People

CHURCHES may argue among themselves about what Jesus meant by this or that. But there cannot be any argument about one thing. When Jesus left his friends behind, he gave them orders to go tell the world about him. "Make disciples of all nations . . . Ye shall be my witnesses." A shut-mouthed Christian isn't much of a Christian. A shut-mouthed church is a poor sort of church. (Is it really a church at all?) We do not believe that Jesus expected his followers all to become preachers.

Indeed, we should remember that all the first Christians were laymen. But they got results. One hundred twenty people grew to be three thousand, five thousand, in a few weeks.

What is the reason that 120 Christians today don't win 3,000 converts? One reason is that you would probably find those 120 Christians complaining that their church is "vacant," they don't have a pastor. The early Christians might have thought that very funny. How can a church be vacant with 120 people in it? Christ lives in his church.

Into All the World

CHRISTIANITY is the only religion that can stand transplanting into any climate. There is no other religion that can number its people from the Arctic to the equator, and from east to west around the world. But this is not an accident. It would not have happened by itself. Jesus himself in Galilee walked wherever he went, and in all his grown-up life he did not walk farther from his birthplace than you could drive in an afternoon.

But he walks on every shore. Where ship and camel and plane carry the missionary, there goes Christ; where the airways carry his message, there is he. Wherever Christians go, Christ goes in them and with them.

He lives everywhere today where Christians live, he walks on Christians' feet. Beside the four Gospels in print, there is the Gospel According to You. Does Jesus live in and through you?

Senator Byrnes declared that if some proposed federal programs are adopted "there is danger everyone will be an economic slave pulling an oar in the galley of the state."

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT.

Copyright by The Baltimore Sun and reprinted in The Republican by permission.

There is nothing new in the House of Representatives passing an unsound bill by an overwhelming vote in the confident hope that it will be choked to death in a Senate committee. That is a long-established, though not especially admirable, method by which House members, who must run for re-election every two years, propitiate special groups of voters without disastrous effect upon the country.

Usually, the senators, who have to run only once every six years respond as desired and expected. But, occasionally, the urge to demagogue and the pressure of the lobbies is too strong for them. In such cases, they put through the House bill by a viva voce vote, thus passing the buck to the President. Sometimes that exalted official stands up like a man and vetoes the bill; sometimes he, too, funks the test, either signs the bill or lets it become a law without his signature. And then the national interests suffer and the blood of the taxpayers flows more copiously.

Usually, these bills have to do with pensions or bonuses for the veterans of recent or remote wars and it is worth noting that, so far in the history of our great Republic, none has ever permanently failed. Sometimes they can be blocked for two, or even three, sessions—but eventually they go through. The last bill of this kind was enacted in 1946 and was known as the terminal leave bill. The estimated cost of this bill was between 1½ and 3½ billions of dollars. It was in addition to all other veteran compensation and there was no real excuse for it—except that terminal leave pay had been voted officers and the move to extend it to enlisted men was hard to oppose. In the House only one man—James W. Wadsworth, of New York—failed to vote for it and in the Senate only one Senator—Robert A. Taft, of Ohio—denounced it as wrong and was recorded as opposed.

Mr. Truman signed the bill in August. The estimates of its cost were not exaggerated. It added more than $2,000,000,000 to the cost of the Government. Now, another veteran bill is on its way which, in the matter of cost, makes the terminal leave pay bill look trivial indeed. This is the bill passed by the House—365 to 27—on June 2. It would give pensions to all veterans of World Wars I and II, regardless of whether disability, if any, resulted from service in the war and regardless of "employability." In brief, it would give a pension to every living veteran and to the widows of the dead ones. The carefully estimated cost is put at $65,000,000,000, over the next 50 years. This would impose a crushing financial burden on future generations and certainly add to the dangers of a collapse of the whole Federal fiscal structure. "It is," editorially says the New York Times, "a crude handout which discredits the veterans organizations that lobbied for it so effectively and the House members who voted for it so irresponsibly."

The question is now whether the Senate will have the courage to reject this appalling proposal, or will it, as with the terminal pay bill, cravenly pass it without a roll call—and the President cravenly sign it. It seems incredible that under existing conditions it could become law. Yet, who can tell? In any event, those 27 House members who voted "No" at least ought to be widely known. It is too bad there was no Maryland name among them. Here they are: Republicans—Gamble, Swinn, Hale, Hall (N.Y.), Byrnes (Wis.), Case (N.J.), Cole (N.Y.), Coudert, Davis (Wis.), Eaton, Elston, Heselton, Kean, Kilburn, Morton, Rich, Tabor, Towe—18; Democrats—Battle, Gary, Harrison, Jacobs, Noland, Smith (Va.), Stanley, Teague, Wilson (Texas)—9. In addition there were paired against the bill: Democrats—Hobbs, McCormack, Sims and Norton—4; Republicans—Macy, Judd, and Wadsworth—3. There were 226 Democrats and 138 Republicans voting for the bill; 6 Democrats and 1 Republican paired as favoring.

Considering the activity and power of the veterans' lobby and the huge majority for the bill, it took considerable courage for the 27 members who voted against and the seven who were paired against to go on record. They should have full credit everywhere as men who, faced with threats from powerful organized groups, were unafraid to stand by their convictions. In the Senate, there being no veterans' pension committee, this $65,000,000,000 handout proposal has gone to the Finance Committee, of which Senator George is chairman, and Senator Byrd and Senator Taft are members. It is not likely to be killed in this committee but neither is it likely to come out with a favorable report.

Even with an unfavorable report it may go through, despite the fact that the government is preparing in the next three months to distribute two billion dollars to veterans of World War II in insurance dividends; despite the fact that President Truman is anxious the bill should not pass; despite the further fact that in less than a month a large gaping deficit in the Federal finances will be exposed. However, one thing is sure—it will not go through, as did the terminal pay bill, without a roll call. Nor will Senator Taft's voice be the only one raised in opposition.

HERSCHEL ELWOOD HARVEY

Rev. Herschel Elwood Harvey, son of Nathaniel Bell and Susan Elvina Harvey, was born September 17, 1897, at Deer Park, and departed this life at his home in Waterloo, Iowa, on June 5, 1949. He was the ninth child in a family of twelve children.

He was married to Nellie May Schmidt at her home at Altamont, on August 24, 1922, and to this union were born three children, Natalie May, Herschel Elwood, Jr., and Marjorie LaNelle.

He and his wife went to Iowa in June, 1925, to serve the Ledyard and Lakota charge, and Mr. Harvey became a member of the Northwest Iowa Conference of the Methodist Church. His pastorates have been the Ledyard, Cushing, Rowan, Swea City, Clarion and Klemme charges.

Because of failing strength, Rev. Harvey took Sabbatical leave last fall and moved to Waterloo, and since that time has been employed by the State Board of Education as a vocational Rehabilitation Counselor.

He was graduated from Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa, and from Drew University, Madison, New Jersey, where he specialized in Homiletics and Religious Education, and received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree. He was a member of the Masonic order, the Chapter, and Knights Templar, and held his membership in Cyrene Lodge No. 325 A., F. and A. M., Clarion, Iowa.

He is survived by his wife, his son, Herschel Elwood, Jr., now with the American Embassy in Paris, France; his daughter, Marjorie LaNelle, at home; his mother, Mrs. Susan Harvey, Deer Park; five brothers, Alex, Dallas, Texas; Guy, Oakland; Paul and Nay, both of Deer Park; and Newman, Pittsburgh, Pa.; three sisters, Mrs. E. C. Hutchinson, Baltimore; Mrs. Jane Amtower, Keyser, W. Va.; and Mrs. James Shaffer, Mt. Lake Park. He was preceded in death by his father, an infant daughter, two sisters and a brother.

He served in various capacities in the Conference, and held many positions of confidence and trust.

Funeral services were held June 8 from the First Methodist Church, in Waterloo, Iowa, with Dr. Gilbert S. Cox, officiating. He was assisted by Dr. F. Earl Burgess, superintendent of the Algona District. Mrs. Leland Liewen, of Belmond, sang the Twenty-Third Psalm and "Going Home." He was laid to rest in the Masonic section of Memorial Park, Waterloo.

European crop conditions point to a crop production below last year but still above the 1947 drought year.

Trustees' Sale
—OF—
Valuable Minerals and Mineral Rights near Grantsville, in Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of the power vested in us by a decree of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, bearing date October 25, 1946, and passed in a case wherein N. U. Bond et al. were plaintiffs and Rachel M. Bond et al. were defendants, the same being No. 3733 Equity in said Court, and an order of said Court passed in said cause on June 6, 1949, we, the undersigned trustees do hereby give notice that on

FRIDAY, JULY 15th, 1949,

in front of the Court House in the town of Oakland, Maryland, we will offer for sale at public auction all of the minerals and mineral substances, with rights appurtenant thereto, underlying that part of the tract of land called "Swanton" containing 7270 acres, more or less, situate East of Grantsville in Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed, with all minerals reserved, by M. M. Armstrong et ux. to Lewis R. Parr by deed dated May 5, 1900, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 38, folio 432, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and which by deed from John Dimeling et ux. dated February 11, 1930, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 100, folio 191, one of said Land Records of Garrett County, finally became and is now vested in the State of Maryland. Said minerals and mineral substances hereby offered for sale are also the same which were conveyed unto William C. Bond et al. in the last item of a deed from said M. M. Armstrong et ux. dated May 5, 1900, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 38, folio 422, Land Records of Garrett County, and title to which, in the manner set forth in the papers in the above case, became vested in the parties to this cause and is now vested in the undersigned trustees by virtue of the aforesaid decree herein, said minerals and mineral substances and rights appurtenant thereto being described in said conveyances as follows: "All minerals, oils, gases and valuable clays in, upon or under said lands, or any part thereof, together with free ingress, egress and regress to, over, upon and from said lands for the purpose of operating the same at any time or place."

The western boundary of said tract of land under which the above minerals and mineral substances are located is situate about four miles East of Grantsville, in Garrett County, and said tract extends thence eastward for several miles. A strip mining operation was carried on for some time by Barnwell Coal Company and a considerable amount of coal opened and removed, but the greater part of the deposit still remains. Deep mining operations for the mining of Kittanning or B seam of coal have also been carried on near the western boundary of the tract at and near what is known as the Jenkins No. 1 Mine, but the tract has never been fully tested as to the acreage and workable seams of coal. Both Kittanning and Freeport seams of coal are said to underlie the tract. There is also a valuable seam of clay underlying the above developed seam of coal but same has not been developed and operated.

Full mining rights, as set forth in the aforesaid reservation, apply to and will be available to the purchaser of this property insofar as deep mining is concerned, but strip mining can only be done under license from the Board of Public Works of Maryland. The trustees are advised that license for this can be obtained upon reasonable terms but they do not warrant that it can be obtained or undertake to secure the same.

Terms of Sale: One third cash on day of sale, one third in six months and the balance in twelve months, or all cash at the option of the purchaser or purchasers, the deferred parts of the purchase price to bear interest at 6% and to be secured to the satisfaction of the trustees, as prescribed by said decree.

Further information may be obtained by application to the trustees.

These—without anything borrowed or blue—can give to her Wedding Day the sure promise of happiness.

Something old? A faith in God such as has been the foundation of life for millions of Christians before her. A simple conviction found in the religious instruction she received as a child, nurtured in regular worship at Church, ready to go with her through the years.

Something new? A love for the one she has consented to marry. A tender devotion that will grow richer and deeper as they share the sunshine and shadows of life.

With these two—the "something old" that lives in her soul, and the "something new" that thrills in her heart—she comes to her husband. And if he comes to her bearing the same treasures, their marriage cannot fail!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 73. OAKLAND'S HUNDREDTH YEAR THE REPUBLICAN'S SEVENTY-THIRD OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., JUNE 30, 1949. NUMBER 18.

Aid in Safe Week-end . . .

Hundreds of people are killed by accidents during every Fourth of July holiday. This year the long holiday week-end for many persons will make the period doubly dangerous.

Each year newspapers, magazines, insurance companies and safety organizations urge people to be careful, drive cautiously, don't take chances in swimming or boating, forget fireworks, and as a result, "be alive on the fifth." The precautions become more or less trite and as a general rule, people will go ahead and do the things they were planning to do anyway, regardless of the risk.

This year the Maryland State police are keeping their entire force on the job in an effort to prevent needless accidents. The Maryland health department reminds people that death and serious injury are all too frequently the sequels of holiday fun.

Throughout the country there is a concerted effort to help in an effort to reduce the national highway death rate to an average of 5 persons for every 100 million vehicle miles. The rate in 1948 was 8.1 and in 1941 it stood at 12.

We are warned that explosives are always a menace to life and safety, especially when placed in young or inexperienced hands.

The safety slogans may seem trite but they are as sound as they ever were and failure to follow them has resulted in death and injury and destruction.

We could make 1949 an exception if we were determined about it.

Senator Tydings Will Be Speaker During Centennial

Confirmation that U. S. Senator Millard E. Tydings of Maryland, would be in Oakland to speak on Tuesday, August 9, following the parade on Farm and Home Day, was announced this week by Howard White, chairman.

To Build Hugh Cake

Work on the huge paper-mache birthday cake on the Court House lawn is expected to begin around July 1 by Aza Stanton.

Arrangements were made with the youth committee to repeat their youth parade in the Homecoming parade also on Saturday, August 13, and another addition to the homecoming program, a concert by the 2nd army band, at 3:30 p. m., on that day was announced by F. E. Rathbun, chairman of the Central committee.

Possibility of having place mats for free distribution to restaurants, B. and O. diners, etc., as a good advertising medium, was discussed. Miss Susy Smith reported to the central committee that $5,575 worth of advertising for the program booklet had been sold to date and that two places had contributed prizes for contests.

KITZMILLER MINER KILLED BY ROCK

Wolford Perando, 32, Crushed To Death While At Work In Hamill Mine

Wolford Richard Perando, 32, father of five small children, was killed last Thursday afternoon when a piece of rock fell and crushed him while he was working in the Hamill mine at Kitzmiller.

The accident happened about 2:45 while working with four other men in a section of the mine operated by the McNitt coal company. Dr. Ralph Calandrella, Kitzmiller physician, said Perando died of a fractured neck, crushed chest, fracture of the right ankle and internal injuries. He said the miner was killed instantly.

W. C. Paugh, mine foreman, said he was supervising a job in which Perando and three other men were shoveling coal on to a conveyor in the seventh right section of the mine when a large piece of rock fell from the roof and struck Perando, who was kneeling at his work. Paugh said the other three immediately pulled the huge slab from Perando's body and took him to the Sharpless Funeral Home at Blaine where he was pronounced dead. Three other eyewitnesses, according to Paugh, were Roland Davis, John Harvey and Leonard Craver. The Hamill mine is near the Nethken pit where five men lost their lives last November 4 when the main heading of the mine filled with smoke and fumes.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, deputy state medical examiner, investigated the Hamill mine accident.

Perando was a member of Local 2204, United Mine Workers of America, Blaine. He was born in Blaine, March 2, 1917, a son of Scott Richard Perando and Maude Virginia Perando, Kitzmiller.

He is survived, besides his parents, by his widow, Mrs. Madeline Virginia Burgess Perando, and his five children, Joan Louise, 11; Wolford Eugene, 8; Alden Randolph, 6; Dale Edward, 3½, and Eva Mae, four months. Also surviving are five brothers, Charles M., Augusta, W. Va.; Jesse, Washington; Franklin M., patient in Fitzsimmons General hospital, Denver; and Jack and Ray, both at home; four sisters, Mrs. Betty Burnsworth, Mount Savage; Mrs. Faye Daugherty, Shaw, W. Va.; and Neva and Rudy Gay, both at home; and a foster brother, James Rohm, Oakland.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon from Mt. Bethel Methodist church. Rev. Jonathan Edwards, pastor of the Kitzmiller Presbyterian church, officiated. Interment was in the Elk Garden cemetery.

Jailed In Pittsburgh

A woman who gave her name as Nell Ray, 26, of Deep Creek Lake, was sentenced to jail under a malicious mischief charge last Thursday before a Pittsburgh Morals court for breaking a window.

According to testimony before Magistrate W. H. K. McDiarmid, she was found standing barefoot in front of a broken 10 by 10 foot window in the Fort Pitt Hardware store, Pittsburgh.

Patrolman Robert Foley said she explained she had broken the window and was guarding the store to keep anyone from entering it. She was said to have been carrying a cane, and a half glass of whiskey and to be smoking a cigar. Hardware company officials estimated the damage at $100. She was returned to jail to get a little more rest and to see if she could raise the money to pay for the window.

Steal Players' Benches

Officials of the Oakland Amvets baseball team reported this week the theft of three players' benches from the new playing field in East Oakland.

They were of the opinion that the theft was perpetrated by several youth, and expressed concern over the fact that such lack of consideration would be shown by those they were trying to help by providing a baseball field for their own enjoyment. One bench was recovered quite a distance away from the playing field.

Large Number Attends Opening

A total of 1,059 persons were registered last Saturday at the opening of Oakland new appliance store by Paul DeWitt and Prentice DeBerry. Factory representatives of various types of appliances were kept busy the entire day and evening demonstrating and explaining the equipment.

Help Wanted!

Volunteer help is urgently needed by the Oakland Centennial Committee. There must be 32 ticket takers to assure Oakland getting its share of the carnival proceeds, electricians, general handy men, persons to tack up publicity road signs, etc.

The Centennial celebration will be what each individual person makes it. An unselfish offer to help will be greatly appreciated. Volunteers may contact F. E. Rathbun, chairman of the committee, Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh, or some other member of the central committee, or leave their name at the City Hall, specifying what job they are willing to undertake.

Hospital Progress Reported Moving At A Rapid Rate

Only two working days were lost this month due to inclement weather, and work on the new Garrett County Memorial Hospital is progressing at a rapid rate, it was announced by Theodore Peters, clerk of the works.

The masonry work is up to the third floor at the north end of the building, and form work for the third floor concrete will be under construction soon.

All plumbing and electrical installations are being made to keep pace with masonry and concrete work.

The boilers have been lowered into place and the heating connections, controls, and final work on the fireboxes are now in order.

The forms are being removed from the second floor concrete slab, and the first floor cleaned out.

Total construction on the hospital is now approximately one-third complete, Peters said.

Plan Special Safety Vigil For Week-End

Colonel Beverly Ober, Baltimore Police Commissioner, Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, Robert M. Reindollar, Chairman State Roads Commission, and William H. Bishop, Jr., Director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission, plan a special safety vigil for the long July 4th holiday.

Having established one of the finest safety records in the U. S. during the 1948 July 4th week-end, Maryland's guardians of highway safety will be out in full force.

All leaves, furloughs and vacations for all traffic officers on Maryland highways are cancelled to put the full weight of traffic assistance at disposal of motorists who will be traveling Maryland highways over the long week-end.

According to Maryland's Bureau on Traffic Statistics, pedestrian casualties still head the list. Special caution and warning is directed to pedestrians who cross roads where there is no intersection or no traffic signal.

Crossing against the signal, walking in roadways, stepping from behind parked cars or lying in the roadway while making tire repairs also stand high on the list of accident causes.

Concert Artist and Teacher Is Coming

Word was received in Oakland this week that Dr. Felix Mendelssohn, famous concert artist and teacher, would meet with prospective students on Friday morning, July 8, in the social room of the Lutheran church. The church council made the room available for his music classes.

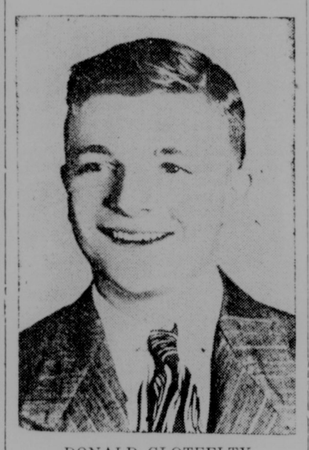
Grantsville Members of FFA Win Awards



DONALD GLOTFELTY
Public Speaking Winner

Two members of Grantsville Chapter, Future Farmers of America, won trips to Springfield, Mass., and sizeable cash awards in contests at the state convention held last week at College Park.

Donald Glotfelty won the state public speaking contest with his talk on "Maryland's Biggest Poultry Problem." Young Glotfelty and Homer Durst constituted the first place poultry judging team of the state.

Glotfelty won $100 in the public speaking contest, and he and Durst won $25 as a poultry judging team.

Glotfelty spoke particularly on the part Garrett county farmers could play in the future and in the further development of the poultry industry. Half of his prize money is given to the FFA chapter in Grantsville, of which he was president last year. A graduate of the school in June, he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty. He plans to enter Waynesburg college in September to study veterinary medicine.

Both boys, accompanied by their chapter adviser, Merle Garletts, of Friendsville, vocational agriculture instructor at Grantsville High school, will attend the Springfield, Mass., Agricultural Exposition next October, with their expenses paid.

Thirteen states in the northeastern part of the country will be represented at the Springfield FFA regional contest. Winners will go to the national convention at Kansas City in November.

Nine delegates from the 40-member Grantsville Chapter attended the state convention at College Park, which ended Friday, with 300 representatives of the 53 FFA chapters in Maryland taking part.

Besides winning two of the eight first placings, Grantsville delegates won a third and a sixth place in the various contests.

James Glotfelty and William Stanton won third place in the beef judging contest.

Hamill Glotfelty and Everett Baker placed sixth in swine judging. Orlo Folk placed ninth in the farm mechanic contest.

Dale Yommer and Edwin Wampler judged dairy cattle.

Grantsville delegates who won $5 each for individual placings were Dale Yommer, Orlo Folk, James Glotfelty, Everett Baker and William Stanton.

Another member of the Grantsville chapter, Robert Buckel, who was unable to attend the state meeting, won first prize of $80 in the dairy production improvement contest.

Garletts said Harry Savage of the Friendsville FFA Chapter won first place in the soil conservation contest.

Plans are materializing for another huge Fourth of July celebration in Oakland, sponsored by the Oakland Fire Department, Inc., it was announced this week.

Already about 20 fire companies have acknowledged invitations affirmatively, a number of which will bring along their fire apparatus. At least five bands and two drum corps will intersperse the line of march. The parade will begin at 1 p.m., standard time, and the usual line of march will be followed beginning on Oak street and including Third and Second streets. The procession will return to Oak, and then cross the overhead bridge and disband at the carnival grounds.

The Dumont Shows, consisting of a number of rides and shows, will be located on the Old Glades hotel lot, adjacent to the Manhattan hotel, and Second street, from Alder to Oak, will be roped off every night during the celebration, and all day on July 4.

There will be a display of fireworks on July 4, at 11 p.m.

Robert Stanton, in charge of the parade, said that the bands and drum corps include the Fulton Meyers post of Cumberland, the Kelly-Mansfield post, of Piedmont, the Farrady Post of Frostburg, drum corps; Parsons, Meyersdale, Westernport and Oakland bands.

Fire companies included those of Kitzmiller, Newburg, Mt. Savage, Luke, Kingwood, Masontown, Friendsville, Tunnelton, Thomas, Bloomington, Bowman's Addition, Midland, Sabraton, Belington, and McCoole. The Bloomington fire department auxiliary also will be in the parade. Stanton said that around 100 invitations had been sent out, and that a number of others were expected.

Hears Case on Attempt To Close Farm Roadway

Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., was in Oakland on Tuesday to hear an equity case concerning the attempted closing of a roadway.

The suit was brought against Fred Holtschneider and wife by Roscoe W. House and wife, who claimed that a roadway that was used to go through the Holtschneider property to the House farm, had been closed by them, using a fence, then posts, and finally a tree.

The farms are located on the King's Run-Deer Park road. Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., and W. A. Huster represented House, while Holtschneider was represented by Neil C. Fraley.

Judge Bruce asked the attorneys in the case to file briefs and he withheld his opinion in the case until after all papers had been filed.

REHEARSALS BEGIN FOR CENTENNIAL 'SONG OF THE OAKS'

Pageant Narrative Completed and Rehearsals Are Started by Choir—Chairman Enthusiastic Enthusiasm about Oakland's pageant for the centennial celebration, to be called the "Song of the Oaks," was expressed by Mrs. Lewis R. Jones, pageant committee chairman, following the final drafting of the scenes and the first rehearsal of the musical group Tuesday evening.

The narrative for the pageant has been completed by Joseph Sollars, elementary school principal, and final drafting of the scenes is to completed by next week, Mrs. Jones said.

She pointed out that the scenes were authentic in regard to history and covered events from the coming of the McCarty's up to World War II, including the first school, the organization of the county and the naming of Oakland as the county seat. The pageant is to be directed by Mr. Sollars. The chorus has been selected and the first rehearsal was held Tuesday evening under the direction of Rev. Felix G. Robinson. Mrs. Jones said the choir members were enthusiastic about the parts of the ballad which they will sing. The ballad was written especially for the centennial by Rev. Robinson. The next chorus practice is scheduled for the night of July 5, in the Methodist church.

Mrs. Jones said the actors for the pageant were being selected and probably would be announced next week. In the meantime various committee chairmen had been named and already accepted. They included James Bell, Jr., and Arthur Naylor, Jr., lighting; Herbert Leighton, Sr., properties; Mrs. William C. Warfield, small properties; Mrs. Paul Naylor and Mrs. R. E. Weber, costuming. Mrs. Jones said the Forestry department would assist in planning and preparing the stage settings.

The pageant is to be given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings during the celebration, August 8 to 14, and would be presented on the site for the new high school building, the former Hamill property, at the Weber crossroads, between Oakland and Mt. Lake Park.

Admission to the pageant will be 45 and 75 cents, tax included, and Mrs. Robert Ruckert is in charge of ticket sales.

Bond Drive Here Reaches 76.6 Percent

Reports on the opportunity savings bond campaign for the period ending June 25 showed that Garrett county had sold 76.6 percent of its quota of $76,000 and stands 11th place in the list of the 23 counties and Baltimore city.

Citizens must purchase $17,710 worth of "E" bonds if they are to match the record of Harford and Baltimore counties which already have met and over-subscribed their quota.

The Opportunity campaign ends formally June 30, but during the next two weeks, designated by the Treasury Department as "accounting period" all E bonds purchased in the state will be credited towards the Maryland quota of $12,700,000. The state has met 80.6 percent of its quota.

MT. LAKE PARK

Spectators and visiting tourists are being reminded of Florida by the hot weather and the many horseshoe pitchers in back yards. A horseshoe tournament could create much interest.

A way we can all help the Centennial at Oakland is to pick up some free advertising folders and mail them to friends. Everyone in the county can help to make this a big celebration.

Names of tennis players who at some time or other have participated in the Western Maryland tournaments at the Park, are often seen in newspapers throughout the country. In the doubles finals played at Elkridge June 26, Alex Keiles, a regular Park tournament visitor, and Johnny Collom, were defeated by Burton Harvey, Jr., and Kenny Volk.

The tennis tourney this year will be held August 8 to 13, during the Centennial, which should increase interest in both centennial and tennis events. A tennis float in the parade might help.

The Sacred Song service at the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon was well attended, but threatening weather limited the crowd on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Fred C. Fleming, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bell and their son Frederick, of Denver, Colo., spent a day last week at the Fleming cottage. Mrs. Fleming will open her cottage some time in July.

Mrs. Troy Smith, of Parkersburg, is a guest at the home of Mrs. Daisy Hicks.

Songs for All Hearts

Lesson for July 3, 1949

THE greatest hymn-book in the world is to be our study for three months. Not the oldest; that honor belongs to the Vedic Hymns of ancient India. Not the largest; the hymnal of your own church may easily be twice as large. But the greatest hymn-book in the world is the book of Psalms. This collection of religious poems was used as the hymn-book of the temple which was built when the Jewish exiles returned to Babylon. It was the hymn-book of Herod's temple, and we know our Lord used and loved it. It is indeed the song-book of the Bible. It was the only hymnal which the first Christians used, for some time. Indeed the book of Psalms is probably the only hymn-book honored and used by three separate religions—Judaism, Mohammedanism and Christianity.

Dr. Foreman

How It Grew

LIKE all hymnals, this book of Psalms grew by degrees. It was not written all at one time or by one person. David wrote some of the Psalms, how many we do not know. The "titles" of the Psalms were added by later Hebrew editors, are no part of the original Psalms, and are often inaccurate.

It is very likely that as much as a thousand years went by between the first of the Psalms to be written, and the last. Every modern hymnal that is any good is in part a collection of the best of the old hymnals.

So our book of Psalms, as it finally took shape, came from older collections. A glance through it in the American standard version will show that in its present form it is made up of five smaller books, ending with Psalms 41, 72, 89, 106 and 150. Each book ends with a doxology and book V ends with a magnificent series of them. Sometimes the editors left in duplicates. Reading Psalm 14 side by side with Psalm 53 will show that these two are exactly the same, only using different names for God. At least one of the Psalms is made up of "clippings" from earlier Psalms: thus Psalm 108 is made up from Psalm 57:7-11 and Psalm 60:5-12. The Psalms were cherished and preserved generation after generation because of their heart-appeal. Our Psalm book has gone through centuries of sifting; many were dropped out and forgotten, but the best were saved and sung; and what we have is the cream of the best of the singers of Israel.

Mirror of Man

JOHN CALVIN called the Psalms the "mirror of the soul." All the varied moods of man—hope, despair, triumph, envy, doubt, aspiration, loneliness, hatred, fear, irritation, patriotism, joy, bitterness, weariness, amazement, anguish, rapture—almost every emotion that can be felt toward God or man breathes somewhere or other in these Psalms.

Since not one of the authors of the Psalms was a Christian, of course, we should not be surprised to find, here and there, expressions (for example) of hatred which are out of harmony with the spirit and teaching of Jesus. The wonder is that there is so little of that kind of thing.

For every Psalm in which the poet says something cruel or hateful (e. g. Psalm 137:9 or 109:6:14), there are scores that breathe a spirit of gentleness and grace. For every note of despair (Psalm 88 is the only completely gloomy one in the whole collection), there are many hallelujahs of hope and gladness.

Message of God

IF the Psalms are so human, how can they be also God's Word? Yet they are also, truly, a message of God. For they not only cast a divine light on the state of man's heart, but they show what the life of man is when God becomes real. For God was real to each poet who contributed to this great book. In latter weeks this summer we shall be looking at the Psalms from various special angles. This week it will be helpful to sit quietly with the three typical Psalms, 1, 67 and 100, and as you ponder over each one in turn, ask yourself: What does this show me about God? What does this show about life when it turns to God?

GAME OF POLITICS

The Democrats In '52

Though soon after election last year Mr. Truman did indicate he would not run again, there is nothing to prevent a man from changing his mind. If things seem propitious it is by no means sure he will not go after a third term. Nor is there anything to prevent him from getting the nomination if he wants it. The ridiculous collapse of the opposition to him in the last convention, with its silly draft Eisenhower or Douglas ballyhoo, was sufficiently complete to make it clear that a sitting President can always nominate himself. This has been demonstrated so often in our history that it ought to be plain now even to the second-rate amateur politicians who tried to throw Mr. Truman out of the ring a year ago.

—o—

Notwithstanding this, the general belief among Democratic politicians is that he definitely has made up his mind not to be a candidate. This accounts for the number of more or less notable citizens obviously afflicted with an acute desire for the 1952 nomination. Coy as they may be, most of them are being well advertised as presidential candidates and none can be called uncooperative. One among these is the windy and aggressive Chester Bowles, now Governor of Connecticut, once director of the OPA and a very loudly professing "liberal" indeed. Another is the more modest and attractive Adlai Stevenson, Governor of Illinois, also a "liberal" though not so loud a one. He carried his State last year by an unprecedented majority, pulling Mr. Truman and the rest of the Democratic candidates through.

—o—

However, the two generally regarded as most formidable are Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and Supreme Court Justice W. O. Douglas. The present pose of these two cagey gentlemen is that the thought of running for the presidency has never entered their minds. But the pose is extremely unconvincing. Take the case of Mr. Johnson. A shrewd politician, he is well aware his only chance of being nominated lies in obtaining Mr. Truman's support. So long as Mr. Truman remains in the field Mr. Johnson is blocked, and any suspicion of disloyalty to his Chief would be devastating. If and when Mr. Truman eliminates himself, his support still would be Mr. Johnson's first essential. Clearly, there is nothing much he now can do to promote the presidential aspirations most of his friends and all Washington observers are quite sure he cherishes. Nevertheless, in certain ways he seems to behave unmistakably like a candidate.

—o—

One of these is in the assiduity with which he cultivates selected newspaper and radio commentators. To quite a few of these at small, unadvertised luncheons and dinners he has "revealed all." Another is his willingness to address relatively unimportant gatherings at which he has nothing particular to say. An example was his recent speech at the Jewish-endowed university, Yeshiva, in New York. On this occasion Mr. Johnson had no message to impart, no news to present and no great thought to express. His speech was one hundred percent laudation of the university and the Jewish people—a typical candidatorial performance. Though Mr. Douglas's position would seem to require less activity and more aloofness from politics, he is the most open of the nomination seekers. Beginning with his big political speech before the CIO convention some months ago, there has been a series of significant happenings, all of which show him in the light of an active aspirant. It is no secret that his colleagues on the Supreme Court so regard him—some of them with sharp disapproval. He has followed his CIO performance with various addresses at places where the presence of a Supreme Court justice is, to say the least, unusual.

—o—

A few weeks ago it was publicly announced that Mr. Douglas had prepared a booklet containing his collected speeches, and was sending autographed copies to influential Democrats in various parts of the country. Finally, there was his extraordinary dissenting opinion in the Standard Oil case which was widely interpreted as a political appeal. Parts of it did sound like the ranting against trusts and monopolies of an old-time demagogue of the William Jennings Bryan era. It could easily form the basis of a party platform designed to appeal to the gullible masses. In addition, Mr. Douglas's friends of the Americans for Democratic Action and his ever loyal band of newspaper boosters are working earnestly to keep his name before the public. It is an interesting situation. Except among the ADA and the CIO there is no political support for Mr. Douglas. And, in the country as a whole, no discernible public sentiment for him. The 1952 convention is nearly three years off and in that time he might be built into a "great national figure," though not many realistic politicians think so.

—o—

But he is running and his friends are working with that end in view. Some feel the Douglas candidacy degrades the Supreme Court and violates its best traditions; but his friends regard that as just old fashioned. One thing about his candidacy seems fairly sure—perhaps he can get along without it but it is highly improbable he will ever get any support from Mr. Truman. Last year, when the odds were heavily against his election, Mr. Douglas turned down a personal request to run on the ticket with him. That is not the sort of thing Mr. Truman forgets.

Advice to Rose Growers

Once roses pass their full bloom, special treatment can control continued blossoming and flower development, according to Dr. Conrad B. Link, University of Maryland horticulturist.

Many hybrid tea roses produce several buds on one stem. For more perfect cut flowers, side buds should be removed, leaving the strong center bud, he explains. Dis-budding is not necessary if only a mass of bloom is wanted for general garden display. Long stems can be developed by removing small branches. When cutting, the horticulturist advises, leave at least 2 leaves on the plant at the base of the stem. This means 2 buds, and 2 more flowers. The roses can be expected to bloom again about five weeks after cutting.

Rose gardeners must also watch carefully for any "sucker shoots" which might come from budded or grafted plants. If not traced back to their roots and destroyed, these thorny shoots may crowd out the best portions of the plant.

Farmers Hardest Hit When Food Costs Drop

Farmers had to take the biggest part of the July to February drop in retail food prices, says Dr. S. H. DeVault, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Marketing at the University of Maryland.

A family "market basket" of farm food products, for which consumers paid an annual rate of $708 at retail last July, cost consumers $70 less in February. Most of this saving to consumers was due to the lower prices farmers received for their food products. Farmers took more than 4/5 of the drop, or $57. Reduction in marketing costs accounted for only $13 of the $70 saved to consumers. This sort of thing is not unusual, Dr. DeVault, said, explaining that marketing charges change more slowly than prices of farm products.

According to Dr. DeVault, the marketing cost of the annual market basket of the average family of three in February was $317—about the same as the entire retail cost of the market basket had been in 1940.

MARRIED

Wonderly-Giese—On Sunday afternoon, June 19th, at 3:30 P. M., Miss Edna Giese became the bride of Daniel E. Wonderly of Mt. Lake Park. The double ring ceremony took place in the Pollock Memorial Presbyterian church, in Pollock, S. D., and was performed by Rev. James H. Ford, the bride's pastor.

At the request of the bride and groom, the congregation sang "Great Is Thy Faithfulness" before the ceremony. The wedding march was played by Mrs. James H. Ford at the organ. She also sang a solo, "Oh, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee," at the close of the ceremony.

The bride made her own wedding attire; the gown being made of white Japanese silk. She carried a bouquet of red roses with streamers, on a white Bible. Her maid of honor was Miss Lois Gow, of Columbus, Indiana, the fiancee of the groom's attendant. She wore a pink gown with a corsage of roses and daisies. The flower girl was Miss Barbara Doehly, a niece of the bride. She wore a light blue gown and bonnet, and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. The father of the bride being deceased, she was given in marriage by her uncle, David Giese, of Java, S. D. The groom's brother, Carl Wonderly, served as best man.

The mothers of both the bride and the groom were in attendance, each wearing a gardenia corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. The decorated cake was baked by the bride's sister, Mrs. Alvina Doehly, of Bismarck, N. D.

The groom was graduated from Oakland High School in 1939, and from Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., January, 1949. He served thirty-two months in the army. The bride is also a graduate of Wheaton college.

After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Winner, S. D., where Mr. Wonderly will be pastor of the First Baptist church for one year, after which he will resume his seminary work at Kansas City. Kansas.

Beckman-Lipscomb—Miss Eleanor Lipscomb, of Mt. Lake Park, became the bride of Oliver E. Beckman, near Oakland, on Saturday, June 18, at the home of the groom.

The bride was attired in a grey suit with black and white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. The maid of honor, Miss Rose Ina Beckman, sister of the groom, wore a dark grey suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mr. Robert T. Beckman, brother of the groom, was best man.

The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. George W. Simpson, of the Evangelical United Brethren church of Loch Lynn. A small reception followed the ceremony.

Those attending the wedding reception were: Rev. and Mrs. Simpson, Loch Lynn; Mrs. Veryl Weimer and son, Mt. Lake; Helen Shreve, of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beckman and son, Washington, D. C.; and Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Beckman and daughter. Following the reception the couple left for a short honeymoon at Washington and vicinity.

Administration sources predicted that government spending would be higher in next fiscal year and even larger in following year.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, former Secretary of the Interior died June 26.

Herbert Hoover cautioned Congress to avoid a government "dictatorship" over education.

Legislatures of Maryland and Delaware came in for vigorous criticism in reports submitted to the Peninsula conference of the Methodist church at Salisbury, declaring "the liquor and gambling interests through the legislative halls of Dover and Annapolis with shrewd and unscrupulous lobbyists, well supplied with funds and falsehoods."

112 Marriage Permits Issued in Two Weeks

A big jumb in the number of marriage licenses was noted during the past two weeks at the office of the clerk of the Circuit court. An almost continuous stream of applicants have been had on Saturdays, and a busy time is expected this Saturday for the holiday week-end.

The total for the past week ending Monday afternoon was 43 while for the same period the previous week the total was 69, making 112 for the two weeks. This brought the total for June thus far to 199. Nine of those granted during the two weeks were marked "don't publish."

Use 1080 With Care Is Advice

"Sodium fluoracetate, the highly effective rodent poison generally known as compound 1080, must be handled with extreme caution," according to a warning just issued by Mr. George L. Hall, Chief Engineer of the State Department of Health. "Accidental poisoning of human beings, dogs, cats and desirable forms of wild animal life can cause rapid death, for comparatively small doses are fatal and there is no known antidote.

"Pest control firms using 1080 should instruct their employees to use the rodenticide with constant awareness of its hazardous quality. The compound should be stored in labeled containers and warningly colored with nigrosine black dye, for its natural appearance is similar to flour, powdered sugar and other innocuous substances. Prepared solutions of 1080 should be stored in a safely locked place when not in use and careful accounts should be kept of the amount on hand.

"To protect themselves workers should wear respirators to prevent inhalation of dust when handling the dry chemical. Since the poison can be absorbed readily through cuts and abrasions, or even in some instances through unbroken skin, gloves should be worn during prolonged handling. Hands should be kept away from the mouth and washed thoroughly after handling to prevent accidental swallowing of small amounts of the poison.

"Accidental poisoning of other persons and animals can be prevented by precautions against the contamination of food or water, collection and burning of uneaten bait and avoiding any overflow or spilling of poisoned water. The complete burning or deep burial of poisoned rats or mice is necessary because even dried carcasses can cause secondary poisoning in cats and dogs. Operators should keep complete records of 1080 received and dis- and poisoned water. Owners of property or responsible employees should be informed concerning the use of 1080 on their premises and asked to sign a statement to the effect that they know of its use and are aware of the precautions that should be employed.

"The substance should be used only by qualified pest exterminators and should under no circumstances be made available to other persons. Its use is not recommended in private houses but should be limited to business, industrial and military establishments, ships and guarded city dumps. Already the improper use of 1080 has killed human beings and domestic or wild animals by types of accidents which will continue to occur unless the substance is used with meticulous care and continuing awareness of its lethal quality."

Progress Is Made In Management of Wild Life Areas

Wildlife management work is now well under way in Garrett County under the direction of Dale H. Arner, Wildlife Field Superintendent for Region I. Two wildlife management units have been completed, he reported this week. The two units are the Mt. Nebo property just 4 miles east of Oakland, jointly owned by the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission and the Forestry Department, and the New Germany state forest area.

In the Mt. Nebo area, 4 contour strips averaging 2 acres per strip were plowed, limed, fertilized and planted in field corn, soy beans, sorghum and buckwheat. An additional 3 acres has been disced, limed, and sown in a mixture of orchard grass alsike clover, ladino clover and Lespedeza.

In the New Germany area 11 old abandoned clearings within the state forest area were plowed, limed, fertilized and planted. Experimental plantings of grasses and legumes were tried on an abandoned strip mine.

The overall wildlife management plan calls for a rotation of plantings primarily to provide food for wildlife all year around and also to build up the fertility of the soil. The buckwheat and soy beans plantings will provide late summer food for deer and upland game. Sometime in the fall, he explained, these areas will be plowed and planted in winter wheat or rye which will provide a supplemental food in early spring.

The following spring these areas will be sowed with a mixture of perennial grasses and clovers and will then stand for about 6 years before it will be necessary to again start rotation. The sorghum and field corn and shrubs and vine plantings will provide winter food and the following spring the sorghum plantings will begin the buckwheat or soybean rotation. In this manner he said he hoped to work up a large area of Garrett county's abandoned fields taken over by the resettlement administration.

Work is now going on in the Accident area and by the end of this month management work will be started on the Swallow Falls area where old roads and wood trails will be widened, disced and sowed with perennial grasses and legumes.

In addition, the farm game program has been started with 12 farm game seed stock refuges established; the bulk of these refuges are in the Accident area. It is hoped interest can be aroused in some of the other farm areas. In this program, the farmer is supplied with seeds, trees, shrubs, vines or seeds, technical assistance, smooth wire, metal signs and posts for a small refuge if the technician deems a refuge advisable, and priority for whatever stocking of game that is scheduled for the county. In addition, paper signs will be supplied for the rest of the farm stating "this farm is under the Maryland Farm Game Program. You must have permission to hunt." Wardens will make regular checks with the farmers on these areas to see that the hunters are acting accordingly. In this way the land owner receives aid from the state in protecting his property and yet it will not exclude the right thinking sportsmen who ask permission to hunt and conduct themselves as sportsmen, he concluded.

Local Man Freed In "Abduction"

Charged with abduction of a 13-year-old Mt. Lake Park girl, Darrell M. Jamison, 21, of Oakland, was freed at a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch in Oakland on Monday.

Jamison was arrested last week in Morgantown, W. Va. Mrs. Allen Mills, mother of the girl, had obtained a warrant for his arrest, charging the man had taken the girl there to be married.

Magistrate Loraditch termed the girl "incorrigible" and committed her to the Montrose Training School for Girls until she becomes 18 years of age. She denied having been with the young man at any time.

State's Attorney said Jamison, who is unemployed, is a previous offender, having served a term in the Maryland House of Correction upon conviction in a carnal knowledge case. Jamison said he went to Morgantown to visit his father. When arrested there he waived extradition and was brought back to Maryland. He denied having courted the girl and denied knowledge of the girl's whereabouts. She was found later in Morgantown.

Progress Commended At Vindex Mine

Progress made recently toward fuller conformance with the Federal Mine Safety Code at the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company's Manor No. 3 mine is commended in an official reinspection report released by the Bureau of Mines which also suggests several additional precautions. The mine is near Vindex, and it employed 115 men and produced about 600 tons of coal daily when revisited in May by Inspector Harry Jones.

The inspector reported that more than a dozen safety improvements had been completed since the previous Government examination. They included conformance with the adopted timbering standards, firing all blasting shots immediately after charging, ample warning before blasting, explosion doors for the ventilating fan, use of enclosed trip lights, several electrical precautions, 100 percent wearing of safety-toe shoes, and a well-enforced "no-smoking" rule.

To help promote safety further, Jones recommended carrying explosives containers, installing additional air-lock doors and closing ventilation doors promptly after men and equipment pass through, safer installation of the power wires, better maintenance of one escapeway, and the use of goggles by employes doing eye-hazardous work.

Walks

No. 10—Mountain Lake Park.—Start from railroad station and leave town at its south-eastern extremity or at end of Oak street, passing bank, post-office, Lutheran Church, Methodist Church and the Bosley House. A walk of a mile from limits of Oakland will bring one to limits of Mt. Lake Park. There are eight hundred acres in the park. It contains cottages, hotels and an auditorium capable of housing five thousand people. There are a lake, on which row boats may be hired, and base-ball grounds. During August entertainments patterned after those at Chautauqua on the lake of that name in Western New York, are given, morning, afternoon and night. Loch Lynn, a summer resort, is across the railroad back from Mountain Lake Park. Two miles.

Drives

No. 10—Browning's.—Leave town by Liberty street and cross railroad at base-ball grounds. Follow road past Stephen Browning's to left and until it joins Old West Union road and Third street. Nine miles.

Excursions

No. 10—Cumberland.—Take accommodation train on Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in the morning, going East, having purchased round trip tickets. The train passes through the Glades, between Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn, in front of Deer Park Hotel and beneath Truesdell's Heights, to Altamont, ten miles away and top of the celebrated "Seventeen Mile" grade. The road winds down the mountain abruptly, the grade being 125 feet to the mile, to Piedmont, about twenty-five miles from Oakland. The river seen from the grade is the Savage River. At Piedmont the Potomac River appears and the road follows it to Cumberland, about twenty-five miles distant. Beautiful farms are in the river bottom, on both sides of the railroad. The time occupied on trip is about two hours. Dinner can be had at hotel. After dinner the trolley cars should be taken and the residential part of Cumberland visited. It is an old and substantially built city of 16,000 inhabitants, containing striking public edifices, large churches and beautiful private houses. Return to Oakland by either accommodation or express train in the afternoon.

In summer, when the moon is full or nearly so, leave Oakland on accommodation or express train in the afternoon, for Cumberland. Get supper at hotel. Take express train at eight o'clock for Oakland, arriving at destination at ten o'clock. This train usually has an observation car at rear. The ride by moonlight from Cumberland to Oakland, especially up the steep grade, is one never to be forgotten.

66 YEARS OF SERVICE

Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

Like most of my Congressional colleagues, I deplore deeply the exchange of physical blows between the two members of the Democratic Party during the history-making debate on the merits of the federal housing bill.

I was reminded of the words of James Madison, writing in the Federalist Papers back before our American Constitution was adopted: "In politics, as in religion, it is equally absurd to aim at making proselytes by fire and sword. Heresies in either can rarely be cured by persecution."

Since the very earliest days of our Republic, our best leaders have urged moderation in emotions upon our people. The calm, seasoned reasonable approach to any problem is much more likely to bring forth a solution that is fair to all than an intemperate, name-calling, fist-swinging technique.

At this crucial period in our life, it should behoove every American to think of persuading his fellows of the right course, of enlightening his friends in every way. But quarreling and getting into fights is no way to enlighten others; such tactics generate more heat than light.

We in Congress these days often have to be remember the wise words of John Stuart Mill, one of the greatest students of freedom and government in all history, when he said: "In time of crisis we must avoid both ignorant change and ignorant opposition to change."

This indeed is a time of crisis, throughout our nation and throughout the world. Our people are laboring under a tremendous burden of taxation, prices for essentials still high and seem never to go down as many had predicted and some had hoped; men are suspicious of each other, many of them for a cause, for there undoubtedly has been treachery in high places.

I resolve again every week to approach my work with a feeling of tolerance and goodwill, although I must confess that sometimes when a person listens to a lot of the arguments he hears advanced in Congress, he feels like flailing out in every direction.

Sentiment is growing in Congress to pass a resolution to require the President to reduce federal spending in the fiscal year beginning July 1 by at least 10 percent overall.

In view of the fact that the Democrats in Congress have not cut spending and have made inevitable a most dangerous deficit in the ensuing fiscal year, I am constrained to support this movement and to work for passage of the resolution.

You and I sometimes might not think that Uncle Sam's expenditures affect us directly, but when we think this we are mistaken. Every time Uncle Sam spends more than he takes in through taxes, it increases the likelihood of higher taxes in the days to come. Furthermore, it causes a depreciation of the money we have saved, it eats away the value of our dollars. An unbalanced budget is definitely inflationary, increasing the cost of goods slowly but surely and falling most heavily among the poor who need every dollar they have.

Thomas Jefferson, the original Democrat from whom so many of his followers have gone astray, once wrote this about government debt. I believe it is particularly pertinent right now: "I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. We must make our choice between economy or liberty, or profusion and servitude. If we can prevent the Government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy. The same prudence which in private life would forbid our paying our money for unexplained projects, forbids it in the disposition of public money."

Under The Dome

I appeared before the Public Health Sub-committee of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House and at that time had Dr. P. F. Pracher and Dr. Ernest Poole testify relative to my resolution which would provide for the continued research studies being conducted in Hagerstown in connection with the Public Health Service.

Several thousand letters and cards have been received in our office this week on Federal Aid to Education.

ORANGE-CRUSH "FRESH FRUIT" FLAVOR RATES FIRST IN TEST

TASTE TESTING WAS FUN . . . "Really fun," said the women, men, girls and boys who recently took the carbonated orange drink "blind" taste test. Some voted for this drink, some for that, not knowing the names of any at the time. But when all returns were chalked up, Orange-CRUSH with its distinctive "fresh-fruit" flavor, natural color and just-right carbonation was away in the lead.

Scientists reveal reasons why . . .

BROWN BOTTLE PROTECTS "FRESH FRUIT" FLAVOR

Many people ask why Orange-CRUSH is always sold in special "krinkly" brown bottles. The reasons are good ones. Orange-CRUSH technicians give the answers:

1. The brown, corrugated glass structure of the Orange-CRUSH bottle resists sunlight. This is most important because sunlight is especially harmful to orange juice, causing it to deteriorate quickly. By preventing these damaging rays from reaching the juice after it has been bottled, the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle carefully guards Orange-CRUSH until you open it and taste all of its delicate, sweet, natural fruit flavor.
2. The distinctive "krinkly" brown bottle identifies Orange-CRUSH so the public can easily and quickly recognize it.
3. Wherever you find Orange-CRUSH, all over the world, it is always bottled the same way—in the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle. There is never a variation to confuse you.
4. The Orange-CRUSH "krinkly" brown bottle feels comfortable in the hand—a sure grip when pouring.

With these facts in mind, look always for the distinctively-shaped, "krinkly" brown bottle that invariably identifies the genuine Orange-CRUSH, that protects its delicate "fresh fruit" flavor and natural color; that fits the hand so well. Be foresighted, be thrifty . . . buy delicious Orange-CRUSH by the case, with confidence that you get a bigger money's worth, and that its goodness is always protected by the Orange-CRUSH "krinkly" brown bottle. Keep its picture in your mind.

Bit of Home, Abroad

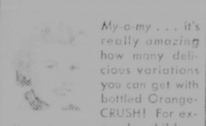
"Good Neighbors" ENJOY Orange-CRUSH IN RIO

Orange-CRUSH is sold in twenty countries throughout the world. So on a "good neighbor" jaunt . . . for example, to Rio de Janeiro in Brazil . . . you'd find Orange-CRUSH awaiting your pleasure. A "little bit of home" to cheer and refresh you with its familiar bottled goodness, it's sparkling, zesty, "fresh fruit" flavor!

And no matter where you find Orange-CRUSH you'll find the same delicious "fresh fruit" flavor and natural color protected by the familiar "krinkly" brown bottle.

Juice of tree-ripened Valencia Oranges, filtered carbonated water . . . flavor of orange peel, citric acid from lemon juice, sugar syrup . . . that's Orange-CRUSH!

Taste-Teasers



Mrs. L. D. Jones adds enthusiastic Orange-CRUSH zest, suggests these taste-tempting ways.

My-o-my . . . it's really amazing how many delicious variations you can get with bottled Orange-CRUSH! For example, children love "Orange-Sicles" made by freezing Orange-CRUSH in ice trays, with wooden skewer in each. Frozen Orange-CRUSH cubes are wonderful, too, as the "ice" in lemonade or grape juice. I use Orange-CRUSH for basting meats—as a sauce flavoring—with ices, ice cream or milk. And here are three of my Orange-CRUSH "guest specials":

ORANGE FROSTY. Serve chilled Orange-CRUSH in a frosty glass topped with a sprig of mint. Sheer taste enjoyment with a chicken sandwich or deviled ham sandwich! A snack deluxe for family or guests.

ORANGE FLIP. Fill tall beverage glass one-fourth full of chilled Orange-CRUSH. Add one tablespoon Vanilla Ice Cream. Stir into Orange-CRUSH until smooth. Fill glass with Orange-CRUSH, stir well and serve. Delicious, extra-cooling flavor blend!

ORANGE SHAKE. Fill parfait glass one-fourth full of Orange-CRUSH. Into this stir one tablespoon orange sherbet or raspberry sherbet. Stir until smooth. Fill glass with Orange-CRUSH. Stir well. When it foams it's ready to enjoy. And, umm-mm . . . serve with cookies or plain cake!

Customers Choose Favorite Bottled Orange Drink in "Blind" Taste Test

Orange-CRUSH Enjoyed By Whole Families

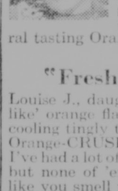
Men, Women, Children Like Orange-CRUSH Best

In a most unusual taste test, Orange-CRUSH, famous "fresh fruit" flavored orange drink, proved again why it has been a favorite bottled refreshment for more than 33 years. All comers—men, women and children—were asked to taste several carbonated orange drinks. One was Orange-CRUSH. All testers were served "blind," in cups, none knowing names of orange drinks tasted. An impartial scorer asked, "which drink do you prefer?"—which of these do you say has the finest "fresh fruit" flavor?"

"DIFFERENT" TASTE WINS PREFERENCE

Score marks lengthened in the "Orange-CRUSH" column as more and more said, "This for me." When asked reasons for this preference, the real story of Orange-CRUSH leadership was told: "Fresh fruit" flavor—just enough "sparkle"—more "cooling"—no foreign "after-taste"—more "satisfying"—"just like it better"—tastes like "more"!

Here was human, present-day confirmation of the reasons why Orange-CRUSH is the best-known bottled, carbonated orange drink—sold in twenty countries throughout the world. Proof, once more, of the qualities that made Orange-CRUSH the official orange drink of the New York World's Fair, Chicago World's Fair, and other great fairs. You, too, can taste the "difference" that has made Orange-CRUSH a world favorite carbonated orange drink for years. Delicious, "fresh fruit flavor," bottled Orange-CRUSH is sold in grocery stores and fountains all over America. You'll find it in your block, or "just around the corner." Try some today.

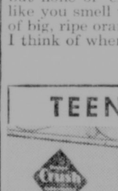


"Fresh Fruit Flavor"

Marjorie J., mother, when informed of her choice in "blind" taste test, volunteered: "What I like about Orange-CRUSH is its 'fresh fruit' flavor. I have enjoyed Orange-CRUSH for years, but had not realized that its pleasing, distinctive 'fruity' taste is so distinguishable when compared with other carbonated orange drinks."

"Orange Sparkle Pleases"

Richard J., father: "I made my choice because I found the orange flavor 'sparkle' of this Orange-CRUSH drink particularly pleasing. The makers of Orange-CRUSH have certainly found the formula of tingling taste perfection in a bottled orange drink. There'll be more of it at our house."



"Natural Tasting"

Willie J., son: "Orange-CRUSH is so natural tasting—full of the fruity fresh-orange flavor that's tops with me! Does it ever taste good when it's nice and cold—and its sparkly tingle kind of 'hugs your tongue'—and a glassful is gone far too soon! Yes sir, I could go for a bottle of cooling, natural tasting Orange-CRUSH any time."

"Freshlike Flavor"

Louise J., daughter: "It's the 'fresh-like' orange flavor, with just enough cooling tingly taste, that I like about Orange-CRUSH. At picnics and places I've had a lot of bottled orange drinks, but none of 'em had the rich flavor like you smell when you open a sack of big, ripe oranges—and that's what I think of when I taste Orange-CRUSH."

"JUST RIGHT" IN TASTE TEST

Drink "A" TOO STRONG

Heavy, sweet flavor—too much sweetening gave Drink "A" a syrup-like taste—lacked refreshing lightness . . .

Drink "B" TOO WEAK

. . . thin but sharp flavor of Drink "B" lacked naturalness—no zest or tang—no fully rounded fruit quality . . .

Orange-CRUSH "PERFECT"

. . . but Orange-CRUSH, ah, that "fresh fruit" flavor—cooling, delicious, refreshing! . . .

TEEN-AGE "CRUSH"

YOUNG MODERNS HAVE "CRUSH" . . . Yes, it's after-school or holiday Orange-CRUSH time for today's teen-agers who know what tastes good . . . in the best of company . . . when having the best of times. Umm-mm . . . delicious, cooling, "fresh fruit" flavored Orange-CRUSH . . . at the fountain of youth!

Only Tree-Ripened Valencia Oranges Used

FROM SUNNY GROVES come the luscious Valencia oranges that are used in preparing Orange-CRUSH. Only the choicest oranges are selected, picked at the very peak of their maturity. These select oranges are rushed to the plant where they undergo a special processing developed over many years by Orange-CRUSH technicians. In this way, every bit of flavor and goodness is saved for your enjoyment in a bottle of Orange-CRUSH.

SMART DEALER . . .

HE MAKES SHOPPING EASIER . . . because he knows families in growing number are buying Orange-CRUSH in brown bottles, "by the case." So he keeps well stocked with cases of Orange-CRUSH, and helps shoppers remember to buy with a well-displayed reminder to "BUY IT BY THE CASE."

SMART SHOPPER . . .

YOU'LL BE HAPPY AT HOME . . . if you buy Orange-CRUSH by the case—and keep a few bottles always cool and handy in your refrigerator. Delicious, cooling refreshment between home tasks . . . for active, thirsty children . . . for "drop-ins" while you chat . . . for parties . . . for the unexpected, always!

Klondyke Regains Baseball League Lead

Klondyke regained first place in the Upper Potomac league on Sunday when they defeated Kitzmiller 3-2 while Terra Alta was upsetting the Elk Garden team by the score of 8 to 4. Klondyke now holds the lead by a half game over Elk Garden.

Terra Alta scored its third straight victory and Bob Fraley made it six wins against four losses as Elk Garden was yanked out of first place. Crellin won over Swanton when the latter team failed to put in its appearance at Swanton. The Oakland-Shallmar game was postponed on account of the death of a member of the United Mine Workers which sponsored the Shallmar team.

Last Thursday Elk Garden defeated Kitzmiller 5 to 4, Oakland trimmed Swanton 11 to 4, and Shallmar defeated Crellin 7 to 5.

Klondyke and Elk Garden have won four each, but Elk Garden has lost four games to three for Klondyke. Crellin is in third place with an 8 to 5 record, while Oakland is next with an 8 to 6 standing.

Games for Thursday: Shallmar at Kitzmiller, Oakland at Klondyke, Terra Alta at Crellin and Elk Garden at Swanton.

Games for Sunday, July 3: Crellin at Kitzmiller, Klondyke at Swanton, Oakland at Terra Alta and Elk Garden at Shallmar.

Trustees' Sale
—OF—
Valuable Minerals and Mineral Rights near Grantsville, in Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of the power vested in us by a decree of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, bearing date October 25, 1946, and passed in a case wherein N. U. Bond et al. were plaintiffs and Rachel M. Bond et al. were defendants, the same being No. 3733 Equity in said Court, and an order of said Court passed in said cause on June 6, 1949, we, the undersigned trustees do hereby give notice that on FRIDAY, JULY 15th, 1949.

At the hour of 11 A. M., EST.

in front of the Court House in the town of Oakland, Maryland, we will offer for sale at public auction all of the minerals and mineral substances, with rights appurtenant thereto, underlying that part of the tract of land called "Swanton" containing 7270 acres, more or less, situate East of Grantsville in Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed, with all minerals reserved, by M. M. Armstrong et ux. to Lewis R. Parr by deed dated May 5, 1900, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 38, folio 432, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and which by deed from John Dimeling et ux. dated February 11, 1930, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 100, folio 191, one of said Land Records of Garrett County, finally became and is now vested in the State of Maryland. Said minerals and mineral substances hereby offered for sale are also the same which were conveyed unto William C. Bond et al. in the last item of a deed from said M. M. Armstrong et ux. dated May 5, 1900, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 38, folio 422, Land Records of Garrett County, and title to which, in the manner set forth in the papers in the above case, became vested in the parties to this cause and is now vested in the undersigned trustees by virtue of the aforesaid decree herein, said minerals and mineral substances and rights appurtenant thereto being described in said conveyances as follows: "All minerals, oils, gases and valuable clays in, upon or under said lands, or any part thereof, together with free ingress, egress and regress to, over, upon and from said lands for the purpose of operating the same at any time or place."

The western boundary of said tract of land under which the above minerals and mineral substances are located is situate about four miles East of Grantsville, in Garrett County, and said tract extends thence eastward for several miles. A strip mining operation was carried on for some time by Burnwell Coal Company and a considerable amount of coal opened and removed, but the greater part of the deposit still remains. Deep mining operations for the mining of Kittanning or B seam of coal have also been carried on near the western boundary of the tract at and near what is known as the Jenkins No. 1 Mine, but the tract has never been fully tested as to the acreage and workable seams of coal. Both Kittanning and Freeport seams of coal are said to underlie the tract. There is also a valuable seam of clay underlying the above developed seam of coal but same has not been developed and operated.

Full mining rights, as set forth in the aforesaid reservation, apply to and will be available to the purchaser of this property insofar as deep mining is concerned, but strip mining can only be done under license from the Board of Public Works of Maryland. The trustees are advised that license for this can be obtained upon reasonable terms but they do not warrant that it can be obtained or undertake to secure the same.

Terms of Sale: One third cash on day of sale, one third in six months and the balance in twelve months, or all cash at the option of the purchaser or purchasers, the deferred parts of the purchase price to bear interest at 6% and to be secured to the satisfaction of the trustees, as prescribed by said decree.

Further information may be obtained by application to the trustees.

The happiest homes on earth are those that are blessed with children. Children impart a warmth and an atmosphere of living to a home that lends enchantment to even the humblest dwelling.

The happiest people on earth are those parents who lavish their affections upon their children and endeavor to rear them in such manner that they will become happy and useful members of society.

Parenthood carries with it serious responsibilities which no parent can afford to shirk or ignore. Child delinquency springs mainly from parental neglect and the lack of proper home training.

The first duty of a parent is to instill in his child's mind the principles of right living and the spiritual background of human life. He must teach the child how to apply these principles in his daily life.

The Church stands ready to counsel and guide parents in meeting the grave responsibilities of child training.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Attract Attention in Monday's Parade

—Staff Photo and Engraving.

Crack B. & O. Train Will Stop Here During Centennial

That the Cincinnatian, crack B. and O. passenger train, would stop in Oakland, both east and west bound, August 7 through August 13, was announced this week by Charles L. Briner, chairman of Baltimore and Ohio day. Confirmation of his request to B. and O. officials was received last week from R. M. VanZandt, head of the public relations department. The train has stopped in Oakland only upon a few occasions previously.

This and other features of B. and O. Day were outlined before the Oakland Centennial Commission at its regular meeting last Friday night. An address by President Roy B. White of the railroad, two concerts by the B. and O. Glee club, and a concert by the Oakland band, had previously been announced. .

Mr. Briner said there was a possibility that the glee club soloist would sing one or two of Emeric Dusic's songs. Dusic's song, "Heartbroken," recently was given a radio debut. Six Oakland girls will appear in the parade on B. and O. day in costumes provided depicting the styles of 1853. He also expressed the possibility of a rail laying contest.

He was informed that the general manager would see that the paving job in and around the station area was completed in time for the Centennial.

Named on Reception Committee

Susan Turner has been named by the Oakland 4-H club to represent it on the reception committee. Representatives of the Boy and Girl Scout organizations also will be named to this committee.

The advertising booklet will contain 84 pages. Amount of advertising sold to date is $6,045, it was reported.

Thomas S. Post, mayor of Cumberland, will represent the Maryland League of Municipalities at the Centennial on August 13, it was learned. The Lutheran Pastor's Aid will serve meals to the Fort Hill High School band the day it appears in Oakland at $1.25 per plate. The Commission is also making arrangements with the Deaconness home in the Park for housing for about 50 people.

To Visit Her Father Stationed in Germany

A nine-year old Lonaconing girl, Janet Haig Jackson, and her grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, plan to leave July 14 for Germany where Janet will live with her father, Lt. Col. John Haig Jackson, at Hanau.

Col. Jackson was associated in business with his father at the Oakland store for a short time but has been in the army for the past eight years. He served with General George Patton in World War II and is now with the 7742 Engineer Base Depot group.

Mrs. Jackson may stay in Germany one month as Janet's guardian but Janet can live with her father and stepmother, Mrs. Ruth Ridder Jackson, formerly of Oakland, for as long as they remain there. Mrs. Jackson will visit Scotland and England and other countries before returning to her home. Col. Jackson has another year and a half in Germany on his present tour of duty.

Miss Marie Hardesty was among the advanced group that graduated from the Maryland Medical Secretarial School in Hagerstown, June 30. She is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar T. Hardesty.

Thousands Assemble To Witness Fourth Of July Procession

Ten thousand or more people were in Oakland for the Fourth of July holiday festivities and lined the streets to watch the annual parade of fire companies and their equipment.

Twenty or more units from the tri-state area composed the parade which was not as large as that of last year, but interesting to those who watched from the sidelines.

The procession ended at the entrance to the Dumont Shows which began operation immediately after the parade. They will continue to operate the balance of the week, under the sponsorship of the Oakland Fire Department.

Fair weather prevailed throughout the day.

In a parade at Terra Alta, W. Va., on the morning of the Fourth, the Oakland firemen were awarded a first prize and the Oakland Band was awarded a third prize among the competing fire companies and bands.

Local Girl Scouts In Camp Two Weeks

Thirteen members of the Oakland Girl Scout troop, accompanied by two girl scouts from Parsons, W. Va., left Sunday for Camp Riamo, near Farmington, Pa., for the regular two weeks encampment.

They included Inez Davis, Carolyn Dusic, JoAnn Echard, Nancy Forshey, Ann Forshey, Charlotte Kemphfer, Rebecca Nell White, Shirley Leighton, Nancy Pollock, JoAnn McRobie, Kitty Wainer, Mary Ann Nally, and Carole Anne Gonder, all of Oakland; Delores Ann Hinebaugh and Jane Elizabeth Hinebaugh, of Parsons.

At a camp fire program and ceremony last Friday at the home of Mrs. Emeric Dusic, nineteen scouts passed their second class requirements. They were Barbara Stickel, Vonda Pike, Barbara Biser, Beverly Winters, Rebecca Nell White, Sherry Hardesty, Mary Ann Nally, Carolyn Dusic, Linda Pritts, Charlotte Kemphfer, Kitty Wainer, Jo Ann McRobie, Inez Davis, Mary Bennett, Geraldine Davis, Ann Forshey, Nancy Forshey, Nancy Pollock and Betty Biser.

Barbara Biser and Mary Bennett also passed their cooking badge.

Home Owners Have Huge Repair Job

Repair expenditures on Garrett county's non-farm homes will total an estimated $365,000 during 1949 and will serve as an important factor in keeping both labor and business activity at high levels, according to a report just released by the Tile Council of America.

Painting and redecorating will account for about $39 of every $100 to be spent here on home repairs, the report revealed. Roofing repairs will take $25 to $30 and work with stone, glass and tile about $6.

Carpentry repairs will require approximately $5 of the theoretic $100, and installation of showers, tiling of bathrooms and replacement of plumbing will account for another $4. Miscellaneous work will take the balance of the $100, according to the report.

Miss Edith Isner, of Clarksburg, was a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr and Mrs. James Lemmert, over the holiday week-end. Edgar Meyers, also of Clarksburg, spent the Fourth at the Lemmert home.

Both "Shootin' and Cuttin' " Listed This Week By Authorities

The weekly question to county authorities "Any shootin' or cuttin' this week?" brought affirmative answers in both respects from State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover on Wednesday. One series of "cuttings" by a pen knife upon the person of Harold E. Madigan, 21, of Deer Park, required 53 stitches by Dr. James Feaster, Jr., to close the wounds.

Arrested in the case was Alonzo Strickland, 28, of Baltimore, construction worker on the new Armory. He was charged and found guilty of assault and battery upon Madigan early Sunday morning outside of the Maple View Inn, on the Mt. Lake-Deer Park road. During an altercation there Madigan received knife wounds on the left side and back.

At a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch on Tuesday afternoon he was fined $100 and costs or in lieu, a 30-day jail sentence. The arrest was made by Trooper Robert Henline of the State police.

The "shooting" answer to the question came at Friendsville on Saturday night in front of the Crawford hotel where Oliver Frazee is proprietor. According to Stover, Francis Gerhart, of Confluence, Pa., was ordered to leave the Inn after acting in a disorderly manner. Stover said Gerhart took a couple of shots at a sign outside the building.

Paul Fisher, deputy sheriff, visiting in the town on his night off, was called and attempted to block the highway. Gerhart and his companion escaped in a 1939 Ford automobile which was later found to have been stolen from William Williams, Connellsville, Pa.

During a check-up later by Pennsylvania state police, Stover said it was also discovered that his companion had been identified as "Pug" Murphy, wanted in that state on a charge of assault with intent to kill Ned Hoyt, a Confluence policeman. Authorities alleged Murphy shot at Hoyt three times on October 12, 1946. Stover said authorities had issued a warrant for Gerhart on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Pageant Characters Are Being Selected

The next practice for the chorus for the ballad will be on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at St. Peter's parochial school. This will be the third practice for this group.

Win In Contest

Climaxing a two-month sales effort, three men here have been named winners in a zone-wide contest sponsored by Chevrolet dealers in Western Pennsylvania, as well as sections of Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland.

C. E. Sharps of Sharps Motor Company announced that contest winners here are: John A. Sharps, William E. Sharps and himself.

As a reward for their winning participation, resulting from surpassing their quota, in competition with Chevrolet personnel from throughout the Pittsburgh Zone, the local men will join on July 8 and 9 with approximately 450 other winners at a two-day outing at the Bedford Springs Hotel. The outing for winners is an all expense paid reward, with special prizes to be announced at an awards banquet on July 8.

63 Marriage Permits Granted During Week

Sixty-three marriage licenses were issued during the past week ending Tuesday morning from the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit court. Thirty-four were granted during June, and 29 have been issued thus far in July.

During June there were 262 applications and 223 licenses issued. Five of those issued during the past week were marked "don't publish."

City Policeman Is Relieved of Duties

Officer Sheets Has Badge Lifted by Mayor Hinebaugh

City Policeman William Sheets was relieved of his badge and duties on Monday evening, July 4th by Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh.

Hinebaugh said the action was taken because of neglect of his duties on that day. He had been appointed as night police to succeed B. B. Nethken several months ago. S. B. Aronhalt was appointed to the position temporarily.

Earlier in the evening he had arrested Delbert Friend and George Fulk, two young men, on charges of being drunk and disorderly on the streets of Oakland. At a hearing before Magistrate H. A. Loraditch on Tuesday they were each fined $5 and costs.

Mr. Loraditch said that last month was a record one for his office, with 197 cases handled during June. There were 27 commitments, 12 releases and 17 cases were those handled for the town of Oakland.

Cases handled last month included criminal, civil, automobile, fishing and forestry.

Prizes totaling $760.00 are being offered for bands and fire companies during Firemen's day, Wednesday, August 10, during the Centennial celebration in Oakland, it was announced this week by T. J. Stanton, chairman of the parade committee.

Two hundred invitations are being forwarded this week to fire companies and band organizations throughout this entire area, notifying them of the awards and extending an invitation to attend.

The best appearing fire company with most men in uniform in line of march will receive a first prize of $150.00, with a second price of $75.00 and a third prize of $25. Similar prizes will be awarded for the best band, and also second and third best.

For the department having the oldest piece of equipment, running on its own power or horse drawn, first prize will be $100, with a second prize of $50. The best appearing fire truck will entitle the company to a prize of $35, while the fire company coming the longest distance with 20 or more men, will get $50.00. There is also a prize of $25 offered for the best ladies' auxiliary.

The parade will form at 6:30 p. m., and move promptly at 7 oclock, standard time, Mr. Stanton said. He expressed the opinion that the list of cash prizes probably would bring one of the biggest parades of fire companies ever to assemble in Oakland.

J. O. Kilmartin, chief of Map Information office, Geological Survey, U.S. Department of Interior, advises that published quadrangle maps for all of Garrett county should be available by the end of the year.

Of the thirteen topographic maps covering the County, five already have been published—Friendsville, Accident, Grantsville, Avilton and Bittinger; blue line prints have been prepared for Oakland, Deer Park, Kitzmiller, Table Rock, Gorman, and Kempton; and first proof copies are available for Sang Run and McHenry. Each completed quadrangle, drawn on a scale of 1:24,000 (1 inch for every 2,000 feet) shows cultural features in black, water features in blue, and relief features in brown contour lines. Standard maps, priced at twenty cents each, can be ordered from the Survey, in Washington.

Hundreds of Hogs Roam Area Following Wreck Sunday Morning

Two Baltimore and Ohio railroad trainmen were killed and an estimated twenty-eight passengers were injured Sunday morning, July 3, when the railroad's fast passenger, The Diplomat, crashed into the rear of a disabled stock train east of the Deer Park station.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner and Dr. James Feaster, Jr., of Oakland, treated 28 persons at the scene for cuts and bruises. None appeared hurt seriously.

The crash sent hundreds of hogs from five derailed stock cars swarming through the area.

According to the railroad the Diplomat's Diesel engine and baggage car also were derailed and E. C. Fromhart, 60, engineer, and W. L. Hartman, 23, fireman, both of Keyser, were killed instantly. Both suffered multiple fractures of the head and body.

State police quoted railroad officials as saying the air hose on the freight train, also eastbound, broke and stalled the train in a "cut."

The cause of the train wreck remained a mystery. R. A. J. Morrison, Cumberland division superintendent, said the block safety system was working perfectly and that the flagman on the stalled freight was out and signaled to the engineer on the Diplomat. "The approach signal to the main block gave a slow-down sign," Morrison said. "The Diesel hit the caboose of the freight about 100 feet past the block which gave a signal to stop and proceed slowly.

"The flagman for the freight was also out and reported the engineer on the Diesel acknowledged him." It was estimated the Diplomat was traveling at about 45 miles per hour when the crash occurred.

Hours after the collision occurred squealing pigs still were running over the country side. E. S. Evans in Terra Alta purchased all hogs, both dead and alive, captive and running at large. Many of the hogs which numbered about 800 in all were smashed in the cars while others that had been injured were shot.

B. and O. workmen began almost immediately to clear both east and westbound tracks. Wrecking crews managed to have the westbound track cleared by 11 a. m., but it was not until early Monday that trains were able to travel over the eastbound.

News of the wreck spread quickly and a large crowd was on the scene most of the day watching workmen release the hogs from the cars and later clear up the wreckage.

Mr. Fromhart, native of Newburg, is survived by his widow, one son, Paul E. Fromhart, Keyser, a brother and two sisters.

Mr. Hartman, World War II veteran, is survived by his widow, three children, and his parents, of Keyser.

A funeral service was held Tuesday for Hartman, while a requiem mass for Fromhart was conducted on Wednesday morning.

Rain Aids Crops

A plentiful downpour of rain yesterday and this morning revived garden crops in most of Garrett county and gave some relief from the heat of the past few days.

At its highest point the heat did not compare with that experienced by people living in cities and lower altitudes. A high of 91 was recorded on Tuesday, July 5, with July 3 and 4 having readings of 86 and 89, and July 6 having a reading of 88.

A low of 54 was recorded on both the mornings of July 3 and 4.

Robinson. While here he also conferred with Paul Stockman of the Music Shop in an effort to determine whether there were a sufficient number interested in a proposed course of lessons. Good Buy—all around Friends gather, look over that long bonnet and wish they had as much Fireball life as you have here.

They size up the broad windshield and narrow corner posts—and don't have to be told how these things step up "see-power."

They appraise the smart styling, the roomy interiors, the usability of luggage space—and agree you've made a buy.

But don't stop, please, with letting them look. Invite them in and introduce them to some of the special pleasures you'll know as a Buick owner.

Show them, for instance, how completely different Dynaflow Drive† is, with every mile cushioned by flowing oil and none of the rigid harshness of direct-drive cars.

Let them sample the matchless Buick ride, with all four wheels cradled on soft, coil springs and low-pressure tires made still easier-riding by extra-wide rims.

†Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

Point out how solid this Buick feels. That's what you get from husky frames, low-swung weight, and power delivered through a torque-tube instead of the rear springs.

For the truth is, this Buick's a bargain on much, much more than you can see.

It's a big buy on the solid goodness a demonstration quickly makes plain. On increasingly favorable delivery dates. On attractive price. On the kind of "deal" your Buick dealer makes.

That's why we keep saying "Better see your Buick dealer—and get that order in promptly!"

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE® • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRUFLEX COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Cruiser-Line VENTIPORTS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

Four Bids Received On Route 40 Project

The State Roads Commission has received four bids on its project to improve U. S. Route 40 for the 3.5 miles between Keyser Ridge and the Pennsylvania State Line.

The S. T. Brotemarkle Construction company of Cumberland submitted the lowest bid of $537,059 for the work, which includes modification of various vertical and horizontal curves, several relocations, construction of a concrete retaining wall at one point and a considerable amount of resurfacing, as well as construction of a concrete culvert at Mill Run Branch.

The bid of the Cumberland Contracting company was second lowest at $551,005.02. The George F. Hazelwood company, also of Cumberland, bid $574,695.23, while the bid of E. D. Plummer and Sons, of Chambersburg, Pa., was $579,102.51.

This project is one of three major road construction jobs scheduled for Western Maryland in the $40,000,000 State Roads Commission program for 1949. Bids were taken two weeks ago on one of the other two projects, the building of a 7-mile section to carry Route 40 on a new location over Sideling Hill Mountain. The third major Western Maryland project, construction of a concrete dual highway for 5 miles toward Urbana from the junction of U. S. 15 and U. S. 240, in Frederick county, is scheduled to be advertised in October.

The State Roads Commission has notified the Interstate Amiesite company, Inc., of Wilmington, to start work on a widening project on route 219, from Gortner to Red House. The company has a contract with the Roads Commission for $63,116 to complete the work.

Bells have always played an important role in the course of human events. They have heralded emperors and kings, and have sounded the victories of great leaders. They have tolled a mourning note for the passing of lives, and have pealed joyously to announce weddings and births.

Our own great Liberty Bell is preserved as a memorial of the day when our country became an independent nation. On this celebrated occasion, notes of freedom, equality, and justice were sounded, notes which echo today in the free life of our citizens.

So that we may continue such blessed living and may preserve the country which guards its existence, we must listen to the ringing of other bells.

Throughout this great land of ours church bells are sounding. These are the GOLDEN BELLS of love, mercy, and kindness. Toward them we must hasten to worship and pray. With them we must sing praises to the Lord, our Maker.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Valuable Minerals and Mineral Rights near Grantsville, in Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of the power vested in us by a decree of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, bearing date October 25, 1946, and passed in a case wherein N. U. Bond et al. were plaintiffs and Rachel M. Bond et al. were defendants, the same being No. 3733 Equity in said Court, and an order of said Court passed in said cause on June 6, 1949, we, the undersigned trustees do hereby give notice that on FRIDAY, JULY 15th, 1949.

At the hour of 11 A. M., EST.

in front of the Court House in the town of Oakland, Maryland, we will offer for sale at public auction all of the minerals and mineral substances, with rights appurtenant, thereto, underlying that part of the tract of land called "Swanton" containing 7270 acres, more or less, situate East of Grantsville in Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed, with all minerals reserved, by M. M. Armstrong et ux. to Lewis R. Parr by deed dated May 5, 1960, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 38, folio 432, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and which by deed from John Dimeling et ux. dated February 11, 1930, and recorded in Liber A. G. R. No. 100, folio 191, one of said Land Records of Garrett County, finally became and is now vested in the State of Maryland. Said minerals and mineral substances hereby offered for sale are also the same which were conveyed unto William C. Bond et al. in the last item of a deed from said M. M. Armstrong et ux. dated May 5, 1900, and recorded in Liber E. Z. T. No. 38, folio 422, Land Records of Garrett County, and title to which, in the manner set forth in the papers in the above case, became vested in the parties to this cause and is now vested in the undersigned trustees by virtue of the aforesaid decree herein, said minerals and mineral substances and rights appurtenant thereto being described in said conveyances as follows: "All minerals, oils, gases and valuable clays in, upon or under said lands, or any part thereof, together with free ingress, egress and regress to, over, upon and from said lands for the purpose of operating the same at any time or place."

The western boundary of said tract of land under which the above minerals and mineral substances are located is situate about four miles East of Grantsville, in Garrett County, and said tract extends thence eastward for several miles. A strip mining operation was carried on for some time by Burnwell Coal Company and a considerable amount of coal opened and removed, but the greater part of the deposit still remains. Deep mining operations for the mining of Kittanning or B seam of coal have also been carried on near the western boundary of the tract at and near what is known as the Jenkins No. 1 Mine, but the tract has never been fully tested as to the acreage and workable seams of coal. Both Kittanning and Freeport seams of coal are said to underlie the tract. There is also a valuable seam of clay underlying the above developed seam of coal but same has not been developed and operated.

Full mining rights, as set forth in the aforesaid reservation, apply to and will be available to the purchaser of this property insofar as deep mining is concerned, but strip mining can only be done under license from the Board of Public Works of Maryland. The trustees are advised that license for this can be obtained upon reasonable terms but they do not warrant that it can be obtained or undertake to secure the same.

Terms of Sale: One third cash on day of sale, one third in six months and the balance in twelve months, or all cash at the option of the purchaser or purchasers, the deferred parts of the purchase price to bear interest at 6% and to be secured to the satisfaction of the trustees, as prescribed by said decree.

Further information may be obtained by application to the trustees.

Releasing Swine From Wreckage

Some 800 head of hogs were involved in the wreckage of the stock train which was struck Sunday morning by the Diplomat east of the Deer Park station. Many of the hogs were killed outright and some that were injured had to be shot later. Workmen are shown in the picture releasing from the cars the imprisoned animals. Some were able to walk away and later were rounded up by employes of E. S. Evans, at Terra Alta. He bargained for 317 head. Nearby farmers probably benefited too. Dead animals were purchased by a Pennsylvania concern.

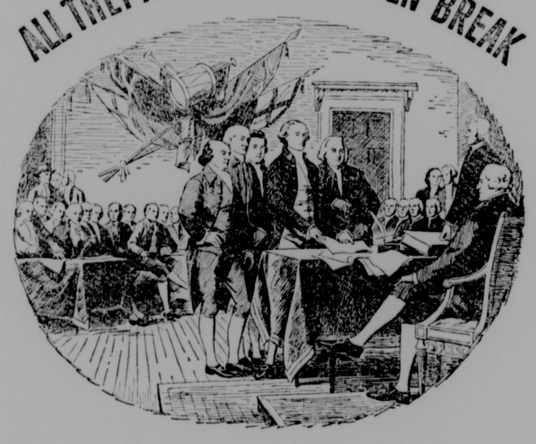
ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK



Building a new country took courage. But there were men and women ready to risk their futures — even their lives — for an ideal. All they asked was an even break.

The American way of life is based on that principle of an even break. Just give an American a chance to get ahead — using his own vision and personal initiative — and he'll go on from there.

But when government goes into business, in competition with its own citizens, the American ideal of an even break is destroyed. For government in business demands special privileges that are denied to people in business.

Take government power systems, for instance. They pay no Federal taxes. They can get money from the U. S. Treasury at little or no interest. Even their losses can be made up from the pockets of the taxpayers.

On the other hand, America's business-managed electric light and power companies are self-supporting. Like all of American business, they pay their full share of taxes, and fair interest on any money they borrow. And they've built in America the most and best electric service in the world.

There are new frontiers in electric living still to be opened. And business men can do the job better than bureaucrats.

Lions Club Receives Plaque

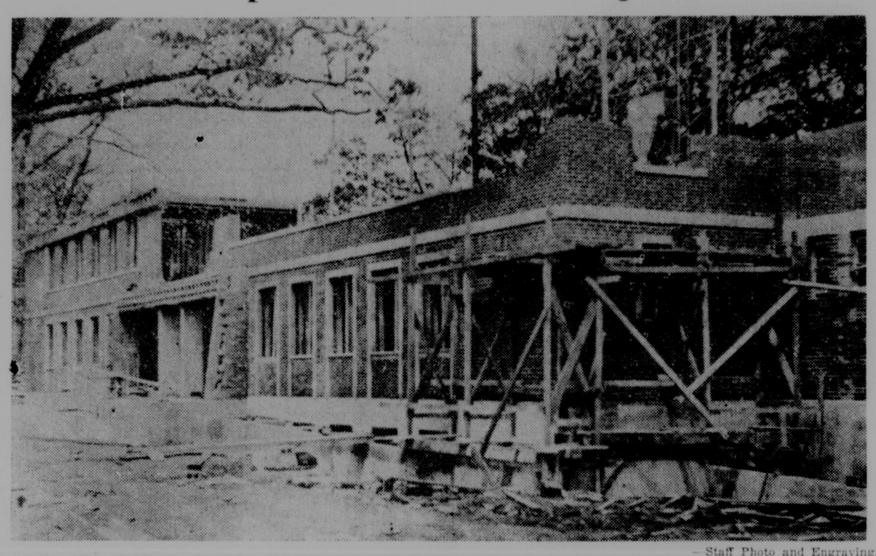
— Staff Photo and Engraving.

Robert Stanton, retiring president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions club receives a plaque from Massi Roe, Hagerstown, district governor, for the second most active club in the district at the regular meeting of the group at the William-James hotel on Monday evening.

At Monday's meeting the appointment of Herbert Leighton as deputy district governor of district 22-W, covering the entire western part of the state, was aanounced by Mr. Roe. Leighton is shown on extreme left.

On extreme right is Denzil Bowyer, who was installed as president of the club for this year, succeeding Mr. Stanton, second from left.

Hospital Continues to Grow



— Staff Photo and Engraving.

The above is the third in a series designed to show the progress being made on the Memorial hospital being constructed at the north edge of town from funds left by the late George W. Loar, from voluntary contributions, and from funds from a Federal Grant under the Hill-Burton act. The first was taken during the winter when workmen were placing the foundation; the second was taken in May when workmen were still on the ground floor area. The hospital is now about 45 percent completed. Masonry is up to the third floor for about half of the building, and 50 percent of the second floor is completed. Form work for the third floor is about half finished, according to Theodore Peters, clerk of the works.

Red Cross Swimming Program Announced

"Learn to Swim" Project to be Carried on in Five Communities by Herbert Leighton

"Learn to swim" is again the call of the local chapter of the Red Cross. Five centers of instruction are again to be set up so that as many children of the county as possible will be able to participate. These centers will be at Bittinger, Crellin, Oakland, Grantsville and Friendsville. The program is designed for non-swimmers and will include those who have not participated before and those who have participated but have not received Beginner cards. The only age requirement is that the children be at least 8 years old. Herbert Leighton will be the instructor in charge of the program.

A change from previous years will be noted in this year's plan. Instead of carrying on the classes at all five centers at the same time for a period of 5 or 6 weeks, the Red Cross is planning to give 5 days of instruction each week for two weeks at each center. According to Herbert Leighton this more concentrated schedule will be to the pupil's advantage in that the pupils progress will be greater.

The first two weeks' program will begin at Bittinger on Monday, July 18. Registration for this class will be make by contacting Mrs. Herbert Buckel by Saturday morning, July 16. The classes will be held at the Pleasant Valley Recreation Area at 1:30, EST.

The classes for Crellin and Oakland will begin on August 1 but will be discontinued during Oakland's Centennial week. The second week of instruction will begin on August 15. The classes for Friendsville and Grantsville will begin on August 22 and continue for the two following weeks. Exact times and meeting places will be announced.

Interested breeders are asked to contact Mr. Carter, or the breeding technicians, Baity Ridder or Daniel Klotz.

RAIL WASHOUT ON 17-MILE GRADE CAUSES BIG DAMAGE

Trains Delayed Twenty-four Hours—Engineer Narrowly Escapes Death

Railroad crews are still working steadily on the 17-mile grade east of Swanton to open the westbound track of the Baltimore and Ohio that was washed out by heavy rains of Tuesday. The railroad experienced some of the worst water damage in the company's history, with approximately 1,500 feet of area either washed out or covered by tons of dirt.

The first train in 24 hours went over the eastbound track yesterday afternoon but it will be some time before the westbound track is open to traffic, according to R. A. J. Morrison, superintendent of the Cumberland division. He said trains were running over the route but behind schedule.

An engineer of a helper engine, R. C. Feathers, narrowly escaped death when his locomotive was almost caught in a huge slide. He and his fireman, Don Smith, were making an inspection of the tracks after they were halted by falling debris when a washout almost carried Feathers over the embankment into the Savage river. He suffered several broken ribs. In the meantime another slide had cut off the men from their engine. They managed to get back, however, and made the return trip to Altamont. Feathers later was taken to Potomac Valley hospital in Keyser.

Buses and taxicabs were hired to carry passengers back and forth from points on both sides of the slide, while three of the passenger trains were rerouted over 100 miles of railroad track to reach their destination. The Cincinnatian was turned back Tuesday afternoon and its passengers taken to Cumberland by bus. Passengers traveling west by the National Limited also were transported to a point beyond the slide by bus.

The washouts, caused by surface water roaring down the mountainside extended from Bloomington to Strickers. Morrison said one 30-foot deep washout extended for 80 yards and was the main cause of continued delay in repair. Carloads of cinders and ballast have been used already to fill the gap.

The westbound track was the hardest hit and was still not repaired but both east and westbound traffic were using the one temporary track that has been opened.

The deepest washout occurred at Bear Hill, according to officials, although "washouts were too numerous to count all along the stretch."

Actual damage estimated could not be determined immediately but officials said it would require several days of work to restore tracks to normal.

The westbound Cincinnatian was the first to come through Oakland Wednesday afternoon, after a lapse of twenty-four hours and was followed soon by train No. 11. Oakland was without mail from the east for an entire day, newspapers were sent by truck.

Rainfall Reaches 2.93 Inches

Rain fell steadily in Garrett county all day Tuesday, causing streams to rise and give concern about floods. Wilson creek in Oakland was lapping the tops of the banks and the Little Youghiogheny was overrunning into the lowlands. The rain caused considerable damage in Allegany county.

The Weber weather station reported a rainfall of 2.93 inches during three days, most of it coming down on Tuesday. High of the week was 80 degrees on the 10th, while the mercury dropped to 51 on the 11th for the lowest point.

Mother Again Asks Custody of Baby Daughter

Following a hearing in Allegany Circuit Court last Friday morning, Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., held in abeyance a decision in the petition of the former Elva Hutzell, of Mt. Savage, who is seeking the custody of her infant daughter.

The Hutzell woman lost a habeas corpus hearing in 1948 over the child's custody. The court at that time ruled that Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Barkman, formerly of Cumberland and who now reside near Oakland, should have custody of the child, until such a time that Miss Hutzel was able and in a position to take care of the baby.

Last Friday morning in court the young woman testified that she has since married and lives in Ohio. Her husband is agreeable to her seeking custody of the child, she told the court.

The Barkmans took the young mother under their care just before the child was born at Allegany Hospital on March 28, 1947. Later she lived with them at their home in Cumberland.

The young mother's first attempt to secure custody of the child came after she had read an obituary in Cumberland newspapers in 1947 stating that the seven-months-old baby had died. The report was later proven erroneous. The Barkmans denied they had sent in the death notice to the newspapers stating that the child had died in Dover.

Mr. and Mrs. Barkman allegedly told the young woman they would not give up the baby "without a fight," she said. Edward J. Ryan is attorney for the young mother and Former Judge William A. Huster represents the Barkmans.

56 Street Signs Are Being Placed

Kenneth Teagarden Is Named Night Policeman by Council

Work of erecting a total of 56 street signs, recently prehased by the town of Oakland, was begun this week. All signs are expected to be in place prior to the opening of the Centennial celebration.

Holes are being dug for the iron pipes which will support the metal signs, and they will be imbedded in concrete.

At the regular meeting of the Mayor and Town Council on Monday evening, it was learned that the State Road commission had given permission to erect poles for the pylons for the two Centennial entrances to the town on the west and east ends of Oak street.

Other routine business was handled at Monday's meeting. At the request of William Shaffer, in reference to parking on Oak street, the council decided to remove six parking meters from Second street, near Center street, and to replace them on Oak Street, east of Third.

The Centennial commission was granted permission to regulate parking on Oakland streets during the coming celebration, August 8 to 14.

Permits granted: to W. DeWeese to replace oil tank on property of American Oil company; to Ernest R. Wolf to erect 5-room house on Mason Street, 25 by 30 feet; to Maryland Cleaners to erect electric sign; to E. P. Stockman to erect electric sign.

A report of the clerk-collector for six months showed receipts of $38,993.07, including loans of $11,750, and expenditures of $39,086.58. Expenses included $9,490.38 for water, $12,094.97 for streets, $6,500 for new garage, and $1,094.55 for garage equipment. Charged to the streets department was the road roller amounting to $3,250.

Kenneth Teagarden was appointed as night policeman, to succeed William Sheets, who had served for the past several months.

June collections totaled $10,604.83 which included $3,983.25 from traders' licenses, $1,325 from West Maryland Power company, and $1,500 from 1948 state income tax.

The Oakland cemetery committee in a letter to the council expressed thanks to city officials for aid in cleaning, cutting grass at the cemetery walk, the use of the town truck and other assistance in beautifying the grounds.

For Friends — Roamers — Countrymen —

QUITE literally, it's one car in a thousand—999 other cars take the road for every Estate Wagon Buick turns out.

But it's far more than something exclusive, as you'll soon see when one takes its place in your garage.

For those times, for instance, when house guests arrive — what smarter equipage could you send to the station, what greater comfort, what handier way to manage the luggage problem?

And when the Lord and Master yearns for a few days away from it all — what's handier than this nimble gadabout, that lets him fold down a back seat at nightfall and enjoy full-length double-bed sleeping space?

And that place in the country, calling for a car that can go just about everywhere, do just about everything . . .

That's when you'll go for the ruggedness of this beauty with its steel framing, steel top and springs of durable, service-free coiled steel. That's when you'll go for Dynaflow Drive† too — and the steady, even, fluid pull that takes furrowed fields, rough pastures and narrow back roads with equal, shift-free ease.

In all truth, this is a star of many roles. Smart and sleek, finished like an express cruiser, it's a standout for style in any parking line-up, a family favorite for its quick readiness to take on any transportation job.

It's a buy, too, like all Buicks—and your dealer is offering pleasantly prompt delivery. Why not see him today about the car that both literally and figuratively is one in a thousand?

†Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on Super models.

"Oakland Day" Will Be Featured at Fair In Cumberland Area

Cumberland Fair authorities have offered to make Thursday, July 28, as "Oakland Day," at the Cumberland Fair, to give publicity over loud speakers and other advertising concerning its approaching centennial.

Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh reported this last Friday to the centennial commission at its weekly meeting.

One of the requirements would be the appearance of the Oakland band at the fair upon that day. Trophies to be contributed by the business men of town for the winners on Oakland Day, already have been arranged for, it was stated. The invitation of the Fair has been accepted. Further details will be announced.

A committee of men and women is to be appointed tomorrow evening at the commission's regular meeting.

To Make Concise Reports

All administrative chairmen of the various committees have been invited to attend the meeting tomorrow to give a two minute resume of their day's program and all activities.

A report of the finance committee showed it had collected in full the 100 pledges of $100 each, as originally planned, to underwrite the Centennial expenses, plus an additional $220 in outright contributions. Letters of appreciation are being sent to the members which include Bernard I. Gonder, chairman; Lowell Loomis, vice-chairman; D. Emroy Bolden, Irvin Feld, Mason Glotfelty, J. Edward Helbig, Paul B. Naylor, Howard C. Riggs, Irvin R. Rudy and Cecil Smith.

Responsibilty of finding ticket takers was being worked out with college students, and employment of one person as general fieldman, to look after the Commission's interests on the amusement grounds, was discussed.

The commission announced that the history books, now being printed and which are to sell for $1.00 each, will cost $1.15 if mailed; and that programs, which will sell for 25 cents, will cost 40 cents if mailed.

U. S. Naval Officer Retires; Will Live At Deer Park Home

Donald W. Loomis, commanding officer of the Naval R.O.T.C. and professor of naval science at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, was retired from the Navy on July 1, after 35 years of service, with the rank of rear admiral, and has returned to his home at Deer Park, known at Kittery Hill.

Admiral Loomis entered the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, in 1914 and was graduated in 1917, thus serving in both World Wars.

During World War II, the 54-year-old admiral was rated as one of the nation's outstanding experts on amphibious warfare. He directed the landing operations in Sicily, in the Marshall Islands, in the Marianas Islands, the Philippines and Iwo Jima.

Among the numerous decorations which have been bestowed on Admiral Loomis are five Legions of Merit awarded him in World War II. While the admiral's modesty prevents him from speaking of his outstanding record, other naval officers have expressed the unofficial opinion that no man in the naval service has been so honored.

When asked by a newspaper reporter at Chapel Hill what he considered the most difficult operation he directed, the admiral answered, "Iwo Jima without a doubt. Shelling and bombing did little to soften up the Japs for they were 'dug in' in caves and we could not reach them. When our Marines went ashore the terrain offered little in the way of protection. This was perhaps one of the best fortified islands in the Pacific area. Of course, it cost us a heavy price to take it. This operation bears out the theory that no place can be so strongly fortified that the enemy cannot take it."

Admiral Loomis had been stationed at the University of N. C. for three and one-half years.

The Admiral is a native of Wisconsin. Mrs. Loomis is a daughter of Mrs. E. L. Young. The latter has been residing at their Deer Park home which they purchased about fifteen years ago. Along the Potomac to Washington

By J. Glenn Beall

The House of Representatives is meeting in the large Ways and Means Committee Room, in the New House Office building, while workmen tear down the steel scaffolding and renovate the House Chamber in the Capitol Building. The Senate is meeting in the historic old Senate Chamber of more than a hundred years ago, which also was used for some decades as the home of the U. S. Supreme Court, which, of course, now has its own impressive building.

The change-over to new, cramped spaces has worked a hardship on the members of the press and on persons who like to visit Congress during the summer. The New House Office building, in which I have my office, has never seemed busier and more bustling during the years in which I have served here. But everyone understands that it is only a temporary arrangement and that by next January both houses of Congress will be meeting again in their accustomed places.

I had to smile at the greatly-restricted "must" program which the President handed to his Congressional leaders at his White House conference last week. A month ago, more or less, when Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn, and Senate Majority leader, Scott Lucas, emerged from the White House, they gave reporters a list of 10 "must" measures. Last week, when the emerged, they said that the President had asked them only to get through a new farm program, a federal aid-to-education bill, and a new social security bill. In short, the President had decided that even a Congress dominated by members of his own party would not pass the grandiose program he has promised.

Noticeably missing from the agenda of "must" legislation was new labor legislation. The President later said that he "hoped" the House of Representatives would repeal the Taft-Hartley law, but he didn't threaten to "crack the whip," as he had done two months before when discussing labor legislation with reporters. It generally is conceded now that, even if the House passed a labor bill similar to the one enacted recently by the Senate, the President would veto the legislation.

It is tragic, in the opinion of many Congressmen of both parties, that a labor law has to be made the subject of partisan politics. A labor law, in effect, is, or should be, designed to regulate human behavior. All Congressmen of all political parties should be in favor of whatever legislation is necessary to assure a square deal to laboring men, managers, capitalists, or the general public. No law should be passed to benefit one group and one group alone, at the expense of other groups.

One of these days, the Taft-Hartley law is going to be amended, or repealed. It has its weak points, along with its strong points, as most fair-minded men will admit. Senator Robert A. Taft himself has admitted as much as he has shown no disposition to fight against change in the Taft-Hartley bill.

Under The Dome

I have been in touch with Commodity Credit Corporation regarding the seriousness of the wheat shortage space as it is affecting Western Maryland farmers. Some wheat was moved out of Baltimore elevators and this should make room for some wheat from the District. A conference has been arranged between a representative of the wheat growers of Western Maryland, Commodity Credit officials and officials of the railroads in Baltimore on Monday and they will try to work out some way to relieve the situation.

Several hundred letters and telegrams have been received by us relative to action to repeal excise taxes. I signed the petition to bring such legislation before the House.

Cooperatives Plan Membership Meeting

Farmer-members of Southern States cooperatives are planning annual membership meetings.

Annual reports, elections, contests, etc., will be among the highlights. The one at Accident will be held in the school auditorium on Monday, July 18, at 8 p. m. Charles Wilt will preside. C. A. Williams, district manager, Oakland, and Walter H. Fratz, Accident, will give reports.

Election of new members to the advisory board and farm home advisory committee will be included. Nominees for the board posts are Walter Harman, Paul Miller, Luther Bowser, Claude Fike, Accident; and and Earl Bowser, Addison. Mrs. Walter Burkhart, Mrs. Sherman Tressler, Mrs. Oscar Harman and Mrs. Charles R. Bowser are the farm home committee nominees. Mrs. Harvey Harman is chairman of a farm-grown hat contest.

There will be special music by the Cove ridge runners, and group singing by Rev. O. P. Fike.

The meeting at Grantsville will be held July 27, in the school auditorium at 8:30. The meeting at Eglon will be held July 25, in the Community building, at 7:30.

At the Eglon meeting board members are to be chosen from Gilmer Fike, Eglon; Fred Stemple, Aurora; Brooke Stemple, Amboy; Theodore Rembold, Horse Shoe Run, and E. B. Strawser, Eglon. Nominees for the farm home committee are Mrs. Elwood Edeburn, Oakland; Mrs. Ross Teets, Eglon; Mrs. Earl Fike, Eglon; Mrs. Paul Wilt, Amboy; Mrs. Lester Wilt, Eglon; and Mrs. Fred Stemple, Aurora.

MARRIED

Martin-Bennett—On Saturday, July 2, at dusk in the home of Rev. H. O. Teagarden, Mt. Lake Park, Mrs. Beatrice Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Hauser, Oakland, became the bride of Capt. Ralph Martin, U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, of Brookside. There were no attendants.

For her wedding Mrs. Martin chose a light grey street length suit with pink and black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The bride was graduated from Oakland High school, class of 1937. For the past three and one half years she has been employed at the Hardesty Beauty shop.

The groom was graduated from Aurora, W. Va., High school in 1933. In 1941 he entered the army and served three years overseas. He returned to the States in June, 1948, and has since been stationed at Fort Meade, where the couple will make their home.

Mrs. Martin has two sons by a previous marriage.

With Our Men In The Service

Mark L. Schaefer, son of Mrs. Minta S. Schaefer, Grantsville, began basic air force pilot training recently at Connally Air Force Base, Waco, Texas. Schaefer is one of 160 cadets who arrived at Waco to commence training under the new Air Force Aviation Cadet program.

These men, carefully selected from a cross-section of American youth, will undergo six months of intensive basic flight training at Waco before moving to the advanced pilot schools where they will receive an additional six months schooling in either jet fighters, F-51 Mustangs or fast light bombers.

KEMPTON

Potomac 4-H Club Meets

The Potomac 4-H Club met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Harvey, which was in charge of Dorothy Tasker, president. Mrs. Harvey spoke on "Flower Arrangement."

Games were played and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the school house July 21st. Miss Eleanor Dearborn, home demonstration agent, is expected to attend.

Narrowly Escape Drowning

Edward Lipovec, Cleveland, who is spending his vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lipovec, and his brother John were swimming at Fairfax in one of the deep holes that the strip mines had left. Suddenly he stepped into miring mud. John, who tried to assist his brother, fell in also. It just happened that another brother, Joe, came along and extricated them with no bad effects other than a severe scare.

Joe had not planned to go swimming with them on account of an injured hand, but changed his mind.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Metheney and family, and Mrs. Lucy Rice, Royal Oaks, Mich., were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Evans.

THANKS, AMERICA, FOR the biggest half year in Studebaker history!

THE Studebaker buying wave that's sweeping the country grew to huge proportions the past few weeks.

By the end of June, so many people had bought new Studebakers that the biggest half year in all Studebaker history was recorded.

A 1949 Studebaker is more than a new vision of loveliness inside and outside. It brings new thrift that counts, new handling ease and riding comfort into motoring.

Sorry! It's out of my hands

Why talk to me about the importance of going to Church? You don't expect me to put on my Sunday suit and stroll down there alone, do you?

Dad and Mother are the people to see . . . they make all the important decisions.

Sure! I'd like to start Church School pretty soon. Yes, and I'd like to see the whole family in Church. A little chap like me can understand religion much better when he doesn't have to wonder why his folks aren't on speaking terms with God.

And, frankly, I think you grown-ups need the Church as much as I do—it wasn't my generation that got the world into such a mess!

All right, you can quote me. And I'll even let you put my picture in the paper. 'Cause, confidentially, I think we would all be a whole lot happier if Dad and Mother, and some of the rest of you older folks, would look at these spiritual matters through my eyes!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
